When Holmes was asked about the identity established between Allen, alias Cardwell and Hatch, who is now confined in the Little Rock Penitentiary and the imminent confession of the man, he said he was not disposed to discuss that matter at present. "I will say, however," he went on, "that the police out west are away off in this case. They do not know what they are talking about. I will tell you frankly that I do not care what number of confessions Allen makes. But Hatch is the man I fear. He is responsible, or at least can account for the disappearance of the Pietzel children. He took them from Toronto and I have not seen them since. Should the police find Hatch he is liable to turn around and accuse me of murdering these children. Of all other things, I am accused wrongly in that case. As long as Hatch keeps out of the way they cannot prove that I murdered the Pietzel children, but if he is found and accuses me of that crime I do not know what to do. It would be a case of dog eat dog, for he can swear just as strongly as I can.

"I can confidently say that neither the police in Chicago, Toronto, Philadelphia or anywhere else can produce evidence to show that I ever murdered anyone."

It is stated by officers of the Fidelity Insurance Association, the concern that Holmes swindled, that Hatch, Allan and Caldwell are the same men, whose true name is Hatch. An officer of the Fidelity also positively said that Hatch could not have been in Toronto at the time Holmes took the Pietzel children there, as he was then in the Little Rock penitentiary, where he had been sentenced to fifteen years' imprisonment.

A FISHY EXPLANATION.

Holmes when asked by a newspaper representative to explain the discovery of bones in his Chicago home, said: "I will answer that question in this way. Every person who has known me is aware that I am a doctor by profession. It is also known perfectly well in Chicago that there was a restaurant in my building, No. 701 Wallace street, during the World's Fair. at that time there were lots of bones from fowls and other cooked animals thrown outside the building. Lots of these bones no doubt found their way to the cellar. During the time I lived in the building I brought several cadavers there for scientific and pecuniary purposes. This may account for the bones the Chicago police say they have found."

In speaking of the Emeline Cigrand mystery, Holmes said. "I employed Emeline Cigrand in May, 1893, as a typewriter. I engaged her from one of the regular Chicago typewriting bureaus. She remained in my employ until October, 1893. She was a good and virtuous girl, as far as I know. A respectable business man and a personal friend of mine knows that girl was alive and well one year after she left my employ. If she is dead she has gone to heaven."

HOLMES AS SYMPATHY FOR PAT QUINLAN.

Continuing, Holmes said, "I regard Pat Quinlan, my former janitor, in the light of being persecuted. I pity his unfortunate condition. The treatment of Pat by the detectives in Chicago is unjust. He has nothing to confess. This I declare positively."

He then took up and discussed as follows the disappearance of Mrs. Connor, Minnie Williams the Pietzel children, B. F. Pietzel and Ed. Hatch. "Mrs. Connor. I knew little of. She and her husband rented rooms from me. I believe she had trouble with her husband. She left my place. I had no interest in keeping track of her afterwards. The charge of murder is groundless. There could have been no motive for me to injure the woman.

MINNIE WAS HIS BEST FRIEND.

"Minnie Williams, the poor girl, was my best friend. She was unfortunate in more ways than one. I cannot believe but that she is still alive. God only knows where she is, as she is a fugitive from justice on account of an awful tragedy, which resulted in the killing of her sister Nina."

Here Holmes gave a graphic description of the killing of Nina Williams by her sister. He spoke of other troubles Minnie became involved in in Indiana. He reiterated several times that the girl was his "best friend," and spoke of her in the most endearing terms. "As to the finding of the bodies in Toronto," said he, "I do not know that the bodies are those of the Pietzel children. As I have said before, they may or may not be. I can prove at the proper time that they left my hands safely. I gave them into the charge of Ed. Hatch, and I never saw them again."

WANT HOLMES TRIED IN CANADA.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Aug. 2.—The Republican in speaking of the Holmes case strongly favors his surrender to the Canadian authorities. It says: "Canada wants to prosecute Holmes, the wholesale murderer. Let Canada have him, by all means. If she gets him he will be tried, convicted, and hanged before frost comes. If he is tried here, the United States Supreme Court will have the case under consideration two years hence. The terrible crimes he committed will have been forgotten, and silly persons of both sexes will be making his cell a flower garden. Let Toronto be the scene of his trial."

ANOTHER MYSTERIOUS BUILDING.

FORT WORTH, Texas, Aug. 2.—In view of the recent developments in Chicago, the authorities have made an investigation of the building erected by Holmes in this city, which leaves no room for doubt that Holmes had planned it for a death trap. One room at the top of the house has twelve exits by which a person can escape, while an enclosed chute runs down to the basement of the building, in which a body could be transferred without anyone being the wiser. In this basement a large archway had been built over the sewer in such a way that he could easily put a trap door opening into the sewer. Under the floor of the house was found a large pit, the intended use of which can only be conjectured. Holmes probably intended this building to be used as he afterwards used his house in Chicago.

WHERE IS HARRY WALKER?

HE IS SUPPOSED TO BE ONE OF HOLMES' MANY VICTIMS.

GREENSBURG, Ind., Aug. 2.—Facts have developed here which make the supposition very strong that Harry Walker, who mysteriously disappeared from here about two years ago, became another victim of H. H. Holmes. Walker was about 23 years old and a jeweler by trade. He first met Holmes in the Union station at Indianapolis. Holmes said he was a real estate dealer and had considerable property of his own in Chicago to look after. He was desirous of employing a secretary and offered Mr. Walker a large salary to fill the position, but later was induced by Holmes to have his life insured for $15,000 and promised to pay all dues in case Walker died, and he would give $10,000 of the money to his sister in Pennsylvania. Walker left shortly afterwards and went to Batesville, where he engaged in the jewellry business. He had not been there long, however, when he mysteriously disappeared. In about ten days the proprietor of the hotel at which he boarded received the following:

Chicago, Nov. 7, 1893

Mr. Rolphes: I am secretary for Holmes, who was down to see me the other day. He will pay me $1,000 a year, which is more than I could make in Batesville, or Greensburg either. I will be down in a few days and settle.

Yours as ever,
HARRY WALKER,

GAUTHIER NOT INSANE.

HE CLAIMS THAT HE IS MENTALLY SOUND.

Freely Admits the Crime and Says He Does Not Want People to Take Him For a Second Chatelle—Formally Committed For Trial.

Special to the Times.

MONTREAL, Aug. 2.—Gauthier, who shot and killed his betrothed, Celina Consigney, on Tuesday, admits the crime, and, contrary to the celebrated murderer, Shortis, of Valleyfield, who is confined in jail with him, protests strongly against any one considering him insane.

"Don't think me like Chatelle," said he to a reporter. "I am not insane, and I want the public to understand it."

When brought to court this morning, the vehicle in which he was conveyed was surrounded by about 500 people, who pestered him. He stuck his head out of the cab window and told the crowd that they were a pack of fools.

He will be committed by the Court of Queen's Bench today for sentence, and no one doubts that he will hang inside of two months.

TRIED TO HANG HIMSELF.

GAUTHIER WANTED TO END HIS LIFE IN THE CELLS.

MONTREAL, Aug. 2.—Gauthier, the murderer of his sweetheart, Selina Consigny, attempted suicide in the cell last night by hanging himself with strips made from his blankets. He was, however, cut down in time. The girl has been refused religious burial by the Catholic church.

BOAT RUN BY A MOTOR.

A Chicago Man Surprises People at Washington Park.

Special to the Times.

CHICAGO, Aug. 2. — C. D. Wright, of Englewood, drove up to the Washington Park boat landing yesterday, lifted a V-shaped box from his carriage and chartered one of the ordinary two-oared row boats.

He took from the box an apparently hollow and bent nickle-plated tube about six feet long. At one end he attached a two-bladed propeller wheel, each blade being about six inches long and two wide. Then he screwed a plate into the top rail of the stern of the boat and attached the larger end of the tube to it. Next he fastened an electric motor to the top of his tube and connected it by two small wires to a storage battery, which he placed in the center of the boat.

Then he dropped the propeller wheel into the water, and touched the spring and away the boat sped. A small wooden handle projecting from the end of the tube was used to steer with.

For two hours Mr. Wright rode about the lake, backing the boat or slowing its speed or turning in its length at will.

Special to the Times.

MONTREAL, Aug. 2.—Judge Dugas and Donald McMaster, Q.C., who were sent to Ireland to take evidence regarding the mental condition of Shortis, the Valleyfield murderer, sailed for Canada today. There were examined 30 witnesses, several of whom told of the rash and eccentric acts done by the prisoner while in Ireland. Two of them swore that he had shot at them in 1892.

Another witness swore that Shortis fired four or five shots at him, but in each instance no complaint was made against the prisoner.

The asylum authorities have established the existance of insanity in Shortis' grandfather and other relatives.

ST. PETERSBURG, August 2.—Six organized bands of robbers armed with Remington rifles have for a long time harrassed the district of Eruvan, in Rans Caucasia. These bandits recently united under the command of a notorious leader, A. Adul Heyder Khan, and attacked and burned a number of isolated farm houses. Finally, becoming bolder the robbers attacked in broad daylight several villages, which they captured and burned. All the men in the villages and all the male occupants of the farms who were unable to escape were put to death, while the women and children were carried off by the bandits. The police were unable to stop these outrageous, and a force of 200 Cossacks was sent out to their assistance. On the night of July 23th the Cossacks

THE COMBES' MURDER.

LONDON, Aug. 2.—The finding of the coroner's jury in the case of Robert and Nathanial Combes, the two boys who were accused of having murdered their mother was officially announced today. The jury found the verdict of willful murder against Robert, while Nathaniel was held as accessory. The jury added a rider to their verdict, arguing that the sale of inflamatory and shocking literature be stopped, on the ground that it is answerable for many crimes. Acting on the advice of the coroner, the jury ignored the case of Cox, the half witted man who helped the boys to spend the money obtained by them by pawning goods taken from the house, after the murder of their mother. Cox's case is considered distinct from that of the youthful criminals.

Russia simply demand that a prince shall be chosen, in accordance with the provisions of Berlin.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Aug. 2.—From Soda Springs it is reported that settlers from the country north of the Swrings continued to leave there all night on Wednesday, and yesterday some 30 families were camping in and around Soda.

Despatches confirm, in part, the stories that led to the alarm. Cariboo stage brings reliable news to the effect that at least 200 Indians were camped on Wednesday night on Willow Creek, 30 miles north of Soda. A party of friendly Indians said they had just come out of Jackson's Hole and were going back to the reservation. They said they had not heard of fighting or trouble at the Hole.

White men did not want them to hunt there, and they had no intention of disturbing the settlers.

Many of the ranchers who come in on Wednesday are starting back, but most of them are leaving their families at Soda Springs. All reports are to the effect that the Indians are peaceable. No one has been molested.

A curier from Rexburg brings the reports that two men were killed on Trail Creek at the head of Teton River. Both are supposed to have been killed by Indians.

The mail carrier that brings mail in from Jackson's Hole to Teton Barin, is also supposed to have been killed. He, when last seen, was coming down the divide from Jackson's Hole, and he is now two days overdue.

Latest Developments In the Case—Holmes Tells Another Story This Time Regarding Miss Cigrand—Hatch Wants a Pardon First.

Special to the Times.

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—A newspaper man has had a talk with W. E. Carpenter, the man who made the famous box for Holmes in 1892. He was seen at his house at 7102 Greenwood avenue, and told the following story: "I was working on a house on 31st and Wentworth avenue in March, 1892, when a man came to me and asked me if I wanted a job. I went with him to Wallace and 63rd street, where he told me he wanted me to make an airtight box. He gave me the dimensions, 4 feet 6 inches long, 3 feet 8 inches wide, and the same in depth.

"I bought the pine, and took stuff into the alley at the rear of the house, and after cutting the lumber into the required length, carried it with the assistance of Pat Quinlan up the Wallace street side of the house to the third storey. There are three rooms on the 63rd street front. One was Holmes' office, and in it was a young woman with a typewriter. There was a vault in one corner.

"In the extreme west room I rigged up a bench, and planed the boards on it for the box. Holmes told me to make the box so that the sea air could not get into it, and I made it so that the cover would set in. It was also his request that the cover be so fixed that it would screw on.

"I worked for three days and then at his request, coated the inside of the box with tar. I helped him to fix the box over the vault, where he said he wanted to place some papers, and the last thing I did was to fix the box so that he could put handles on it himself. My bill was $20, and I never got it from him. I went to the place several times, but he always said he had no money. I got tired of going and quit.

"I haven't any idea why he wanted such a curious box, but I never asked him. Of course a body might have been put in it, and sent away, but the limbs would have had to be chopped up or separated from the body."

Carpenter described the building accurately, and also said that Holmes was working in the basement all of the time, and from the noise made he thought it was some kind of a factory.

CHICAGO POLICE FOOLED.

THEY HAVE PLENTY OF CLUES BUT NO DIRECT EVIDENCE.

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—The police acknowledge today their complete defeat so far in their efforts to secure direct evidence of murder against H. H. Holmes. Dozens of promising clues have been carefully investigated; witness after witness, who was confidently expected to "tell all," has been examined without result, and at last the detectives are forced to admit that their efforts have been unavailing so far as real proof of guilt is concerned.

Inspector Fitzpatrick today said: "when we started on this case we knew it would be almost impossible to get any one who could positively connect Holmes with any case of murder, yet we thought it our duty to investigate and we have done the best we could. We believe several crimes have been committed and believe that Holmes and his confederates are guilty of several murders. So far we are unable to prove our belief. We have no evidence that would even cause an indictment against any one under suspicion if it were presented to the Grand Jury."

PRATT WAS HOLMES.

ANOTHER ALIAS UNDER WHICH THE MURDERER TRAVELLED.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug 1.—There is hardly a doubt but that the man "Pratt," mentioned in the recent Topeka despatch as having lived there, and H. H. Holmes are one and the same man, Allen. "Mascot," the convict in prison, says Holmes went by the name of Pratt in Texas. To a reporter Allen said: "A reporter who came out to see me last Friday had me wrongly reported as saying that Holmes came near swindling a Jew at Dennison. Pratt, that being the Texas name of Holmes, was afraid to go to Dennison and left me ten miles from there. This was early in May, 1884, and I have not seen him since. This man Cole, they speak about, I never heard of before. I was hoping this thing would be kept quiet, and I expected a reward of at least $10,000 would be offered for information clearing up the mystery about the Williams girls and that I would get it. That was why I wrote to Texas to find out what there would be in it for me if I told what I knew. I came right to Arkansas when I left Holmes. I was in Chicago a number of times before that, but never stayed there long. Today's papers say the Chicago people have collected evidence showing that both the Williams girls were killed. These detectives think they are slick. I see a couple of them are on their way here from Chicago to talk to me. Let them come. They will not get anything out of me. I know Pat Quinlan. He came to Fort Worth when Pratt (Holmes) and I were there, but would not take charge of things because of the shape they were in. Lyman (Pietzel) acted badly there. He drank a great deal and became infatuated with a dashing widow. Pratt had with him then a woman whom he called Jeanette. I knew all the time that his name was Holmes and knew that he had five or six living wives. I travelled a great deal with him and we both visited Hot Springs together. Holmes had the most winning ways towards women of any man I ever saw, and never mixed up with any that were not good looking. He was also mild-mannered, courteous and affable toward men."

There was a moment's pause and "Mascot" continued: "But I'm not going to tell what I know until the thing is fixed to suit me."

There is perhaps no manner of swindling that Allen is not familiar with. Some people believe he is now engaged in a slick attempt to gain liberty by bartering his knowledge of Holmes' criminal career—knowledge that may have to be taken after all with a grain of salt.

A WOMAN VISITOR.

THE MONOTONY OF HOLMES' PRISON LIFE SOMEWHAT RELIEVED.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 1.—H. H. Holmes, the suspected murderer who has been confined in Moyamensing prison since November last, had the monotony of his confinement somewhat relieved during the past few days by the visits of a mysterious woman. Although not permitted to see him the visitor brings with her each day a basket of choice fruit or some other delicacy which she gives in charge of the jailer with a message to Holmes.

Who the woman is or where she came from is a matter that not even the astute jailer seemed to know, and the mystery regarding her actions had attracted the attention of the prison officials.

A DIAMOND FIGURED BEAUTY.

The strange visitor is described as about 30 years old, of prepossessing appearance and has a tall, willowy figure, dark hair and dark eyes. She dresses fashionably and has every appearance of culture and refinement. She wears about her neck a small golden locket and two of the fingers on the left hand are adorned with sparkling diamonds.

Several weeks ago the woman made a visit to the prison and surprised one of the keepers by asking to see the accused murderer. She was asked to give her name, but refused, and when informed that it was against the rules to permit any one to see the prisoner, she went away. Several days ago, however, she reappeared at the prison with the request that some delicacies be carried to Holmes' cell. When the officials assured her that her request would be carried out she appeared satisfied, and, thanking the keeper for his kindness, went quickly away.

DAILY VISITS TO THE PRISON.

Since that time she has daily visited the prison, always bringing something choice for Holmes, but never tarrying longer than to deliver the basket to the keeper and receiving the promise that it will be delivered over to the prisoner. She has been frequently observed coming and going from the jail by people in the neighborhood but all efforts to learn her identity have failed.

It was at first supposed that the woman was the arch conspirator's wife, but inquiry disclosed the fact that Mrs. Holmes had not been to see Holmes since her return to Philadelphia. It was said that a woman answering her description turned up in this city soon after Holmes was arrested, and that she came from Boston, but whether she is the same one cannot be ascertained.

A theory is that the woman is an old acquaintance of Holmes and proposes to stand by him to the end.

STRANGE DISAPPEARANCE.

Mrs. C. Baker still Hunting for Her Missing Spouse.

Special to the Times.

DOWAGIAC, Aug. 1.—Mrs. C. T. Baker, whose husband disappeared while they were stopping at the Contential hotel, Buffalo, last week was not robbed by her husband, as some of the despatches state. She returned here yesterday, and declares that her husband took none of her money with him. Mrs. Baker has resided in Dowagiac for many years, being the widow of a union soldier by the name of Broket. Recently she disposed of her property in this city, and left for Jackson, Mich., with C. T. Baker, whom she married in that city, Saturday, July 20. The couple reached Buffalo Sunday morning, Wednesday afternoon Mr. Baker left the hotel to attend to some business, saying, "You will not go down to supper till I return." since which time he has not been seen. Mrs. Baker believes that he has been either dealt with foully or that he wandered away when partially deranged, as he had complained of his head for several days. Baker took none of the drafts which she had with her, amounting to $2,000 and left no bills for her to settle.

SMUGGLING OF TOBACCO.

Chinese Detected in the Trade by United States Officials.

Special to the Times.

MONTREAL, Aug. 1.—It is reported here that tobacco smuggling has been carried on between Montreal, Boston and New York for many months. The U. S. customs officials have been on close watch and they think they have a good case. Arrests are expected to follow. The scheme is operated between Lacolle, Stottsville and Rouse's Point. The tobacco comprising the Sumatra and Havana leaf, upon which the duty is $1.50 per pound, is purchased from large Montreal firms and is carried over the border in 50 pound packages on a railway tricycle. It was ascertained that the daring operator goes across the border to Rouse's Point twice each night. At Rouse's Point the tobacco is forwarded to Boston and New York by men in the league. The traffic has been successfully conducted for weeks and when arrests are made, two prominent French Canadians of Stottsville and also some prominent men of Rouse's Point, for co-operation, will be in trouble. Indictments are now out and action may be taken at any time. Then the Chinamen who have been smuggled across have worked a paying game by wrapping leaf tobacco about their persons. Each man has been known to have from three to five pounds of tobacco wrapped around his body. After disposing of his tobacco the Chinaman has pretty well crossed Scott free.

GAUTHIER'S LAME EXCUSE

HE SAYS HIS SWEETHEART ASKED HIM TO KILL HER.

They Went Out That Afternoon for the Purpose of Ending Both Their Lives But He Had no Bullets Left to Kill Himself With.

Special to The Times.

MONTREAL, Aug. 1.—Gauthier, the young man who killed his lover, Alma 'Consigny, in Montreal on Tuesday, was declared guilty of murder by the coroner's jury yesterday and sent to the Criminal Court to stand his trial. This is Gauthier's statement, which was given when asked what he had to say:

"I killed her myself, because she asked me to take her life. She said she had a disease that prevented her from marrying under any circumstances, and she also gave me that disease, the name of which I do not know. She said: 'Since we cannot live together, you will kill me, and then kill yourself.' I killed her and then tried to commit suicide, but found that I had no more cartridges left. She spoke about this in the forenoon, and asked me to get a revolver, which I did, in St. James street, near Inspector. Before shooting the deceased, she said, 'We will marry in the other world,' and again I promised her that I would kill myself."

The evidence of the girl's family went to show, however, that deceased was as gay as possible when she left home at 2 o'clock, and never gave them to suspect that she was going to her end.

TRIED FOR MURDER ONCE BEFORE.

Lieutenants Bouchard and Watson recognized Gauthier as the young man who was arrested about eight years ago and tried for the murder of a farmer named Monteith on the lower Lachine road. The case was a celebrated one at the time. Gauthier and two other young men named Belanger and Therien went to Monteith's farm to steal apples. Monteith detected the thieves and ran after them. Being three to one, they showed fight, and the farmer, who had a pitchfork in his hands, ran at Gauthier, who drew a revolver and shot him. Monteith died a few days afterwards, and Gauthier was tried for murder, but was acquitted, his friends proving that he shot in self-defence.

GASCOYNE COMING.

Not so Drastic a Commander as Genera. Herbert.

Special to the Times.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—Colonel Gascoyne, of the Scots Guards, is the military man picked to succeed General Herbert in command of the Canadian militia. He proceeds to Canada very shortly. The Colonel's experience is practically confined to the militia here, and he is highly spoken of in military circles.

It is said here that probably he will not be so drastic as General Herbert in his conduct of affairs. Col. Gascoyne served with his corps through the Egyptian campaign, taking part in the battles of Tel-el-Kebir and Suakim. He is Deputy Adjutant General of the military district of London in the volunteer service, and has had a great deal of experience with the metropolitan volunteers. Col Gascoyne is a full Colonel of the Guards and has recently been recommended for promotion to a Major-General.

SHORTAGE $40,000.

Bank Teller Porter's Arrest in the Ancient Capital.

Special to the Times.

QUEBEC, Aug., 1.—The leading officials of the Bank of Montreal in this city are somewhat reticent as to the details respecting the embezzlement of money by the paying teller, George Porter.

The latter is still in charge of the provincial police and will probably be brought to the police court this afternoon for hearing.

The amount of the embezzlement is now acknowledged to be between $40,000 and $45,000, but the bank officials expect to get most of the amount back. In fact they can now trace about $30,000 which will probably be returned.

The news of Porter's arrest was the talk of the town yesterday, as he was well known and very popular here. While at the bank he always enjoyed good reputation for punctuality and industry.

Mr. Macrae, the bank manager, laid the information against Porter, charging embezzlement. Judge Chauveau issued a warrant and Sergeant Burke of the provincial police made the arrest.

Porter was a dabbler in stocks and though at first things went his way, he eventually came to ruin.

It is celieved Porter would have shoot the policemen when arrested but for the fact that his wife had hidden his revolver.

ELECTRICITY AND CROPS

THE CURRENT HELPS THINGS TO GROW WITH GOOD RESULTS.

Frenchmen Know the Secret—Seeds. Flowers, Grapes, Strawberries and Vegetables Showing Extraordinary Vigo— When Electricity is Applied.

It has long been known that the electricity in the atmosphere plays an important part in the stimulation of vegetable growth, but hitherto no practical use has been made of this knowledge.

The results recently obtained by some French scientists, who have been experimenting with the effects of electricity on plants indicate that a most valuable aid to agriculture has been discovered. A plant deprived of atmospheric electricity by covering it with a network of fine steel wires soon withers away and dies; when artificially stimulated by an electric current it bloomsmith far more vigor than in a normal condition.

With these data to work upon the experimenters moistened seeds with water and then subjected them to the influence of an electric current. The seeds thus treated grew with far more vigor and came to maturity sooner than those not so treated. They even succeeded in making date stones germinate, which is a very unusual thing to happen in France.

Peas, beans and maize grew with astonishing swiftness when treated with the powerful current of a Ruhmkorff coil and the yield was greater than ordinary. Experiments with batteries were not so successful when the current was passed through the earth, because of the difference in the resistance of the soil in various places to the passage of the current. The resulting crop was uneven in character, according as one particular section received more or less of the electric current. With the powerful electrical machines much more satisfactory results were obtained. Strawberries in particular were ripened in a remarkably short time.

Electrical machines are far too expensive, however, for a farmer to use, and though all right in theory they are too costly in practice.

The new invention is called the geomagnetifere, and consists of an ordinary pole forty or fifty feet high, surmounted with a cheval de frise of copper spikes, designed to act as a collector of atmospheric electricity. This collector is insulated from the pole by a porcelain knob, and connects with a copper wire (also insulated from the pole), which transmits the current to a network of wires which are laid under the soil at a depth of about six feet. These wires are made of galvanized iron, and their cost is not large.

By the use of this apparatus the production on a given area has been increased 50 per cent. The grapes from vineyards in which the geomagnetifere is used are richer in sugar and alcohol than ordinary grapes. Flowers have a stronger perfume also when stimulated in this manner.

The exact chemical action which the current has upon fruits and vegetables cannot be determined. It is only certain that such action takes place. Some hold that it acts by aiding the plants to assimilate the azote of the atmosphere, while others think that it favors the assimilation of certain mineral salts in the soil.

The experiment can be tried on any lawn or flower bed so long as the pole is away from the house. If too close it acts as a lightning conductor, but without giving any protection.

It is estimated that a geomagnetifere sixty feet high will enrich the soil to the same degree as ten times its cost in manure. At the present time a successful farmer has to be something of a chemist, and it now seems as though he will have to be an electrician, too.

A NEW CURE FOR ERYSIPELAS.

Colorless Liquid With an Extraordinary Name Dr. Marmorek Has Made.

It is reported that a Parisian physician, Marmorek by name, has discovered a new serum for the cure of erysipelas, puerperal fever and bronchial pneumonia. This recently discovered remedy has been given the peculiar and lengthy name of Antistreptococcique. It has been seen at the Pasteur Institute in Paris, and is a thin, colorless liquid, resembling water in almost every detail. No word has come so far as to its success or whether any really definite cures have been made.

As a matter of fact, there is only a very small quantity of it as yet in existence—little more than a tiny vialful, indeed, but this is sufficient to have aroused pretty nearly all Paris—that section of it it least which takes an interest in medical affairs and in the science of curing disease—into making frequent inquiries and regarding the discovery as of great practical importance. Dr. Marmorek says that he is beset on every hand with requests for a small quantity of the serum on the part of both physicians and sufferers, and he has been obliged to shut out the public and the medical fraternity for a time until he has prepared more of the precious liquid.

His reason for so acting is his remembrance of the time of the discovery of the antitoxine cure, when the institute was besieged by anxious crowds demanding the new remedy and offering large sums of money for even a little of it. When the doctors then explained to them that it was impossible to give them what they asked for because there was no supply of it on hand, the crowd returned and upbraided the Pasteur physicians violently, calling them unhuman and brutes. Dr Marmorek is anxious that such a scene shall not occur in connection with his discovery. In a month and a half Marmorek claims that he will have an ample supply and will meet all demands that may be made upon him.

Deadly Work of the New Bullet.

Sir Benjamin Baker, in a paper on "War and Engineering," calls attention to the devastation which the small-bore rifle effects in the human body. He says: "The magazine rifle bullet, though no larger in diameter than a lead pencil, does not simply perforate a bone, but "the part is always pounded; fragments are frequently carried out through the wound of exit, which is commonly converted into a gaping orifice, the muscles are pulped, and, in fact, the limb mangled and damaged beyond repair." It may not unreasonably be contended, therefore, that by supplying soldiers with a weapon which kills or maims for life everyone a bone of whose body is touched by a bullet even at a mile's distance, and further, by making victors and vanquished suffer equally, and the cost of killing a man to be incomparably greater than of old, engineering science has done more to make war unpopular than all the army tailors of the world will ever be able to undo, however much they may endeavor to distract attention.

ADVERTISE N THE TIMES.

REPAIRING COUNTRY ROADS.

Under the Present System a Great Deal of Money is Wasted.

A corrrespondent of the Uxbridge Journal says that it has been noticed by all intelligent persons of late years that the present system of road repair is not a good one. A great deal of money is spent whilst but very poor returns are realized. Pathmasters are appointed from among the farmers, and in nine cases out of ten the man appointed knows little enough about the work which he is appointed to oversee, and in many cases he knows almost nothing at all about the matter. Let me cite an instance. Not very far from here a farmer was appointed as pathmaster for last year. He had work to the value of fully $50 to expend on his beat. It will be remembered that during last June a very heavy rain fell. It was during the intervals of this rain that the above pathmaster had his statute labor performed. The result may be easily imagined. The labor expended was totally lost, and the road was left in a worse condition than it was in the first place. Thus not only was the money lost, but additional money had to be taken from the municipal funds to render the road passable.

Another phase of the subject may be seen in the irregular manner in which the work is done. The pathmaster calls out his men and some of them come and some of them don't. Then the overseer has to be continually running after the delinquents, and there are cases where the road list has not been returned for three years. All the thanks that the pathmaster gets for doing his duty is the abuse of his neighbors, with whom it is to his interest to be on friendly terms.

Then did anybody ever watch the men "working for the Queen?" Perhaps if the muscular force used in keeping the tongue going was applied to the use of the shovel there might be better results. Of course this is not always the case. On some beats there are men who take a pride in keeping their section in good shape. But unfortunately these sections do not predominate. Nobody is particularly interested because nobody has any incentive to make a thorough job of the work in hand, and the man who gets the least for his work is the man who acts as overseer. I feel fully convinced that if the statute labor were abolished and a tax paid by the farmers, of even fifty cents per day for every day of statute labor to be done by him (the regular tax for unperformed statute labor being seventy-five cents), and the money applied under the guidance of skilled overseers, we should then have far superior roads than we have at present.

There may be some objections offered, but it seems to me that such objections may be easily overcome, and there are few farms that would not be benefited by the labor which is now put on the roads. Our farms, for the want of labor, are in a great many cases running down and becoming a burden to the man who owns them.

Bowker on the Warpath.

MONTREAL, Aug. 1.—Proceedings were commenced here yesterday afternoon against the Select Knights of Canada on a charge of unlawfully transacting insurance business in this province without having a license to do so, as required by the Revised Statutes. The complaint was made by Richard Bowker, who has already conducted similar prosecutions in Ontario. The Order will fight the case.

Bird Foods Explained . . .
SAY! DO YOU KNOW That much of the seed sold is poor stuff, unfit for Bird Food, save to destroy song and endanger life. To secure health, song and brilliant plumage use Cottam's Bird Seed. We put up no less than six different brands of Bird Seed, all equal in value to anything of the kind in the market, but all very much inferior to Cottam's Bird Seed. The Times.

PETERBOROUGH, AUGUST 3 1895.

As a fictionist, Rider Haggard isn't to be compared with Holmes and the Chicago press correspondents.

The Chicago police have not yet discovered indisputable evidence that Holmes was implicated in the assassination of Stambuloff.

Hogtown proposes to give Hayhurst a "reception." It will probably consist of an invitation to remain in that delightful place long enough to spend his prize money.

The Courier tells of a policy-writer who dealt in bogus drawings. He was simply diong in his humble way what his principals do on a stupendous scale.

A German chemist has discovered a method of making artificial musk, which cannot be distinguished from the real article, and perhaps somebody will soon discover a method of making artificial skunk odor.

Not many weeks ago the Duke of Argyle was reported to be dying. But as he has just entered for the third time into wedlock, marrying a girl 50 years younger than himself, it may be taken for granted that their's some life in the old man yet.

Justice is a queer thing. A Montreal dealer who cheated everyone of his customers out of a portion of the coal they paid for has been let off with a fine of $500; in this city, and perhaps in Montreal, a poor boy who would steal a basketful of coal from a railway car would get a term in jail.

The Gatling gun is likely to be shortly superseded by a new invention which fires more rapidly and with more accurate aim. If these vast improvements in weapons continue, the battles of the future will be short, sharp and decisive or both sides will likely be entirely annihilated in double-quick time. This may rob war of its glories, but not of its horrors.

According to a foreign correspondence the sinking fund is the great secret of Glasgow's success in financial management, and is applied to every enterprise under municipal control in the city. How well the city is managed by this device is shown by the fact that the liabilities are £8,000,000, and assets over £10,000,000, leaving a clear balance of over £2,000,000 to the good.

A commercial mission to China was recently organized by the Lyons Chamber of Commerce, acting in concert with the French government. Young men will be sent out at its expense for two years, first to Shanghai and then to the interior provinces, in order to make a thorough study of the best means for developing French trade with the Flowery Kingdom.

The great banking house of the Barings, whose disastrous failure in 1890 caused widespread ruin, is rapidly regaining its lost fortunes. In the first half of the last century a German, named John Baring, founded this celebrated house at Exeter, England, and one hundred and twenty-five years ago his sons established themselves in London. The Barings had a high standing before the Rothschilds were known, and until the crash unexpectedly came five years ago, possessed the confidence of the financial world in no less degree than the Bank of Montreal does to-day. The resumption of business by this old banking house will be gratifying intelligence.

The American dailies have big flare heads about the "Fight for Holmes," referring to the Ontario authorities' application for his extradition for murder. There is no fight for Holmes as far as Canada is concerned. All that is desired is that the murderer get his deserts with neatness and dispatch, with the accent on the dispatch. Americans admire our banking system and we wouldn't mind also giving them a prominent chance to admire our judicial system by deliberately, yet expeditiously, turning Holmes into a sample of suspended animation.

MONTREAL.

LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

Aug. 2.—One or two cables have been received since Monday last, and for the most part they all reported more or less improvement. The tone of the Glasgow market on Tuesday was said to be a little firmer on the strength of light supplies According to one message only 500 head of Canadians were offered on that day. There seems to be a little easier feeling in freights, mostly on account of the fact that shipments will likely show a falling off. The recent rains in the west, it is said have made farmers less desirous of sending their stock forward. So far there has been no quotable change, and the following rates still rule: London, 40s, Liverpool, 40s to 45s, and Glasgow, 45s. There were about 500 head of butchers' cattle, 1,500 sheep and lambs and 450 calves offered for sale at the East End Abattoir today. The butchers were present in large numbers, but with an overstocked market to deal in they were slow to buy except at a reduction on former low rates. The best cattle sold at about 3½c per lb, but there were really no fine beeves on the market. Common dry cows sold at from 2½c to 3½c per lb, and the leaner beasts at about 2c do. Calves were very plentiful and lower priced all round, common calves selling at from $1 50 to $4 each, and a few of the best selling at about $6 each. Shippers are paying from 3¼c to 3½c per lb for good large sheep, and the others sell at from 2c to 3½c per lb. Lambs are lower in price all round, good lambs sell at about $3 each, and common ones sell at from $2 to $2 60 each. Fat hogs sell at a little over 5c per lb for fed hogs, and those just come off the cars bring ¼c.

THE LIME JUICE CLUB.

REGULAR WEEKLY MEETING OF THIS CHASE SOCIETY.

The Hall of Wisdom Once Again the Centre of Attraction—Large Attendance of Members and a Great Deal of Important Business Disposed of.

The Hall of Wisdom was again filled to the doors before the hour for meeting had arrived. Many members from the country were obliged to stand, and the doors leading into the museum were thrown open and that spacious adjunct was also soon filled. Bros. Cautious Miller, Whalebone Weir, Butler Roach and Pony Moore, representing the Keene division, arrived in good time, and were given a seat on the left of the chair, while Bro. Wm. McFarlane, President of the Young's Point Liver Complaint Society, which has recently been absorbed into the Lime Juice Club, was seated at the right of the President. TheLakefield, Bobcaygeon, Douro, Ennismore and Millbrook, members occupied the western gallery, while the main body of the Hall was filled with local members.

IMPOSTERS.

A communication was read from Bro. Holmes, of Burleigh, disclosing the fact that a young man arrived at that place in company with Bro. Lech and Harry LeBrun, a few days ago, and answered to the name of J. L. McBride. He was making a pretty good thing of it by claiming to be President McBride's eldest son. He was of very distinguished appearance, indicating that he came from "the real old stock." Also another man of cheek was selling a new kind of a double, back action fishing tackle, by displaying a photograph of Bro. Tob. Fitz.

After the Secretary had finished reading the communication the President arose and said:

"Gentlemen, if any member of this Club had any idea that I had a son, I might remark that my eldest son was a girl, and that she balanced a ten pound pumpkin the day she was born. That's all the son I ever had, and the poor thing was taken with fever and died before she was four years old. We have some of the little dresses down home in the chist, and sometimes when I go in softly by the back way I find the poor mother kissing those relics and weeping like as if her old heart meant to never forget that she once had a little darling that is now with the angels. The chap up at Burleigh is a fraud of the fifth water, and I hereby offer a reward for his arrest.

"As to the other fellow he is also a fraud, but is not likely to impose on anybody with his fishing apparatus when Bro. Holmes is around."

A PROJECT KILLED.

Bro. Col. Marley gained the floor and the recognition of the chair, and said he had a matter of great importance to communicate to the Club. He had long been of the idea that the Hall of Wisdom should be connected with a gyumasium for the use of the members of this Club, and he was willing for one to take a liberal amount of stock in a project of this kind, and become a liberal patron. He believed that muscular development meant long life, and it had pained him to discover that the people of this locality had of late years entirely neglected muscular development, and that death was busy in their ranks.

"Gentlemen," replied the President, as he pushed up his sleeves, "I've got muscle enough to throw a tramp over two fences and a row of potatoe hills, and I got it all at the wood pile. Right in the hall are over 300 members who are above 70 years old, and in the best of health. We haven't lost but one member by death in two years, and green apples was the cause of that. We don't want any better health and we don't want any more muscle. If we do, we can secure it at the wood pile, in the garden, or by handling the pick and shovel. The man who keeps himself clean, goes to bed early, has solid food and lets whiskey alone will live just as long as the Lord intended he should, and that's long enough for anybody. If Bro. Marley wants any more muscle I can get him a job with my friend Mr. Underdonk, unloading scows on the Trent Valley Canal."

A VAIN APPEAL.

The contents of a formidable looking envelope on the desk were next made known by the Secretary. The communication was from Bro. Razor Reynolds, an honorary member residing in Port Hope. While on the roof of a building to see a circus procession pass along the street, he had fallen through a photographer's sky light and sustained serious injuries. The photographer had refused to settle for personal damages, Razor had appealed to the Club to stand by him, and assist in carrying his case to the courts.

"I move that this Club extends its heartfelt sympathies and forward the money to pay a lawyer," promptly responded Bro. Mervin from the back end of the Hall.

"Bro. Mervin," began the President, as he arose and bent his gaze that way, "there is no doubt in my mind that you know all about the business of stuffing sausages and preparing lamb chops, because I've seen you at work, but when it comes down to a question of law you may be as badly mistaken as the man who picked up a red hot horse-shoe in the blacksmith shop. While it is the duty of this Club to assist and protect its members, what do you know of the particulars of this case? The points of law in the case we are several. The lawyers would ask how high the building was; if that circus had the only sea lion in the country; if the photographer was home or down at the sea-shore; if Bro. Reynolds was standing still or galloping around; if he was going into that circus on a ticket or ment to crawl under the canvas, and where would this Club be when the jury got through with the case? We don't take no action until we get bigger particulars, and even than we must go ahead as carefully as a hen walking on a picket fence,"

HARMONY.

The Harmony Club now secured the floor and thrilled the vast audience with their melodious strains as follows:

On the widespread docks of the Trent Canal
  In Peterborough town,
The vessels which
Bring cargoes rich
  Will lay their burdens down.

From the lower ports they will come,
  From lands of frost and freeze,
And they will bring
As slaves to a king
  Their golden argosies!

And the marketmen of the Mud Lake Shores,
  Bobcaygeon further on
Will bring their truck
From the loony muck
  At the rosy, early, dawn!

The fragrant onion, the succulent squash,
  The radish and the rare
Old turnip green
With pepper-grass keen
  Will scent the morning air.

To the widespread docks the Peterborough folk
  Will come by day and night
And contemplate
Their important state,
  With wild untamed delight.

They will price the golden argosies,
  From distant tropic scenes;
And after while,
With a satisfied smile,
  Will buy a bunch of greens.

The sailors from the vessels' decks,
  Will watch, as they draw near,
The Peterborough goat
With his tail afloat
  In the radiant atmosphere.

We'll sing to the town of Peterborough then,
  Our finest madrigal:
Proud mistress, she,
In the time to be,
  Of the great T. V. Canal!

During the singing of the original lines, our local member, Mr. Steveson, was seen to take his hat and slide noislessly down the stairs leading into the alley.

LACROSSE.

The Secretary read a letter from the Port Hope Lacrosse Club, suggesting that a match be arranged between the Chemong Lake Indians and the Indian section of the Port Hope Ontarios.

"I may say,' remarked Sir Richard, on rising, "that this is a matter which may properly be referred to Bro. Bob. Fife, the Chairman of the Committee and Pains and Anxieties. I have no doubt he will arrange a match. In any event he will see that the Ontarios are properly provided with war hoops."

WALKED OUT.

"Will Bro. Lawson step this way?" blandly enquired the President.

Bro. Lawson stepped up with a grin on his face as if he expected to draw a chromo, and the President continued:

"Bro. Lawson, four weeks ago you were taken sick?"

"Yes, Sir."

"You called in the doctor, who put a hot brick to your feet and sent word to our relief committee to fill your claim for $3 per week."

"Yes, Sir."

"That committee reported favorably on your case, and the money was sent you—$3 per week for two weeks. Your illness was said to be chills and fever,"

"That was it, Sir."

"Just so; but what brought them on? Brother Lawson, I discovered yesterday that you got into a dispute with a neighbor about the age of Moses when he died, had a fight and was knocked into a ditch full of water. That was what started from chills and feaver.

"I—I—Yes, Sir."

"And you lied to the relief committee when you claimed to have got wet coming home from a funeral."

"I—I didn't mean to,—sir."

"And you willfully and maliciously put up a job to rob this Club of $6"

"I'll pay it back, sir."

"No you won't! You haven't seen the time in the last fifteen years that you had six dollars to spare. That money is gone, and you are going to follow after it! You can take down your hat and walk out of the Hall of Wisdom for the last time! We want no men in this club who cares whether Moses was 70 or 700 years old when he died, and we will not keep the name of a liar and deceiver on our books. Walk out, Mr. Lawson—walk right out!"

Mr. Lawson walked, and it was noticed that several parties near the water pail looked as if they expected another bomb shell to fall somewhere.

THE CLOSE.

"We will now strike the triangle, raise our voices in song, and the walk the several ways to our homes," continued the President, "feeling grateful that catfish have got down to four cents a pound, and thankful that the piece labor remains firm and the market steady."

Unsisterly Words.

Two little sisters who were very fond of each other, and generally quite happy together, were playing "keep house and go visiting." The elder sister was the housekeeper, and she bustled merrily about, spreading the table and arranging the little tea set upon it, meanwhile chatting with little Anna, who, for the time, was "a very fine lady from the city."

Just as the preparations were completed, and she as about ot summon her guest to the miniature repast, Anna quietly climbed into a large easy chair, and rocking slowly back and forth, she said:

"I don't want to play any more."

Not noticing the sudden pallor of the sweet little face, the sister angrily retorted:

"I'll never play with you again as long as I live!"

And she never did. She went to her little bed alone that night and lay with a heavy, aching heart, longing for the morning to come, that she might put her arms around her little sister's neck and tell her she was sorry. The morning came, but Anna was dangerously ill. Her parents had watched over her through the weary night, and were alarmed for her safety. Her sister was allowed just to see her, but she must not speak. The poor child grew worse and worse, and in a few days she died. The last words she ever heard from that loving but petulant sister was that bitter, angry sentence.

The San Francisco Cremation Society has recently completed what it calls a Columbarium, intended for the ashes of the cremated dead. The structure is fireproof, of Romanesque design, and has 1,000 tiny rooms destined to hold urns containing the ashes of incinerated persons.

Blunt Criticism.

President Kruger evidently has no music in his soul—if a story going the rounds in South Africa be true. At a social gathering gven in his honor some time ago, one of Bloemfontein's sweetest lady singers gave an artistic rendering of a popular song. The lady of the house, turning to "Oom Paul," who was probably pining for a pipe, asked, "How did your Honor like that?" The president bluntly replied, "I go into the veld when I want to hear the she-wolf scream!"—Washington Gazette.

Catarrh in the Head

Is a dangerous disease because it is liable to result in loss of hearing or smell, or develop into consumption. Read the following:

"My wife has been a sufferer from catarrh for the past four years and the disease had gone so far that her eyesight was affected so that for nearly a year she was unable to read for more than five minutes at a time. She suffered severe pains in the head and at times was almost distracted. About Christmas, she commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and since that time has steadily improved. She has taken six bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and is on the road to a complete cure. I cannot speak too highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I cheerfully recommend it." W. H. Importance of The Egg Trade.

The Canadian farmers, as a rule, do not pay enough attention to their poultry for their own good. A young hen is not a worthless nuisance to be left alone to pick her own living. She is valuable property, and, if properly cared for, will pay larger interest on your money and labor than the other farm stock. Increase your flock to 200 hens at once. Build a suitable house for them. It will pay you. Few are aware of the value and importance of the egg trade as a source of wealth to a nation.

The amount of business done in the United States in the egg trade exclusively will amount to over $200,000,000 each year. New York city alone consumed $12,000,000 worth in 1890, at an average price of eighteen cents a dozen. The poultry and egg business outranks any single product, except corn, raised and sold in that country.

Notwithstanding these facts, we find people who think it small business and time wasted for the farmer to give his poultry flock a little time and attention. A farmer could do a great deal worse than make poultry raising the main branch of the farm industries.

Securing Full Value.

Farmers are often lax in studying market conditions as carefully reported in the columns of the newspapers each week, and in consequence sell produce at lower prices than necessary. In this vein writes an appreciative subscriber who considers these reports especially valuable. "They often save me dollars," he writes. "I sell my farm produce each week in my best home market. Frequently the merchants endeavor to mislead by quoting the city markets lower than they really are, but they have learned that through studying your columns I am posted with the situation and cannot be deceived. Again, other farmers often hold on to their produce for rise in prices when all the conditions plainly indicate a drop, continuing in this slipshod manner and condemning their business as unprofitable. They would be puzzled to name a business that would pay under such management."—American Agriculturist.

Hints on Stacking.

In harvesting wheat, oats and flax a header can be used successfully. If the stacks are long and narrow and not tramped as in the case of oats and flax, the stacking should be done by a man standing on the ground. Wheat can be placed in larger ricks, as it does not hold much moisture. Let the stacker always stand near the middle so the stack will settle straight and the straw on the outside will hang down.

Practical Reform:

Closing at 1 o'clock Saturdays and 5 o'clock other days represents a vacation of one day each week to a thousand or more employees. The tendency of business is towards concentration —the concentration of energy as well as capital. It is interesting to note the development of the idea, as we understand it

Bicycles at $50:

Same make and grade as those we've been selling all season at $60. Light Roadsters of the finest quality. Not a weak point about them, but sensible, serviceable wheels for young men and elderly men. FIFTY DOLLARS is the rock bottom figure. Come quickly if you want one.

Special for Saturday:

Only half a day to supply the wants of thousands. In order to start trade promptly at eight and maintain brisk activity all morning we shall sell among other things to-day:

—Balance of Ladies Summer Capes, new styles, elegantly made, formerly $10 to $18.50 on sale Saturday morning... $3 98

—Ladies White Cotton Corset Covers, sizes 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 in, trimmed, V shape front and back, with fine insertion, fancy braid and embroidery, regular price 60c, for. . . . . . . .25

—Gents' Tan Calf Oxford Shoes McKay sewn, fair stitch, all sizes, 6 to 10, regular price, $1.25; Saturday at. . . . .75

—Men's Russia Calf Tan Laced Boots, McKay sewn, a stylish cool, comfortable shoe, in sizes 6 to 10, regular price, $1.50 Saturday at. 1.00

—Men's Dongola Congress (elastic side boot), extra choice quality, all sizes, special at. 1.50

We fill mail orders Saturday as promptly as other days, and those who can't get to the store can send for what they want. The store is busier now than any midsummer we ever remember, and those who shop early often see lots of special things that never get into the papers.

Cheap Books:

We've the reputation for selling good Books cheaper than any store of any kind anywhere in Canada. Just now we're doing a remarkable business in—

—Books at 5c.
—Books at 10c.
—Books at 25c.

That are away below publisher's prices. There's heaps of enthusiasm selling Books as we sell them, and those who accept our advantages fare better than those who don't.

POND'S EXTRACT

IMPRESSED ON THE MEMORY

That Pond's Extract is without equal for relieving pain, and that no remedy should be accepted as "just as good." And unscrupulous druggists will insist on trying to force upon purchasers weak imitations which are irritating, uncertain and even poisonous, very different from genuine Pond's Extract, which is universally known as a great healer, pacifier and comforter. Nature's own remedy for all pain is genuine Pond's Extract.

Avoid substitutes; accept genuine only, with buff-wrapper and yellow label.

BAD LITERATURE.

The Cause of the Killing of Mrs Crombe by Her Son.

Special to the Times.

LONDON, Aug. 2.—The finding of the coroner's jury in the case of Robert and Nathaniel Coombes, the two boys who were accused of having murdered their mother, was officially announced today. The jury found a verdict of wilful murder against Robert, the elder son, while Nathaniel was held as accessory before the fact. The jury added a rider to their verdict urging that the sale of inflammatory and shocking literature be stopped on the ground that it is answerable for many crimes. Acting on the advice of the coroner, the jury ignored the case of Fox, the half witted man, who helped the boys to spend the money obtained by them by pawning goods taken from the house after the murder of their mother. Fox's case is considered distinct from that of the two youthful criminals.

MOST INVALUABLE

The New Specific Remedy is being Extensively Used at Ottawa.

OTTAWA, July 20.—The marvellous recovery of Mr. G. H. Kent, of this city, from Bright's disease by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills is still fresh in the memories of Ottawa people, and the remedy is being freely recommended both by druggists and private citizens. The similar wonderful cures of Dr. A. G. McCormick, of Richmond. Quebec, and of Mr. Arthur Coley, of Somerset, Manitoba, to say nothing of many others, are generally quoted in favor of the assertion that no remedy of modern times has gone so successfully through a severe trial, and been so efficacious in all cases of kidney trouble. It is also proving itself invaluable in the milder forms of sickness which appeared during the summer.

ENLARGES THE USES OF MUSIC.

There is a good deal in the old saw that music will charm the savage breast. It always was possessed of a magnetic power over individuals. To the present age, however, must be credited the greater triumphs in musical directions. And not the least of these is the transposing piano of Heintzman & Co., Toronto, which opens out for vocalists a wide arena of delightful study. The instrument is unique in every particular, and ought to command the study of everyone interested in music, whether professionally or for its individual delights.

Letters and Language.

Nothing better illustrates the ratio in which the different letters are used in our language than a set of figures on the proportionate number of types that are found in the printer's case, which are usually as follows: z 2, j 5, q 6, k 8, v 15, b and g 20, p 24, w and y 25, m and f 30, c 40, u 45, d and l 150, h 60, r 70, n, o and s 80, a and i 90, t 100 and e 140.

Making Roads.

The best time for road work is after the spring work has been completed, because the ground is then neither too wet nor too dry, and when dry weather sets in there is no use trying to work roads. Road work in the fall is just as impracticable, because the track will be muddy until the freeze-up occurs and the following spring will be full of mud holes. For this reason divide townships into road districts so that the main portion of the labor can be done after the crops are in. Every crew of men preparing roads must have an overseer with them all the time. He must undertsand his business, and one superintendent cannot properly oversee more than one crew of men.

The Grey Nuns' Growth.

The community formed in Ottawa fifty years ago by four sisters from the Mother House in Montreal has so increased that the number of sisters in the order has now reached 474. Of this number 112 have passed to their reward and 362 are still devoting their energies to the care of the orphan, the sick, the helpless, old and abandoned, and the education of the children of the rich and poor. Three days after the arrival of the pioneer sisters, in 1845, as many as 150 children were received in the little mission school and there given their first lessons in reading and spelling. The school was then quite a boon for Bytown. To-day the number of children receiving education in the different communities that branched out from the Ottawa community, in the United States and Canada is upwards of 9,500 a year.

Impressionism.

Impressionism has been a return to nature, a movement which has allowed to each artist the complete development of his temperament and of his individuality. And in our essentially individualistic epoch, individuality is a dominating force in art. Impressionism is, if one may say so, a school open to all, which every one can enter without the least lowering of his flag. It is a school where each is his own master. Impressionism represents the complete development of each artistic temperament, the study of all the aspects of nature, and an absolute liberty in the choice of the means of expression, which are for us simply means for saying what we have to say, and never an end in themselves.

Strange, But True.

This is a very peculiar world. One is struggling for justice and another is fleeing from it. One is trying to build a house and another is trying to sell his for less than it cost to get rid of it. One man is spending all he can make in taking a girl to the theatres, sending her flowers, with the hope of making her his wife, while his neighbor is spending what gold he has in getting a divorce. One man escapes all diseases that flesh is heir to and gets killed on the railroad. Another escapes without a scratch and dies with the whooping cough. One man stands off all his creditors and goes traveling, while another pays his debts and stays at home.—Orangeville Sun.

Nervous Prostration

It is now a well established fact in medical science that nervousness is due to impure blood. Therefore the true way to cure nervousness is by purifying and enriching the blood. The great blood purifier is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Read this letter:

"For the last two years I have been a great sufferer with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart. I was weak in my limbs and had smothered sensations. At last my physician advised me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla which I did, and I am happy to say that I am now strong and well. I am still using Hood's Sarsaparilla and would not be without it. I recommend it to all who are suffering with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart." MRS. DALTON, 56 Alice St., Toronto, Ontario. Get Hood's, because all at once," she comforted herself by reflecting.

THE PRETTY ARTIST.

(Concluded from yesterday.)

But one day there came a gleam of hope athwart the Cimmerian darkness of her prospects. As she was working at her easel footsteps stumbled up the semi-lighted stairs, and a knock sounded at the door.

"Is this Miss Maitland's studio?" demanded a cheerful voice.

"Why," cried Gladys, drawing a quick breath, "why, Lovel!"

"It's Gladys!" exclaimed Lovel.

For the young cousins had met once years ago at the seaside, and they never had forgotten one another.

"Why," cried Lovel, rubbing his forehead as if not quite certain but that he was dreaming, "I thought you were adopted by some rich woman here in the city!"

"Art is the only mother that I know," Gladys answered, laughing. "I hope you've brought me an order, Lovel."

"But, I say," persisted the bewildered law-student, "why don't you come and live with Aunt Barbara?"

"Oh, I've tried that," said Gladys, shaking her head, "and we couldn't get along at all together."

"Speaking of Aunt Barbara," said Lovel, mysteriously, opening a paper parcel on the table—"behold!"

Half-a-dozen bits of old china fell out with a clink and a clatter.

"Oh!" cried Gladys, stiffening with horror. "It's Aunt Barbara's painted china! Oh, Lovel, how did this happen?"

Mr. Best smote himself pathetically on the chest.

"Like George Washington," he confessed, "I cannot tell a lie—it was I! I was doing my gymnastics in the storage-room—Indian war-clubs and all that sort of thing, you know—when, all of a sudden, I lost my balance and tumbled over the pile of boxes. Down they went! Aunt Best keeps 'em packed, you know, in case of accident, and, of course, the china must needs be under all the rest, and got the hardest thumps."

"What did she say?" cried Gladys, with uplifted hands and eyes shining humidly.

"She doesn't know," Lovel answered, six pieces—and fled frantically to the nearest china-shop. They recommended me—here. To Miss Maitland, No. —— Sixth avenue. But I never dreamed that I was coming to my old playmate! Now, Gladys, I am at your mercy. Can these ruins be replaced, or can they not?"

Gladys frowned, half closed her lovely limpid eyes, pursed up her lips in the intensity of her attention, and finally nodded her head.

"Yes," she said. "But it will be, oh, so expensive! First we must order the china manufactured in just that outre, ancient shape; then it must be painted piece by piece."

"Let us hope," said Lovel, earnestly, "that there will be no grand family festival to use the china before—"

"Aunt Barbara never uses it," said Gladys. "She only unpacks it at intervals to dream over the grandeur of her ancestors. Courage, Lovel; I think we shall save you yet!"

"But, Gladys," said the young man, wistfully, "mayn't I tell Aunt Barbara that you are here alone? I am quite sure she would invite you to her horse, if—"

Gladys colored to the very roots of her hair.

"If you do, Lovel," she said, "I will never forgive you. No. We neither of us wish to see the other. Let things remain as they are."

"But I may come to see how the china gets on?"

"Oh, yes," said Gladys, brightening. "You may come. But mind, not a word to Aunt Barbara."

The important business took time, as all such things do, but it drew to a close at last, and one day the box of china—new, yet such a perfect imitation of the old one that Aunt Barbara herself could not have told the difference—was safely smuggled into the back door and up to the storage rooms.

"Now," said Lovel, laughing, "I shall breathe freely at last."

He gave Gladys a check for a hundred and fifty dollars, but as she took it he looked earnestly at her.

"Gladys, darling," said he, "I can't keep my secret any longer. I love you!"

"I knew that, long ago," said Gladys, in the sweet, solemn way she had.

"And you, dearest?'

"I love you, too," said Gladys. "Isn't it the most natural thing in the world? But I am not going to burden you with a penniless wife. We must wait until I am a great artist, you a prosperous lawyer."

Lovel Best secretly made up his mind that nothing of the sort should occur.

"I'll go home and tell it all to Aunt Barbara," he resolved. "And if she consents, all right; if she doesn't, all right, just the same! Gladys is better than a dozen fortunes!"

But when he reached home, the servants came to meet him with pale, troubled faces. Aunt Barbara Best had been found sitting dead in her chair.

Her will, all signed and sealed, left all that she had to Lovel Best. Gladys Maitland's name was not once mentioned.

But Gladys was coheiress all the same as Lovel's wife; and, perhaps, had the old lady known it, she would not have been displeased. For coming death lifts the veil off our hearts, and Mrs. Barbara had more than once wished that she had not been so sharp and stern with Gladys Maitland.

So they were married, and lived happy ever after. And Mrs. Barbara Best never even knew that her precious china had been broken, and risen again, so to speak, from its own ashes.

WALLACE RE-ELECTED.

List of Officers Elected at the Grand Orange Lodge,

There was a little scene at the Grand Lodge at Halifax when the credential committee reported W. A. McCulloch, ex M.P, Edward Cochrane, M.P., Alex. McKay, M.P., Lieut. Col. R. Tyrwhitt, M. P., and "Whip" Taylor, M.P., entitled to sit and vote. John McMillan, of Toronto, wanted to know by what right they were thus accorded votes, and a lively dispute followed. It was ended by the Grand Master ruling that the gentlemen mentioned were entitled to vote as "incorporated members" having registered and been designed as such by Parliament.

The Grand Master was re-elected by acclamation, Bro. E. F. Clarke declining to run. He also declined re-election as Deputy Grand Master and A. J. Armstrong, of St. John, was elected. Mr. Galbraith, Past Grand Master of Quebec, being his opponent, 130 to 33. Robert Birmingham was re elected Grand Secretary by acclamation. The complete list of officers is as follows:

Sealskin to be Dearer.

Sealskins are likely to be dearer this year than for several seasons past. The principal factor in reducing quotations of skins last season was the unusually large catch of the Canadian sealers, amounting to 94,000 skins, 25,000 more than the catch of the previous year and about double the catch of 1892. At the Department of Marine and Fisheries reports are carefully watched of the sealing operations, and there it is stated that the number of skins taken this year, and likely to be taken in the Behring Sea during the open season, which commenced on the 1st of August, will be considerably below the catch of 1894. The coast catch, already accounted for, is very much less.

A False Report.

It was reported around town last night that a Peterborough man had been killed in a fight at Lindsay early in the evening. Investigation proved the rumor to be without foundation.

The American Flyers.

The large posters for the meet of the American circuit in Peterborough on August 30, are being issued from THE TIMES office. The best riders in America will be present at this meet which will consist of 9 events.

An Infant Falls From a Chair.

On Thursday last, the little eighteen months daughter of Mr. E. W. Elcombe, grocer, of Campbellford, formerly of Peterborough, fell from a high chair in which it had been placed by its mother, and broke its collar bone. A doctor was called to render the necessary medical attendance, and his young patient seemed quite comfortable the following day.

Jailed for One Year.

Thomas Williams, the tramp who terrorized the good people of Havelock and who was brought to town on Friday night by a Havelock constable, appeared before Magistrate Edmison on Saturday and was sentenced to one year in the Central Prison.

Trent Canal Contract.

The contract for the Peterborough and Lakefield division of the Trent Canal has been finally awarded to Brown & Love, and Aylmer, of Toronto, who are said to be the lowest tenderers, the contract price being in the neighborhood of $300,000. The total length of this section is six and a half miles.

Found a Horse and Rig.

About ten o'clock Monday night a man brought a bay horse and covered buggy to the police station, and said he had found the animal straying around the northern portion of the town. The horse looked like a valuable animal and was minus a bridle. The police had it quartered at the Huffman House, awaiting an owner.

Later.—At one o'clock the horse and buggy was claimed by a farmer named Brothers. It had been tied to a post. The owner had searched all over the town for it.

The New Curate.

Rev. Carl Smith, of Lindsay, has, it is understood, signified his willingness to accept the curacy in connection with St. John's South Ward Mission, and will assume charge in September next, when Rev. B. C. Andrews' resignation takes effect. Rev. Carl Smith is well known in town, having conducted services in St. John's and the Mission on numerous occasions. He is a fluent expounder of the Bible truths and already has formed many friendships in town. Mr. Andrews is leaving to accept a charge in New York City.

Baseball at Jubilee.

Arrangements have been made by Prof. Crowe, of Alderville, to have a baseball tournament at the above park between the team of the celebrated White Cloud Indian club, of Central Ontario, and the Algonquin Indian club to be held on Sept. 4th. The Hiawatha and Chemong Lake Indian clubs will also play on the same day. Excursions will be run from all points on the railroads touching the lake and Otonabee river. The Bowmanville baseball club will play the Hiawathas on August 7th at Jubilee. D. McCabe, the one-arm twirler, has gone to several towns to arrange matches at Jubilee.

Taken to the Asylum.

County Constable Archie Moore took Robert Craig to the Toronto Asylum Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Craig was taken into custody a few days ago at the request of his family and with his own consent. Some years ago he received injuries to his head and since then has been aware of failing mental capacity, and at times he became so violent that his family thought it only safe that he be taken in charge by the authorities. Craig bid his family a touching farewell yesterday and broke down completely. He appeared to recognize the necessity of the action taken, but took it very hard. It is indeed a sad case.

A Serious Affray at Coboconk.

On Monday evening last one of Howry & Son's drives reached Coboconk, and as usual the men loaded up with whiskey. After raising a tremendous racket about the usually quiet village the men returned to their tents on the river bank. One of the gang then got into a dispute with the cook, whose name is Burns, and used an axe, striking Burns on the forehead and on the left arm, inflicting dangerous wounds. The fellow then decamped and has not since been seen. Hopes are entertained of the recovery of the wounded man.

A Saturday Night Trip.

On Saturday the City of Peterborough will inaugurate a new trip down the river, the boat leaving at 7.30 in the evening and calling at Jubilee and Idyl Wyld, giving the passengers the choice of stopping at either of these beautiful resorts over Sunday. On the return trip the boat will leave Harwood and call at Jubilee and Idyl Wyld, reaching Peterborough at 8 o'clock on Monday morning. Tickets for the round trip, including meals, and room for two nights have been placed at $1.50 and can be secured at this office up to 12 o'clock Saturday. It is intended to make this a popular outing and no doubt it will be much appreciated. No pains or expense will be spared by the manager of the steamer or hotels to add to the comfort and enjoyment of guests.

A Close Call.

On Friday forenoon last, as Mrs. Morton, of Campbellford, was returning home from picking berries, she narrowly escaped being killed by a train moving westward, about half a mile east of the village. She was walking outside the rail of the track, and did not hear the train, as her hearing is defective. Her little grandson who accompanied her, saw the train approaching from where he was standing near a barn, and shouted to her to get off the track, but she did not hear him. Mr. Thomas Arnott who was working in a field near by, saw the danger, and ran hurriedly towards her, and shouted to her to get out of the way, and she stepped aside just as the locomotive swept past her and almost grazed her shoulder. She was about to step upon a culvert when Mr. Arnott reached her, and had she done so she would certainly have been killed. Mrs. Morton told Mr. Arnott she heard the noise but thought it was from his wagon.

Weak and Nervous

Describes the condition of thousands of people at this season. They have no appetite, cannot sleep, and complain of the prostrating effect of warmer weather. This condition may be remedied by Hood's Sarsaparilla, which creates an appetite and tones up all the organs. It gives good health by making the blood pure.

HOOD'S PILLS are the best after-dinner pills, assist digestion, cure headache.

FOUND THE HEAD.

The Ghastly Skull of Old Scollie Said to Have Been Found.

As a result of Detective Murray's recent visit to Peterborough, it is reported that the missing head of old David Scollie has been found. This will be an important link in the evidence for the Crown.

It will be remembered that a farmer of Otonabee made the statement that he was driving near the Gray's and one of the Gray children climbed into his wagon with a queer looking bone in his hand. Upon being asked what he was playing with the child replied: "Old Davie's jawbone." Detective Murray followed up this clue, and not only recovered the jawbone, it is reported, but the balance of the skull.

The skull will be examined by the medical men who held the post mortem, and will enable them to decide with more precision how the head became severed from the body.

A GANG OF THIEVES.

Who Have Been Operating in Small Towns and Villages.

The county authorities of York are hot after a gang of burglars and thieves who infest the small villages and towns. Of late many small burglaries have been committed, and the victims are invariably farmers and outlying storekeepers. The authorities have long been of the opinion that an organized band of thieves are in existence. They operate in one place and then transfer themselves to another part of the county the next night. In the meantime they drop their swag to confederates who meet them on their passage from one place to another. By this method the booty is transferred through a number of hands and the connection between the thief and the man who disposes of the plunder is hard to prove.

The authorities think this gang is operating in all parts of the province and an effort will be made to work in conjunction with other counties throughout Eastern Ontario.

A BRAVE DEED RECOGNIZED.

Presentation to Young Godfrey Who Saved Two Lives.

The unequalled act of bravery of 14-year Ephraim Godfrey, will be remembered by our readers. A few weeks ago this young hero rescued two of his companions from certain death by drowning, by diving down into 13 feet of water, and bringing them from the bottom to the surface and then swimming ashore with them.

On Friday night last, the citizens of Young's Point gathered together and presented young Godfrey with a token of their recognition and appreciation of his heroic act. The meeting was held in the Carleton hotel, Proprietor McFarlane having been largely instrumental in getting up the testimonial. Mr. A. A. Smith read an address to Master Godfrey in which the citizens expressed deep admiration for his pluck, and then little Miss Laura McFarlane presented the brave lad with a handsome watch and chain on behalf of the citizens, and a nobby suit of clothes from Mr. Graham, whose young son Bruce was one of the lads whose life was saved.

ANOTHER DARK MYSTERY.

A Havelock Farmer Disappears — His Wife's Strange Death in a Swamp.

James Holbrook, who lived on a farm near Havelock with his daughter, Mrs. Henry Wesse, has mysteriously disappeared. Holbrook is the husband of the woman who some years ago disappeared, and whose lifeless body was found later in a swamp. Holbrook has been a man of erratic notions, and his daughter claims that he is not sane. At one time the board of health of the municipality had to go in a body and open the part of the house he occupied in order to have it renovated and cleaned to prevent disease. Holbrook had the windows boarded up, and the door leading from the portion where his daughter lived was fastened with a ponderous logging chain. He would take articles out, dig a hole in the garden and bury them. After Holbrook's disappearance, a neighbor named Mrs. Samson comes forward and demands possession of the Holbrook farm, claiming that she had purchased the farm and held the deed of it. It is charged bp Henry Weese, Holbrook's son-in-law, that they have taken forcible possession of the place and warrants were issued.

Constable Moore arrested Mrs. Samson, her husband, and their hired man named Varty on Friday, and Saturday they appeared before Magistrate Edmison. The case was adjourned until Tuesday.

ANOTHER FALSE ALARM.

The Firemen Called Out in the Night for Nothing.

Another false alarm was sent in Monday night from box No. 1, and the firemen again responded in the middle of the night, only to find that there wasn't any fire.

At 20 minutes past 1 o'clock this morning a feeble alarm was sent in from box No. 1. This box was broken open a short time ago by some person or persons, and several false alarms have been sent in from it. The firemen got up and dressed, but believing that it was another false alarm, did not take out the wagon. Ten minutes later a loud alarm was sent in from the same box, so the hose wagon and the hook and ladder immediately responded, only to find that they had been fooled again.

Naturally the firemen are incensed. It is no joke to be roused out of bed, and the parties who have been sending in these alarms will be dealt with pretty severely if they are caught. Last night the roads were fearfully muddy and the hose wagon and truck were covered with mud, which will entail a lot of extra and useless labor.

Box No. 1 has been disconnected and it is impossible to send in an alarm from it. The firemen felt justified in breaking the connection.

DEATH OF THOMAS DOLAN

The Well-known George Street Merchant Dies of Heart Failure.

Residents of Peterborough were shocked yesterday to learn of the sad and sudden death of Mr. Thomas Dolan, which occurred on Sunday morning, the cause being heart failure. Death came to him very suddenly and without warning, and the shock to his family and friends is very great.

Mr. Dolan for a number of years had conducted business at the corner of George and Hunter streets, and since coming to Peterborough, especially since going into business, had made a wide circle of warm friends, who will be pained to learn of his very sudden demise.

Deceased was born in Castle Reigh, Roscommon county, Ireland, and came to this country 17 years ago, settling in Peterborough. During his residence here he has filled many important and honorary positions. A year ago he succeeded Dr. Brennan as president of the C.M.B.A., of which order he had been a member for 8 years. He was at one time a member of the Separate School Board, and also a Justice of the Peace for Peterborough.

Deceased leaves a widow and 8 children, the oldest of whom, Albert, is in Pittsburg, where he went only a few weeks ago. Mr. James Dolan, of the City Hotel, is a brother of the deceased.

His grief stricken relatives will have the sympathy of the community in their sad loss. The funeral announcement will be made later.

THE ATHLETIC'S VICTORY.

The Ontarios of Port Hope Vanquished by Four Straight Goals.

The Athletic lacrosse club covered itself with glory yesterday by defeating their formidable rivals, the Ontarios, of Port Hope, by four straight goals. It was a signal and unexpected victory and proves conclusively that Peterborough has in the Athletics the strongest amateur lacrosse team in the midland district.

The Ontario's reached here yesterday accompanied by about 100 citizens of Port Hope. They were confident of victory, and their supporters showed their faith in the team by offering the odds of two to one that the Ontarios would win. They were accommodated by the friends of the Athletics and considerable money was put up.

The ball was faced at 2.30 o'clock on the Driving Park grounds. About 500 people were present. The weather was a trifle cool for the spectators but splendid for the players. Those who attended witnessed a splended game and one of the fastest ever played in Peterborough. The teams lined up as follows:

PETERBOROUGH.		PORT HOPE.
Dubbin	goal	Natrass
Borland	point	L. White
Green	cover point	J. White
Brown	1st defence	J. Foster
Joe McDonough	2nd "	M. White
Thompson	3rd "	T. Tuer
T. McDonough	centre	G. Tutton
Rubidge	3rd home	T. Burt
Hickey	2nd "	Coleman
Lipsett	1st "	M. Sullivan
Galley	outside "	J. Crowhurst
J. McDonough	inside "	P. Day
P. J. Doris	field captain	D. Hoey

Referee, H. LeBrun; Umpire, Sam Ray.

In less than an hour the Athletics succeeded in getting four straight goals. Their combination work was beautiful and excited the greatest admiration. The defence never did better work and the Ontarios found it an impossibility to get through it. The game was almost too fast to note the passage of the ball, but it was a gentlemanly game and the playing was not characterized by roughness. The goals were scored as follows:

WON BY	SCORED BY	TIME
Athletics	Galley	Eight minutes
Athletics	Galley	Ten minutes
Athletics	Lipsett	Ten minutes
Athletics	Lipsett	Twenty minutes

The excellent combination work of the Athletics was a surprise to their friends. For the Ontarios the Whites and Day did splendid work. Every man on the home team played a star game, and the boys are naturally exultant over the result.

The Athletics will play Millbrook on Friday and they feel confident of being the victors.

BICYCLE CLUB ORGANIZED.

A Good Start Made With Over Fifty Paid Up Members.

A meeting of the bicyclists of the town was held last night in the rooms of the Catholic Association, when it was decided to organize a club and secure club rooms.

The meeting was largely attended and the members enthusiastic. The two committees appointed at the last meeting brought in reports of such an encouraging nature, that it was felt the organization will be a success.

The committee delegated to interview bicyclists to find out how many would join the club and pay a membership fee of $5, brought in a list of over 50 names of paid up members. This was considered very encouraging.

The committee appointed to select rooms for the club recommended that the curling rink be secured if possible as they believed it more suitable than any of the various rooms they looked at. The club thought the recommendation an excellent one and added the names of Messrs. R. M. Dennistoun, R. Neil and R. D. Hamilton to this committee which was instructed to see the directors of the curling and skating rink company with a view to renting the rink building during the summer months.

THE ROAD RACE.

A committee was appointed to take charge of the road race which will take place on next Wednesday night. It will be a handicap event, so that green riders will have an opportunity of entering. The run will be to Lakefield and return, leaving the Court House park at 6.30. A suitable trophy will be given to the winner.

Mr. R. M. Dennistoun drew attention to the practice of "scorching" on the sidewalks, and said the club should do all in its power to have it stopped. The club will disapprove of this practice and the members will not indulge in it. There are a few bicyclists who persist in this dangerous work, but they are not members of the club, which, of course cannot restrain outsiders.

The next meeting of the club will be held on Monday night when the question of club rooms will be settled, and the executive officers elected.

Helping the Town Along.

Most of our citizens take a great interest in town affairs and do all in their power to try and promote everything that will be for the good of the town. Farmers and people living in the vicinity of the town should also take an interest in its well being, for it is here they sell their products and buy most of their groceries, provisions, etc. How can these people further assist the town? If in no other way they can refuse to purchase goods from the many peddlars who call at their homes. The goods these fellows handle are generally cheap trash, purchased in the large cash shops of Toronto and brought out here on the trains as baggage—thus saving express and freight charges. With these goods on their backs they start out to canvass the country, and even if you don't want the goods you will often buy them to get rid of the peddlars. There is no way of stopping them but to simply starve them out by not buying their goods. They pay no taxes to assist in keeping up the roads, public buildings, etc., and are generally a shifting, dirty lot of fellows and would be very little missed if put out of existence, as they are of no use to any community or country. Now, let everyone refuse to deal with these hawkers and purchase your goods from established merchants, and thus help to build up the town. Keeping money in circulation in your own town is the best way to build it up.

A Large Pilgrimage.

Another large pilgrimage to the shrine of Ste. Anne de Beaupre passed through the city today says a despatch from Montreal. There was no less than 3,500 pilgrims, under the immediate supervision of his Grace Archbishop Cleary and the Rev. Abbe Stanton and others. The pilgrims had been recruited from all parts of the Province of Ontario. It took four special trains to convey the passengers to their destination. In order to avoid a repetition of the Craig's Road disaster, none of the trains were allowed to proceed before the head train was at least one station ahead of the other.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES

Items of Interest Intelligently Presented for Busy Readers.

Weather is warmer.

The club run to Lakefield on Wednesday night will be an interesting affair as there will be a large number of entries.

At a recent meeting of the Dominion Building & Loan Association in Toronto, Mr. J. R. Stratton was re-elected president.

The absence of thunder and lightning this summer, is almost phenomenal. It has been seldom heard or seen in this locality.

If a change is made in the mail service on the Grand Junction it will not be for some time yet, till the close of the fall exhibitions.

The Auburn Woollen Mills team, of Peterborough, which is billed to meet our boys here on civic holiday, is a very strong team and a good game may be expected.—Lindsay Post.

A new swindle has just been nipped in the bud. A fakir named Dunoon was arrested Monday last at Sault Ste. Marie and sentenced to six months in Central prison for obtaining fees from hotel keepers for inspecting their licenses, and signing receipts therefor.

It has been said that the receipts of the dairymen in this locality will be one-third less than what they realized last year. This has been brought about by the low price of cheese and the great decrease in the flow of milk caused by the prolonged drought.—Campbellford Herald.

An inventive genius, noticing the growing tendency to large sleeves and the ladies evident fear of having the aforesaid sleeves crumpled, has hit upon a scheme to avoid this. In each sleeve he proposes to place an inflated rubber sack, which is connected with a small whistle under each arm. Any pressure on the sleeve is at once made known by a note on the whistle.

A poor, crippled man with a wooden leg, came to the village begging, one day during the week. He was in rags, and travelling with him was his wife and an infant, who were also poverty stricken and objects of pity. They drove an old horse that seemed ready to fall, and rode in a delapidated buggy that was falling to pieces. The unfortunate man said he was burned out last fall, and lost everything he had.—Campbellford Herald.

Ask some men for an advertisement or a few locals and they will say they don't believe in advertising—a paper is never read. Let one of them be caught kissing his neighbor's wife or trying to hold up the side of a building sometime, and his tune changes instanter, and if the printing office is in a garret of a seventeen story building he will climb up to the top and beg the editor to keep quiet—not to publish it in the paper. The paper is not read—oh no!

A London (Ont.) girl has won the prize offered by a Washington paper for the best essay on the late lamented George after whom the capital of the United States is named. A Canadian (Hall) was the best member of the Cornell crew at Henley, a Cananian (Hackett) was the fastest oarsman at Saratoga, a Canadian (Hayhurst) won the Queen's prize at Bisley, and now a Canadian school girl beats the whole United States in writing an essay on the Father of the American republic. 'Rah for Canada!

A slight mishap befel the Str. Esturian while on the up trip Tuesday evening. Just as the steamer had entered the river she colided with a sunken log, with the result that the false siding, constructed shortly after the boat was built in order to steady her, was smashed into on the port side allowing the water to pour in. The accident occasioned some little consternation among the women and children aboard, but there was really no danger. The boat was promptly beached, and the passengers transferred to the Greyhound, which happened to come up at the time, and taken to Lindsay.

A country minister in a certain locality took permanent leave of his congregation in the following pathetic manner: "Brothers and sisters, I come to say goodby. I don't think God loves this church, because none of you ever die. I don't think you love each other, because I never marry any of you. I don't think you love me, because you have not paid my salary; your donations are mouldy fruit and wormy apples; and 'by their fruit ye shall know them.' Brothers, I am going away to a better place, I have been called to become chaplain of a penitentiary. Where I go, ye cannot come, but I go to prepare a place for you, and may the Lord have mercy on your souls. Goodby."

GREY COUNTY DISTRESS.

Grasshoppers and Drought Cause Suffering to Farmers—Asking Relief.

Warden George Binnie, of Grey County, waited upon Hon. John Dryden yesterday, and laid before him the distressed condition of the county. Grasshoppers and drought were blamed for the loss of almost every green thing. Holland and Sullivan townships had suffered most.

Mr. Binnie asked whether the Government would make a cash grant for relief or enable the county to do so. Mr. Dryden suggested that more details be gathered, another meeting be held, and some scheme formulated. Every attention would be given by the department to the matter. Perhaps a cash grant would be made, or a commission might be appointed to distribute the aid if thought necessrry.

THIS YEAR'S FRUIT CROP.

Small Fruits not Very Good, But Apples Promising Well.

"Peaches, pears and plums are going to be rather a short crop," said a well known fruit man yesterday morning. "One grower told me this morning that he wouldn't have two baskets. The peach crop will be mainly composed of early varieties that the cold snap did not hurt.

"Pears are plentiful in some localities, but, generally speaking, there are not by any means enough to fill the usual demand. Plums altogether belie the bloom they showed, and grapes will be somewhat better. Root crops are all right, and the melons, tomatoes and that sort of thing will be of good quality and quantity.

"Apples are well reported here, in the United States, in Great Britain, and on the continent. Canadian exporters are, of course, not pleased with the large British crop, as it does not tend to better the market for them. But local dealers are not at all displeased."

Wedding Bells.

A very quiet wedding took place Tuesday morning, when Mr. Wm. B. Rehill, of Buffalo, was united in marriage to Miss Mary Jane Pollard, of Peterborough. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. J. Rae. The bride is the daughter of Mr. Joseph Pollard, corner of Aylmer and Simcoe streets. Mr. and Mrs. Rebill left immediately for Buffalo which will be their future home.

St. Martin Church, Ennismore, was the scene of a happy event on Monday evening when Mr. Daniel Hickson was united in marriage to Miss Ellen Crough, third daughter of Mr. Patrick Crough, J. P. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. J. McColl, Parish Priest, in the presence of a large gathering of intimate friends. Miss Alice Crough, sister of the bride acted as bridesmaid, while Mr. Thomas Hickson, brother of the groom, acted as best man. Mr. and Mrs. Hickson will reside in Ennismore.

Murray In Madoc.

Provincial Detective Murray, of Toronto, was in the village during the past week. He was here in connecton with the Gray-Scollie murder case at Peterborough.—Hastings Review.

Good Morning!

Have you used Bates' bread? It is positively the best. Praises are pouring in daily from all quarters; not in Peterborough alone, but also from surrounding towns and villages. If you have the cash buy the best. Walter Bates, bakery 651 Stewart street.

Located the Chisels.

The police found out last night that the chisels and brace used by the burglars in drilling Meldrum & McAllister's safe, were stolen from Metheral's shop. It is believed that the burglars had a boy with them, as the window through which they effected an entrance, could only be opened a small distance—not wide enough to admit a man.

Horses Wanted.

Mr. W. J. Pearson, the genial horse buyer of Montreal, will be here next week to purchase a car load of good, sound horses of every description. He is billed as follows: White's Hotel, Peterborough, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday, August 7th, 9th and 10th; Crocker's hotel, Millbrook, Thursday, August 8th. Parties having horses to dispose of should bear in mind that Mr. Pearson's prices are the highest obtainable in Canada.

Died at Lakefield.

It is our duty this week to chronicle the death of Jane Coleman, wife of Mr. John Clarin, which sad event took place on Thursday morning, August 1st. The deceased had been ill for a long time past with a cancer, and for some time she had been gradually sinking, until death mercifully relieved her from suffering. The bereaved husband and family have the sympathy of the entire community in their sad bereavement. The funeral will take place from the family residence on Saturday, August 3rd, at 2.30 o'clock p.m. to the Lakefield cemetery.—Lakefield News.

The Hastings Trip.

The City of Peterborough ran an excursion to Hastings yesterday. Owing to the exceedingly cool weather there were not as many took it in as there would have been had the weather been pleasant, but those who did go enjoyed the trip very much. One of the sights of the trip was the large number of mud turtles which were seen. Every log and stick was covered with them, ranging in size from one inch across to a foot and more. On one log no less than 21 turtles were seen. It was indeed a novel sight and was only accounted for by the supposition that the turtles had come out to sun themselves.

Railway Notes.

The Midland cricket team is organized and waiting for the day of the game to come around. It will likely be played some day next week in Orillia.

Conductor Geo. Riley, who was severely injured in the "pitch in" near Agincourt last winter, was in town Tuesday. He expects to report for work next month.

Driver Deyman, of the Coboconk train, who sprained his ankle badly by falling off the footboard of the engine on Victoria avenue a couple of weeks ago, is still unable to attend to his duties.

Conductor Johns and crew, of the Whitby ballast train, are home and will remain until Monday. A "diamond" is being put in at Oshawa, and while that work is going on the ballast train can do nothing.

All railway employees have been instructed that if they desire holidays they must take them at once so at to be in their places again by the 15th August, as after that date the new president of the Grand Trunk, Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson, may happen along any day.

Catarrh of the Stomach.

"My daughter was suffering with catarrah of the stomach, and was treated by the best physicians without benefit. Finally she began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and it helped her at once. She has taken 15 bottles and she is now able to work all the time." Anna Merrill, Eaton, Que., Canada.

THE ATHLETICS WON.

They Defeat Millbrook by Three Straight Goals.

The Athletics added another victory to their record this year by defeating Millbrook's crack lacrosse team on the Driving Park grounds yesterday afternoon.

When the Athletics played at Millbrook they were defeated by the stick handlers of that progressive little village, and naturally they wanted to get back at them. They did so yesterday by getting three straight goals and would doubtless have made a repetition of the Port Hope match by winning 4 straights, had not the Millbrook's refused to play any longer.

A crowd estimated to number about 400 witnessed the match which, while characterized by good playing, was undoubtedly a rough one, and rough play was indulged in by both teams. Phelan got a bad cut on the head and another got his lip badly bruised, but no one was totally disabled. The Athletics put up a strong game and their superior combination and defence work stood them well. The teams lined up as follows:

Having defeated Port Hope and Millbrock, the Athletics are now anxious to vanquish their old rivals the Orillias, and a game will be arranged at a near date.

PORT HOPE'S CRITICISM.

That Port Hope took the defeat of the Ontarios very hard, is evidenced by the following from the Port Hope Times:

The Ontario Lacrosse Club of Port Hope has been in existence five years and during that time has lost the following matches: (1) Their initial effort to play the national game on May 24th, '90, when they succumbed to the prowess of the Canadians of Toronto; (2) The exceedingly interesting match with Toronto University, which our twelve only succeeded in getting four out of the nine games scored; (3) The match Wednesday in Peterborough. Four straight games ware scored by the northern team, while our Ontarios were blanked, although one game was scored by Port Hope, which the umpire, who, it was afterwards learned, had money on the Peterboroughs, would not give.

Peterborough and Port Hope have been struggling these five years for supremacy in the lacrosse arena, and have fought fully ten battles. There have been some drawn matches, the rest defeats for the former club, but never until Wednesday were the Ontarios worsted.

It is hard to realize our twelve are defeated, and harder to give an explanation how it was done. Peterborough's team of a week ago was strengthened by Turnbull, Latimer and McCabe, while the Ontarios had Day, M. White and Nattrass.

The games were all of about ten minutes duration and the Ontarios had the Northerners on the defence for a good part of each game, but as soon as the opposing home got the sphere it was a case of score. Luck seemed against the Ontarios. The defence made brilliant returns, the centre field played splendidly, and the home division did their utmost.

There are a few circumstances which, outside of the play, were mainly responsible for the defeat. The grounds were four times the size of our Athletic park and this put the boys entirely at sea while the ridges and cavities were not conducive to good playing. Day at the very commencement of the game had his nose broken by a slash from McCabe, whom it might be stated is without a peer in Canada as a rough, mean and treacherous player and one who prefers hitting his check while the latter's back is toward him.

We cannot win always but there's one thing a certainty, if Port Hope and Peterborough could play the same teams again on good grounds with good officials, the Ontarios could win hands down.

Jumped the Fence and Saved the Gate Admission.

The Driving Park Association is determined to put an end to the practice indulged in by boys and young men, who get into the grounds when anything is going on without paying the gate admission.

At the lacrosse match yesterday afternoon fully 400 people witnessed the match yet the gate receipts were only $22. Fully a third of those inside the grounds had jumped the fence or got in by other means.

The names of several young men who were caught jumping the fence were taken, and they will appear in the police court, where no doubt it will cost them many more times the admission to the match.

In the future all persons jumping fences into matches or who are seen sitting on the fences will be prosecuted.

BLEW OPEN A SAFE.

Burglars Break Into Meldrum & McAllister's Office—No Clues.

THURSDAY night or early Friday morning unknown parties, evidently a part of a well organized band of burglars which has hitherto confined their work nearer Toronto, operated in Peterborough and left their traces in the shape of a broken safe. The burglary and safe-blowing evidently took place about 1 or 2 o'clock in the morning, and the perpetrators had lots of opportunity to make good their escape, for the robbery was not discovered until 8 o'clock in the morning.

When the office of Messrs. Meldrum & McAllister's storehouse, corner of Simcoe and Bethune streets, was opened yesterday morning it was at once evident to Mr. Ewing, the bookkeeper, that visitors had been there during the night and that they had effected an entrance to the safe. The office is in the front of the building on the north west corner, and the safe stood in the south west corner of the office. The books were lying on the floor, a bag of oats which was lying on top of the safe to deaden the sound of the explosion which opened the door had bursted and the grain was scattered on the floor. The papers in the safe were not particularly disturbed, the drawers in the safe being still inside, although the internal fixtures had been badly shattered. The small steel vault inside the safe where the money drawer is situated was gone entirely, and no trace of it was to be found. The safe which is a large one of the Goldie & McCullough make had been blown open. The burglars, whether they were professionals or amateurs, did a most successful job. As a rule when a safe is "cracked" it is bored in front, but in this case a ½ inch hole had been bored in the top of the safe about eight or ten inches from the front and at equal distance from each side. The hole went through to the inside, and after loading it with powder a paper fuse had been used to ignite the explosive. A heavy bag of oats had been carried in from the storehouse outside and was thrown on top of the hole to deaden the sound of the explosion. The explosion shattered the interior sheet of steel that held the heavy bolts of the door, and as a consequence the safe was open. It is evident that the door of the small vault inside did not open with the outside door, and the burglars, fearful that the noise of the explosion had attracted attention carried away the small vault to open it at their leisure. This vault contained only about $10, which was all the burglars got for their pains.

The tools which had been used on the job were lying on the floor. There were three chisels and a brace. The drill had been taken away. The chisels were old ones, the handles being badly chipped. Two are inch and a quarter and the other an inch and a half chisel. One of the former has only half of the wooden handle, and this half is held in place by an iron ring. From the paint and putty on the handles one would imagine they had been used by painters.

The police have very little to work upon, but they are quietly investigating and the arrest of the parties may happen at any time.

THIRTY FIVE CENT HAUL.

Probably the same parties entered Mr. J. C. Turnbull's dry goods store. They opened the till and snaffled 35 cents that was in it. No goods were touched. Entrance was effected through an opening over a window.

FLYNNVILLE NEWS.

Correspondence of The Times.

The weather is very cold and mits are again coming in fashion.

A mass meeting of the Lime Juice Club was held in the village on Tuesday night. John McBride presided over the meeting as Sir Richard was holding a meeting in Slopeville.

Maurice O'Brien, M.A., C.P.S., and Richard Cavanagh, M.D., LL.D., paid a visit to Mr. Louis O'Sullivan, presenting him with a card of thanks from the Sons of Rest, (Lodge 49), Slopeville and (Lodge 2), Indian River, for the two copies of his excellent work which he presented to the libraries of their respective lodges.

Though the weather is cold the times are hot in the village at present. One of our citizens residing on Mulligan Terrace lost a St. Bernard poodle dog. Having searched for him for two days he gave up hopes of recovering his dog. At night as he was taking a refreshing repose he dreamed that a certain farmer in the neighborhood shot the dog and buried him under a large elm tree about two miles from the village. Awakening in the morning he took his shovel and went to the spot marked out in his vision. He dug about six feet when he came to his treasure, but lo he was dead. He sometimes threatens to law the victim of his dream but is haunted by a gentle whisper: "Mavour neen, 'twas only a dream."

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles.

SYMPTOMS—Moisture; intense itching and stinging; most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. At druggists, or by mail for 50 cents. BIG PROFITS —ON— SMALL INVESTMENTS

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our SYSTEMATIC PLAN OF SPECULATION.

Originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who, by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOFS, also our Manual on Successful Speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

A Metal Breadboard

THE WOMAN WHO HAS BEEN USED to kneading dough on the old fashioned wooden bread board knows what a bother it is to get them clean and how cumbersome and heavy they are. When they begin to crack or check its almost impossible to thoroughly cleanse them, and they soon become dangerous conveyances of disease. It was left for a woman, Mrs. M. M. Everhard, of St. Joseph, Mich., to invent a metal bread board, which is one of the greatest labor-savers imaginable. It is light, does not absorb grease, dough does not [illegible] to it, and while it possesses all the advantages of the marble bread-board it is much [illegible] and, of course, far lighter and easier to handle. Fearful Massacre At An Inland Mission In China.

FIVE WOMEN MURDERED

AN EYELESS IDOL THE STRANGE ORIGIN OF THE AFFAIR—CHRISTIANS WERE ACCUSED OF GOUGING OUT THE GOD'S EYE.

Special to the Times.

SHANGAAI, Aug. 3—Advices from Foo Chow are that a telegram received there says that a fearful massacre of Christians has occurred at Ku Cheng. Five foreign ladies are among the murdered.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3. — Another anti-Chinese riot has occurred at Ping Yang, a China Inland mission station, thirty-three miles south of Wen Chow.

The affair had a strange origin. During the dragon festival two boats contested for a prize. The defeated crew invited the Taoist priest to explain the cause of their discomforture and he discovered an eyeless idol on board the boat. He said plainly that the effigy's eyes must have been gouged out by the Christians.

A band of roughs thereupon proceeded to the residence of a prominent native Christian and warned him that if the boat was again defeated his house would be destroyed. Two days later the boat again failed to secure first place, and the razing of Christian chapels and houses commenced.

Throughout the week the work went on in a leisurely kind of fashion until twenty buildings were in ruins and ashes. Those standing alone were burned, while those adjoining others not occupied by Christians were pulled down.

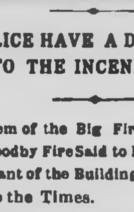
The intelligence of these doings has caused great excitement in Wen Chow, and there are fears that that city also may become the scene of further outrages.

TORONTO FIRE MYSTERY.

THE POLICE HAVE A DEFINITE CLUE TO THE INCENDIARY.

The Problem of the Big Fires to be Solved—The Osgoodby Fire Said to Have Been Started by a Tenant of the Building.

Special to the Times.



TORONTO, Aug. 3.—Though public interest in the three great fires which occurred in this city on January last has been gradually subsiding, the authorities have never relaxed their efforts to solve their mysterious origin. The police have been steadily working upon the cases, and it is now believed they are in possession of information which gives every promise of leading at least to the arrest and probably to the conviction of the man who applied the torch to the Osgoodby building. These terrific conflagrations began in the most mysterious manner, and the long continued investigations which followed practically did nothing towards throwing any light on the subject. When the coroner's jury returned their verdict the public knew just as much about who or what caused the trouble as was known the night it occurred.

It has all along been deemed a settled fact that the fires were not accidental, and the main hope for the apprehension of the fire bug came to lie in the chance that someone who held the key to the situation would give it up.

AN ALLEGED CONFESSION.

This, it is believed, has transpired, and the detectives are busy verifying a confession made by an individual who lays the crime on one who, at the time of the Osgoodby fire, was a tenant of that building. The motive alleged is understood to be a desire to cover up financial dealings which could not be kept secret in any other way.

A WARRANT ISSUED.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of the man implicated in the charge. He is very well known in certain circles throughout the city and his financial dealings with friends have been far from satisfactory. No arrests have been made as yet but this is a step which may be taken within a very short period.

MOST INVALUABLE

The New Specific Remedy is being Extensively Used at Ottawa.

OTTAWA, July 29.—The marvellous recovery of Mr. G. H. Kent, of this city, from Bright's disease by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills is still fresh in the memories of Ottawa people, and the remedy is being freely recommended both by druggists and private citizens. The similar wonderful cures of Dr. A. G. McCormick, of Richmond, Quebec, and of Mr. Arthur Coley, of Somerset, Manitoba, to say nothing of many others, are generally quoted in favor of the assertion that no remedy of modern times has gone so successfully through a severe trial, and been so efficacious in all cases of kidney trouble. It is also proving itself invaluable in the milder forms of sickness which appeared during the summer.

SAW HOLMES BURN A BODY

THE QUINLANS MAKE A CONFESSION TO THE POLICE.

Pietzel Knew Too Much and Was Put Out of Harm's Way—The Quinlans Accuse Holmes of Five Murders—Hatch, the Convict, Regarded as a Fakir By Memphis Officials.

Special to the Times.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 3.—It is now practically proved that the Little Rock convict, who declared himself to be Hatch, is an arch-humbug, whose real name is John Caldwell, and who could not possibly have been associated with Holmes in his criminal operations in Fort Worth, for the good reason that he was then where he is now, in jail.

Caldwell was born in Tipton county, Tenn., not far from Memphis, and was a farm hand up to the time he took to horse stealing. He followed this occupation for only a brief period, when he was arrested here and sentenced to twenty-one years in the penitentiary. This was seven years ago. A few months ago he was pardoned, but went immediately to Arkansas and engaged in his former pursuit. There he again came to grief, and was sent to the Arkansas State prison, where he now is.

MRS. QUINLAN TELLS THINGS.

SHE SAYS SHE KNEW OF SEVERAL DISAPPEARANCES IN THE CASTLE.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug., 3.—Mrs. Pat Quinlan knew of the disappearance of Julia Conner in the Holmes "castle" and saw the body of the woman after she was dead. She further knew and has admitted that Pearl Williams disappeared mysteriously in the same "castle" after her return from a trip to the Quinlan farm at Lakota, Mich.

Chief Badenoch took Mrs. Quinlan and her husband to the "castle" yesterday with Inspector Fitzpatrick and Detectives Fitzpatrick and Norton. The object of this trip was more for the purpose of letting Quinlan and his wife meet than any other. They were closeted alone for an hour in the room in which the Julia Conner carpet lies and the chair belonging to the murdered woman stands. What took place between them no one knows, but Chief Badenoch and his detectives are nearer a solution of the Holmes mystery than they were ever before. The chief now has proof positive that Mrs. Conner and Pearl, her daughter, or Cora Quinlan, were murdered in the building while the mother was in his employ. Quinlan has given information within the last twenty four hours which brings the charge of murder nearer to Holmes than it has been in Chicago at any time since the case opened.

ADMISSIONS MADE.

Quinlan and his wife, while demonstrating to the police they were at no time guilty of the crime of murder themselves, have made admissions by which the Chief could use them on the stand as valuable witnesses against Holmes in proving that Mrs. Conner and a child were made away with by Holmes for the purpose of securing insurance which Mrs. Conner carried on her life in favor of her daughter, or in which Cora Quinlan's life cut an important figure. Further, Quinlan and his wife have proved to the police that Mrs. Conner was so well aware of the schemes which Holmes was operating that it became necessary for Holmes to put the woman out of the way.

CONTINUING THE DIGGING.

Mrs. Conner's body was disposed of by burial within the castle somewhere close to the spot where Pearl's supposed body was found. The police have not ceased their efforts to find the bottom of the basement and uncover her remains. The digging which was suspended yesterday will continue today and during the coming week. Pat Quinlan and his wife have admitted partially, the woman more than the man, that a business in receiving and disposing of dead bodies stolen from country grave yards was carried on under the direction of Holmes. The graveyards of the western portion of Michigan, Grand Haven, South Haven, Muskegon, Holland, St. Joseph, the Bay and Lakota were despoiled of bodies and coffins. The bodies were brought to the castle, chemically treated and then disposed of to medical colleges. The coffins were remade by Quinlan, Pietzel and Holmes, relined and disposed of to undertakers at a fair profit.

Detective Geyer says the charge of murder against Holmes is strongest in Toronto.

A LATER DISPATCH.

QUINLANS CONFESS THAT THEY SAW HOLMES BURN A BODY.

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—A morning paper gives the following particulars of the confession made by the Quinlans yesterday to Chief Badenoch, which was taken down by a stenographer. They related that, in their opinion, Miss Cigrand, Miss Julia Connor and her daughter Pearl, and Minnie and Nannie Williams, are all dead, and that Holmes murdered them.

PIETZEL KNEW TOO MUCH.

Pietzel, they say, quarrelled frequently with Holmes, because the latter would not act squarely with him in the dealings, and they believed that Holmes killed Pietzel so as to prevent him from telling of his crimes, which, they believe, Pietzel was aware of to some extent. As to whether Pietzel participated in any of the murders they do not know.

They believe that Holmes, after killing Pietzel felt it necessary to dispose of the dead man's children, and that Alice, Nellie and Howard Pietzel were killed by Holmes. As to Miss Van Tassel, they know nothing, and never saw her.

SAW HOLMES BURNING A BODY.

Miss Cigrand, Mrs. Connor, Pearl Connor and Minnie and Nannie Williams, they thought, came to their death in the Holmes building. Mrs. Quinlan related that one day when her husband was away she saw Holmes poking into the stove in his office, which was red hot, something that looked like the portion of a human body, and that a horrible odor came from the room.

Quinlan said that after Holmes had gone away, he found a bottle of chloroform in the steel vault. They both said that they saw the Williams girls about July 5, 1893, for the last time, and that they must have been put out of the way at that time.

AN AWFUL DEATH.

Island Residents Hemmed In By Forest Fires and Burned.

ONE HUNDRED CREMATED

A HEART-RENDING STORY FROM WISCONSIN—BEAVER ISLAND IN WISCONSIN SWEPT BY DEVOURING FLAMES.

Special to the Times.

MARINETTE, Wis., Aug. 3.—The probability is that one hundred residents of Beaver Island, located in Green Bay at the entrance of the Straits at Mackinaw, have been burned to death in the forest fires which have desolated the entire island during the last few days.

Captain Young, of the steamer Cuba, which arrived here yesterday reported that Beaver Island on Wednesday night was enveloped in flames which could be seen many miles out in Lake Michigan. The inhabitants who are employed in fishing and lumbering number about 100. The island is about 50 miles from mainland and it is not believed that aid could be secured in time to save life and property.

Beaver Island is the largest in the group of islands near the Straits of Mackinaw and on this island many years ago James J. Strang, the Mormon prophet, attempted to establish a Mormon kingdom which failed upon his death. His body is buried on the island. The capital of his kingdom is St. James, at the northern extreme of the island. The land is very fertile and in parts is heavily wooded. Farming and lumbering are carried on to some extent but fishing is the principal industry. Few vessels stop at the island, but vessels bound through the Straits of Mackinaw frequently pass in sight of it.

DISMISS GREENWAY.

That Is What Winnipeg Politicians Expect Governor-General Schultz To Do—Interesting News in a New York Despatch.

Special to The Times.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—A Times special from Winnipeg, Man., says: The Manitoba school question has taken a new turn, and the prospects for a settlement are very gloomy. Premier Greenway has refused to recede from his former position in regard to the Catholic schools, and announces that he will accept no compromise nor consent to the slightest change in the Manitoba School Act.

Sir John Schultz, Governor of Manitoba, Thursday night submitted to the Premier a document from the Dominion Government asking Mr. Greenway just what he proposes to do about the order of the Governor in Council, commanding the restoration of Separate schools, or how far he is prepared to go towards removing the grievances which the Roman Catholics claim to have.

Mr. Greenway's reply is awaited with the keenest anxiety, though it is pretty well understood that he will reiterate his determination to stand or fall by the national school system.

Sir John Schultz left yesterday for Banff, a resort in the Rocky Mountains. There he will join Sir Mackenzie Bowell, Premier of the Dominion. The Earl of Aberdeen has also gone west.

Politicians here believe that Sir John Schultz will return to Winnipeg with instructions to dismiss from office Mr. Greenway and his ministers, if their reply is another refusal to compromise. Sir John has the power to dismiss the Manitoba Government, but such power has never been exercised. That serious trouble will follow is certain.

'TWAS KILLED.

A Little Child Runs in Front of a Trolley Car—Bloor West.

Special to the Times.

TORONTO, Aug. 3.—At 1.30 this afternoon a four-year-old daughter of Arthur Todd, who lives at 11 Emerson avenue, was killed by a trolley car on Bloor street west. While playing the child ran in front of the car, and before the motorman could reverse his machine the poor little thing was knocked down. Her chest was crushed in and one hand cut off. She died almost instantly. Dr. Hunter was called but could do nothing.

ACTOR HOLT'S FIX.

His Wife and Children Stop His Alleged Love Making.

Special to the Times.

TOLEDO, O., Aug. 3.—Mrs. Adele D. Holt, wife of the actor, Edwin Holt, who until recently was professionally known as Clarence E. Holt, swore out a warrant for her husband's arrest.

Holt and Mabel Eaton have been producing "As You Like It" in a grove near this city, and society has taken up the performance in a very swell manner. Miss Eaton's mother came here a few days ago and objected seriously to Holt's lover like attitude toward her daughter. To settle matters she brought Mrs. Holt and three children here from New York, whereupon Holt endeavored to disappear, but was stopped by the elder Mrs. Eaton. Mrs. Holt said that Holt had assured Miss Eaton that he had applied for a divorce.

PARTIZAN VIEW OF THE CASE.

Defenders of the Dominion Government, says the Toronto Telegram, insist that if the Tories do not give remedial legislation, the Grits will.

Their theory is that Protestants cannot prevent remedial legislation by making it impossible for the Conservative Government to intefere. The prevention of remedial legislation by the Conservatives will let the Grits in at Ottawa, and give them a chance to restore the Separate school in Manitoba.

There is a certain force in the arguments of those whose interest in the freedom of Manitoba is altogether secondary to their supreme interest in the existence of the Government at Ottawa. They insist that it is not a question of remedial legislation or no remedial legislation for Manitoba. Remedial legislation in their judgment is a certainty; if not by Bowell, by Laurier. And they would sooner have their friends do wrong and stay in than have them do right and go out, thus giving their enemies a chance to get in and do wrong.

Holmes needn't fear Hatch half so much as he need fear plain Canadian Justice.

The local members have not yet expressed themselves on the Manitoba school question. It is necessary that they should do so before the house meets in January.

The Daily TIMES is mailed direct from the office to people out of town for any part of the summer. Terms cash on ordering. Leave instructions at the TIMES office.

Canadians generally are opposed to lynch law, but if there be no other way of bringing the serial story of Mr. Holmes' crimes to a close they will not complain if some of their infuriated American cousins should take the gentleman out and hang him suddenly.

Seaside outfits for pet dogs are being made by the hundreds in Paris just now. The canine darlings must have a coat for every kind of weather, and Countess Meroi's pug wears doeskin leggins on wet days lest he catch cold.

Of 1,486 graduates of women's colleges in England, whose post graduate careers have been observed, only 208 have married. This is held to be an argument against higher education for women as interfering with domestic life and the welfare of posterity.

Amongst the items which the country paid for last year under the head of legislation was one of $20.05 for nine hair brushes and another of $1.95 for two bath brushes. There may be some connection between legislation and hair and brushes, but it is not clear to the ordinary mind just what that connection is.

Our evening contemporary the Examiner, appears to think that there is little use in Lakefield exciting itself unduly over which route is taken for the Trent Valley Canal—that in fact "it will be a long day before it will run on the east or west side of the Otonabee or any other river." This journal, which always prefers to look on the rosy side of things, is free to admit that the miserable way this canal business is being "worked" by the politicians, almost warrants the remarks of our contemporary.

CAN NEVER BE ONE PEOPLE.

The Inhabitants of India Divided by the Iron Lines of Caste.

That the 280,000,000 inhabitants of the continent of India should ever become one nation is so wild an improbability, and, even if possible, a matter of so many centuries, that its assumed realization cannot be made the basis of practical politics, says the National Review. England and Ireland are an example of the slowness of growth of a common national sentiment in closely allied peoples forming one state, and the national unification of medieval Europe would have been a problem analagous to that of India today. For Latin then, as English now, in India was a common tongue for the educated classes, yet the former did not supplant, as the latter is now not destroying, the popular languages. And the ideal of a temporal head of Christendom in the holy Roman emperor, with its attendant aspirations, was a sentiment counteracting local or tribal feeling stronger than any that has yet arisen in India from the superimposed authority of the Queen's government, while there is nothing in India to correspond with the religious unity of Europe under the popes.

For Hindooism and Islam show no signs of decay, and the antagonism between their followers is on the increase. In the traditions of history one of the most powerful elements of national sentiment, the pride of the one is the shame of the other. The Mussulman glories in Aurangzeb; the followers of Gobind Singh and Sivaji detest his memory. Intermarriage is impossible, and is a sin even among the myriad castes of Hindoos. There is no historical example of such a miracle as the amalgamation into one nation of such a multitude of diverse elements, and if it is to be effected the first steps have yet to be taken.

Sweeter than Sugar.

A discovery of extraordinary interest has been recently made in the Kent Laboratory at the Chicago University. A new compound has been found which has sweetening powers in excess of those possessed by saccharine, which has hitherto been considered the sweetest substance known to chemists.

While working upon a series derived from the coal-tar products, Dr. H. L. Wheeler happened to touch his pencil to his tongue. He was astonished that it had a very sweet taste. Upon looking for the cause, Dr. Wheeler found that he had done some writing on a piece of filter paper, upon which there was a very small quantity of the material which he had been working with. This led him to look into the matter and he found that a taste like that of licorice was noticeable.

Shakespeare's Young Men.

There are between twenty and thirty young men in the non-historical plays, and an examination of their peculiarities and characteristics enables us to form some conception of Shakespeare's own ideal of young manhood.

In the first place, it is noticeable what physical perfection they are all supposed to have. The poet's young hero should, as a general thing, "laugh merrily," like Valentine, "eat and drink heartily, walk manfully, and only look sad when his purse is empty." He should be able to "climb walls with Romeo, wrestle like Orlando, fence and fight pirates like Hamlet, or swim through the stormy waves like Ferdinand; and he should enjoy doing it."

Further, Shakespeare seems to lay stress on the young man's "being natural, unaffected, as if to him affectation indicated a weakness somewhere in the man's character." Indeed, no characteristic of Shakespeare's is more conspicuous than his thorough openness and honesty—his contempt for everything that savors of affectation or sham. Note his repeated sharp hits at false hair and paint in women, at foppery and aping of foreign fashions in men, at the small conceit of travelers who came home, as Rosalind says, "to lisp and wear strange suits, disable all the benefits of their own country, and be out of love with their nativity," who have seen much, yet have nothing from it worth the getting. He has the same dislike for the affected and artificial style of the day in speech and writing. How he delights to show it up in his earliest plays no less than in the later ones. How he gradually freed himself from the rhetorical conceits and mannerisms of the time—the excessive playing upon words, the running of a metaphor into the ground, so to speak, the overindulgence in classical allusions, and the like. How he pricks all swollen pretense and pomposity! How he burlesques the ranting of the actor, and the extravagance of the dramatist who furnishes him with the fictitious passion to tear in tatters! His dislike for Puritans, which crops out in a few passages, appears to have been due to their canting ways rather than their peculiar tenets.

Again, Shakespeare "seems to value very highly a decided capacity for friendship between men." This is also eminently characteristic of the man. As a friend he himself must have been capable of measureless personal devotion. The first 126 sonnets, most of which are addressed to one and the same friend—a man, not a woman—would suffice to prove this, if we had nothing else from his pen. But we have also the striking pictures of manly friendship in the plays; and some of these—for instance, that of Antonio and Bassanio, of Brutus and Cassius, of Hamlet and Horatio—are perhaps unsurpassed by any of his delineations of the love of man and woman.

PROFITS.

Policyholders of the Sun Life Assurance Comyany of Canada receive ninety-three and one-third per cent. of the TOTAL surplus earned by the Company, and the stockholders the remaining six and two-thirds per cent. By this system the holders of participating policies receive ninety-three and one-third per cent. not only of the profits of their own class but also of those earned by the non-participating policies. They thus have the protection of a large capital stock for a merely nominal sum.

On ordinary policies profits are divided every five years, counting in each case from the date of the policy. The method adopted is eminently fair to all parties, and is a modification of what is known as the "Contribution Plan." The profits may be taken in cash to be used in payment of premiums, or applied to the purchase of bonus additions to the sum assured.

On Reserve Dividend Policies the surplus, instead of being distributed every five years, is accumulated during the Reserve Dividend period, and the accumulation thus arising is distributed among those who have survived that term and have kept their policies in force. The profits paid during 1895, to those entitled to receive them, are the largest that have ever been paid by the Company and have seldom been equalled by any other Company.

A. NORMAN, ESQ.

Dear Sir:—We think we ought to acknowledge in some way that may become public, the very great benefit our daughter has derived from the use of your Electro-Curative Belts, and your application of Electricity in the Bath and from Dry Treatment: When we brought her to you she was a picture of unhealthiness, her limbs were shriveled up, and as thin as limbs could be; she had no strength even to play with other children, in fact she was dying of consumption. Besides this, there was a hard lump on her spine at the nape of her neck, which caused her neck to be so stiff she could not move her head. Although it is only three months since we brought her to you she is sound and well

AN AFFAIR OF HONOR.

Or the Story of a Duel that Never Came Off and the Very Good Reason Therefor.

Mr. Arthur Blake, an artist.
Miss Dora Swayne, his fiancee.
Scene, the Swayne library.

Dora—Come in here, Arthur, its so much cozier than in the drawing-room. I was just reading that red book on the table. It contains the most fascinating accounts of duels.

Arthur (starting slightly)—If that isn't queer!

Dora—What—my taste? Why, the stories are perfectly stirring! They're all about the days when men were ready "to wipe out the slightest insinuation against her honor with their heart's blood. In those days men were brave! But, do sit down, and don't look so glum. Why, you're actually pale, dear! Are you ill?

Arthur (attempting to smile)—Not a bit, darling. Just a little worried, that's all. But, tell me, Dora, don't you think dueling was a barbarious custom?

Dora—Not at all!

Arthur (singularly concerned)—You don't mean to say, dear, that you consider civilization very high where a man, because of some real or imagined insult, may satisfy his rage by committing murder?

Dora (incensed)—I fail to see how civilization is degraded by the existence of personal honor and courage.

Arthur—Suppose you were living in a duelling age and a duelling country, would you want one dear to you to risk his life rather than have some fool call him a coward?

Dora—Under any circumstances whatever, I prefer bravery to cowardice.

Arthur (with tragic earnestness)—Then, Dora, if your lover should refuse to accept such an absurd challenge——

Dora—I should heartily despise him!

Arthur (taking a long breath and leaning back determinedly)—That settes it. At the club last night I found myself called upon to resent a remark of Blackson's and to-day he sent me a formal challenge. What now?

Dora (clutching his coat-sleves)—Arthur! You're not in earnest?

Arthur (calmly)—Thoroughly so, dear. He refused to apologize, but said he'd give me all the satisfaction I desired, at any time and place, and with any weapons.

Dora—What a—what a blusterer he must be! As though any one fought duels in America to-day! (Trying to conceal her anxiety.) Of course you'll simply ignore his absurd note, Arthur.

Arthur (concealing his joy)—Well, that would hardly be polite, you know. I'll write to him in the morning, and choose mahlsitcks for weapons. As for swords or pistols, I'd be more afraid of my own than his, though he is an expert with each.

Dora (with white face)—But—why—Arthur! You're not really going to fight him? Why, it's ridiculons—and it's against the law and everything. Oh, Arthur, he'll kill you!

Arthur (taking her in his arms, but apparently unmoved)—I suppose he will, as I never handled a deadly weapon. But my honor is at stake, dear, and you would have me defend it at any cost. You would despise me if—

Dora (hysterically)—I shouldn't. Rather than have you stand up before that murderer I'd have you forty cowards! Promise me you won't go, dear?

Arthur—With all my heart. (Necessary pause.) What reply shall I send him, Dora?

Dora (indignantly)—None. I'll write to him myself, and tell him that he's a nasty, horrid bully; and that he shan't kill you because you belong to me; and that he ought to be ashamed of himself! Now don't ever say duel to me as long as I live. Kiss me.

Arthur (mischievously)—Darling, has the red book lost its attractiveness?

Dora—Not a bit. I shall read every word of it. But, dear (clinging to him and shuddering ever so slightly) that's different!

Repartee.

Cholly—Would you marry me if I asked you?

Dolly—No!

Cholly—Hum! You needn't be so smart. I don't intend to ask you.

The Modern Girl.

"John," she said thoughtfully, "of course it is well to be proud of your daughter's success at the seminary, but—but"—

"But what, my dear?" he asked.

"Well, it seems to me that you are a trifle thoughtless at times."

"I don't quite understand you," he said.

"It's all right to speak of her standing in her class," she explained, "and it is all right to be proud of her social accomplishments. Talk of her taste if you wish to, her cooking and her singing lessons, her vivacity, her knowledge of modern languages and her sunny disposition, but but"——

"Well, what is it? Where have I made any mistake?"

"Why, it's about time to find a husband for her, and I would suggest, John, that you say nothing about her gymnasium work or the fact that she played centre rush on the seminary football team. I have noticed that that has a tendenecy to discourage young men."

His Ultimatum.

"And you reject my offer?" he said to her, intensely. "You refuse to be the one woman in all the world to me?"

"I'm afraid so," she confessed, rather kindly, for she meant well.

"Then I have but one thing to say to you, madam," he said, reaching for his hat.

"I am sure you have my permission to say that. What is it?"

He drew himself up to his full height.

"There are others," he replied haughtily, and passed out of the game.

Time for a Change.

She—May I suggest an occasional change in your style of dancing?

He—Certainly; what change do you desire?

She—You might step on my right foot now and then; my left has about all it can stand.

GAUTHIER NOT INSANE.

HE CLAIMS THAT HE IS MENTALLY SOUND.

Freely Admits the Crime and Says He Does Not Want People to Take Him For a Second Chatelle—Formally Committed For Trial.

Special to the Times.

MONTREAL, Aug. 2.—Gauthier, who shot and killed his betrothed, Celina Consigney, on Tuesday, admits the crime, and, contrary to the celebrated murderer, Shortis, of Valleyfield, who is confined in iail with him, protests strongly against any one considering him insane.

"Don't think me like Chatelle," said he to a reporter. "I am not insane, and I want the public to understand it."

When brought to court this morning, the vehicle in which he was conveyed was surrounded by about 500 people, who pestered him. He stuck his head out of the cab window and told the crowd that they were a pack of fools.

He will be committed by the Court of Queen's Bench today for sentence, and no one doubts that he will hang inside of two months.

TRIED TO HANG HIMSELF.

GAUTHIER WANTED TO END HIS LIFE IN THE CELLS.

MONTREAL, Aug. 2.—Gauthier, the murderer of his sweetheart, Selina Consigny, attempted suicide in the cell last night by hanging himself with strips made from his blankets. He was, however, cut down in time. The girl has been refused religious burial by the Catholic church.

TRAMPS KILLED IN A WRECK.

They Were on a Train Which Broke in Two and Came Together Again.

Special to the Times.

MASSILLION, Ohio, Aug. 2.—A west bound freight train on the Fort Wayne road broke in two at four o'clock this morning, the rear and forward sections came together again with terrible force, causing a bad wreck. Four tramps were killed outright and six others dangerously injured.

PROVING SHORTIS INSANE.

Finding Men at Whom he Shot, but Never said a Word About.

Special to the Times.

MONTREAL, Aug. 2.—Judge Dugas and Donald McMaster, Q.C., who were sent to Ireland to take evidence regarding the mental condition of Shortis, the Valleyfield murderer, sailed for Canada today. There were examined 30 witnesses, several of whom told of the rash and eccentric acts done by the prisoner while in Ireland. Two of them swore that he had shot at them in 1802.

Another witness swore that Shortis fired four or five shots at him, but in each instance no complaint was made against the prisoner.

The asylum authorities have established the existance of insanity in Shortis' grandfather and other relatives.

BOAT RUN BY A MOTOR.

A Chicago Man Surprises People at Washington Park.

Special to the Times.

CHICAGO, Aug. 2. — C. D. Wright, of Englewood, drove up to the Washington Park boat landing yesterday, lifted a V-shaped box from his carriage and chartered one of the ordinary two-oared row boats.

He took from the box an apparently hollow and bent nickle-plated tube about six feet long. At one end he attached a two-bladed propeller wheel, each blade being about six inches long and two wide. Then he screwed a plate into the top rail of the stern of the boat and attached the larger end of the tube to it. Next he fastened an electric motor to the top of his tube and connected it by two small wires to a storage battery, which he placed in the center of the boat.

Then he dropped the propeller wheel into the water, and touched the spring and away the boat sped. A small wooden handle projecting from the end of the tube was used to steer with.

For two hours Mr. Wright rode about the lake, backing the boat or slowing its speed or turning in its length at will.

Escaped Cremation.

MONTREAL, Aug 2.—Occupants of No. 9 Victoria square had narrow escapes from suffocation on account of a fire there yesterday. Mr. D. Sinnett carries on a sporting goods business and two barrels of gunpowder were stored in the garret, which increased the danger. Some of the inmates were burned before being rescued.

Emancipation Day was generally observe by the colored people throughout the Dominion on Thursday.

AROSE FROM THE SEA.

SAN MIGUEL, CAL., INCREASED IN AREA BY AN EARTHQUAKE.

An Unexpected Gift From Nature—Capt. Waters' Strange Experience — Sandy Beach Replaced by High Cliffs and Deep Water.

There is something new on the face of the earth. It is a piece of land which rose out of the sea by the agency of an earthquake and became part of the territory of the United States.

The Mexican volcano Orizaba was in eruption last month. At the same time a seismic disturbance was felt in a small group of islands off Santa Barbara County, in the southern part of California. The principal islands are San Miguel, Santa Rosa and Santa Cruz. The water separating them from the mainland is the Santa Barbara Channel.

San Miguel is the island to which the new land is joined. It is the property of Capt. W. G. Waters, an old salt. According to his narrative, he was reading E. P. Roe's novel, "The Earth Trembled," in his ranch house on San Miguel when the thing described in the book happened.

It was in the evening of March 9 that the captian felt the first shock of the earthquake. The following day, Sunday, he walked out in the direction of the small harbor of San Miguel, called Cuyler's Harbor, to wait for his sloop, the Liberty, which he expected to arrive then.

To his amazement the harbor had disappeared. He could scarcely believe his eyes at first, and looked around for marks to assure himself of his position and found some of them. Prince's Island, which had stood a short distance outside the harbor, was still there.

Three hundred feet beyond the old shore line a cliff faced the sea. The same distance inland the captain found his boat house and sheep corral, which the day before stood on the shore. More than half of the crescent-shaped harbor had been replaced by high and solid land.

The captain's mind was not in a condition to realize at once all that had happened. He advanced on the newly appeared land and found to his alarm that it was still quaking. He retreated swiftly, but not before he had observed that rocks and seaweed formed the greater part of the added area.

He then saw a new reef which had risen some six hundred feet out to sea, against which the waves were breaking vigorously. His curiosity overcame his alarm finally and he went to the edge of the cliff. The great mass of rocks was still moving slightly, a fearful grinding sound being produced. Wreckage and strange fishes and sea creatures were scattered about. Looking over the edge of the cliff he saw sea lions gamboling with their young. They had not been in the habit of venturing into the harbor. The uplifted area was about 34,000 square yards in extent.

The boat-house had been turned around so that it faced north instead of southeast. The cliff that rose back of the boathouse had disappeared and the ground had become level. The sandy beach that was before it had given place to pebbles.

On Harris Point a large alkaline spring that made its way in a strong stream to the ocean, had disappeared.

On Monday morning the land was found to be still moving. In the afternoon the Liberty was sighted, but did not reach the entrance to Cuyler's Harbor until dusk. The usual entrance is through the left-hand channel, between Prince's Island and the mainland. Capt. Dally, who commanded, was naturally startled to find there the new reef. He steered clear of it with some difficulty, and arrived in the harbor. There he anchored off the rocky cliff, which had arisen in the middle of what he had known as the harbor.

His feelings and impressions he conveyed to Capt. Waters next morning when he landed. The two, however, continued to make notes, according to the precept of Capt. Cuttle. They set up marks and on the following Wednesday morning found that since Tuesday the new coastline had encroached on the sea about fifteen feet.

The harbor was sounded. From the cliffs the bottom steadily deepened until the Liberty's line could not touch bottom. The greatest depth had previously been six fathoms.

The geological formation of the island is said to be volcanic. It is stated to be partly crystalline and partly fragmental.

The crystalline formation is found on the face of the new cliffs. Elsewhere the island consists of molten igneous rock formed into interbedded sheets, with alternations of coarse-grained tufa. There has been as yet no reliable scientific opinion on the nature of the disturbance.

A piece of anchor chain and some pig iron were picked up on the cliffs. These were believed to have belonged to a ship that sank in the harbor in 1881. A human skull inhabited by a family of crabs was also found.

Other disturbances have occurred on San Miguel, but none is remembered so serious as the last. From time to time large stretches of cliff have disappeared on the southern shore, and it is possible that this was due to volcanic action.

One of Garibaldi's Bravest.

One of the bravest of Garibaldi's "Thousand" was Torina Marinello, a young Venetian who, as her husband's boy brother Antonio, fought by his side in the campaign through Sicily to Naples and Capua. She wore the Garibaldian uniform, and her slender figure was so much like those of numerous youths in the ranks that her sex remained unknown to all but her husband and two of the colonels. She was said to have been "ever the first to volunteer for some dangerous duty, and the last to quit her post until that duty was fulfilled;" the general decorated her on the field of battle for valor. She went through the campaign without a wound, only to die of poverty and consumption shortly after. Her condition having been discovered too late to save her life, all ranks combined to do her honor after death, in one of those picturesque torch-light funerals which are a feature of Florentine life. Her arms and her faded red shirt were placed amid the flowers of her coffin, and her grave looks out from the church terrace at San Miniato upon the towers of Florence.

Remanded to Petticoats With a Pension.

After the civil war a familiar figure upon the streets of a city in Tennessee was a gigantic negress upon crutches, whose extensive crinoline and voluminous skirts ill consorted with the short beard which somewhat sparsely covered her chin. She had a "swashing and a martial outside," and had enlisted as a soldier in one of the colored regiments. Having lost one leg in an engagement her sex was discovered, and she was remanded to petticoats with a pension.

The Cause of the Killing of Mrs Crombe by Her Son.

Special to the Times.

LONDON, Aug. 2.—The finding of the coroner's jury in the case of Robert and Nathaniel Coombes, the two boys who were accused of having murdered their mother, was officially announced today. The jury found a verdict of wilful murder against Robert, the elder son, while Nathaniel was held as accessory before the fact. The jury added a rider to their verdict urging that the sale of inflammatory and shocking literature be stopped on the ground that it is answerable for many crimes. Acting on the advice of the coroner, the jury ignored the case of Fox, the half witted man, who helped the boys to spend the money obtained by them by pawning goods taken from the house after the murder of their mother. Fox's case is considered distinct from that of the two youthful criminals.

THE REDS QUIET.

The Excitement in the Western States Subsiding.

Special to The Times.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Aug. 2.—From Soda Springs it is reported that settlers from the country north of the Swrings continued to leave there all night on Wednesday, and yesterday some 30 families were camping in and around So a.

Despatches confirm, in part, the stories that led to the alarm. Cariboo stage brings reliable news to the effect that at least 200 Indians were camped on Wednesday night on Willow Creek, 30 miles north of Soda. A party of friendly Indians said they had just come out of Jackson's Hole and were going back to the reservation. They said they had not heard of fighting or trouble at the Hole.

White men did not want them to hunt there, and they had no intention of disturbing the settlers.

Many of the ranchers who come in on Wednesday are starting back, but most of them are leaving their families at Soda Springs. All reports are to the effect that the Indians are peaceable. No one has been molested.

A curier from Rexburg brings the report that two men were killed on Trail Creek at the head of Teton River. Both are supposed to have been killed by Indians.

The mail carrier that brings mail in from Jackson's Hole to Teton Barin, is also supposed to have been killed. He, when last seen, was coming down the divide from Jackson's Hole, and he is now two days overdue.

POND'S EXTRACT

That Pond's Extract is without equal for relieving pain, and that no remedy should be accepted as "just as good." ALL A FAKE.

That Indian War Scare Worked up by White Settlers

Special to The Times.

Salt Lake, Utah, Aug. 3.—E. Mehey, a furrier, of this city, who has just returned from Jackson Hole county, via Rexburg, Idaho, with a consignment of elk heads and bear skins, which he bought from the Indians who have been hunting in that region, says the stories of danger are mostly fiction. He was present in the saloon at Rexburg when the story of the massacre of fifty settlers was concocted and written to be sent out. "The people up there," he said, "regard the whole business as something of a joke. Of course, they know it has its serious side, but they are all pioneers, used to serious things and do not mind the danger. Their object in calling for troops is to get the Indians out. so to as to save the game for the settlers and for the tourist hunters, who furnish employment and revenue for the settlers in the summer. Incidentally they make considerable out of supplies for troops who come in.

"Beaver Dick, who has been living in Jackson's Hole for forty years, and has a Bannock wife, told me that the Indians might make some trouble, but that there would be no raids on settlers. He said if anybody made trouble it would be the settlers, not the Indians. He has gone to the Gros Ventre Mountains to advise the Indians to keep quiet until the excitement dies down."

IS A BOY AGAIN.

Nonongenarian Goff Assumes the Physique of a lad of Twenty.

Special to the Times.

Punta Gorda, Fla., Aug. 3.—At the age of 90 George W. Goff who lives near here, has grown young again. Up to a year ago Mr. Goff was blind, partially deaf and bald, and had been so for many years. About that time, however, he suddenly recovered his eyesight and hearing, and his hair began to grow. Now Mr. Goff hears and sees as well as he ever did and his head is covered with a growth of black hair. As his eyesight strengthened and his hair grew a marked change occurred in Mr. Goff's physical condition, and from being a decrepit man, hardly able to walk, he became as strong and active as a youth of 20 years.

The wrinkles on his skin disappeared and he now looks fresh and youthful. The case puzzled the physicians. They say the man is entirely rejuvenated and may live 90 years longer. They assert that the old tissues have been replaced by new and that physically Mr. Goff is not more than 20 years old,

So youthful did Mr. Goff feel that last week he married a handsome young girl. To look at the couple one would never suspect that there was any difference in their ages, although the groom is seventy years older than his bride.

Mr. Goff was born in Georgia in 1809, he fought in the Indian war under Andrew Jackson, and remembers "Old Hickory" well. He was also in the Mexican and civil wars, ond was wounded in the battle of Buena Vista.

Special to the Times.

Teeswater, Aug. 3.—About 5 o'clock yesterday fire broke out in Mr. Wm. Zinger's woolen mill. The mill was closed for the season at noon, and the origin of the fire is supposed to be spontaneous combustion. The loss is fully covered by insurance, in the Western and in the Waterloo for $2,200.

RUSSIA HELPS CHINA.

The Czar Issues an Imperial Ukase Guaranteeing the Loan of $77,200.

Special to the Times.

Washington, Aug. 3.—The terms of issue of the Chinese loan have been communicated to the Department of State by Consul General John Karel, at St. Petersburg.

The loan is for 400,000,000 francs or 100,000,000 of rubles—$77,200,000.

The Chinese Government binds itself not to proceed either to the conversion or redemption of the loan for a term of thirty-six years, and not to issue, or permit to be issued, any gold bonds guaranteed by the Government before January 15 1896.

The loan is guaranteed by the Chinese maritime customs and the deposit of the receipts is provided for. In case China should fail to make punctual payments of the interest or principal at the stipulated periods Russia will assume the responsibility of meeting the obligations according to the agreement, and for that purpose the Czar issued July 7, 1895, an imperial ukase relating to the guarantee.

ENLARGES THE USES OF MUSIC.

There is a good deal in the old saw that music will charm the savage breast. It always was possessed of a magnetic power over individuals. To the present age, however, must be credited the greater triumphs in musical directions. And not the least of these is the transposing piano of Heintzman & Co., Toronto, which opens out for vocalists a wide arena of delightful study. The instrument is unique in every particular, and ought to command the study of everyone interested in music, whether professionally or for its individual delights.

This public acknowledgment to save time. It is only natural that you should fee proud and gratified with the effect of using this remarkable article—it eclipses every thing. Very Much.

The new "Eclipse" Baking Powder is so splendid and so cheap, (but don't put on the same level as ordinary powders at similar prices), the result must be such an enormous demand that only a slight increased price will be needed to pay the required moderate interest on our heavy outlay.

The three lodges of the Ancient Order of Foresters attended divine service in the Charlotte Street Methodist church last evening and listened to an eloquent sermon by Rev. J. J. Rae.

Yesterday morning Rev. J. Cooper Robinson, occupied the pulpit of the South Ward Mission and in the evening he preached in St. John's church.

Rev. W. J. Creighton, of Bobcaygeon, preached in St. Luke's church yesterday, while Rev. H. Symonds occupied the pulpit of the former in Bobcaygeon.

The various churches were attended by large congregations yesterday.

A Monster Circus.

For the past week a large force of men have been billing the town for the appearance of Sells' Brothers great circus on August 24. Mr. J. E. Boyle, the genial press agent made THE TIMES a pleasant call on Saturday. Sells' Brothers circus needs no recommendation as it has attained a name for surpassing magnificence that cannot be enlarged upon. The circus is legitimate and is absolutely free of the usual contingent of fakirs and catchpenny's, and the management has special men engaged to detect any swindlers who may appear on the grounds for nefarious purposes. It is a great educational show and the largest in the world.

To Meet in Toronto.

The session of the Supreme body of the Independent Order of Foresters closed in London Saturday. Additional officers elected yesterday were as follows:—Thomas Millman, M.D., Toronto, Supreme Physician; Hon. Judge W. Wedderburn, Hampton, N.B., Supreme Counsellor; Benjamin Greer, London, and Charles Fitzgerald, Buffalo, auditors. An adjourned session will be held in Glasgow, Friday, August 9th, and the closing session in Belfast on the 10th. Some of the delegates will leave for home on the 15th August by the steamer Pennland, sailing from Queenstown. Toronto was chosen as the place for holding the next convention in 1898.

Arrested for Fighting.

A French anarchist with a bomb in each hand could not have created more excitement on the streets than did William McGregor and Micheal Fitzgerald, about 8 o'clock Saturday evening. These individuals engaged in a warm discussion on the merits of the Gray case in the opera house arcade. McGregor is the brother-in-law of the Grays and Fitzgerald evidently said something that McGregor didn't relish for the two came together. A large crowd gathered around them to witness the scrap, and then somebody yelled "police." This started the belligerents up George street, the crowd following, gradually increasing in size until, at the corner of Hunter there were fully 500 people rushing pell mell over one another in an effort to see what was the matter. The two men proceeded up Hunter street and were evidently going outside the limits to "have it out," when at the corner of Hunter and Water streets Officer McGinty hove in sight and arrested them. They spent the night in the cells, but were released upon their own recognizance yesterday morning to appear before the magistrate this morning.

JOHN SULLIVAN DROWNED.

While Shooting the Rapids near Wahnapitae the Boat Capsized.

The news of the death by drowning of John Sullivan was wired his relatives in Peterborough on Saturday night. The dispatch stated that the unfortunate man had been drowned in the river near Wahnapitae and that his body had not been recovered.

Sullivan left Peterborough just a week ago today to work for Wm. Irwin, the lumbering contractor. He was engaged by Timothy Cavanagh and together with a number of other men, left town for the Nipissing lumber district. The news of his death came as a surprise to the many who know him in town.

From a man who came from the lumbering district on Saturday night and who had heard of the drowning accident, THE TIMES learned partial particulars. It appears that Sullivan and three companions were sent in a boat for provisions. Upon returning they went through some rapids and the boat capsized. Sullivan sank immediately and no trace of his body could be found. His companions succeeded in getting ashore.

Full particulars of the sad affair are expected today.

STEAMER DAISY BURNED.

Commodore Calcutt's Staunch Little Boat Goes up in Flames.

Shortly after 2 o'clock on Saturday morning the steamer "Daisy," owned by Commodore H. Calcutt was burned to the water's edge in the Trent River near Huycke's farm, about five miles from Hastings. The machinery is in the water and all that is left of the staunch little boat is charred spars and twisted, blackened machinery. The steamer was built for Mr. Calcutt five years ago by Mr. John Stevenson. It was valued at $2.000 and was insured for $500.

The fire, it is thought was occasioned by a coal oil lamp upsetting and exploding in the engine room. where the small flames were quickly extended into larger ones, as the grease which is always plentiful in the vicinity of the engine, fed the blaze, anyway the steamer was soon a mass of flames and by 6.30 the flames had destroyed the Daisy and nothing could be discerned of the vessel.

The blaze commenced just as the "watch" was being changed. The steamer was towing logs for the Rathbun Co., from Hastings to Healey Falls and at the time of the fire was steaming along at very good speed. As soon as the explosion took place. those of the crew who were sleeping were aroused and as the steamer is enclosed with windows those inside had some difficulty in reaching the outside. Capt. Clare Calcutt was awakened and in escaping had his right cheek badly burned. Giroux Young, the engineer, had his legs burned, W. Johnston, who was at the wheel, had to jump from the upper deck into the river to save himself.

The crew of the boat was composed of Clare Calcutt, Captain; Giroux Young, engineer; R. White, wheelman; W. Johnston, (Harwood), deck hand. All the men had to jump into the river and they managed to get to the logs in the rear by means of the tow line attached to the boat. Then the canoe was taken and the crew paddled to the shore near at hand. Capt. Calcutt and the engineer went to Hastings and came to the town on the early train and had their injuries attended to,

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Two M.P.'s Who Are Forced to Swim For Their Lives.

Col. Tyrwhitt, M.P., a delegate to the recent Orange grand lodge meeting, had a narrow escape from drowning yesterday afternoon, says a Halifax despatch. The colonel, Major Sam Hughes and a few others were on board a steam launch in the harbor. Col. Tyrwhitt and the major decided to avail themselves of the opportunity to take a swim. There were life preservers on board, and the swimmers were advised to use them. Major Hughes put on one, but Col. Tyrwhitt, who is a magnificent swimmer, disdained the life proserver, remarking he was independent of such contrivances.

Both men jumped into the sea in good style, and swam for some minutes, when Major Hughes noticed that Colonel Tyrwhitt was lagging behind, and looked pale. The steam launch had drifted off some distance, but those on board heard the cry for help and threw a life preserver. Col. Tyrwhitt managed to catch it, and was pulled on board the boat in an exhausted condition.

Another eminent Texas jurist believes the big fight between Jim Corbett and Bob Fitzsimmons can take place in Dallas as per agreement with the Florida Athletic Club. He is Judge Charles F. Tucker, formerly of the Circuit Court, and he says:

"The last Legislature adopted a new criminal code in which it made prizefighting a misdemeanor punishable with a fine of not less than $500 nor more than $1.000 and imprisonment for thirty days. This law went into operation July 20.

"That Legislature also subsequently passed a civic code, and in it enacted that a fight may take place by taking out a license of $500. This law goes into effect September 1, or thirty days before the Corbett Fitzsimmons contest.

"There is no doubt our Supreme Court will hold that this is or will be the law after the first day of September. The civil code was adopted last and therefore takes precedence over the other."

Dan Stuart, the president of the club, is not a bit worried about the situation, but goes on answering questions and disposing of tickets for the affair. His mail is a very large one, and the requests for seats are coming from many leading bankers and merchants.

EXCURSION TO COBOURG.

Athletics will Play the Cobourgs on Friday Next.

The Athletics will go to Cobourg on Friday, August 9th, and play a game with the stick-handlers of that town.

The City of Peterborough will run an excursion to Cobourg on that day under the auspices of the club and it is expected a large crowd will go down and witness the match. The City of Peterborough will leave the C.P.R. wharf at 8.30 on Friday morning, make close connections, and will arrive in Peterborough on the return trip at 9 o'clock in the evening.

Cobourg has a strong lacrosse team this year and the game will be an exciting one. Besides the opportunity of seeing this match, the trip down the river is alone well worth taking in, and the remarkable low rate of 75 cents per return trip ticket, has been secured.

The scare on the scarcity of hay is said by those supposed to be posted to be very much exaggerated at that the price will be much lower than is anticipated. The lower provinces are not only cutting a very large crop this season, but also have thousands of tons of last year's hay on hand. The crop in this section is an average one.

George Duncan, a Northern R. R. brakeman, had three fingers and a thumb of the left hand cut off while coupling cars at the Orillia station on Friday morning, the little finger only remaining. Duncan had only been a brakeman for two months, having been promoted from call boy.

According to a Liverpool comic paper a young man was arrested in that city charged with kissing a lady against her will on the public highway. The prisoner pleaded that she was in bloomers, and he mistook her for his long-lost brother. The magistrate discharged him, and it is said the local tradesmen can now scarcely supply the feminine demand for bicycles and bloomers.

Comedy and Tragedy.

"Say," says a fruit man to THE TIMES Saturday morning "did you ever consider the different names of fruits?"

The reporter acknowledged that he was not much in that line of philological research, and the fruit man gave him a lesson.

"There are three kinds of prunes, Australian, Hungarian and French, and if the boxes weren't labeled you couldn't tell them apart. But there are some more peculiar names than that," and he pointed out a couple of very similar boxes.

One box was labeled "Comedy Plums" and the other "Tragedy Prunes."

"Do the names signify anything?"

"Well, they are very suggestive" said the fruit man, and the reporter agreed.

They Didn't Like Rice.

Boiled rice was the dessert on Monday evening. None of the boarders touched it.

On Tuesday evening the rice reappeared in the form of a pudding. Again the boarders abstained.

On Wednesday evening there were raisins in the rice pudding. The boarders continued their silent protest.

On Thursday evening the same old rice came back in the pudding form, and with the raisins in it, but cold.

Then the boarders rose in protest. During Mrs. Hashleigh's absence from the room they thoroughly mixed the hash with the rice and treated the whole to a Mayonnaise dressing of catsup and horse radish.

When Mrs. Hashleigh returned and saw the wreck, it began to dawn on her mind that the boarders didn't like rice.

Some people are slow to see a point.

P. S.—This has the disqualification of being a true story.

A CASE OF FAVORITISM.

THE TIMES is seldom behind in furnishing to the public the latest news of the town and country--news that can be secured in a legitimate manner. News of interest to the general public is often furnished by public officials, and in most instances public officials have displayed fairness in furnishing to the newspapers the information that the public expect and have a right to know. But this fairness has not characterized the action of the public school officials in the matter of giving out the results of examinations. Favoritism to our evening contemporaries has enabled them to publish these examinations first, notwithstanding that THE TIMES had the first right to them, by reason of our issuing nearly 10 hours earlier in the day.

THE TIMES applied to County Inspector Brown for the result of the Entrance Examinations for publication. When they were ready one of our evening contemporaries was allowed to publish them first, and many people who were anxious to learn the result were forced to wait until 4 o'clock in the afternoon for information that they could have read at their breakfast tables had THE TIMES been treated fairly in the matter.

THE TIMES will not complain of a legitimate "scoop," but in justice to our readers and ourselves, we desire fair and impartial treatment at the hands of public officials who control sources of information that the public and press have rightful access to.

BIG PROFITS —ON— SMALL INVESTMENTS

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our SYSTEMATIC PLAN OF SPECULATION.

Originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who, by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOFS, also our Manual on Successful Speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

A Metal Breadboard
THE WOMAN WHO HAS BEEN USED to kneading dough on the old fashioned wooden breadboard knows what a bother it is to get them clean and how cumbersome and heavy they are. When they begin to crack or check its almost impossible to thoroughly cleanse them, and they may easily become dangerous conveyances of disease. It was left for a woman, of course, to remedy this state of affairs, and Mrs. M. M. Everhard, of St. Joseph, Mich., has patented a metal bread-board, which is one of the greatest labor-savers imaginable. It is light, does not absorb grease, dough does not adhere to it, and while it possesses all the advantages of the marble bread-board it is much cheaper and, of course, far lighter and easier to handle. If readers want to confer a favor upon their wives that will be forever appreciated, let them send $1 to the manufacturers 161 Bay street Toronto, for one of these boards.

BLOWN BY HIS OWN BOMB

ANARCHIST DECCOUX DESPERATE DEED AT ROU-AI, FRANCE.

Mine Director Vaillemin Shot—The Fiend Shockingly Wounded by the Premature Explosion of a Bomb.

Special to The Times.

PARIS, Aug. 5.—News has been received here of a dastardly attempt to murder M. Vuillemin, the managing director of the coal mines at Aniche, eight miles from Douai in the department of the Nord. A monster banquet had been prepared for the celebration today on the completion of the 5th year of M. Vuillemin's connection with the mines. After mass had been celebrated M. Vuillemin surrounded by a party of engineers and shareholders in the mines was standing under the church porch when an anarchist miner named Camiele Decconx, who had been dismissed from the service of the company approached and fired five shots from a revolver at him. Three of the bullets took effect, one striking M. Vuillemin in the cheek, another on the hand and another in the back, inflicting serious but not dangerous wounds. After emptying the revolver Deccoux was departing which he had concealed about his person when by some means the machine exploded prematurely, disemboweling the would-be murderer and hurling his body a distance of seven feet from where he had been standing. Ten of the by-standers were slightly injured by the explosion. Deccoux was taken to the mortality house but died immediately after his arrival there. The attempt on M. Vuillemen's life has created most intense exitement throughout the district.

TO THROW A BOMB

LATER—After the bomb exploded Deccoux's father, who was among those gathered about the entrance of the church, became greatly excited and rushed to the spot where his son lay and began to kick him, all the time screaming

"CANAILLE ASSASSIN"

The continued efforts of several witnesses of the assault were necessary to restrain him. The force of the explosion threw down several of the bystanders, but only few persons were injured. All the windows of an inn in the vicinity were shattered. Deccoux, who was about 26 years of age and unmarried, had recently been working at Waziers, a short distance from Aniche. M. Vuillemin was removed to his home in a carriage after his wounds had been dressed and is now making favorable progress towards recovery.

GOULD SAILS FOR HOME.

SOUTHAMPTON, August 5.—Mr. George Gould sailed for America today on his steam yacht. Mr. Gould had desired to make a cruise through the Mediterranean in his yacht, but his yachting engagements demand his presence at home.

FRANCE'S TROUBLES.

LONDON, August 5.—French news from Madagascar, hitherto meagre, is now full and explicit and deepens the impression that the military expedition is not well managed, that difficulties of transport and commissariat are serious and that the health of the troops is not good. The government would feel relieved if the Hovas would sue for peace.

FERDINAND'S SUCCESSOR.

SOFIA, August 5.—The organ of the Liberal leader, Dr. Radoslavoff, expresses the opinion that the dynasty question must be re-opened in the immediate future. A Sankoffist journal suggests Prince George of Greece as a suitable successor.

REPORTER JAILED.

PARIS, Aug. 5.—A reporter of the Ganlois, who was sent to Alsace-Lorfraine, to describes the fetes to be held there in commemoration of the reconquering of the province by the Germans in 1890, telegraphs that he has been arrested, and expelled from the province.

THE ENTOMBED MINERS.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—A despatch from Saltcoats, on the Bay Ayr, Scotland, says that five miners have been taken out alive from the Auchenharvie colliery, which was flooded yesterday. The rescued men were completely exhausted. Rescuing parties are continuing the search for the other miners who were in the colliery at the time of the accident.

THE SULTAN'S SURRENDER.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 5.—The reply of the Porte made August 1st to the communication of the Powers demanding reforms in Armenia is conciliatory in tone and promises compliance with many of the provisions made. It proposes to appoint Christian assessors to assit the provincial governors, to select subgovernors and police from Mussulmans and Christians to inspect and improve the prisons, to introduce measures for the prevention of violence and abuses and to check the excesses of the Kurds during their migrations and try to induce them to settle in some particular locality. The answer criticizes the suggest reform of taxes and some of the other points proposed by the powers contending that they are not practical.

HAMILTON'S POLICE SLOW.

Abductor John C. Emery Was in That Village but He Got Away.

Special to the Times.

BUFFALO, Aug. 5. — Had the police of Hamilton, Ont., been a little swifter or shrewder, John C. Emery, the abductor of Lawyer Cottle might now be in jail, as is his confederate in crime, McDonald, alias Allen. Supt. Bull, of the Buffalo police, learned that Emery was in Hamilton on last Wednesday, in communication with Allen as to the success of his negotiations here with Cottle. Soon after Allen's arrest Supt. Bull sent telegrams to the Hamilton police giving thorough descriptions of Emery, and also telling them to trace the address to which Allen had sent a telegram and arrest the man who received it. The Hamilton police were unable to do even this, so Emery, who had doubtless learned through the press dispatches of his partner's arrest in Buffalo, made good his escape. There is no doubt he is in Canada now, but as he knows the country pretty thoroughly he is unlikely to be caught.

Twenty Thousand Roses.

There are nearly 20,000 rose trees in bloom now at Dunlop's conservatories Bloor-st. west, Toronto. Visitors are always well come. Mr. Dunlop is proud of his establishment and takes pleasure in speaking of his beauties. He ships them by mail and express to all parts of Canada, and as these orders are filled direct from the trees, he guarantees them to arrive in good condition. Sale room, 45 Yonge-st., and 45 King street west

R. GUY REID A FRAUD.

It Was He Who Posed as Commodore Engles of the Yacht Sunbeam, a Boat That Existed Only in His Mind.

Special to the Times.

DETROIT, Aug. 5.—Windsor correspondent of Detroit Free Press says: "Some time ago a man giving his name as R. Guy Reid made a circuit of the principal towns in Canada and claimed that he was walking from Halifax to Winnipeg on a wager, and that his father was a multi-millionaire. One of the rules in the alleged wager was that he was to beat his way entirely and in this he succeeded admirably until he reached London, where it was shown that he was an imposture. He came to Windsor, worked the Crawford house for a few days' board and crossed over to Detroit. It now turns out that Reid is the person who worked the members of the yachts clubs in Chicago and Milwaukee. He said his name was Commodore R. Engles, of Toronto, and his yacht, the Sunbeam, loaded with a lot of aristocrats was on a tour of the lakes. The Sunbeam did not show up and then Reid said it must have gone down and that one of the passengers was a son of Lord Aberdeen. Reid has now disappeared and many regret ever making his acquaintance.

SLEPT UNDER TREES.

Residents of a Maryland Town Lose Their Homes by Fire.

Special to the Times.

BERLIN, Md., Aug. 5.—Fire swept this town last night. Only three stores were left standing, and their stocks are badly damaged by water and smoke. The total number of houses burned was about seventy-five, the loss is $200,000 and insurance about $25,000. About twenty residences were burned, the occupants of which either wandered about the streets or slept upon mattresses, under trees. The fire originated in the stables owned by C. W. Henry, presumably from a spark from a cigar. Very few persons were in town at the time, owing to a large camp meeting in the vicinity, so the bucket brigade that was formed was very ineffective.

THE U. S. PRESIDENCY.

There's Talk of Bayard Being the Candidate of Cleveland.

Special to The Times.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—England was told last week that Mr. Bayard is Mr. Cleveland's candidate for the nomination for the Presidency by the Democratic party next year. The American Ambassador passed yesterday at the English town of Boston, where he went to distribute prizes to the school children. According to the Times, Mr. Bayard said that the office of President was one of great dignity, responsibility, care and anxiety. The President stood in the midst of a strong, self-confident and oftentimes violent people. It took a real man to govern the people of the United States. At present they had a real man as President. He might disappoint and obstruct a great many, yet there was not a man, woman or child in the United States who does not in his or her heart respect the chief ruler.

EDDIE DURNAN INJURED.

The Sculler Hurt While Riding a Bicycle at the Island.

Special to the Times.

TORONTO, Aug. 5.—Eddie Durnan, the professional sculler, who was to meet Jake Gaudaur in a three mile race at Hanlan's Point on Civic Holiday, met with an accident while riding a bicycle at the Point last Wednesday. He was injured about the abdomen, and last night a doctor had to be summoned. While his injuries are painful it is to be hoped that he will be around again in a day or two. If however, it is found that he will not be able to get into proper condition for his race against Gaudaur, it is probable that "Ras" Roger the Saratoga crack, who has been trying to get a match on with the champ,on, will take place on Civic Holiday and assume his part of the agreement in the match,

LEFT DEAD ON THE FIELD.

Insurgents Were Routed by the Government Forces.

Special to the Times.

HAVANA, Aug. 5.—Lieut.-Col. Molina, at the head of a force of 40 auxiliary troops, had a skirmish today with the insurgents commanded by the well known leader, Matazas, at Sabana Terres, in the Province of Santa Clara. The insurgents attempted to surround the auxiliary troops, but the latter, reinforced by 40 infantry soldiers, charged the enemy, which numbered 200, and dispersed them. The insurgents left five dead upon the field, and retired with many wounded. The troops captured ten saddled horses, carrying provisions, and during the engagement 20 saddled horses, carrying ammunition and other supplies for the insurgents, were killed. Among the killed was Captain Jose Reyes Cadrera, of the insurgent forces, whose body was fully identified.

LA GUILLOTINE.

A Proposed Removal that is Causing Opposition.

Special to the Times.

PARIS, Aug. 5.—It is said to be the Government's intention to remove the place of execution from the Rue de la Roquette to the Place St. Jacques, and the denizens of the former neighborhood are much grieved by the report. The change would affect many tradesmen having houses in sight of the little slabs of stone outside the prison of La Roquette, which mark the spot where the guillotine is erected. A wine shop dealer, whose lease just expired, has refused to accept a renewal on the ground that his profits from letting windows to sightseers when executions were to take place are likely to disappear. The man declares that in good years the receipts from this source alone have paid his rent.

THE TIDE TURNS.

Great Improvement in the Health of a Well-Known Peterboro' Lady.

PETERBORO, Aug. 5.—General satisfaction is expressed here at the greatly improved condition of health of Mrs. K. Stephens, the well known music teacher of this town. Her friends have been much exercised over her condition for a long time and a number of remedies have been tried during the ten years that she has been a martyr to a complication of complaints, which recently became very severe. She suffered frightfully with pains in the back, nervous prostration and swelling of the limbs. She has been taken the new remedy for kidney troubles, Dodd's Kidney Pills, and has already experienced the most beneficial results.

TRAIN WRECKER CAUGHT

THE MAN WHO TRIED TO DERAIL A TRAIN IN CUSTODY.

He Was out of Work and Wanted to be Sent Down, is the Reason He Gave For Placing Ties Across the Rails.

Special to The Times.

TORONTO, Aug. 5.

SATURDAY night A. R. Royce, night-watchman at the diamond, near the Davenport Station, noticed a man sneaking along the track and acting in a suspicious manner. A better view showed him to be the man who laid the post on the track the night before. Mr. Royce accused him of the deed and he acknowledged his guilt. He said he intended to do it again. Mr. Royce immediately placed him under arrest and handed him into the keeping of Chief Flintoff. The prisoner gave his name as Thomas John Morris, and said he had been out of work for a long time and could not find employment of any kind. He wished to do some deed so that he might be sent down. He was brought up before Magistrate Ellis this morning, and on the request of R. J. Dey, chief detective on the Grand Trunk a remand was granted till Thursday.

A MIDNIGHT MOVE.

A very peculiar moving took place last night at the residence and business office of W. Wilson, expressman, Dundas street. It appears that J. N. Sharp had taken possession of the goods and chattels for rent. A few days ago Mr. Shields, of Brampton, who held a chattel mortgage of $900 on the entire stock of Mr. Wilson was suspicious that everything was not right and came down last Friday to look after his claim. Upon inquiry he found Mr. Wilson's business was in a very unsatisfactory condition so he took possession of the goods this morning. Thomas Gill, who carried on a butcher business under the same roof and rented from Mr. Wilson, became alarmed lest he would be held for the rent so he also made a midnight move.

JUNCTION JOTS.

The wife of W. J. Davey died this morning at the family residence, Pacific avenue. The funeral will take place Wednesday to Prospect Cemetery.

J. K. Macdonald, H. C. Hammond, Mayor Bond and Town Treasurer A. H. Clemmer made a bonfire today of the old bonds.

The Junction Cricket Club journeyed to Brampton Saturday and defeated the home team by a score of 121 to 67.

The Rev. Mr. McNealy, of Horning's Mills, preached yesterday morning and evening in the Presbyterian church.

The Rev. Mr. Baker, a divinity student, preached in the Annette street Methodist church yesterday.

The Rev. George Leach occupied the pulpit in the Davenport Methodist church morning and evening yesterday and preached to a good congregation.

THE WRONG MEDICINE.

Fatal Mistake Made by a Woman Doctor in Massachusetts.

Special to The Times.

WESTFIELD, Mass., Aug. 5.—The medical examiner conducted an autopsy yesterday on the body of Miss Lizzie L. French, who died on Wednesday night because of rumors that she had been poisoned by mistake. Dr. Sigoureey T. Cowles, a woman physician, said that she treated Miss French about two weeks ago and sent for two prescriptions, one of bichloride of mercury and the other broacic acid. She used the mercury bichloride by mistake, and says that the labels on the bottles had been transferred. She did not notify the druggist for some days. The labels are certainly transferred now, and they are in the medical examiner's custody Dr. Cowles said the girl looked so badly when she left her office that she followed her. Then she discovered the fatal mistake.

TO BUY ROME FROM ITALY.

An Almost Absurd Story Regarding the Pope as a Temporal Ruler.

Special to the Times.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Ballard Smith cables from London to the World: A story comes to me which would seem preposterous except for its apparently unimpeachable authority. It is that a number of wealthy Spaniards have addressed a serious communication to prominent and rich Catholics in France, Austria and England, proposing to raise a fund to purchase Rome from Italy and thus free the Pope from his imprisonment (albeit voluntary) and make him again a temporal ruler. Italy's almost utterly bankrupt condition is quoted as a reason for the belief that the Government would accept the proposition. The scheme seems wild enough were it not that Italy's condition is now one of the most alarming elements in the European situation, and rapidly driving her helplessly tax-ridden people towards anarchy.

WAS DROWNED:

Phoebe Young Meets Her Death in the Waters of the Bay.

Special to the Times.

TORONTO, Aug. 5.—At nine o'clock Sunday night loud calls for help attracted attention to a boat capsized in the bay off Ward's. "Malt" Ackroyd hastened to the scene and picked up a mulatto named Geo. Garrison, a barber, living at 449 Queen street west. Garrison stated that he had gone out from Ackroyd's boathouse at 8.35 p.m. with a female companion who he had not known before, but whose Christian name was Phoebe, and who, he thought, worked at the Rossin house. He said that when near the Island she wished to row and in changing seats she fell overboard and upset the boat. Garrison came up under the boat and clung to it until aid came.

The woman sank almost immediately. Ackroyd secured her hat and at the Rossin house it was identified as that of Phoebe Young, a scrubbing woman who had once lived at Holland Landing. Her body sank in 40 feet of water.

Search is being made for the body, but it has not yet been found.

Stricken With Paralysis.

HAMILTON, July 5.—John Y. Hannon, a farmer from Hannon, P.O., while in Hamilton on business, was stricken with paralysis. He was taken to the City Hospital, where he died yesterday morning. He was about 72 years of age and was in good circumstances.

The Times.

PETERBOROUGH, AUGUST 6 1895.

Professor Francois, the French statistician, figures it out that the United States is the richest nation on earth. Taking the ninteen countries where statistics are available he shows that their total wealth may be estimated at $291,158,000,000, of which the United States owns nearly one-quarter, viz., $62,600,000,000. This is an astonishing showing for a nation only a century old.

His Grace Archbishop Langevin is now endeavoring to fill up all the vacant lands in Manitoba with French-Canadian settlers, that the voice that is shouting for Sunday school seven times a week may be stronger and louder. To make a French-Canadian paradise of Manitoba was the dream of the late archbishop of St. Boniface. But the outside barbarians spied out the land and rushed in and swamped the French. Then an endeavor was made to plant a French-Canadian province on the Saskatchewn river; but the world moved too swiftly for Archbishop Tache; the heretics again got the start of him, and his dream was not fulfilled. We do not think the new archbishop's plan will be more successful. If the Manitoba crop turns out as well this year as it promises, there won't be much vacant land in the province next year to be occupied by the habitants from Quebec.

YOUNG'S POINT.

PICNIC.—On Wedensday afternoon a very successful picnic was held by the congregation of the church of England on the baseball grounds, near the village. Although the weather was unfavorable, being cold and showery, the picnic was largely attended by the villagers and a pleasant afternoon was spent by all. A fine list of races was run off by the children for which valuable prizes were given and from 4 to 6 p. m. the ladies served a most sumptuous repast in the grove, to which ample justice was, done, Rev. Mr. Hartley, and his assistant Rev. Mr. Bagshaw were untiring in ther efforts to make the day an enjoyable one in which they were peculiarly successful. The amount realized was $21, and no doubt, had the day been fine the proceeds would have been much larger.

The Steamer Columbion passed through here on Wedensday on her weekly trip. trip. Quite a large number of excursionists from Campbellford were on board. This route from Chemong to Lakefield and return is becoming quite popular, as is evidenced by the ever-increasing numbers of passengers each week. The Columbion is staunch speedy and comfortable, and its officers courtuous and obliging.

Mr. C young's saw mill has been closed down for a few days owing to a breakage in the machinery. The damage is being repaired as speedily as possible, so that as little time as possible will be lost, as Mr. Young has a busy season ahead of him.

Capt. Jas. A Johnston of the Steamer Columbian spent Wedensday night at the Point. The many friends here were pleased to see "Jim" looking so hale and hearty.

Miss Bridget Pope of Peterboro is spending a couple of weeks at the carleton House, the guest of Miss Lillie McFarlane.

The Misses O'Connell of Ashburnham, spent last week at the Carleton House and enjoyed themselves boating fishing &c. Misses. Callaghan and Doran of Kingston are spending a month with their friend Miss Maggie Young, and the "Mary Ellen" very frequently is forced to make her trip without the second mate in consequence.

Miss Annie Weir of Peterborough is visiting her friend Miss Nellie Young.

Miss Nora Young has returned from Mount Pleasant, Mich. and is spending the summer with her sisters.

Misses. Maggie and Lottie Kerney and Mr. Fred Fanning, have taken the trip to St. Annie de Beaupre.

TAUGHT THE YANKEES TO LAUGH.

So Said an Eminent Frenchman of Oliver Wendell Holmes.

Discussing the late Oliver Wendell Holmes, an eminent Frenchman once said that it was he who had taught the Yankees to laugh. The poet's wit was such as put every one around him in the best of humor.

It was Holmes who said that although it was Eve who tempted man to eat, he had an idea that she had nothing to do with his drinking, for he undoubtedly took to that on his own account. Then the poet removed his cigar from his lips and remarked:

"I really must not smoke so persistently. I must turn over a new leaf—a tobacco leaf—and have a cigar only after each" —and as most of those present imagined he was about to say "meal," he continued—"after each meal." Leaning back in his chair he added—"A foreigner is an alien; a foreigner who drinks too much is an acchabian; and why should not a foreigner who smokes too much be called a tobacconalian."

When dining with Lord Coleridge, the subject of lawyers came up, and referring to the American man of the Bar, Holmes said that the poverty of the American lawyer and the wealth of his client was his glory. On another occasion Mrs. Siddons was being discussed, and some one said that the statesman Fox had been smitten by the great actress. To this the poet replied that from all he had ever heard of her he could not understand a man falling in love with her. His reason was that she was so grand that a man might as well fall in love with the Pyramids. She might have been loved by the Worshipful Company of Coachmakers or a Board of Aldermen, but it was beyond the range of possibility that one man could ever love her.

After he had been lionized by a delegation of Westerners, some one asked him how he liked it. "Like it?" he said, "I felt like the small elephant at the Zoo with a cheap excursion party on his back."

Professor Agassiz, he used to say, was the Liebig's extract of the wisdom of ages, "and," he would add, "whenever he goes off on long voyages to remote islands I can't help thinking what a feast the cannibals would have if they boiled down such an extract."

A VENERABLE STUDENT.

Having Fought and Preached, Dr. Stevens is Now Studying Law at Seventy.

There are many queer people in attendance at the Kansas State University at Lawrence, Kan., but probably the most interestng of these is a law student who is at least seventy years of age. He is Dr. Martin Van Buren Stevens. This is his second year at the university, and he expects to graduate this spring and become a full-fledged lawyer.

The doctor's life has been one of much education. Wilkesbarre, Pa., was the place of his birth. He married at twenty a pretty Pennsylvania German girl. Soon after this he enlisted in Company D, Fifth New Hampshire, and went to the war.

The old gentleman has received the degree of Bachelor of Arts at Oberlin College, in Ohio, and that of Doctor of Medicine at the Adelbert College, at Cleveland, O., 1871. His first wife having died, he married again, this time selecting a Michigan girl, a niece of "Fighting Jim" Richardson. At one time he studied theology and preached for awhile, but gave it up, and studied phrenology under Fowler, of New York.

In a cozy little house on the side of the hill this queer old man lives alone. He keeps everything about the place scrupulously clean. One warm meal a day he considers sufficient; the other two he carries to school with him in a small shoe box. Very little meat passes his lips, in fact he might almost be called a vegetarian. "People eat entirely too much," he says.

Last year he was somewhat conspicuous on account of the number of badges and emblems he wore on the front of his coat. They were badges of the G. A. R., Christian Endeavor Society, Phrenological Society, the Y. M. C. A., a medical society and C. L. S. C. Another of his peculiarities is that he carries a watch which is fully four inches in diameter. He winds it with a pair of six-inch nippers.

Dr. Stevens has been in every State and Territory of the United States. Every summer he goes out on a lecturing tour, and tells the people all about phrenology, physiology and physiognomy.

Another Record Broken.

Ten days and two hours is now the record from Bombay to Brindisi. The Peninsular and Oriental steamer Caledonia, which held the previous record, made it on April 2. The time includes all stops and the transit through the Suez canal.

One True Admirer.

"Mr. Timmins," said the old-fashioned girl, "I hope you are not an admirer of the New Woman."

"Oh, but I am," confessed Timmins. "She is good for at least three jokes and a poem every week."

Letters and Language.

Nothing better illustrates the ratio in which the different letters are used in our language than a set of figures on the proportionate number of types that are found in the printer's case, which are usually as follows: z 2, j 5, q 6, k 8, v 15, b and g 20, p 24, w and y 28, m and f 30, c 40, u 45, d and l 150, h 60, r 70, n, o and s 80, a and i 90, t 100 and e 140.

PROFITS.

Policyholders of the Sun Life Assurance Comyany of Canada receive ninety-three and one-third per cent. of the TOTAL surplus earned by the Company, and the stockholders the remaining six and two-thirds per cent. By this system the holders of participating policies receive ninety-three and one-third per cent. not only of the profits of their own class but also of those earned by the non-participating policies. They thus have the protection of a large capital stock for a merely nominal sum.

On ordinary policies profits are divided every five years, counting in each case from the date of the policy. The method adopted is eminently fair to all parties, and is a modification of what is known as the "Contribution Plan." The profits may be taken in cash to be used in payment of premiums, or applied to the purchase of bonus additions to the sum assured.

On Reserve Dividend Policies the surplus, instead of being distributed every five years, is accumulated during the Reserve Dividend period, and the accumulation thus arising is distributed among those who have survived that term and have kept their policies in force. The profits paid during 1895, to those entitled to receive them, are the largest that have ever been paid by the Company and have seldom been equalled by any other Company.

That Indian War Scare Worked up by White Settlers

Special to The Times.

SALT LAKE, Utah, Aug. 3.—E. Mehey, a furrier, of this city, who has just returned from Jackson Hole county, via Rexburg, Idaho, with a consignment of elk heads and bear skins, which he bought from the Indians who have been hunting in that region, says the stories of danger are mostly fiction. He was present in the saloon at Rexburg when the story of the massacre of fifty settlers was concocted and written to be sent out. "The people up there," he said, "regard the whole business as something of a joke. Of course, they know it has its serious side, but they are all pioneers, used to serious things and do not mind the danger. Their object in calling for troops is to get the Indians out, so to as to save the game for the settlers and for the tourist hunters, who furnish employment and revenue for the settlers in the summer. Incidentally they make considerable out of supplies for troops who come in.

"Beaver Dick, who has been living in Jackson's Hole for forty years, and has a Bannock wife, told me that the Indians might make some trouble, but that there would be no raids on settlers. He said if anybody made trouble it would be the settlers, not the Indians. He has gone to the Gros Ventre Mountains to advise the Indians to keep quiet until the excitement dies down."

The king of the Belgians offers a prize of £1,000 for the best plan of supplying Brussels with drinking water. The competition is open to all the world.

In 1823 the commander of Fort Dearborn, the site of Chicago, reported to the secretary of war as follows: "I would respectfully remark that this post should be abandoned, because the nature of the surrounding country is such that it is impossible that it should ever support a population sufficient to justify the expense of sustaining a fort at this pace."

It was a happy thought on the part of the President of the French Republic to visit the camp at Sathonay and inspect the troops about to leave for Madagascar. He has once more shown that he knows how to win the heart of the people, and for the tranquility of France it is most desirable that he should continue to be the popular President par excellence.

FOR THE FARMER.

If manure is exposed to bleaching for drainage, it is to be expected that it will lose the greater part of its value.

Forty-seven per cent. of the population of France are engaged in agriculture, while in 1851 fifty-seven per cent. were so engaged. Machinery on the farm has given a similar tendency in other European countries.

Wild horses have accumulated so in Colorado that they have become a nuisance and ranchmen are shooting them off. It is said that there are over 200,000 head of wild horses in the state.

British farmers are declaiming very loudly against the excess of the burden of taxation borne by land, when compared with other occupations. The troubles of land seem to be about the same wherever a civilization has been developed.

In these days of increasing cow stock, when skim-milk is abounding more and more, the thoughts of farmers are turning once again to more pig pork. Skim milk makes healthy, rapidly growing lean hogs, from which good, sweet pork, now more in demand than formerly, is made.

Platinum has been drawn into smooth wire so fine that it could not be distinguished by the naked eye, even when stretched across a piece of white cardboard.

Roman lamps were of many sizes, but most of them very closely resembled what is at present denominated a sauce or gravy boat. At one end there was a ring through which the finger was passed when the light was carried; the body of the vessel was filled with oil, and at the other end there was a small tube through which a rag wick was passed.

LESSONS OF THE WAR.

While the Japanese repeated their accustomed practice of forcing the fighting, there is not, from a naval point of view, much to be gained by a study of the operations.

The manner in which the Chinese torpedo boats broke for the open sea when they found themselves penned in the harbor awakens in the reader an anticipation of a concerted attack upon the Japanese fleet until it is seen that the torpedo craft merely wished to get away, and not to get at the foe. Considering that they were pursued by only four or five ships, they might at last have tried to destroy some of the latter by a combined rush at them.

The chief lesson of the war between China and Japan so far is the discovery that the Japanese are sea fighters of the first class. There are other nations than China that may find Japan's fleet a very hard nut to crack.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

TORONTO FIRE MYSTERY.

THE POLICE HAVE A DEFINITE CLUE TO THE INCENDIARY.

The Problem of the Big Fires to be Solved—The Osgoodby Fire Said to Have Been Started by a Tenant of the Building.

Special to the Times.

TORONTO, Aug. 3.—Though public interest in the three great fires which occurred in this city on January last has been gradually subsiding, the authorities have never relaxed their efforts to solve their mysterious origin. The police have been steadily working upon the cases, and it is now believed they are in possession of information which gives every promise of leading at least to the arrest and probably to the conviction of the man who applied the torch to the Osgoodby building. These terrific conflagrations began in the most mysterious manner, and the long continued investigations which followed practically did nothing towards throwing any light on the subject. When the coroner's jury returned their verdict the public knew just as much about who or what caused the trouble as was known the night it occurred.

It has all along been deemed a settled fact that the fires were not accidental, and the main hope for the apprehension of the fire bug came to lie in the chance that someone who held the key to the situation would give it up.

AN ALLEGED CONFESSION.

This, it is believed, has transpired, and the detectives are busy verifying a confession made by an individual who lays the crime on one who, at the time of the Osgoodby fire, was a tenant of that building. The motive alleged is understood to be a desire to cover up financial dealings which could not be kept secret in any other way.

A WARRANT ISSUED.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of the man implicated in the charge. He is very well known in certain circles throughout the city and his financial dealings with friends have been far from satisfactory. No arrests have been made as yet but this is a step which may be taken within a very short period.

'TWAS KILLED.

A Little Child Runs in Front of a Trolley Car Bloor West.

Special to the Times.

TORONTO, Aug. 3.—At 1.30 this afternoon a four-year-old daughter of Arthur Todd, who lives at 11 Emerson avenue, was killed by a trolley car on Bloor street west. While playing the child ran in front of the car, and before the motorman could reverse his machine the poor little thing was knocked down. Her chest was crushed in and one hand cut off. She died almost instantly. Dr. Hunter was called but could do nothing.

ACTOR HOLT'S FIX.

His Wife and Children Stop His Alleged Love Making.

Special to the Times.

TOLEDO, O., Aug. 3.—Mrs. Adele D. Holt, wife of the actor, Edwin Holt, who until recently was professionally known as Clarence E. Holt, swore out a warrant for her husband's arrest.

Holt and Mabel Eaton have been producing "As You Like It" in a grove near this city, and society has taken up the performances in a very swell manner. Miss Eaton's mother came here a few days ago and objected seriously to Holt's lover like attitude toward her daughter. To settle matters she brought Mrs. Holt and three children here from New York, whereupon Holt endeavored to disappear, but was stopped by the elder Mrs. Eaton.

It is said that Holt had assured Miss Eaton that he had applied for a divorce.

IS A BOY AGAIN.

Nonongenarian Goff Assumes the Physique of a lad of Twenty.

Special to the Times.

PUNTA GORDA, Fla., Aug. 3.—At the age of 90 George W. Goff who lives near here, has grown young again. Up to a year ago Mr. Goff was blind, partially deaf and bald, and had been so for many years. About that time, however, he suddenly recovered his eyesight and hearing, and his hair began to grow. Now Mr. Goff hears and sees as well as he ever did and his head is covered with a growth of black hair. As his eyesight strengthened and his hair grew a marked change occurred in Mr. Goff's physical condition, and from being a decrepit man, hardly able to walk, he became as strong and active as a youth of 20 years.

The wrinkles on his skin disappeared and he now looks fresh and youthful. The case puzzled the physicians. They say the man is entirely rejuvenated and may live 90 years longer. They assert that the old tissues have been replaced by new and that physically Mr. Goff is not more than 20 years old.

So youthful did Mr. Goff feel that last week he married a handsome young girl. To look at the couple one would never suspect that there was any difference in their ages, although the groom is seventy years older than his bride.

Mr. Goff was born in Georgia in 1800, he fought in the Indian war under Andrew Jackson, and remembers "Old Hickory" well. He was also in the Mexican and civil wars, and was wounded in the battle of Buena Vista.

Tired women need to have their blood purified and enriched by Hood's Sarsaparilla. It will give them strength and health.

POND'S EXTRACT

IMPRESSED ON THE MEMORY

That Pond's Extract is without equal for relieving pain, and that no remedy should be accepted as "just as good." And unscrupulous druggists will insist on trying to force upon purchasers weak imitations which are irritating, uncertain and even poisonous, very different from genuine Pond's Extract, which is universally known as a great healer, pacifier and comforter. Nature's own remedy for all pain is genuine Pond's Extract.

Avoid substitutes; accept genuine only, with buff-wrapper and yellow label.

A BALOON ON FIRE.

Two Aeronauts Receive Serious Injureis in an Accident at Jackson.

Special to the Times.

JACKSON, Mich., Aug. 5.—Two aeronauts were seriously injured in a balloon accident at Vandercock's Lake, last night. The balloon used was one of the largest of the hot air variety with double bars, At six o'clock it was successfully inflated, Ella Peake, a trapeze performer, took the upper bar and Charles Elliott the lower. At the moment the retaining ropes were cast off a gust of wind caught the canvas and carried it to one side and it took fire. The monster balloon shot into the air some distance with both of the aeronauts on the bottom. Then it came crashing down. Miss Peake is a largo woman and fell heavily breaking both legs besides suffering internal injuries. Elliott struck on his shoulders and is badly crushed. His injuries are said to be fatal. The spectators dragged them from the burning balloon and carried them to the nearest tent where surgeons attended them. Elliott has been in the business seven years. This is his first serious accident. Miss Peake is a niece of Professor Hogan who lost his life on Campbell's air ship in the Atlantic Ocean five years ago.

ENLARGES THE USES OF MUSIC.

There is a good deal in the old saw that music will charm the savage breast. It always was possessed of a magnetic power over individuals. To the present age, however, must be credited the greater triumphs in musical directions. And not the least of these is the transposing piano of Heintzman & Co., Toronto, which opens out for vocalists a wide arena of delightful study. The instrument is unique in every particular, and ought to command the study of everyone interested in music, whether professionally or for its individual delights.

Weak, Tired, Nervous

Women, who seem to be all worn out, will find in purified blood, made rich and healthy by Hood's Sarsaparilla, permanent relief and strength. The following is from a well known nurse:

"I have suffered for years with female complaints and kidney troubles and I have had a great deal of medical advice during that time, but have received little or no benefit. A friend advised me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and I began to use it, together with Hood's Pills. I have realized more benefit from these medicines than from anything else I have ever taken. From my personal experience I believe Hood's Sarsaparilla to be a most complete blood purifier." MRS. C. CROMPTON, 71 Cumberland St., Toronto, Ontario.

A FULL FLEDGED CLUB.

The Bicyclists Have Secured the Curling Rink for Their Home.

A meeting of the Peterborough Bicycle Club was held last evening in the Catholic Association Rooms at which several new appointments were made and a complete set of officers appointed including an executive committee, which will have full power to act for the club.

It was decided to accept the offer of the Curling Club Co., and the skating rink will be the future home of the club. No expense will be spared in fitting up the club rooms, and as the location and conveniences are all that can be desired, it is proposed to make the new home of the P.B.C. second to none.

It is the intention of the club to have the rooms ready to entertain the visiting wheelmen who will be with them on the 15th, Peterborough's Civic Holiday, when it is hoped a large crowd will turn out to see the races and give the visitors a hearty welcome.

There will be a grand smoking concert at the opera house in the evening, when all the prizes will be distributed, and such well known entertainers as W. E. Ramsey and Frank Wright, of Toronto, unquestionably Canada's greatest comic artists, will appear.

It is hoped the citizens will turn out and make the coming "meets" a huge success, as much depends on the success of these "meets" whether Peterborough will secure the C.W.A. annual meet for 1896.

THE OUTFALL SEWER.

The matter of granting an extension of time for the completion of the outfall sewer was the first business taken up. Councillor Best moved the adoption of a resolution which was seconded by Councillor Dawson and carried, extending the time for the completion of the contract from August 1st to December 1st.

Mr. W. H. Moore who appeared for Contractor Grant, asked the council to pass a resolution asking Mr. Grant to go on with the work. The mayor replied that the council wished the contractor to go on with the work and removed all obstacles, but that the council did not care to pass such a resolution without advice from the town solicitor,

Councillor Stone did not see that the council need beg Mr. Grant to go on with the work. The time was extended and the contractor could go on as soon as he liked.

Mr. Moore replied to the mayor that so far as he knew and so far as he had learned the injunction ordering the work to be stopped was standing today.

After an extended discussion this matter was referred to the Sewerage Committee to take such action as they may see fit in the interests of the town.

ASSESSMENT RATE.

Protestant	16 mills
Roman Catholic	16 2 10 mills

In presenting the estimates Chairman Cahill showed the increases and decreases in the estimates. The estimates showed a surplus of $1,654, which was very gratifying. He congratulated the town on the fact that, despite the depression, the assessment had slightly increased, and this was an evidence that Peterborough was forging ahead. The estimates not only shewed a clean sheet, but a surplus as large as it was wise to have.

In 1895 the assets are $5,145 more than in 1894, while the increased expenditures over 1894 are $3,245, leaving a balance of $1,900. But in 1894 the sum of $5,141 was raised more than was needed which leaves the sum of $7,041 less to raise this year, or equal to one and six tenth mills less on the rate. The rate, however, is one mill less than in 1894, giving six tenths of a mill to be added for the item capitulated under the heading of unforseen. Councillor Cahill's figures are as follows:

	Increase over 1894	Decrease under 1894

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS.

Councillors Phelan and Mason moved a motion that the treasurer issue a cheque for $140.00 to Charles Wynn, the same being the purchase price of the new fire horse.—Carried.

Councillors Stone and Phelan moved that the mayor and clerk be instructed to execute a contract for the purchase of 500 feet of hose from the Baker, Fabric Hose Company at 90 cents per foot.—Carried.

Councillor Sproule moved, seconded by Councillor Stone that the clerk be instructed to write to the clerk of the Village of Ashburnham and notify him to issue a cheque at once for $800 to the town of Peterborough, being the amount of the village's indebtedness, or steps would be taken at once to collect the same.—Carried.

A QUESTION OF PRIVILEGE.

Councillor Stone rose to a question of privilege and denied the allegations of a writer to the Review, who had stated that he and his colleagues in his wards had had street work done in front of their respective residences. The work done in front of his residence left the street in a worse condition than it was before, and he desired to state that he had never asked either the chairman of the Street and Bridge Committee nor the inspector to do any work on the street on which he lived.

The council then adjourned.

BIG PROFITS —ON— SMALL INVESTMENTS

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our SYSTEMATIC PLAN OF SPECULATION.

Originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who, by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

A Metal Breadboard

THE WOMAN WHO HAS BEEN USED to kneading dough on the old fashioned wooden breadboard knows what a bother it is to get them clean and how cumbersome and heavy they are. When they begin to crack or check its almost impossible to thoroughly cleanse them, and they may easily become dangerous conveyances of disease. It was left for a woman, of course, to remedy this state of affairs, and Mrs. M. M. Everhard, of St. Joseph, Mich., has patented a metal bread-board, which is one of the greatest labor-savers imaginable. It is light, does not absorb grease, dough does not adhere to it, and while it possesses all the advantages of the marble bread-board it is much cheaper and, of course, far lighter and easier to handle. If readers want to confer a favor upon their wives they will be forever appreciated, let them send $1 to the manufacturers 102 Bay street Toronto, for one of these boards.

COUNTERFEITERS CAUGHT

GANG OF MAKERS OF SPURIOUS CANADIAN COIN JAILED.

At Jersey City a Big Plant was Found and $200,000 in Canadian Currency With the Reverse Side all Printed.

Special to the Times.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—The World today says: The expert counterfeiters, who for years past have been engraving and printing $500 and $100 United States gold certificates and flooding Canada with notes of other denominations, have been discovered by Secret Service detectives and four of the gang of five are now locked up in Jersey City. The fifth member, the backer of the plant, was arrested, but escaped from the officers. Brockway, the most expert forger and counterfeiter in this country, is probably the principal of the gang. He is now 73 years old. When caught he had in his possession a $500 gold certificate and $390 in Canadian money, supposed to be counterfeit. The man who supplied the funds for the plant was Dr. O. F. Bradford, a dentist, who heretofore has managed to escape suspicion. The other members of the gang are Libbie Smith, a cousin of Bradford, and Sidney Smith, the engraver of the party, who is said to be Libbie Smith's husband, and William S. Wagner. Smith was arrested last night with counterfeit plates in his possession

COUNTERFEIT CANADIAN CURRENCY.

The plates and paper captured by the detectives show this to be the most skilful gang that has operated in this country for years. Besides valuable plates for both United States and Canadian notes, $200,000 in Canadian currency, with the reverse side all printed, was discovered. The plates for the front side were found last night in the possession of Smith when arrested at his home. A sufficient amount of fibre paper to print $400,000 more of Canadian money was also located in a secret closet. The paper, according to experts, is even superior to that prepared by the Hoyt gang in Connecticut. Uncompleted plates for $500 and $100 U.S. gold certificates were on the tables. For ten days the detectives have had the place under surveillance in the hope of capturing the entire gang.

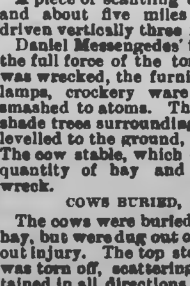
Brockway was known there as Col. Spencer, but the detectives had no difficulty in recognizing him. The detectives hoped by postponing the raid to get Bradford with the other four. Chief Hazen, of the secret service, who in person was directing the proceedings, ordered the detectives to enter the house on Saturday night. Libbie Smith, a female confederate, and Wagner were the only members of the party there. They were locked in jail and the reason for their arrest kept a secret from them while search was made for the rest of the gang.

CYCLONE BY THE SEA.

FIFTEEN MINUTES WILD DEVASTATION IN NOVA SCOTIA.

Barns and Houses Wrecked and Torn to Pieces—One Roof Carried a Mile and a Half —Desolation in Its Track.

Special to the Times.



BRIDGEPORT, N. S., Aug. 6.—A terrible storm of wind, accompanied by rain, struck about three mile east of here Sunday evening. It lasted fifteen minutes, doing damage to a portion of the districts of Clarence and Paradise, through which the storm passed, amounting to thousands of dollars.

Large elms and other shade trees were snapped off like pipe stems; chimneys were blown down; window panes broken, and sashes driven into the rooms; orchard trees torn up by the roots and buried incredible distances; fences levelled to the ground and stone walls demolished.

BARNS TORN TO PIECES.

Barns and stables containing quantities of hay were torn to pieces and destroyed.

The top story of one barn was carried a mile and a half.

A piece of scantling two by three inches and about five miles long, was found driven vertically three feet into the earth.

Daniel Messengedes' farm was struck by the full force of the tornado. The house was wrecked, the furniture broken, and lamps, crockery ware and glass were smashed to atoms. The ornamental and shade trees surrounding the house were levelled to the ground, twisted and torn. The cow stable, which contained a large quantity of hay and three cows, is a wreck.

COWS BURIED, BUT ALIVE.

The cows were buried under six tons of hay, but were dug out of the debris without injury. The top story of a new stable was torn off, scattering the hay it contained in all directions, but leaving the lower part, in which were several horses, comparatively uninjured.

His orchard contained 250 trees, well grown, and in bearing. Some of the trees, a foot in diameter, were completely destroyed. His potato, root and cereal crops were ruined.

Edgar Bent, had 70 orchard trees torn up, blown down or otherwise destroyed.

SMUGGLED FROM CANADA.

A Buffalonian Loses a $400 Seal Skin Sacque.

Special to The Times.

BUFFALO, Aug. 6. — A fine seal-skin sacque was auctioned off at the Custom House yesterday. The garment was seized on a Grand Trunk train at the International bridge. It was in the possession of a well-known Buffalonian who was attempting to bring it from Canada. The sacque sold for $115. It was easily worth $400.

Collingwood to Toronto.

COLLINGWOOD, Aug. 6.—August the 7th is Collingwood's Civic holiday. The Masons of Manito Lodge have engaged the new steamer Majestic to take them, their wives and families to Owen Sound on that day, and the Sons of England of Canterbury Lodge have made arrangements with the Grand Trunk road to carry them to Toronto, where they expect to meet a number of their brethren from other lodges.

A STRIKE ON.

Toronto Bricklayers Will Go Out Today—A Wage Dispute the Cause of the Step —Many Buildings Affected

Special to the Times.

TORONTO, Aug. 6.—The Bricklayers' Union will tonight order the members to go on strike for the purpose of compelling the masters to make an agreement with the union on the question of wages. This point has been in dispute ever since the old five year agreement lapsed in May last. At that time the bosses offered to make an agreement at 30 cents an hour instead of 36 cents, which was the rate paid under the former agreement. The union refused to accept that figure, and there has been no agreement since that time. The union rate of wages has remained at 36 cents an hour, and many of the masters have been paying that rate right along.

The reports of the union state that there are in progress 27 union jobs and 4 non union jobs.

AN OPPORTUNE TIME TO STRIKE.

Almost every man in the city is employed and the men think this is an opportune time to force the fighting. The officers of the union also declare that if the masters had shown the least desire to bring about an amicable settlement it could have been effected, but instead of listening to the request of the men the bosses have ignored all the men's efforts to avoid trouble, and they consider there is only one thing to do now and that is to strike. The dispute could probably have been settled on a basis of 33 cents an hour.

THE BOSSES ARE NOT WORRYING.

At the builders Exchange the bosses say they are not worrying over the threatened difficulty. They think they can secure all they men they require to carry on the contracts without delay.

The union men state that there are only about thirty non-union bricklayers in the city.

THE BUILDINGS AFFECTED.

Some of the works that will be delayed by the strike are the new municipal buildings, the Globe office, Simpson's building, the Foresters' building, the Toronto Lithographing Company's new building, the McKinnon building, the Kemp building and a number of smaller jobs.

BEGGED FOR THEIR LIVES

THP LATESL DETAILS OF THE KUCHENG OUTRAGE.

Mob Leaders Urge on the Fiends—Origin of the Rising in Secret Societies—King Christian's Illness.

Special to the Times.

LONDON, Aug. 6.—The Daily Telegraph will tomorrow print a despatch from Shanghai saying that the Rev. H. S. Phillips, of the English Church Missionary Society, witnessed the atrocities at Whasang, but was powerless to do anything to prevent them. The Chinese magistrate, the despatch also says, waited till the foreigners were murdered or had fled before he appeared. The massacre was carefully planned. There are about 1,000 soldiers stationed at Kucheng, and they could have stopped the riot had the officials chosen to do so. The same despatch states that the American mission at Shashi has been destroyed and its former occupants are fugitives. The American Consul here has advised the missionaries in other parts of the country to retire. A meeting of the foreign residents of Shanghai, of all nationalities, was held this afternoon under the auspices of the China Association. The foreigners were urged to appeal direct to the Governments of their various countries to secure reparation for the many outrages committed in the Chinese Empire, especially for that at Whasang. Some of the speakers at this meeting declared that no confidence was to be placed in the diplomatic representatives at Pekin. The American residents desire the appointment of a committee to enquire into the outrages in Szechien and the interior apart from the British Commission, and to be under the control of American Consul Jernigan. Mr. O'Connor, the British Minister, has given his assent to the proposition.

APPEALED TO THE RUFFIANS.

The Times tomorrow will print a despatch from Shanghai, saying that ladies at missionary stations begged for life, promising to surrender their property and valuables, but the leader of the mob gave out orders to kill them. Dr. Taylor, a missionary who has just returned to London from districts in China where outrages had been committed, said that all the trouble had been caused by Secret Society Lai, which has increased in strength enormously since the war. The society was established with the object of overturning dynasty. It is especially inimical to foreigners. The Government has been told of its practices but has done nothing. Dr. Taylor paid a high tribute to the American consul at Foo Chow and expressed the opinion that the escape of the Americans at Huchen was due to his energetic action.

KING CHRISTIAN.

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 6.—The condition of King Christian, who is ill with catarrh of the bladder, has become worse. He is much prostrated and suffers much pain although he is not at all feverish and has a good appetite. Dr. Peterson, His Majesty's physician, is in constant attendance, having taken up his residence at the Royal Castle.

ANARCHIST DECOUX.

PARIS, Aug. 6.—The Temps, referring to the murderous assault made yesterday by Anarchist Decoux upon M. Vuillemin, managing director of Aniche Mines, says the outrage was prompted by anarchic, not personal, vengeance. The police are seeking for three men who are believed to have been accomplices.

A FIGHT OVER BLOOMERS.

Mr. Quill Ends it by Cutting off Her Husband's Whiskers.

Special to the Times.

EATON, O., Aug. 6.—Mrs. John Quill and her husband quarrelled on Friday night over the question whether or not their daughter should wear bloomers. The Quills are old people, wealthy and have a large family of grown up children. Quill is 75 years old and very feeble, but he advocated bloomers. They quarrelled viciously. Finally Mrs. Quill attempted to pull out her husband's whiskers, and, not succeeding, she cut them off. The fight was so bitter that both the old people are under a physician's care, and it is feared Mrs. Quill will become insane.

A TALE OF TRAGEDIES.

THE SECRET DOINGS IN HOLMES' CASTLE REVEALED.

Quinlan and His Wife Tell all they Know About The Operations in the Chicago Death Traps—The Latest Developements.

Special to the Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 6.

IT was stated that Detective Geyer, visited the county prison and had a long talk with Holmes, and induced him to tell what he knows of Howard Pietzel.

Lawyer Shoemaker, who represents H. H. Holmes, was asked how long his client could be kept in the county prison awaiting sentence on the charge of conspiracy, to which he pleaded guilty. The attorney said, "The Holmes case throughout is a peculiar one the like of which the courts have never had to handle. Holmes pleaded guilty to the charge of conspiring to defraud the Fidelity Mutual Life Association, but as the case against him cannot be made complete without the co-conspirators being brought to trial he practically now rests incompletely guilty, but is liable under the law to a sentence of two years, the maximum penalty. he having pleaded guilty to an indictment in which the names of other alleged conspirators were mentioned. The indictments in this case were numerous and in each I understand, Jeptha D. Howe, the St. Louis lawyer, was coupled with Holmes. It was expected that Howe would have been tried in June, but his counsel had the case postponed. I understand that when the case is next called another postponement will be asked for. I do know that District Attorney Graham is anxious to have the case reach trial."

"Is it likely that Holmes will be called as a witness against Howe?" was asked.

"The commonwealth has that privilege," Mr. Shoemaker replied, "and they will doubtless take the chance of placing him on the stand. I do not know how he will testify."

"Do you think Holmes can be convicted of any of the crimes outside of this city that have been charged against him?"

"I am not versed in the laws of any other State," said Lawyer Shoemaker, "and I would prefer not to discuss that question. I will say, however, that there is a demand for Holmes elsewhere, and that warrants and detainers have been issued. A warrant has been lodged against him by the Fort Worth, Texas, authorities, which I think has the precedence. I do not think the Toronto authorities want to try him, as they have but a slim chance of conviction, and I cannot see what weight the Chicago testimony would have against him."

THE QUINLAN'S CONFESSION.

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—A stenographic report of the confession of Patrick Quinlan and his wife has been published in the press of this city. In their opinion Miss Cigrand, Mrs. Julia O'Connor and her daughter Pearl, and Minnie and Namie Williams are dead, and that Holmes murdered them. Pietzel, they say, quarrelled frequently with Holmes because the latter would not act squarely with him in his dealings, and they believed Holmes killed Pietzel so as to prevent him from telling of his crimes, which, they believe, Pietzel was aware of, to some extent. As to whether Pietzel participated in any of the murders they do not know. They believe that Holmes, after killing Pietzel, felt it necessary to dispose of the dead man's children, and that Alice, Nellie and Howard Pietzel were killed by Holmes. As to Miss Van Tassel, they know nothing and never saw her. Miss Cigrand, Mrs. O'Connor, Pearl O'Connor and Minnie and Nannie Williams, they thought, came to their death in the Holmes building. Mrs. Quinlan related that one day when her husband was away she saw Holmes poking into the stove in his office, which was red hot, something that looked like a portion of a human body, and that a horrible odor came from the room. Quinlan said that after Holmes had gone away he found a bottle of chloroform in the steel vault. They both said that they saw the Williams girls about July 5, 1893, for the last time, and that they must have been put out of the way at that time.

IS THIS MINNIE WILLIAMS?

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 6.—Minnie Williams, of the Holmes case celebrity, is said to be in this city, and the declaration is made by one who claims to have seen and converred with and heard a partial admission of her identity from the woman's own lips. The party who makes the assertion is a Little Rock resident, who makes frequent trips to and is well acquainted in Memphis. One of the parties to whom he gave this information, and who will assist in the development of the case, came over from Little Rock today to look after some essential details. He was not advised as to the location of the woman, the acquaintance keeping this secret until the receipts of a photograph of Minnie Williams, which is expected tomorrow. Fortified with this the Little Rock agents will come at once to Memphis, call upon the suspect, and clear up the mystery as they anticipate. It is insisted that the description is perfect.

WALKED IN HIS SLEEP.

A Somnambulist Falls From the Roof of His House and is Killed.

Special to the Times.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—James A. McCrook 31 years old, of Dresden street, near Ridgewood avenue, Brooklyn, a brushmaker by trade, was found unconscious at 6 a.m. Sunday in front of his home, clad only in a night robe. He was carried into the house and upon investigation it was ascertained that his neck was broken. He died at 9 o'clock last night. He is a somnambulist, and it is supposed that he got out of bed during his sleep and went to the roof, whence he fell to the ground, a distance of 40 feet. The coroner was notified.

PETERBOROUGH, AUGUST 7 1895.

NO RULER IS HE.

To exaggerate the powers of lieutenant-governors and belittle the supreme authority of the Legislature, which represents a free people, is not the true way to avoid friction in the working of a federal system.

Sir John Schultz is altogether too conspicuous at the present crisis in the history of the Manitoba school trouble. His movements are attended with an importance in print which only belongs to the deliberations of the Legislature. The rumour is now that he has gone to Banff to consult with Sir Mackenzie Bowell and Hon. T. M. Daly.

If the Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba has gone to meet his old political friends on business apart from the Manitoba school question, nobody need complain. But if his Honor thinks that the responsibility of settling the question is on his shoulders, he cannot too quickly learn that he is an office holder, and in no sense a representative of the sovereign people who are assumed by a constitutional fiction, to be the subjects of his authority.

INFORMATION NEEDED.

Mr. Hugh Sutherland and others interested in the Hudson's Bay Railway project do well to get all the information they can relative to the navigability of Hudson's Bay and Strait. The Government would be fully justified in helping them to get this information. It has done a good deal in this direction already, but the information, obtained at a very considerable expense, does not appear to be sufficient or satisfactory. It would be well to get information enough to satisfy men capable of forming an opinion on the subject that there is no room for doubt. It is plain that before money is spent in constructing a railroad to the shores of Hudson's Bay, those who risk their means in the project should know whether or not the Bay is navigable for ships engaged in regular trade for a considerable part of the year. For our part, we wonder that the scheme was entertained at all before this point was settled beyond controversy. It seems to us little short of madness to spend millions in the construction of a road to the shores of a body of water without being sure that the sea can be made a safe route for trading vessels.

A doctor, writing in the periodical called Medicine, says that milk is unfit for food—that it is indigestible and cannot be properly assimilated. There are so many doctors who can give points to the Almighty!

Talking about the Ontario Bank reminds me of a remark I heard dropped by one of the leading financial men in Toronto one day this week. He was speaking about Mr. Chas. McGill, the new manager of the bank. "He's feeling his way," he said, "and mastering the situation before he moves. He's a nice fellow, he's a clever fellow, and should make a good manager."

At the last session of the Florida legislature an act was passed making it a criminal offence for a white child to attend a school where the colored youth are being educated. It is said that it was specially intended to destroy a school at Orange Park, which is supported by the American Missionary Association, and prevent the training of competent instructors of colored youth among their own number.

GEMS OF THOUGHT.

No one is useless in this world who lightens the burden of it for another.

We attract hearts by the qualities we display; we retain them by the qualities we possess.

Though we travel the world over to find the beautiful, we must carry it with us to find it not.

Though the body may shirk labor, the brain is not idle. If it does not grow corn it will grow thistles.

Poverty is not dishonorable in itself, but only when it arises from idleness, intemperance, extravagance, and folly.

It is good discretion not to make too much of any man at the first, because one cannot hold out that proportion.

Nothing is more destructive of individual character than for a man to lose all faith in his own abilities for the prosecution of his work.

Deride not any man's deformities, but bless God they are not yours. Men shall answer at God's bar for their vicious habits, but not for their natural imperfections.

Now what is first and foremost among the reasons which make a nation strong and great? Work. Not machine work: but work into which the worker puts his pride, his joy, his happiness.

To commit the execution of a purpose to one who disapproves of the plan of it, is to employ but one-third of the man; his heart and his head are against you, you have commanded only his hands.

The great moments of life are but moments like the others. Your doom is spoken in a word or two. A single look from the eyes, a mere pressure of the hand, may decide it; or of the lips, though they cannot speak.

FARM FAGOTS.

Every state and territory of the United States has an experiment station, the total number being 55.

The spring sales of Aberdeen Angus bulls in England show an average of $102 for 250 animals.

The wheat crop of South America has steadily increased from 48,850,000 bushels in 1891 to 104,000,000 bushels in 1893.

The Iowa State Agricultural society, which is in debt, recently arranged for the sale of 20,000 tickets to the people of Des Moines.

The price of first-class mutton sheep and lambs on the great markets is decidedly encouraging to the friends of mutton sheep.

Massachusetts creameries are catching the spirit of organization, and are moving for an association similar to those elswhere formed.

The bill prohibiting adulterations in butter and cheese has been signed by the Governor of Missouri, and is therefore a law of that State.

The Ontario experiment station advises that apple trees be planted far enough apart so that when full grown they will not touch each other.

Cattle feeders in the West have used cottonseed more heavily than ever before, and it is reported that they are quite well pleased with its use.

A Kentucky exchange notes the fact that cattle were selling for export purposes at five cents a pound, live weight, in the blue grass countries.

PROFITS.

Policyholders of the Sun Life Assurance Comyany of Canada receive ninety-three and one-third per cent. of the TOTAL surplus earned by the Company, and the stockholders the remaining six and two-thirds per cent. By this system the holders of participating policies receive ninety-three and one-third per cent. not only of the profits of their own class but also of those earned by the non-participating policies. They thus have the protection of a large capital stock for a merely nominal sum.

On ordinary policies profits are divided every five years, counting in each case from the date of the policy. The method adopted is eminently fair to all parties, and is a modification of what is known as the "Contribution Plan." The profits may be taken in cash to be used in payment of premiums, or applied to the purchase of bonus additions to the sum assured.

On Reserve Dividend Policies the surplus, instead of being distributed every five years, is accumulated during the Reserve Dividend period, and the accumulation thus arising is distributed among those who have survived that term and have kept their policies in force. The profits paid during 1895, to those entitled to receive them, are the largest that have ever been paid by the Company and have seldom been equalled by any other Company.

Electrical Treatment

210 Cowan Ave., Toronto.

A. NORMAN, ESQ.

Dear Sir:—We think we ought to acknowledge in some way that may become public, the very great benefit our daughter has derived from the use of your Electro-Curative Belts, and your application of Electricity in the Bath and from Dry Treatment: When we brought her to you she was a picture of unhealthiness, her limbs were shriveled up, and as thin as limbs could be; she had no strength even to play with other children, in fact she was dying of consumption. Besides this, there was a hard lump on her spine at the nape of her neck, which caused her neck to be so stiff she could not move her head. Although it is only three months since we brought her to you she is sound and well

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

R. GUY REID A FRAUD.

It Was He Who Posed as Commodore Engles of the Yacht Sunbeam, a Boat That Existed Only in His Mind.

Special to the Times.

DETROIT, Aug. 5.—Windsor correspondent of Detroit Free Press says: "Some time ago a man giving his name as R. Guy Reid made a circuit of the principal towns in Canada and claimed that he was walking from Halifax to Winnipeg on a wager, and that his father was a multi-millionaire. One of the rules in the alleged wager was that he was to beat his way entirely and in this he succeeded admirably until he reached London, where it was shown that he was an imposture. He came to Windsor, worked the Crawford house for a few days' board and crossed over to Detroit. It now turns out that Reid is the person who worked the members of the yachts clubs in Chicago and Milwaukee. He said his name was Commodore R. Engles, of Toronto, and his yacht, the Sunbeam, loaded with a lot of aristocrats was on a tour of the lakes. The Sunbeam did not show up and then Reid said it must have gone down and that one of the passengers was a son of Lord Aberdeen. Reid has now disappeared and many regret ever making his acquaintance.

SLEPT UNDER TREES.

Residents of a Maryland Town Lose Their Homes by Fire.

Special to the Times.

BERLIN, Md., Aug. 5.—Fire swept this town last night. Only three stores were left standing, and their stocks are badly damaged by water and smoke. The total number of houses burned was about seventy-five, the loss is $200,000 and insurance about $25,000. About twenty residences were burned, the occupants of which either wandered about the streets or slept upon mattresses, under trees. The fire originated in the stables owned by C. W. Henry, presumably from a spark from a cigar. Very few persons were in town at the time, owing to a large camp meeting in the vicinity, so the bucket brigade that was formed was very ineffective.

THE WRONG MEDICINE.

Fatal Mistake Made by a Woman Doctor in Massachusetts.

Special to The Times.

WESTFIELD, Mass., Aug. 5.—The medical examiner conducted an autopsy yesterday on the body of Miss Lizzie L. French, who died on Wednesday night because of rumors that she had been poisoned by mistake. Dr. Sigourney T. Cowles, a woman physician, said that she treated Miss French about two weeks ago and sent for two prescriptions, one of bichloride of mercury and the other broacic acid. She used the mercury bichloride by mistake, and says that the labels on the bottles had been transferred. She did not notify the druggist for some days. The labels are certainly transferred now, and they are in the medical examiner's custody Dr. Cowles said the girl looked so badly when she left her office that she followed her. Then she discovered the fatal mistake.

Bird Foods Explained . . .

SAY! DO YOU KNOW That much of the seed sold is poor stuff, unfit for Bird Food, save to destroy song and endanger life. To secure health, song and brilliant plumage use Cottam's Bird Seed. We put up no less than six different brands of Bird Seed, all equal in value to anything of the kind in the market, but all very much inferior to Cottam's Bird Seed. C.B.S. is acknowledged to be the very best. WHY! For explanation read Cottam's Book on Birds and Bird Foods, price 25 cents. C.B.S. is sold by all the best grocers; only 10 cents per package, but really worth 15 cents, as each packet contains 16 ounces of choice Bird Seed and a 5 cent cake of our patent Bird Bread. Beware of worthless imitations.

SELF-SACRIFICE.

The Mother's Conception of Her Duty Was Clear and Her Purpose Firm.

Miss Stella Delaney was lost in thought. This is a warning against venturing into unfamiliar territory. To do Stella justice, it must be said that she seldom wandered in thoughtful fields. But the present was an extraordinary occasion.

Mr. Archibald Vandermillion had asked her to become Mrs. Archibald Vandermillion, and he must have meant it, for he committed his proposal to writing and availed himself of the postal facilities in transmitting it. Mr. Vandermillion was not by nature a courageous man. He had not the nerve to propose verbally. That is why he sent a letter.

Like the dutiful daughter that she was, Stella Delaney laid the letter in her mamma's lap and asked the maternal advice.

Mrs. Delaney read it carefully and then said:

"I don't think Archibald Vandermillion would suit you at all for a husband."

"Why, mamma?"

"Well, in the first place, he is old enough to be your father."

"But, mamma, girls often marry elderly men, especially if they don't show their age particularly."

"But this is precisely what Mr. Archibald Vandermillion does. He shows every day of his age. Then, again, he has led a very wild life for at least thirty years. Think of that. He was sowing wild oats fully ten years before you were born. An inexperienced girl like you could do nothing whatever in managing a man like that. He has had his own way all his life, without the least restraint from a judicious wife, and it is very strange that he should think of giving up his bachelor freedom."

"But, mamma—"

"Hear me out, Stella, love. Not for all his vast wealth, nor for the elegant establishment he could give you, would I commit my delicate daughter of nineteen years to the care of such a man as Archibald Vandermillion. I should be an unnatural mother even to think of such a sacrifice for a moment. The sort of wife he needs is one who can curb his unbridled inclinations and habits, and transform him into a useful member of society. For those reasons, Stella dear, I have resolved to marry him myself."

With the virtue of self-sacrifice upon her noble features, Mrs. Delaney swept out of the room, leaving her daughter lost in deep thought, as before remarked.—Harper's Bazar.

A Mind-Cure

An attack of hiccoughs had considerably aggravated Mr. Twiller's natural irritability.

"Can't ye do something to help me out of this?" he asked indignantly. "D'ye want to see me hiccough myself out of existence? I s'pose ye think it would be funny to think of my wrestling with a harp and a pair of wings and the hiccoughs all at once, don't ye? I s'pose ye"—but here another spasm caught him.

"What can I do?" she asked pleadingly. "I can't hold your breath for you and count nine, you know."

"No. But you can scare me, can't ye? Ye can holler 'Boo!' in my ear when I'm not expecting it, or something like that."

"Mr. Twillers," she answered freezingly, "I am surprised at you. The idea of my engaging in any such nonsense is sufficiently absurd to be worthy of you. I have someting more important than 'boo' to say to you."

"Eh?"

"I will have to have a new wrap this winter"——

"What's that?"

"And, while it is a little more expensive to start with, I have decided that sealskin will be the most economical in the end. So to-morrow you can give me a check"—

"Mary—are you insane? What does this mean?"

She looked at him in silence for a moment and then said,

"Your hiccoughs are gone, aren't they, dear?"

"Why—er—yes come to think of it, I believe they are."

"I thought," she said, "that if anything would scare you that would."—Judge.

The Spring Poet's Difficulties.

The poet sang a song of spring of zephyrs sweet and vernal, of groves that ring and brooks that sing and melodies eternal. He sang of grasses growing lush, of groves by birds invaded—then through two feet of flowing slush across the street he waded.

He sang of deep, umbrageous grots and odoriferous zephyrs, of shady spots and flower-plots and sweet and lowing heifers. He sang of flower-burdened breeze and sweet mellifluous glory, and then went out and froze his knees—but that's another story.

The poet sang a song of spring and ode of rhythmic dizziness, of groves that ring and birds that sing and all that kind of business. He sang of showers and brooks and flowers, this wrapt poetic wizard, then roamed around for thirteen hours lost in a snowy blizzard.

He sang of daisied upland slopes and woods of glorious greenery, and trotted out all kinds of tropes to decorate his scenery. He sang how swallows fly and dip, told how the groves were ringing—and then went out and caught the grip and discontinued singing.—New York World.

A BALOON ON FIRE.

Two Aeronauts Receive Serious Injureis in an Accident at Jackson.

Special to the Times.

JACKSON, Mich., Aug. 5.—Two aeronauts were seriously injured in a balloon accident at Vandercock's Lake, last night. The balloon used was one of the largest of the hot air variety with double bars. At six o'clock it was successfully inflated, Ella Peake, a trapeze performer, took the upper bar and Charles Elliott the lower. At the moment the retaining ropes were cast off a gust of wind caught the canvas and carried it to one side and it took fire. The monster balloon shot into the air some distance with both of the aeronauts on the bottom. Then it came crashing down. Miss Peake is a large woman and fell heavily breaking both legs besides suffering internal injuries. Elliott struck on his shoulders and is badly crushed. His injuries are said to be fatal. The spectators dragged them from the burning balloon and carried them to the nearest tent where surgeons attended them. Elliott has been in the business seven years. This is his first serious accident. Miss Peake is a niece of Professor Hogan who lost his life on Campbell's air ship in the Atlantic Ocean five years ago.

IMPRESSED ON THE MEMORY

That Pond's Extract is without equal for relieving pain, and that no remedy should be accepted as "just as good." And unscrupulous druggists will insist on trying to force upon purchasers weak imitations which are irritating, uncertain and even poisonous, very different from genuine Pond's Extract, which is universally known as a great healer, pacifier and comforter. Nature's own remedy for all pain is genuine Pond's Extract.

Avoid substitutes; accept genuine only, with buff-wrapper and yellow label.

TOM ROOT'S CONFESSION.

How a Gang of Train Robbers Were Unmasked.

Special to The Times.

WAGONER, Ita., August 6.—Another link in the case of the famous train robberies of last year has been uncovered. Sunday James Dyer, a well-to-do farmer and stock man, living on Vergigras river, near Wagoner, was arrested by Deputy U. S. Marshall Wm. Smith charged with being an accomplice in the Blackstone robbery last year. This morning Tom Root, one of the foremost of the gang, turned states evidence and implicated Dyer and several others, whose names were not given out, but are said to be well known citizens of the community and one or two U.S. deputy marshals. There were 11 in the gang and Tom Root's confession will lead up to the arrest of the whole gang.

CHIVALRIC FITZ.

He Trounces Two Loafers for Insulting Religious Sisters.

Special to the Times.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Bob Fitzsimmons has raised himself in the esteem of a number of Coney Islanders by soundly thrashing a couple of loafers the other day who insulted two of the sisters connected with the Roman Catholic Orphan Asylum at that place. The fellows had been on a tear, and Fitz was taking one of his early morning walks. He caught them by their collars and banged their heads together. They did not know who he was, and showed fight, but he soon floored them, and might have done them serious injury had not some of the attendants of the asylum got him to desist.

BATCH OF SUICIDES.

Six Persons Who Are Tired of Living End Their Existence.

Special to the Times.

DETROIT, Aug. 6.—Six suicides, attempted or successful, have occurred in Michigan since Friday night. Near Owosso Mrs. Jennie Garfield after 34 days refusal to take food, died. She had had previously made two attempts to end her life. Domestic trouble is the cause.

George Henwood killed himself with carbolic acid near Dowagiac.

Errick Sarrom suicided by rough on rats near Menominee.

Mrs. White, near Mount Morris also tried to end her life, but was saved.

Survivors Horrible Condition.

TO EXCLUDE JAPS.

An Agitation in San Francisco to Shut Out the Coolie Labor of China's Conqueror.

Special to the Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 6. — The state labor commissioner has prepared a petition to Congress asking for the passage of a law to restrict the immigration of Japanese into the United states.

The fact is set forth that investigation of Japanese labor in this state proved that white labor is being supplanted by coolie importations, and that unless relief is granted by Congress, the white laborers will soon be forced out of the field.

It is the intention to have this petition signed in very part of the state and then forwarded to Washington as soon as Congress convenes.

THE TIDE TURNS.

Great Improvement in the Health of a Well-Known Peterboro' Lady.

PETERBORO, Aug. 5.—General satisfaction is expressed here at the greatly improved condition of health of Mrs. K. Stephens, the well known music teacher of this town. Her friends have been much exercised over her condition for a long time and a number of remedies have been tried during the ten years that she has been a martyr to a complication of complaints, which recently became very severe. She suffered frightfully with pains in the back, nervous prostration and swelling of the limbs. She has been taken the new remedy for kidney troubles, Dodd's Kidney Pills, and has already experienced the most beneficial results.

STARVED HERSELF TO DEATH.

For Five Weeks an Insane Woman Refused all Food.

Special to the Times.

WILLISON, Fla. Aug. 6.—Mrs. Lou. Vandivier died here Sunday of starvation. Five weeks ago Mrs. Vandiviere became possessed of an idea that her family and the community had formed a conspiracy to poison her and she began to refuse to eat and drink. The woman seemed to be rational on all subjects save this. Whenever any one approached her with food she would begin to scream "Take it away, I know you have poisoned it."

Her four year old daughter brought food, but the mother pushed the child away saying, "You want to poison me too." For five weeks the woman continued in this condition, taking neither food nor drink during the entire time, and Sunday emaciated to a skeleton, death came to her relief.

VOLNEY ASHFORD

Said to be Manoeuvring to Replace Queen Lil on the Throne of Hawaii.

Special to the Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 6.—The Chronicle has discovered another plot to replace Queen Lil on the Hawaiian throne. It says that W. P. Morrow has been enlisting from 200 to 400 men to go to the islands on a sailing vessel, capture the five steamers that ply between the islands, and take possession of the revenue offices and the bank of Bishop & Co., in Honolulu, securing from $400,000 to $500,000. Queen Lil is to be placed on the throne as the figurehead. Morrow admits that he is backed by Volney Ashford, the Canadian favorite of ex-Queen Lil who so long administered the military affairs of the Hawaiian Kingdom.

ENLARGES THE USES OF MUSIC.

There is a good deal in the old saw that music will charm the savage breast. It always was possessed of a magnetic power over individuals. To the present age, however, must be credited the greater triumphs in musical directions. And not the least of these is the transposing piano of Heintzman & Co., Toronto, which opens out for vocalists a wide arena of delightful study. The instrument is unique in every particular, and ought to command the study of everyone interested in music, whether professionally or for its individual delights.

Catarrh in the Head

Is a dangerous disease because it is liable to result in loss of hearing or smell, or develop into consumption. Read the following:

"My wife has been a sufferer from catarrh for the past four years and the disease had gone so far that her eyesight was affected so that for nearly a year she was unable to read for more than five minutes at a time. She suffered severe pains in the head and at times was almost distracted. About Christmas, she commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and since that time has steadily improved. She has taken six bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and is on the road to a complete cure. I cannot speak too highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I cheerfully recommend it." W. H. THE ONTARIOS FLUNKED

And the Great Match is Off — Latest Sporting Notes.

LACROSSE.

The Ontarios of Port Hope have made an ignominious flunk and taken back water on their own proposition to play the Athletics on neutral grounds with teams composed of the identical men who played in the match in Peterborough last week. The Athletics accepted the challenge which the Ontarios flaunted and agreed to play according to terms for $250 a side. Yesterday the Ontarios sent a representative to Peterborough in the person of Mr. Tuer, who consulted with the representatives of the Athletics and informed them that the Ontarios must be allowed to change three men, and that the game must be played in Toronto on the Island grounds.

The Athletics would not make these extraordinary concessions for obvious reasons, and the Ontarios evidently calculated that this would be the case. So the great match is off and the Ontarios can add a flat-footed flunk to their record of defeat this season.

THE GRANITES OUT TO WIN.

The following will represent the Granite lacrosse team which will play with the Millbrooks this morning and Port Hope this afternoon:—Goal, Moncrief; point, McDonough; cover point, Shambo; first defence, P. Butler; second defence, Knapp; third defence, Guy; centre, Savigny; third home, Lannin; second home, E. Sawers; first home, W. Sawers; outside home, Green; inside home, Costello; field captain, E. Taylor.

"Ha!" cried the bold navigator. "Bring me a glass."

He scanned the horizon eagerly.

"Another glass. Ha!"

After the second glass he had no trouble whatever in discerning the outline of a sea serpent, which was signalling that its steering gear was not under good control.

The destructive effects of smoking are illustrated by the sad case of Mr. Edward Neagle, of Reading, Pa., who is only 97 years old, and is already beginning to show signs of shattered health. He has smoked since boyhood.

A GENUINE DOG FIGHT.

A Bull Dog Attacks a Collie With Bloody Results.

Quite a little excitement was created on George street last evening by a large bull dog which was "sicked" on a smaller canine by its owner. A number of people were thoroughly frightened and scurried from the spot, but a crowd gathered around and attempted to separate the enraged dogs.

The smaller dog, a collie was getting the better of the fight when the chief of police arrived and put an end to the disgraceful scene. Both dogs were covered with blood and would doubtless have killed each other had they not been parted.

The owner of the bull dog was told to take it home, and he may be summoned to appear in the police court for urging on the fight.

THE E.B.A. CONVENTION.

A Gathering of Delegates From All Parts of the Province.

Yesterday was the anniversary of O'Connell's birthday, and in celebration of the day the Emerald Beneficiary Association opened its annual convention yesterday morning in the hall at the corner of McCaul and Queen streers, Toronto. About 60 visiting delegates were present, coming from all parts of the province.

Addresses of welcome were delivered by Rev. Father Ryan, Father Groghan. Vicar-General McCann and the grand president, D. A. Carey.

The grand president presented his annual report and address. The secretary's and financial reports were also presented, after which the convention adjourned, and the afternoon was spent with a picnic at the Island. The convention will probably last several days.

COAL AT TWO DOLLARS A TON.

Mine Operators Threaten Railroads if They Do Not Come to Time.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6. — The Morning Journal says: As a result of the daily increasing demoralization in coal rates caused by the coal carrying railroads, the individual anthracite operators have decided to take matters into their own hands. It is announced that they will forthwith place 1,000,000 tons of anthracite on the market at $2 a ton, unless prompt action is taken by the coal carrying lines to restore prices and limit the output.

When spoken to concerning the foregoing despatch, a prominent coal dealer said the above rate would be an increase on the present prices at the pit's mouth, but that if it was intended to prevail in New York it would be the lowest figure that coal ever had touched. As regards the individual operators, the dealer expressed the opinion that they could de nothing without the co-operation of the railway companies running into the mining districts.—Telegram.

A CHIMNEY INSPECTOR.

Editor Morning Times.

DEAR SIR,—A great many of the fires in Peterborough have been caused by chimneys burning out, and a choked chimney is always dangerous. The firemen have had many a "run" on account of burning chimney's, so that they are not only dangerous but a nuisance. There should be a law compelling the cleaning or sweeping of chimneys in Peterborough, and I was glad when Councillor Sproule took the matter in hand and introduced a bylaw to that effect. As I understand it, this bylaw provides that chimneys must be swept at stated periods, and that if they are not swept by the owners or tenants, the town sweep shall have the work done at the former's expense. Many would prefer having the work done this way, as it would save the trouble of employing a suitable man to do it. I think the bylaw should be passed at once as the fall of the year is always a season of fires.

CHEESE BOARD.

Factories Allowed to Sell Off the Board —Offers Accepted.

The cheese board met yesterday afternoon in the council chamber. The buyers present were Messrs. Wrighton, Cook, Spence, Madden, Hodgson, Fitzgerald and Jones.

The following factories boarded 9,737 boxes of July cheese:

Keene, Warminster, Shearer, Central Smith, North Smith, Cherry Grove, Warsaw, Westwood, Oakdale, Missing Link, Norwood, Melrose Abbey, Lakefield, Pine Grove, Peterborough, Otonabee Union, Maple Leaf, Myrtle, Ormonde, Young's Point, Lang, Fraserville, Manchester, North Dummer, Bobcaygeon, Lakeview, Treewern, Bensfort, Cedardale, Stony Lake, Ida, Millbrook, Mt. Pleasant, Perrytown, Blackstock, Daisy D., Fleetwood, Darlington Union, Geneva, Orono, Newtonville, Hope, Crown, Port Perry.

Mr. Drummond said they were going to offer the whole month's cheese. But the Board decided to offer the first half first, and the bidding for this was proceeded with.

Mr. Madden commenced with an offer of 7½c for selections, and Mr. Jones raised it to 7 9-16c. The latter offer was not increased and Mr. Jones' offer was accepted by Fraserville, Cedardale and Stony Lake.

Mr. Jones started it again at 7⅝c, but none would accept. Mr. Madden offered 7⅝c for selection and this was refused by all the factories named.

As no further offers for the half month were received the whole month was placed on sale. Mr. Madden started at 7⅝c and Mr. Jones lifted to 7 11-16c. This was the highest offer and Stony Lake, Bensfort and Trewern accepted it. North Smith sold at 7 11-16c for first half, Pine Grove going at the same price.

Mr. Samuel Spence moved that the factories be allowed to sell off the Board, their first half of July make.

Mr. Middleton suggested that the whole of July be sold off the Board.

Mr. Cook favored this suggestion. The Board could adjourn for two weeks, when first part of August could be offered.

Some of the buyers said they were getting sick and tired of coming to the Board every week and making offers.

Mr. Saunderson seconded Mr. Spence's motion.

Mr. Middleton moved in amendment, seconded by Mr. Burns, that the Board adjourn for two weeks, with permission to sell July cheese and come prepared to offer first half of August make.

The amendment carried and the Board adjourned.

BIG PROFITS —ON— SMALL INVESTMENTS

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our SYSTEMATIC PLAN OF SPECULATION.

Originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who, by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOFS, also our Manual on Successful Speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

A Metal Breadboard

THE WOMAN WHO HAS BEEN USED to kneading dough on the old fashioned wooden breadboard knows what a bother it is to get them clean and how cumbersome and heavy they are. When they begin to crack or check it is almost impossible to thoroughly cleanse them, and they may easily become dangerous conveyances of disease. It was left for a woman, of course, to remedy this state of affairs, and Mrs. M. M. Everhard, of St. Joseph, Mich., has patented a metal bread-board, which is one of the greatest labor-savers imaginable. It is light, does not absorb grease, dough does not adhere to it, and while it possesses all the advantages of the marble bread-board it is much cheaper and, of course, far lighter and easier to handle. If readers want to confer a favor upon their wives they will be forever appreciated, let them send $1 to the manufacturers 161 Bay street Toronto, for one of these boards.

ANOTHER MURDER CASE

WATERLOO COUNTY THE SCENE OF A HORRIBLE TRAGEDY.

An old Man Named Janneret Found With his Throat Cut in a Swamp Near Breslau—Coroner's Inquest Returns a Verdict of Murder—An Arrest Made.

Special to the Times.

BERLIN, ONT., Aug. 7, Waterloo county has become noted of late for its many crimes and casualties, but it is the boast of its citizens that as yet no one was ever hung within its borders. This fair record is about to be broken, however, as one of the most cold blooded murders ever heard of was committed at Breslau, a small village on the main line of the Grand Trunk four miles from here, on Sunday morning. The victim is an old man named Janneret, who lived with Mr. Hagey, reeve, of Waterloo township, on his farm. The details of the case are most revolting, and popular sentiment against the suspected guilty man is strong indeed.

The old man, nicknamed Dr. Janneret, had lived with Mr. Hagey a number of years, and was a quiet inoffensive man, of a retiring disposition. Not much was known of him, as he rarely talked. Some time ago Mr. Hagey told Janneret he might have the proceeds of a large berry patch on his farm if he would take the trouble to look after it. The old man gladly accepted the offer, and nearly every day visited the patch, sometimes to pick the berries, and on other occasions to see that no one was encroaching upon his rights. On these latter visits he found everything all right until one day last week, when he visited the patch he found a whole family of Poles, the latter having only recently moved to Breslau, busily engaged with pails gathering the fruit. Janneret was very indignant, and at once ordered them away. The Pole, with a stubborness born of his race, refused to go, and a fierce quarrel ensued. Finally, Janneret put the man out by main force, and he went away with his family muttering revenge. Janneret did not take much stock in what the Pole said, thinking he was merely making idle threats. He told Mr. Hagey of the circumstances, but the latter also did not bother much about the affair.

JANNERET IS MISSED.

On Sunday morning last as usual the old man went to visit his berry patch. He did not return at his usual time, and a search was investigated. What was the horror of the searchers to find his dead body lying in the patch under some bushes, his throat cut from ear to ear, and the body fairly weltering in his life blood. Everybody at first took it for granted that the old man committed suicide, and the papers printed a despatch to that effect.

When the body was more closely examined, however, it was found to be covered with bruises, as if made by a club, and then it was remembered that the old man was comparatively happy, and had no cause for committing the rash act, and things looked very suspicious. The last item which exploded the suicide theory was that no knife of any kind was found near the body, so that the fatal cut could not have been made by the deceased himself. The Pole was also seen in the neighborhood of the berry patch about the time the murder was committed, and it is believed he lay in wait for Janneret, beat him into insensibility, and then cut his throat with a knife. Word was sent to the authorities at Berlin, and Detective Klippert left for Breslau this afternoon to arrest the suspected man, whose name cannot be learned as yet.

Coroner Lackner held a coroner's inquest on the body of Janneret yesterday evening and the jury returned a verdict of murder. Dr. Lackner, the coroner, and Dr. Ochs, of Hespeler, made a post mortem examination and found tendencies that Janneret had been first nearly killed with a club and then finished with a knife. Janneret was only about 50 years of age.

IN GAOL AT BERLIN.

At eight o'clock tonight August Kurschinski was brought to the gaol here, charged with murdering Janneret. He was arrested by Constable Schaeffer and Springler, of Breslau, and brought here by them. The prisoner was seen at the gaol by a reporter as soon as he arrived. He is a smooth faced man of about 40 years. He refused to talk, though he told the constable he was at home when the murder was supposed to be committed. On his person was found a large four bladed jack knife, very sharp, with which he is supposed to have cut his victim's throat. A small purse was the only other thing. Kurschinski acts very coolly, and says the authorities can prove nothing against him. He was arrested at his home, where his wife lies with a broken leg, which she received in a runaway at the identical time her husband is supposed to have been committing murder.

INQUEST OPENED.

A constable was notified, and after a short delay, Coroner Lackner, of Berlin, opened an inquest in the bush. The following jury was sworn:—Messrs. D. Wenger, J. Sander, Mr. Sander, M. Schly, J. Schultz, H. Schlinger, D. Groh, J. Schrnick, H. Sohrt, F. Weikert, and J. Schiedal. Mr. Groh was chosen foreman.

The first witness was Thomas Wilson, the man who first saw the body in the woods. He testified that he found deceased in the berry bush on Monday about 3 o'clock p.m. He was lying with his head against the root of a tree that had blown over. His face and clothing was covered with blood. A number of others also gave evidence as to the finding of the remains.

Mrs. Osburg, a sister of Mr. Hagey's stated that while in the bush, last Tuesday week she heard a neighbor, August Kurschinski, a Pole, tell the deceased that he could not pick berries there, and he would not either. She was frightened of him, and would not go to the place again.

Charlotte Wiles said she heard a conversation between the deceased and Kruschinski on Tuesday last week. They were quarreling about the berries. It appears the old man that had charge of them told Kurschinski and his wife that they could not have any more berries there this week but they might the next. The latter said he would turn his cattle in if he was not allowed to pick berries. The old man then said that he would shoot the cattle.

Several others testified regarding the hard feeling between the two, after which the jury brought in a verdict of murder.

THE POLE ARRESTED.

Kurschinski was arrested by Deputy Sherriff Joseph Springer, this afternoon, charged with the murder and taken to the Berlin jail. Where the body was found six pieces of tamarac stick were lying covered with blood. The stick would have been about five feet long and four inches thick. It is supposed deceased's injuries were inflicted by the accused using the stick. There was no knife nor instrument found that would have cut the throat. A pocket book containing some change and papers and also a pocket knife were found on the body. The prisoner farms 25 acres of land next to Mr. Hagey's. The neighbors say he is a very quick tempered man.

"SUCH A NICE YOUNG MAN."

Miss Polly Cantwell Would Not Prosecute a Man Who Had Kissed Her by Force.

Special to the Times.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Gustav Plunkett, 23 years old, of No. 103 Manhattan street, was intoxicated yesterday afternoon. He met Miss Polly Cantwell, a tall, slender, good looking blonde, of Manhattan street, near her home yesterday, threw his arms around her, knocked her down on the sidewalk, and kissed her on the mouth. Policeman Cook, of the West One Hundred and Twenty fifte Street Station, saw the occurrence, and arrested the young man. He was arraigned in the Harlem Court and fined $5. The young lady did not press the charge, because he was such a nice young man, she said, and didn't mean any harm.

AN ANSWER TO BLAKE.

THE EFFECTS OF THE LAW OF ONTARIO TO PROHIBITION.

A Difference of Opinion as to Whether Its Good Intention Embraced Prohibition—The Argument Concluded.

Special to the Times.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—Argument in the Province of Ontario appeal case before the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council was resumed this morning, Mr. J. J. Maclaren, Q. C., for the province, replied to the contentions of Hon. Edward Blake, who yesterday argued against the appeal in the interests of the Brewers' and Distillers' Association.

Mr. Maclaren maintained that the local option law passed by Ontario was not prohibitory, as Mr. Blake had stated, but was merely a restriction of the traffic.

Lord Watson said he agreed with Mr. Blake that it was prohibitory to a certain extent, and asked whether under that law a number of working men could not form a club so as to obtain liquor.

Mr. Maclaren replied that he thought in such a case the matter would have to be submitted to the county judge.

This closed the argument, and the committee reserved judgment.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—There was a further hearing today before the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council of the appeal to decide whether the power to pass prohibitory legislation belongs to the Canadian federal or provincial authorities, Mr. Maclaren, Q.C., replied for the appellants

Lord Herschell, one of the Lords of Appeal, said: "Your opponents contend that the Canada Temperance Act implies the repeal of the prohibitory act of the Ontario Legislature. Supposing the Temperance Act was in operation at the time the Ontario Legislature passed its restrictions, were the two acts so inconsistent that the Canadian act repealed the Ontario act?"

Mr. Maclaren proceeded to quote the Maine Liquor Law, with a view to showing the interpretation generally given it by persons of the highest authority, when Lord Watson, interrupting, said:

"There is little good to be gained by these quotations; we are dealing with the meaning to be put on a general statement, that can be obtained only by recourse to the statute, and a consideration of the meaning which the Legislature which passed it intended it to have."

This concluded the arguments. Judgment was reserved.

A DEATH TRAP.

Two Men and a Boy Frightfully Injured on Front Street West—Two of Them Die—James Welch and Charles Howe Are the Unfortunate Victims—McBride Will Live.

Special to the Times.

TORONTO, Aug. 7.—Shortly after three o'clock yesterday a frightful accident occurred on the premises of the W. J. Gage Company at 52 and 54 Front street west. The elevator, which has been in need of some repair, was being adjusted by three of the employes, Charles McBride, head machinist, James Welsh, a lad, and Charles Howe, a deaf mute, when something gave way and the cage, which was at the top of the shaft, fell with a crash to the bottom. McBride, when this occurred, was in the basement, but it is stated that his leg became entwined in a rope and that the falling cage jerked him upwards like lightning and caused a terrific collision when the meeting took place half way up.

The basement, after the first dull crash was over, was filled with the groans of the injured men and the entire establishment was seized with the greatest excitement. Medical men were called up by telephone and soon several were on hand. The terribly crushed men were extricated and laid out on the floor which was soon spotted with their blood.

Welsh and Howe were taken to the General Hospital in an ambulance, where they succumbed to their injuries, Howe dying at 5.50 and Welsh at 9.20. McBride was taken to his house on Major street, where he passed a good night, and was considerably improved this morning. The attending physician entertains hopes of recovery.

McBride has been for nearly a quarter of a century employed by the firm. Howe, the deaf mute, has also served 20 years. Welsh is a young man who has not long ago commenced his service there.

WELSH'S FUNERAL.

The funeral of the boy Welsh, who was killed by the fall of the elevator at W. J. Gage's yesterday, will take place tomorrow afternoon, from his late residence, 10 William street.

IN THE QUAKER CITY

WILL HOLMES BE TRIED FOR THE MURDER OF PIETZEL.

Geyer Says Holmes Is Morally Guilty but it Cannot be Proved—Mrs. Pietzel Makes a Statement.

Special to The Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 7.—It is stated tonight that there is little chance of convicting H. H. Holmes of the crimes of which he is accused.

Detective Geyer has just returned from a trip west, where it was supposed he could obtain sufficient evidence to convict Holmes of not only one, but many murders.

Geyer had a conference with District-Attorney Graham this afternoon. It is known that Geyer told Graham that he (Geyer) did not believe that he had enough facts in his possession to prove Holmes guilty of murder.

"The man is morally guilty," said the detective, "but whether we can prove him guilty of murder in a court of justice is another question."

"It seems to me that the Toronto authorities have sufficient evidence of a circumstantial character to convict the man, but they do not seem anxious to go to the trouble of trying the prisoner."

"How about the Indianapolis clew you were supposed to have?" the detective was asked.

"I have not completed my investigation in that direction yet. I may probably go to Indianapolis in a few days to continue my search. I may stop over at Cincinnati, where Holmes had some dealings that may throw important light on his case."

"It is reported that Minnie Williams is in Memphis, living under an assumed name.

"If she is," answered Geyer, "she is there in the spirit. A medium may turn her up down there, but I hardly think that the police will be able to put hands on her."

MRS. PIETZEL'S STORY

OF TWO ATTEMPTS WHICH HOLMES MADE UPON HER LIFE.

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—Mrs. B. F. Pietzel has told of two attempts which Mudgett, alias Holmes, made upon her life. The first time was in the long chase which Holmes led Mrs. Pietzel in the vain hope of meeting her husband; the last point they reached in their chase after Pietzel was Burlington, Vt. There Holmes engaged rooms for Mrs. Pietzel with Mrs. Richardson, at No. 26 Winooski avenue, and had hardly been in the house a day before he expressed a desire to visit the basement for some alleged trivial purpose, and secured a lamp to make his explorations, Mrs. Peitzel had begun to grow suspicous of Holmes' mysterious actions, and decided to go to the basement to see what he was doing. She found him working with his coat off. He had torn up the flooring and was digging in the soft black earth with some tools he had found in the cellar.

When he saw Mrs. Peitzel he appeared disconcerted. He told her he was digging a hole to bury some valuable papers in, and asked Mrs. Pietzel not to mention the circumstance to any one. A few days afterwards, Holmes suddenly started for Boston on the strength of a telegram from Chicago. In Boston the detectives finally ran him down, and almost the first act he did was to write to Mrs. Pietzel. He told her if she would look in a certain place under the flooring in the cellar she would find a bottle of nitro glycerine. He said it was in a dangerous place and directed Mrs. Pietzel to carry it up to a room in the attic. Holmes had arranged to trap door to fall on the bottle if it was disturbed on the approach of any one. Mrs. Pietzel, however, started to search for the bottle from the opposite direction, and by doing so missed the trap he had laid for her. Mrs. Pietzel afterwards related the incident to Mr. Perry, of the Fidelity Insurance Company, and he had Detective Geyer investigate the matter. The detective found the nitro-glycerine, and the place where Holmes had first placed it. But he saw at a glance what Mrs. Pietzel had overlooked—the deadly trap which would have fallen on the bottle and exploded it if Mrs. Pietzel had followed Holmes' directions more carefully.

TO BE TRIED IN PHILADELPHIA

HOLMES WILL BE INDICTED, IT IS SAID, FOR THE MURDER OF BENJAMIN F. PIETZEL.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 7.—There was a conference between District Attorney Graham, Special Assistant District Attorney Barlow, Detective Frank Geyer and Inspector Gary, of the Fidelity Mutual Insurance Company, in regard to the statue of the Holmes case. The conference was held behind closed doors, and those who attended declined to divulge the nature of the secret conference. The Grand Jury was in session during the day, and this furnished grounds for the report that Holmes was to be indicted for the murder of Benjamin F. Pietzel. No indictment was drawn against the notorious criminal, however, although it is reasonably assured that one will be in the course of a few days. It is said that the whole object of the District Attorney in summoning Detective Geyer to Philadelphia at this time was to consider the advisability of indicting Holmes for murder.

District Attorney Graham and Mr. Barlow have been working night and day on the case ever since the bodies of the Pietzel children were revealed in Toronto, and if the body of Howard Pietzel is found it is said the Commonwealth will be ready for trial immediately. Detective Geyer is still hopeful of finding Howard Pietzel, and has in his possession a clue which may prove valuable in clearing up the mystery.

The Times.

PETERBOROUGH, AUGUST 8 1895.

MANITOBA WON'T BUDGE.

The Winnipeg Tribune, the organ of the Greenway government, makes it quite plain that Manitoba will not come to the rescue of the Dominion government. The article is strong and emphatic, and pronounces the humble petition of the Dominion government—while the harsh remedial order is still held over the province—to be insolent. We agree with the Hamilton Spectator that there is not a gleam of hope for the Dominion government in the whole article. Even the statement that, were the remedial order withdrawn, and the province left entirely to its own free will, without threat of compulsion of any sort, the Roman Catholic minority would be treated justly, even generously, cannot possibly be construed into a promise that the separate schools would be restored. Inasmuch as in its promise of justice and generosity, the Tribune includes all other sects with the Catholics, it is plain that the only change contemplated is to entirely abolish the reading of scripture and the parroting of the Lord's prayer from the schools, making them purely secular. That is something the government of Manitoba should have done long ago. It would remove all real cause for dissatisfaction on the part of Roman Catholics. As a matter of fact the children of Roman Catholics are not now required to listen to reading of the King James' Bible by a heraetic and the perfunctory recitation of the Lord's prayer by the same objectionable person; but the abandonment of these things would give no excuse to the Catholic cleregy to affirm that the national schools are "Protestant." To improve the school in this respect is all that the Greenway government will do—all that the people of Manitoba will permit its government to do. The way out doesn't yet appear.

Immediately after the failure of the Banque du Peuple of Montreal, $100,000 of gold was withdrawn from the United States Treasury for shipment to Canada. This week another $100,000 has been withdrawn, for the same purpose, is the United States Treasury sustaining the paper issues of the Dominion as well as those of this Government?

Until 1867 the law in Great Britain provided that an election should follow immediately after the death of sovereign. The Reform Bill did away with such a regulation, but it only applied to England and Wales, and the provision is still in force in Ireland and Scotland. The present government seems likely to see the death of Queen Victoria, and a half election would be very awkward. At the same time, the delicacy of the subject, now that the Queen is growing old, almost precludes any statutory change in the regulations.

The Postoffice Department of Canada controls 731 banks, and has more than 26 million dollars entered as deposits. This system was established in 1868, with 81 banks, but in one year the number had increased to 231 banks, with $850,000 as deposits. The system cost but 0.24 per cent. last year, and there are now 120,628 accounts. During recent years on account of lowering of the interests, other banks have competed with the Government's system, and during the last year only seven and a half millions were added, which is 30,000 less than the increase in the year previous.

BICYCLE LEGGINGS.

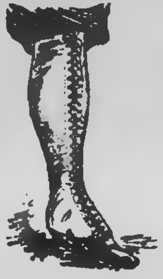
A NECESSARY PART OF EVERY FAIR WHEELWOMAN'S COSTUME.

Designers Racking Their Brains for New Ideas—The Very Swell Thing Is a Laced Affair That Is Made to Fit Like a Glove.

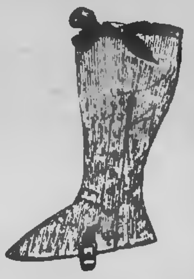
Bicycle leggings, gaiters, boots and shoes of special design are shown in the shoe stores and department stores in great variety. The fashionable makers of custom shoes find an incidental boom in their business directly connected with the bicycle craze, and some of their finest and costliest work is in the line of laced or buttoned leggings and boots of extra length in the legs.

Designers in shoe factories are racking their brains for new ideas in leggings and boots. The latter come in all shades of russet and tan. They are made with an extra long top, reaching to the center of the calf. They come in laces, and differ only from the ladies' hunting boot, or boot for mountain wear, in that for bicycle use the sole must be single, thin and flexible.

Comfortable as such a boot is, it is in no such favor among the fair cyclers as leggings worn with approved bicycle shoes. The latter come in two styles, Oxford ties and plain front lace reaching just above the ankle. The soles are thin and the heel is low and flat. The Oxford ties are made up in dongola, patent leather, tans, russet calf and canvas. The regulation bicycle shoe, laced to support the ankle, is made in dongola calf and canvas. Rubber or leather soles are optional, but rubber is no longer considered the proper thing. The rat-trap pedals make the rubber soles unnecessary. The legging is a necessity with either style of these shoes, and it is in their construction that the designers of footwear have given to the trade their best efforts.



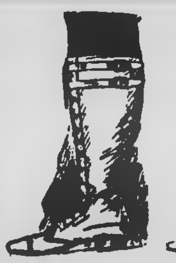
MADE TO ORDER.



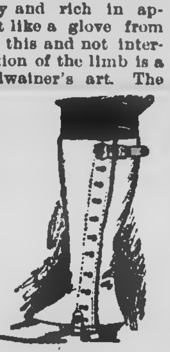
LADIES' CORDUROY.

One window shows over sixty styles of leggings. They are made up to button and to lace and to lace with button effect, and comprise ooze calf in the undressed or suede stlye and in all the rich tan tints, russet, white, red and brown Russian calf; enamelled calf in black, red and russet; dongola kid, kangaroo kid, corduroy in gray, black, blue and purple; canvas in a variety of shades and heavy cloth especially woven for this purpose in every color likely to be worn in the construction of bicycling costumes. Blues and grays predominate, and it is possible to match any of the prevailing shades of outing cloth in any of the big retail stores.

Tan leggings are, however, supposed to go well with any costume. The laced pattern worn by the ladies of the Lyceum company during the long run of "The Amazons" is much affected. They are made of either ooze calf or russet leather, of russet color, velvety and rich in appearance, and must fit like a glove from ankle to knee. To do this and not interfere with the free motion of the limb is a triumph of the cordwainer's art. The greatest care must be taken in the cutting out of leggings of this class. A slight mistake in measurement or cutting will ruin them in the eyes of the fastidious costumer.



LADIES' TOURING BOOT.



LEGGING IN LEATHER OR CLOTH.

Men are not overgiven to wearing leggings as part of a bicycle costume, preferring to show their manly limbs through the medium of plaid golf stockings. The bicycle legging for men is a simple affair, closely resembling the riding legging in appearance. The bicycle legging, however, is not held to the limb by a strap under the foot, but rests lightly on the top of the foot. They are really intended as a protection in long journeys, and in the stores are shown only in corduroy, canvas and leather. The low quarter dongola kid or canvas shoe of Oxford tie pattern, with an especially stout flat heel, and with a leather sole, is the correct thing in men's bicycle shoes.

PROFITS.

Policyholders of the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada receive ninety-three and one-third per cent. of the TOTAL surplus earned by the Company, and the stockholders the remaining six and two-thirds per cent. By this system the holders of participating policies receive ninety-three and one-third per cent. not only of the profits of their own class but also of those earned by the non-participating policies. They thus have the protection of a large capital stock for a merely nominal sum.

On ordinary policies profits are divided every five years, counting in each case from the date of the policy. The method adopted is eminently fair to all parties, and is a modification of what is known as the "Contribution Plan." The profits may be taken in cash to be used in payment of premiums, or applied to the purchase of bonus additions to the sum assured.

On Reserve Dividend Policies the surplus, instead of being distributed every five years, is accumulated during the Reserve Dividend period, and the accumulation thus arising is distributed among those who have survived that term and have kept their policies in force. The profits paid during 1895, to those entitled to receive them, are the largest that have ever been paid by the Company and have seldom been equalled by any other Company.

THE OCEAN'S WONDERS.

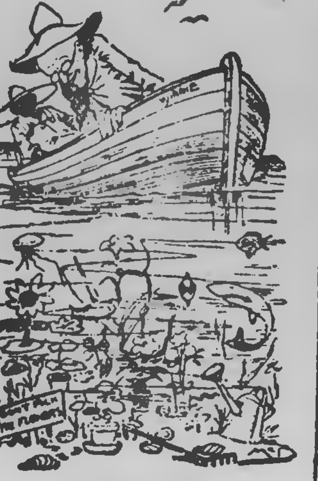
Bill Nye Describes His Trip Through a Sea Garden.

One of the most charming trips about Nassau or the Bahamas is a sail over the sea gardens, where all below you there is a wilderness of coral and submarine growth three to ten fathoms, but with a water glass perfectly visible. It is a perfect marvel of rainbow coloring of animal, vegetable and mineral growth.

You sail out a few miles from Nassau and then anchor your catboat, get into a glass-bottom rowboat and slowly drift in delightful indolence over the vast marine conservatory, while in and out among the coral caves the beautiful angel fish, the humming bird fish or the rainbow fish softly floats like a healthy dream.

Sixteen shillings will pay for the trip, and you may take the day for it if you want to do so.

We sailed over to Hog Island, went ashore and gathered all the oranges, custard apples, cocoanuts, sapodillas, etc., that we could eat during the day; then we sailed on for the sea gardens, where we anchored and took to the glass-bottom boat.



THE SEA GARDENS.

We had a colored diver, and whenever we saw a bouquet growing on the bottom of the sea that pleased us he would go down and pluck it for us so that we would not get our feet wet. You cannot, gentle reader, imagine how funny he looked under the glass bottom of our boat, strolling about in the vasty deep gathering sea fans and all sorts of things for us.

Once he got hold of a sea fan nearly a yard in diameter and a soft heliotrope in color, but it was grown to the bottom of the ocean so firmly that, though he braced himself and lifted till he was black in the face, he could not get it. He moved the huge coral boulder on which it grew, but looking up at us shook his head, and I motioned for him to leave it, for I feared that he might mar the bottom of the sea and let the water out mayhap.

After a half hour I thought I would note the bouquet and fragrance of our ocean plants. I shall always regret it. The sea fan after a half hour in the air smells like—everything! It smells like Lazarus when his sister objected to the opening of his tomb.

If you pluck the fuana of the sea, do not carry it in your trunk, for you will be stopped at quarantine and subjected to annoying delays.

One of the queer sights here in the tropics is the jewfish. I do not know why he is called the jewfish. No one seems to know unless it be that wherever you find him you will note that he seems to own that block and the adjoining one also.

He attains a weight of 600 pounds sometimes and is good for food. He does not rise to the fly, however, and is not a game fish. In fact, when the fisherman wants him, he goes down and gently puts the hook in his mouth while the partner in the boat hauls away. It is very exciting. It is about as sportsmanlike as it is to move a county seat by putting a bent pin under the county when it sits down.

Sharks are very plentiful all the way from here up to Long Branch and even to Nantucket. The leopard shark is a mean, low coyote of the sea, and will eat a little child that never did a wrong to any one quicker than he will a lovely lady old with black hose. The leopard shark has a low, retreating forehead, like that of the codfish ball, and will often sit up till a late hour of the night in order to eat a Welsh rarebit from Swansea. The shark swims with great indolence until he hears the gong for dinner, and then the eye cannot follow his motions. He darts like a streak of delayed lightning that is trying to make up time.

Sometimes a leopard shark will spring full length into the air and land on the deck of a low sailboat. Our pilot had a visit of that kind once off Ocean Grove. He says he would rather go boating with a total stranger than be joined that way by a leopard shark.

The first thing to do with a shark is to cut off his tail; then he will die. But he does not rely on his head so much. He places no more dependence on his brains than a national financier. But if you cut off his tail he soon dies.

N. B.—While cutting off the shark's tail it is always a good plan to see that he does not bite you.

When a shark gets a man in his mouth he cannot reconsider even if he would like to do so, for the teeth point inward, and, like a boat constrictor, he may choke to death, but he cannot even by joint resolution move to reconsider.

I have an uncle who was last seen entering a shark off New Zealand twenty-seven years ago, and we all fear the worst regarding him. He was a man who always tried to get home for the holidays, and it has been so long now we felt almost certain that he has been delayed by something he had not calculated on. Twenty-seven times we have waited by the yuletide for him, and twenty-seven times he has not come.

BILL NYE.

Easy to Guess the Correct Size.

"I want to git a collar for my husband," said the hardfaced woman, "and I declare I have plumb forgot the size. I giner'ly buy all his collars and ties for him, too."

"Ah!" said the astute clerk. "Then you probably want about a thirteen and a half or fourteen."

"Yes, that's right but I don't see how you guessed it so easy."

"Oh, I have noticed that a man who lets his wife buy all his haberdashery for him usually has a neck of about that size."—Cincinnati Tribune.

A Clever One.

Daisy—Did the Count say he loved you?

Madge—Oh, fiddlesticks! no. That's why I accepted him. He was so honest about it.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

A STRIKE ON.

Toronto Bricklayers Will Go Out Today—A Wage Dispute the Cause of the Step—Many Buildings Affected.

Special to the Times.

TORONTO, Aug. 6.—The Bricklayers' Union will tonight order the members to go on strike for the purpose of compelling the masters to make an agreement with the union on the question of wages. This point has been in dispute ever since the old five year agreement lapsed in May last. At that time the bosses offered to make an agreement at 30 cents an hour instead of 36 cents, which was the rate paid under the former agreement. The union refused to accept that figure, and there has been no agreement since that time. The union rate of wages has remained at 36 cents an hour, and many of the masters have been paying that rate right along.

The reports of the union state that there are in progress 27 union jobs and 4 non union jobs.

AN OPPORTUNE TIME TO STRIKE.

Almost every man in the city is employed and the men think this is an opportune time to force the fighting. The officers of the union also declare that if the masters had shown the least desire to bring about an amicable settlement it could have been effected, but instead of listening to the request of the men the bosses have ignored all the men's efforts to avoid trouble, and they consider there is only one thing to do now and that is to strike. The dispute could probably have been settled on a basis of 33 cents an hour.

THE BOSSES ARE NOT WORRYING.

At the builders Exchange the bosses say they are not worrying over the threatened difficulty. They think they can secure all they men they require to carry on the contracts without delay.

The union men state that there are only about thirty non-union bricklayers in the city.

THE BUILDINGS AFFECTED.

Some of the works that will be delayed by the strike are the new municipal buildings, the Globe office, Simpson's building, the Foresters' building, the Toronto Lithographing Company's new building, the McKinnon building, the Kemp building and a number of smaller jobs.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 6.—It is reported, and with some show of authority, that the Durant jury has been tampered with.

A writ of habeas corpus has released from his three days' imprisonment Manager Dailey, of the company which produced the play founded on the Durant case. The play cannot be produced before Sept. 2 in any case,

A FIGHT OVER BLOOMERS.

Mr. Quill Ends It by Cutting off Her Husband's Whiskers.

Special to the Times.

EATON, O., Aug. 6.—Mrs. John Quill and her husband quarrelled on Friday night over the question whether or not their daughter should wear bloomers. The Quills are old people, wealthy and have a large family of grown up children. Quill is 75 years old and very feeble, but he advocated bloomers. They quarrelled viciously. Finally Mrs. Quill attempted to pull out her husband's whiskers, and, not succeeding, she cut them off. The fight was so bitter that both the old people are under a physician's care, and it is feared Mrs. Quill will become insane.

WALKED IN HIS SLEEP.

A Somnambulist Falls From the Roof of His House and is Killed.

Special to the Times.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—James A. McCrook 31 years old, of Dresden street, near Ridgewood avenue, Brooklyn, a brushmaker by trade, was found unconscious at 6 a.m. Sunday in front of his home, clad only in a night robe. He was carried into the house and upon investigation it was ascertained that his neck was broken. He died at 9 o'clock last night. He is a somnambulist, and it is supposed that he got out of bed during his sleep and went to the roof, whence he fell to the ground, a distance of 40 feet. The coroner was notified.

Nearly everyone needs a good tonic at this season. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the one true tonic and blood purifier.

KINGSTON, Aug. 6.—Convict Kelly, who escaped from the penitentiary Saturday night, was captured today. He was found in the cellar of Felix Kenan, of Glenbernie Though armed Deputy Warden Sullivan made him surrender. After leaving the prison he robbed Joseph Fowlers residence of clothing and a revolver.

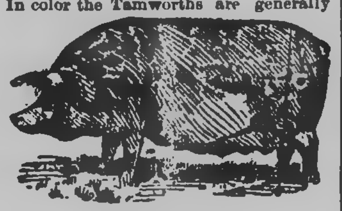
TAMWORTH SWINE.

A Short Description of the Modern English Bacon Breed.

The breed is practically unknown in this country. It is in every respect so totally unlike the kind of hog which it is the ambition of the swine breeder to produce that many will be surprised to learn that the accompanying cut is an excellent illustration of the type most popular among the English, being considered a very fine specimen of the breed.

The explanation of their popularity lies in their thin, long bodies, which supply great quantities of well-streaked bacon, the inevitable dish at every English breakfast table. Indeed, in the production of this article they are without a rival save the improved Yorkshire, which they greatly resemble in many ways.

In color the Tamworths are generally a sandy red, though some are a dark gray with black spots. They are hardy and prolific and have been improved so that they are now an early-maturing breed. The long, deep sides, light shoulder and jowl make them an ideal bacon hog. The flesh is lean, pink and well-flavored.—N. Y. World.



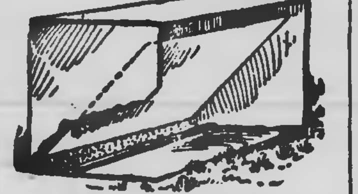
PRIZE TAMWORTH SOW.

Protect Sheep Against Grub in the Head.

Many American shepherds advise smearing the salt trough with tar, but this is seldom thorough enough. A practice to be recommended, where the flock is not too large, is to smear the noses of the sheep periodically, at least once a week, during the season of greatest activity of the fly, with a mixture of equal parts of tar and grease, or of tar and fish oil, or of tar and whale oil. Some have used whale oil alone with good results. A brush will be found convenient to apply these mixtures. A reliable authority speaks in flattering terms of the use of an ointment made as follows: Beeswax, one pound; linseed oil, one pint; carbolic acid, four ounces. Melt the wax and oil together, adding two ounces of resin to give body, then, as it is cooking, stir in the carbolic acid. The same authority mentions the use, by some breeders of choice stock, of a canvas face cover smeared with this mixture, or with one of asafetida and tallow, which may be adjusted in such a fashion as not to interfere with the sight or with grazing, and yet protect the lambs against the fly that lays the egg from which the grub hatches. Some farmers plow a few furrows in the pasture so the sheep may put their noses in the fresh earth and thus keep the fly away.—American Agriculturist.

Feeding Grit to Poultry.

Get a box about one foot square and eight or ten inches deep, remove the top, and place it inside at an angle from one corner of the bottom of the box, leaving about three quarters of an inch space from the bottom and one side, and the other side of the board about two inches from the other side to allow space to fill; or it may be filled tight, and the side of the box removed and hinged so as to open and fill. Place a strip of wood about one inch square, about two inches from the three-quarter inch space at [the bottom of the box, to keep the grit in place. Bore two small holes in the bottom of the box near what is to be the top, and hang on nails so as to raise the box a few inches from the ground, to prevent the chickens from scratching dirt in. Put in the grit, oyster shells, charcoal, etc., and the fowls will have it fresh and clean, as it will drop down as they eat it. There will be no waste as when fed on the ground or in open boxes. The same arrangement may be used for feed when it is desirable to keep feed before the poultry all the time. The device is shown in the cut.—Rural New Yorker.



FEEDING GRIT TO POULTRY.

Live Stock Notes.

Of all the meats, mutton is the freest of disease.

As much as breeding and growing animals need exercise for their prosperity, the hogs for fattening need rest and quietness.

The quicker the sheep reaches maturity the less food it consumes. Early maturing sheep, therefore, means lower cost of production.

If wool is low in price it will add something to the profits of sheep husbandry. But now, as never before, mutton is the standby.

The cheapest food for hogs that we can raise is clover or grass, and in corn we have perhaps the best food for fattening that can be found.

The best thing the sheep breeder can do is to recognize that conditions affecting sheep have changed and prepare to conform to them.

As the American people come to use their brains more and their muscle less fat meat—mutton included—goes out of favor. People want flesh and not fat more and more.—Farmer's Voice.

Sows Eating Their Young.

To prevent sows eating their pigs, give the sow two to three lbs. of salt pork (cut in pieces half an inch thick) immediately after farrowing, provided there are any signs of trouble that way. This has proved a sure remedy in many cases, we having had letters from thirteen farmers to this effect since the subject was mentioned in our veterinary department recently. Feeding sows mostly on wheat middlings for about two weeks before foaling often avoids this trouble. Fresh beef may be used instead of salt pork, and raw potatoes may be fed with both. Give soppy or cooling food just before parturition.—American Agriculturist.

Unsound Horses in France.

The French law enumerates the various forms of unsoundness to which a horse is liable, and provides that an animal found to be suffering from any of these within nine days after its sale may be returned to the seller. Such a law in this country would do much to protect buyers, and it would also be welcome to the reputable men who are engaged in selling horses.

VOLNEY ASHFORD

Said to be Manoeuvring to Replace Queen Lil on the Throne of Hawaii.

Special to the Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 6.—The Chronicle has discovered another plot to replace Queen Lil on the Hawaiian throne. It says that W. P. Morrow has been enlisting from 200 to 400 men to go to the islands on a sailing vessel, capture the five steamers that ply between the islands, and take possession of the revenue offices and the bank of Bishop & Co., in Honolulu, securing from $400,000 to $500,000. Queen Lil is to be placed on the throne as the figurehead. Morrow admits that he is backed by Volney Ashford, the Canadian favorite of ex-Queeen Lil who so long administered the military affairs of the Hawaiian Kingdom.

STARVED HERSELF TO DEATH.

For Five Weeks an Insane Woman Refused all Food.

Special to the Times.

WILLISON, Fla., Aug. 6.—Mrs. Lou. Vandivier died here Sunday of starvation. Five weeks ago Mrs. Vandiviere became possessed of an idea that her family and the community had formed a conspiracy to poison her and she began to refuse to eat and drink. The woman seemed to be rational on all subjects save this. Whenever any one approached her with food she would begin to scream "Take it away. I know you have poisoned it."

Her four year old daughter brought food, but the mother pushed the child away saying, "You want to poison me too." For five weeks the woman continued in this condition, taking neither food nor drink during the entire time, and Sunday emaciated to a skeleton, death came to her relief.

BANDIT TERROR.

Frank Buck's Brazen Acts in the Indian Territories.

Special to the Times.

MUSOGEE, Aug. 7.—Frank Buck, the bandit leader who, in company with three others of his gang, last week murdered Deputy Marshall Gretna, at O'Kmulgee has added more crimes to his list. On Sunday he and a pal were riding along the highway west of the central part of Nation, when he met a white man and his daughter travelling in a wagon. Buck ordered the girl to get out of the wagon and threatened to kill them if she did not. She got out and in the sight of her father Buck and his pal assaulted her. Sunday evening the desperadoes met Callahan, stockman and a member of one of the leading families in Nation in a pasture 20 miles south west of here. A negro boy was with Callahan. The bandits robbed them and compelled them to unsaddle their horses. They then required them to mount their horses bareback and told them to run or they would kill them. Callahan and the negro began to run for life. They were shot at repeatedly. One ball grased Callahan's head and another went through his ear and then passed through the negro boy's body, killing him.

MURDERED IN A SWAMP.

A Farm Laborer Found With His Throat Cut.

Special to the Times.

BERLIN, Aug. 7.—A search for a missing farm laborer employed by a Mr. Hagey, near Breslau by the name of Jeaupretté, resulted in the finding of his body in the swamp, partly covered with leaves, etc., late yesterday afternoon. At first it was thought he had committed suicide, as there was a gash across his throat, but it was subsequently found that his head is battered and bruised. Nothing was found on or near the body sufficiently sharp to produce the wounds and it is now openly believed that he was murdered. From what can be learned he had been in the employ of Mr. Hagey for a great number of years, and as a sort of extra help was given the use of the swamp which abounded in berries of various kinds, which he sold or allowed patrons to gather on shares. It is surmised now that he must have got into some altercation with some trespassers with the above result. A post mortem is being held at Breslau, when further developments will follow.

Forestric Ritual.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—At a meeting today of the Supreme Court of Foresters at Brighton, the Atlantic Subsidiary Executive applied for the court's sanction to a new ritual. The American delegates claimed that they should have the right to conduct the international affairs of the Order in the United States as they thought necessary. The future success of the Order there depended on the question of a ritual. The sanction was granted.

Mishap to a Banker's Wife.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—Mrs. Seligman, who is said by the Central News to be the wife of a New York banker of that name and her daughter met with a serious accident today while driving. The horse became frightened and bolted. The carriage collided with a cart and the occupants were thrown out. Several of Mrs. Seligman's ribs were broken and her daughter was picked up insensible and is in a dangerous condition. The coachman and driver of the cart were severely injured.

ANOTHER ANTIPOEEAN CRASH.

The City of Melbourne Bank Closes Its Doors—Its London Connection Not Notified,

Special to the Times.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—A despatch from Melbourne states that the City of Melbourne Bank closed its doors this morning. The London branch of the bank has not received any notice to this effect, but the officials here express surprise at the closing of the bank. The branch here has been in liquidation for some time. The assets are protected, but the doors have not been closed. There have been differences of opinion for some time between the London and Australian officials respecting the details of a reconstruction scheme.

ELOPED WITH THE HIRED MAN.

A Well-to-do Farmer Badly Deceived by His Wife.

Special to the Times.

TORONTO, Aug. 7.—Thomas P. McDonnell, a farmer of Etobicoke, is having trouble on account of being overgenerous to his wife. He loaned $85 on a mortgage to T. P. Gracey, and put it in his wife's name. She afterwards eloped with the hired man and took $35 with her. Today McConnell entered an action to have the mortgage transferred and to recover $35 from his wife who he believes is living in Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.

THE TIDE TURNS.

Great Improvement in the Health of a Well-Known Peterboro' Lady.

PETERBORO, Aug. 5.—General satisfaction is expressed here at the greatly improved condition of health of Mrs. K. Stephens, the well known music teacher of this town. Her friends have been much exercised over her condition for a long time and a number of remedies have been tried during the ten years that she has been a martyr to a complication of complaints, which recently became very severe. She suffered frightfully with pains in the back, nervous prostration and swelling of the limbs. She has been taken the new remedy for kidney troubles, Dodd's Kidney Pills, and has already experienced the most beneficial results.

ENLARGES THE USES OF MUSIC.

There is a good deal in the old saw that music will charm the savage breast. It always was possessed of a magnetic power over individuals. To the present age, however, must be credited the greater triumphs in musical directions. And not the least of these is the transposing piano of Heintzman & Co., Toronto, which opens out for vocalists a wide arena of delightful study. The instrument is unique in every particular, and ought to command the study of everyone interested in music, whether professionally or for its individual delights.

THE PROHIBITION APPEAL

The Agreement in the Case be Closed—Judgment is Reterved.

Special to the Times.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—After hearing the reply of Mr. J. J. McLaren, Q.C., for the appelants, the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council today reserved judgment in the appeal to decide whether the power to pass prohibition liquor legislation belongs to the Federal or to the Provincial authorities in the Dominion.

A Man and His Four Children Burned.

WHITSBURG, Ky., Aug. 6.—The news of a horrible accident reached here tonight from Big Stone Gap, Va., on the Louisville and Nashville Railway. Eli Hix, a laborer went to his home near the depot while drunk and built a fire in the stove. While he was asleep the floor caught on fire and soon spread to the room occupied by Mrs. Hix and five children, who were asleep, four of whom were burned to a crisp before the mother awoke. Although badly burned herself she made her escape through a window and carried one of the children with her. Hix was fatally burned.

WILLING HIS WIFE TO A FRIEND

And the Legatee Promytly Went and Married Her.

Special to the Times.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Aug. 7.—About a year ago James Nugent arrived at Stratford, poor and friendless. James McElroy, up to the time of his death, owned a saloon in Stratford. He amassed a fortune. It was to McElroy's place that Nugent came a short time before the death of the former. A friendship was formed between the two men, which was so strong that on his death bed McElroy gave his wife to Nugent and requested that he marry her at once. Nugent says:

"Her husband died in my arms, and he willed her to me, so I lost no time marrying her after he was gone. McElroy said with his dying breath, 'I give you to Nugent, and I want you to be his wife when I'm gone.'"

The widow obeyed her husband and soon became the wife of Nugent.

COUNTERFEITERS ARRAIGNED.

Prisoner Brockway Declares That the Gold Certificates are Genuine.

Special to the Times.

JERSEY CITY, N.J., Aug. 7.—William E. Brockway, the expert forger and counterfeiter, and his pals, William S, Wagner and Sydney Smith were arraigned before United States Commissioner Romaine.

Commissioner Romaine held the three men in $15,000 bail each. They were unable to give the required security and were lodged in the Hudson County jail.

Libbie Smith, the alleged wife of Smith, and sister in law of the lawyer, was then arraigned. She was also held without bail.

A Maniac's Self Inflicted Wounds.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Aug. 7.—Yesterday a man, twenty years of age, who gave his name as McMillan, and who held a ticket from Chicago to Oakville, jumped off the Grand Trunk train at Wakelee. In the fall he bruised his face. Last night he was placed on the passenger train by the Wakelee agent, and sent to this city. He was apparently insane, but made no violent demonstrations. He was locked up for fear he would make some outbreak. When the officers went to the jail this morning to release him a horrible sight met their eyes. In an insane moment the man had taken his small pocket knife and almost cut himself to pieces. He had haggled at his throat, and cut the fish on both legs to the bone. He was a terrible sight, bleeding from every wound and lying on his back moaning. He was taken to the Union Hospital. The officers says McMillan appeared rational when locked up. It is very doubtful if he will recover.

Tired but Sleepless

Is a condition which gradually wears away the strength. Let the blood be purified and enriched by Hood's Sarsaparilla and this condition will cease.

"For two or three years I was subject to poor spells. I always felt tired, could not sleep at night and the little I could eat did not do me any good. I read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and decided to try it. Before I had finished two bottles I began to feel better and in a short time I felt all right and had gained 21 pounds in weight. Thieves Still Abroad.

There is no doubt that a gang of thieves are located in Peterborough, waiting an opportunity to make a big haul. J. B. Scriber, of Murray street is the latest victim. On Tuesday night someone entered his residence and seized his trousers which they carried to the woodshed and then rifled the pockets. Mr. Scriber says he is out just $23 by the transaction. The thief left the back door open when he took his departure.

THE GRANITES DEFEATED.

A Score of 4 Goals to 0 Was the Score at Port Hope.

The Granite lacrosse team left yesterday morning for Millbrook and Port Hope, expecting to play the Junior team of the former village in the morning and the Beavers of Port Hope in the afternoon.

When Millbrook was reached it was found that the Millbrook Juniors bad been unable to get a team together, so the Granites were not given a match.

At Port Hope in the afternoon a large crowd witnessed the game, which resulted in four straight for the Beavers. The Granites claim that the Beavers played some of the Ontario members.

There will be considerable cricket in Orillia this month. Beaverton plays here on Tuesday. Bradford wishes to meet Peterborough on the Oval, and there is a proposal to have three days' cricket, with matches between Orillia and Bradford, Bradford and Peterborough, and Orillia and Peterborough. The Toronto Atheneans have promised to send an eleven to Orillia. Arrangements are about completed for Toronto vs. All North and for a match between the counties of Simcoe and Ontario, and only the dates have yet to be set. Then there is the postponed match between the Midland and Northern division of the G.T.R., which has been fixed for the 14th. On the 16th the ladies of Toronto will play the Orillia ladies. This, with possibly other matches, makes a pretty good program.—Orillia Packet.

Orangeville defaulted to Georgetown in the Central District lacrosse game set down for yesterday. This was the last match, and Georgetown wins the championship with 5 games won and 1 lost. Brampton won 4 and lost 2, Orangeville won and lost 3, and Milton lost the whole six. The winning team is now being strengthened for the finals.

After the Toronto-Springfield game on Monday last Manager Chapman released Pitcher Ed. Crane for alleged sulkiness in the field. Ed. has not been on good terms with his fellow players for some time, and his presence has been somewhat of a disturbing element in the nine. A new pitcher will join the team today or tomorrow at Scranton.

The Emerald Benevolent Association continued its convention yesterday morning. At 8 a.m. the members attended mass at St. Michael's cathedral and were addressed by Father Ryan, and Father Rholeder said mass.

At ten o'clock the delegates assembled in the hall at the corner of McCaul and Queen streets, and two very important matters came up. The first was in the form of a motion to centralize all the funds of the local branches in the hands of the Grand Branch for sick benefit purposes. The matter evoked considerable discussion and was finally laid over for a year.

Then another long discussion took place over a motion to change the name of the order to the United Catholic Association. This was rejected by a unanimous vote.

Yesterday evening the delegates was entertained at the house of President D. Carey.

ALL ARE SAFE.

The Canadian Missionaries, who are in China, Heard From.

A batch of correspondence from the Canadian missionaries in China was received at the mission rooms Tuesday. These state that all the Canadians are safe at Shanghai although some of the ladies are very much upset by the rioting. Mrs. Hartwell and Mrs. Stephenson have been very ill but are now improving. Dr. Stephenson and his family and Mrs. Hartwell will return to Canada, Dr. Hart is on his way to Pekin to interview the British Minister there in order to seek indemnity for damages occasioned by the riot, and to secure protection for the future. The missionaries hope to return to Chen Tu before the winter sets in, probably by the month of November. During Dr. Hart's absence Dr. Hare will act as physician to the customs officers at Shanghai.

Inquiry at the Presbyterian offices elicited the information that denomination has no missionaries in the district where the recent riots have taken place. All the Presbyterians in China are in the Province of Honan, which is remote from the seat of the present trouble.

Lumbering Notes.

The large Howry drive of saw logs has arrived safely in Cameron lake. This drive contains 80,000 pieces of good timber, all pine. This will be all manufactured at the company's mills at Fenelon Falls.

The Gilmour Co., of Trenton, have a drive of 40,000 logs now running over the Coboconk slide into Balsam lake. This is the company's second drive this season. Three more large drives are on hand, and have come down over the new tramway built last year from the Black river waters to the Gull river. These large drives will all be floated down to Trenton.

The department of crown lands for the Ontario government, not being satisfied with the returns of measurement made by the Howry & Sons' lumber company, of Fenelon Falls, for their Sherbourne limits, the department has arranged to remeasure all the logs. Mr. George Cochrane, of Peterborough, and Mr. Kennedy, of Pembroke, licensed scalers, have been engaged for the work, and will commence tomorrow at Cameron lake

A GREEN HEADED MONSTER

Which Lashed the Waters of Lovesick at Burleigh.

Some American tourists who are stopping at Burleigh, had a remarkable and exciting experience yesterday.

The two gentlemen were out trolling in Lovesick when all at once they observed a great commotion in the water and upon looking in the direction where the water was boiling and foaming, were horrified to see a huge monster raise itself out of the water and make directly towards them churning the water with mighty lashings of its tail.

They were paralyzed with fright at first. The monster had a green crest and around the head it was covered with black looking tendrils. Before it reached the boat it suddenly dived, and then the occupants of the boat breathed free.

"That's a sea serpent," said one, "and I'm going to make an effort to capture it. I don't care if it kills me. It will never do to go back to the hotel to be called liars. I'll take that serpent back with me, or carry back so many wounds that they will at least believe we tackled something."

"Of course, it's the sea serpent," replied the other. "Didn't you see that green head. Hully Gee! but it's a whopper. I think we had better lassoo it. Great Scott, there it goes again!"

The monster was within 20 feet of the boat and turning circles in the water. Every time it went under it created a vortex in the water like the sinking of man-of-war. The two men in the boat turned pale and seized a long rope in the bottom of the boat, and by the time they had fastened a noose in it, the serpent had dived again.

"There he goes," shouted one. "Now you paddle in the direction, and if it raises its head again. I will drop this noose over that head, and we will let it tow us around until the Columbia runs across us."

It was easy to follow the wake of the monster, for it left a ridge on the water about a foot high. One of the tourists rowed after it, while the other sat in the bow ready with the improvised lassoe.

The monster saw them coming and, turning in its course, headed directly for the boat.

"Here it comes, row easy there."

As he spoke the monster rose about two feet out of the water directly in front of the boat. Out of sheer fright the man with the rope dropped it, and by accident the noose fell over the long green head. Instantly the monster dived, the line was stretched taut, and then both tourists grabbed the rope, sat down flat in the boat, braced their feet against the cleat, spat on their hands and pulled.

Then they simultaneously fell over backwards. There was very little resistance when they made that mighty pull and they naturally over balanced. One of them got up and pulled in the line. It was a hard pull but nothing like he had expected. The supposed monster was on the other end and when within five feet of the boat turned over and showed a white belly. It was a great big lunge, and it was lifted into the skiff thoroughly exhausted.

It must have weighed about twenty pounds. The green crest that looked like the head of the sea serpent was a lady's green hand bag, and it was drawn over the fish's head and secured there by the strings catching in the gills of the fish. The tourists pulled it off and found it contained 7 salmon sandwiches, 4 hairpins and a piece of chewing gum. That explained it all. Some lady had dropped the hand bag into the water, and the lunge went after those sandwiches with the result that he got the bag over his head and the strings becoming tangled in its gills securely fastened it there. The lashings of the fish were merely a vain effort to extricate itself. How simple it all seemed. The tourists rowed ashore, and the news soon spread. It was a great adventure, but it spoiled another sea serpent yarn.

MR. JOHN McKEE ELECTED

Vice-President of the Ontario College of Pharmacy.

At the meeting of the council of the Ontario College of Pharmacy in Toronto yesterday, Mr. John McKee, of Peterborough, was elected vice-president.

The Council dealt with a host of resolutions which poured in upon them from all over. There was a full attendance, the number being completed by J. H. Dickey, of Trenton, who took his seat in the morning. A remarkable feature of the personnel is the youth of the members, who are practically all new members.

The officers elected are: President, J. H. Mackenzie, Toronto; vice president, John McKee, Peterborough; registrar and treasurer, J. T. Lewis; scrutineers, Messrs. Murchison and McCann; auditors, Messrs. James Watt and Hargreaves.

A resolution was passed declaring that all apprentices may write at the qualifying examinations in May or December if their apprenticeship terminates by the time of the meeting of the council in the following August. Students must attend the senior courses, and no part of the time spent at the senior course is allowed to count on the time of apprenticeship.

The report of the registrar dealt with the finances, assets and attendance at the institute. The receipts were $8,432 and the disbursements amounted to within $315 of that sum. The assets of the college are figured at $52,000, the building being valued at $33,551, against which there is a mortgage of $13,000, made to the Synod. This leaves a balance of $38,242, which is a better showing by $3,000 than last year,

BIG PROFITS —ON— SMALL INVESTMENTS

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our SYSTEMATIC PLAN OF SPECULATION.

Originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who, by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOFS, also our Manual on Successful Speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

A Metal Breadboard

THE WOMAN WHO HAS BEEN USED to kneading dough on the old fashioned wooden breadboard knows what a bother it is to get them clean and how cumbersome and heavy they are. When they begin to crack or check it is almost impossible to thoroughly cleanse them, and they may easily become dangerous conveyances of disease, so it was left for a woman, of course, to remedy this state of affairs, and Mrs. M. M. Everhard, of St. Joseph, Mich., has patented a metal bread-board, which is one of the greatest labor-savers imaginable. It is light, does not absorb grease, dough does not adhere to it, and while it possesses all the advantages of the marble bread-board it is much cheaper and, of course, far lighter and easier to handle. If readers want to confer a favor upon their wives they will be forever appreciated, let them send $1 to the manufacturers 161 Bay street Toronto, for one of these boards.

Agents wanted in every town and county in the Dominion, $100 to $200 a month easily made For further particulars address

A TALE OF BLOODSHED

A SURVIVOR TELLS OF THE MASSACRE AT KU-CHUNG.

Women and Children Were Cut Down by the Bloodthirsty Band of Chinese Fanatics—Pleas For Mercy were Unheeded—Cruelty and Torture.

Special to the Times.

FOO CHOW, CHINA, Aug. 8.

An American missionary, Dr. Gregory, who escaped from Ku Cheng, gives the following account of the massacre there: "At 12.30 p. m. on Thursday, Aug. 1, a native Christian rushed into my study saying that several of the foreign ladies at Hwasang, a mountain resort about 12 miles from the city of Ku Cheng, had been killed that morning and that two houses had been burned. Fifteen minutes later a note from Mr. Philipps confirmed this. He wrote that five ladies were dead, the stewards were missing and four persons were seriously wounded. He expressed the hope that I was then on my way to Hwasang. I immediately went into the Yamen, where hundreds of the excited native had already gathered, and requested the district magistrate, Wong, to send some soldiers at once to Hwasang to protect those still living. In half an hour the magistrate went to Hwasang under the escort of about 60 soldiers.

WOMEN CUT WITH SWORDS.

"The injured, excepting Mr. Phillips' arrived there only two or three days before, and were lodging at a native house some distance from the English cottages. I was delayed in Ku-Cheng, owing to the fact that the Coolies refused to carry chairs. On my arrival I set to work to make the injured as comfortable as possible. Miss Codrington received many sword cuts on the face. Miss Mabel C. Hartford of the Methodist mission, the only American residing in Hwasang at the time, who was living in a small native house some 20 rods from the English cottages, was attacked by one assassin armed with a trident. She received a slight cut in the lobe of the right ear, and was thrown to the ground and beaten about the lower extremeties and body. While the murderer was engaged in this attack, a servant grappled with the assailant and during the struggle Miss Martford escaped.

"Mildred Stewart, aged 12 years, and Kathleen Stewart, 11 years old, each received several slight wounds. Herbert Stewart, 6 years old, was killed. He was badly wounded. Evan Stewart, 3 years old, was stabbed in the left thigh. His condition is not serious. Baby Stewart, 13 months old, has a severe injury to the right eye, a small penetrating wound in the left frontal region. The injuries probably will prove fatal.

MURDERED AND THE HOUSE BURNED.

"Of those killed, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart. Nellie Saunders and Lena Bellow, an Irish nurse, were almost wholly incinerated in the burned house. In all probability they were murdered before the house was burned. Hessie Newcomb was cut on the left cheek and left hand, and then was thrown over a steep embankment, where we recovered the body. Miss Marshall's throat was frightfully cut, and there was a deep sword wound in the left wrist. Miss Gordon received a deep spear wound in the face, another in the side of the neck, one on the right side of the head. Topsy Saunders' death was caused by a spear wound on the right side of the head, the weapon entering the brain. The last three bodies were lying in one heap.

LIKE A BOLT FROM THE BLUE.

"This frightful massacre was done by members of the secret society known as the Veterians, who have been causing much trouble alike to Christians and heathens in and around Ku Cheng City. From various reports of those who saw the attack, I believe that about 80 men were engaged. They were armed with spears and swords, and seemed strongly organized under one chief leader. The attack came like a thunderbolt out of a clear sky. Thirty minutes from the time of the onslaught commenced not a single Vegetarian was to be seen near the grounds of the massacre. Mr. Phillips and I worked all the latter part of the night placing the remains in coffins. We finished the sorrowful duty about 8 p.m. on the second, and fearing to longer remain on the scene, we undertook to secure transportation to Sulkow."

A SIKH ESCORT

WILL GUARD THE BRITISH CONSUL WHILE INQUIRING INTO THE OUTRAGES.

LONDON, Aug. 8.—A despatch to the Pall Mall Gazette from Shanghai says that further and reliable news of an alarming nature has been received there. It is stated that financial outbreaks against the Christians have occurred at Ching Chow, a seaport of the Province of the Province of Fo Kien and at Hupeh, Taiping and An Hui. These outbreaks, it is added, are not merely the work of Vegetarians, but they are said to be organised and carried out by the Chinese officials. The extent of the damage done, it appears, is not yet known, but the foreigners are reported to have escaped. Owing to the unsettled state of the province 200 Sikhs, reliable Indian troops, from Hong Kong, will escort the British Consul from Foo Chow to Ku Cheng, where the Consul will conduct an enquiry into the recent outrages. In conclusion, the Shanghai correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette expresses the opinion that further outrages are inevitable unless the Great Britain "takes swift and deadly vengeance."

In regard to the despatches from Hong Kong announcing that the British and American missions at Fat-Shan, near Canton, were attacked yesterday afternoon by a large and infuriated mob which demolished the hospitals and caused some of the missionaries to flee to Shameen, it is stated that the Wesleyan mission has one of the most important medical missions in China at Fat-Shan. The hospital and station are under the charge of Dr. Wanyen, who has just arrived here after a perilous overland journey during which he was arrested in Armenia as a spy. The rest of the mission staff of the Wesleyan mission at Fat-Shan are Chinese. They were attacked a few years ago, upon which occasion a missionary was killed. A representative of the Associated Press had an interview with Mr. W. W. Rockhill, Third Assistant Secretary of State of the United States, who was one of the delegates to the recent International Geographical Congress, and who returns to New York on Saturday next. Referring to the massacres in China, Mr. Rockhill said he thought it was a great mistake for the missionaries to have returned so soon to the outlying stations after the war, especially as they had been warned of the danger of so doing. Mr. Rockhill could not say anything about what the United States and the British Government might be expected to do under the circumstances, but he expressed himself as being certain that the diplomatic representatives of the different countries interested would make a common cause of some cases, as they did when the Swedish missionaries were murdered at Sang Pu.

STERN ACTION IS DEMANDED.

HONG KONG, Aug. 8.—At a public indignation meeting, just held here, resolutions were passed expressing anger at the supposed connivance of the Chinese Government in the Ku-Cheng massacres and disgust at the apathy and indifference of the British Government in failing to recognise the gravity of the situation. Those present at the meeting farther declared that money compensation for such outrages is inadequate and that swift and stern action is required.

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 8.—Bishop Galloway, of this city, yesterday received a cablegram from Rev. Drs. Parker and Reid, of Shanghai, China, which read as follows: "Horrible massacre. More danger. Move Washington."

LOST ON SEA AND LAND.

BRITISH SHIP WRECKED ON THE ROCKS OFF SYDNEY, N.S.W.

Boat Loads of Passengers and Sailors Missing—A Dozen Killed in a New Mexico Railway Smash—Fearful Train Collision in New Hampshire.

Special to the Times.

LONDON, Aug. 8.—A despatch from Sydney, N.S.W., states that the British steamship Catterthun, bound from Sydney to Hong Kong, ran on the seal rocks between Sydney and Brisbane, and became a total wreck.

LOST IN THE NIGHT.

The vessel struck at two o'clock in the the morning. It was soon seen that there was no possible chance to save the vessel, and orders were given to abandon the ship.

All hands took to the small boats and laid their course for the mainland.

One of the boats reached Forster this morning, but the others have not been heard from, and it is feared they have been lost. There were a large number of Australian and English passengers on the steamer.

The Catterthun belonged to the Eastern and Australian Steamship Co. of London.

TWELVE KILLED.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Aug. 8.—Two sleepers and two coaches of the train from San Francisco left the track of the Atlantic and Pacific at Grant station last night.

Twelve persons were killed and twenty-five injured.

A message was sent for all the physicians who could go.

TRAINS CRASH TOGETHER.

PLYMOUTH, N.H., Aug. 8.—The "cannon ball" express crushed into a freight at 6 a. m.

An engineer and two firemen were killed and many passengers injured.

Fourteen new freight cars fresh from the shop and both locomotives, one new, were stove into pieces.

BARNUM NO MORE.

Mrs. P. T. Relinquishes the Historic Name—The Widow Remarries.

Special to the Times.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Mrs. P. T. Barnum was married yesterday to Demetre Callias Bey, at the Greek church on Fifty-third street. A civil service was first performed at 3 p.m. Property deeds on both sides were executed. Mrs. Barnum was represented by ex-Gov. Ingersoll, of New Haven. The religious ceremony occurred at 5 p.m., and was conducted by the Greek priest of the Fifty-third street church. The bride was attired in a Worth gown of dark blue silk. Immediately after the ceremony there was a breakfast at Delmonico's. Mr. and Mrs. Demetre Bey are to pass a couple of days at Bridgeport before sailing Saturday for Paris. This is necessary because of the bride's determination to part with Marina, the estate just outside of Bridgeport.

The young widow of P. T. Barnum met her new husband in Cairo, Egypt, a year and a half ago, upon her first trip to the East after the death of her first husband. After a stop in Paris they will make their home in Greece. Under Mr. Barnum's will his widow inherited, besides Marina, which cost $300,000, an annuity of $40,000 and $1,000,000.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 8.—The town of Birvotch, in the Government of Voronezh, has been visited by a disastrous conflagration. One hundred and forty two houses were destroyed and many of the inhabitants are left destitute. During the progress of the fire one person was killed and five were wounded.

CUBA'S GOVERNORSHIP.

General Lopez's the new Man—Campos to Direct the Army.

Special to the Times.

LONDON, Aug. 8.—The Post tomorrow will publish a despatch from Madrid saying that it is stated there that Gen. Lopez has consented to become Governor General of Cuba. Gen. Martinez Campos will continue to direct the campaign against the insurgents in the island. This arrangement has been made in order to show that the different political parties are agreed as to the necessity of quelling the rebellion.

BEHRING SEA FISHERY.

The Oft-Reported Extinction Story Again Heard From Washington.

Special to the Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Reports received at the State department from the United States consul at Victoria, B. C., are to the effect that the seals in the Behring Sea are practically exterminated. The only satisfaction that the department gets from this is that it sustains the contention of successive Secretaries of State that more stringent regulations than those which have been in force were necessary to prevent the destruction of seal life in Behring Sea.

SAYS HE IS INNOCENT.

KERCHINSKI SAYS HE DIDN'T KILL JEANNERETTE.

He Explains How He Got the Marks on His Face—Irregular Proceedings at the Inquest.

Special to The Times.

BERLIN, August 8.—When August Kerchinski, held on a charge of murder, was searched at the jail a pocket knife was found on him, one of the blades of which had stains on it which will be examined to ascertain if they were made by human blood.

When the knife was taken from Kerchinski he called attention to these marks, explaining that he used the blade to cut his tobacco and that these were tobacco stains, but a very casual examination shows that this statement at least is incorrect, whatever else may be the fact.

When seen yesterday he protested his innocence and told of his movements on Sunday and when asked about the scratches on his face he explained that he got the wound on his forehead from the bough of an apple tree on Sunday.

The one across his nose was the result of coming in contact with some bushes on Saturday. He rubbed the skin off his cheek while shaving and the mark under his left eye had been there, he said, for two weeks.

ALWAYS PAID FOR HIS BERRIES.

Regarding the quarrel in the berry patch Kirchinski said he had always paid Jeannerette ten cents a quart for the fruit he had had, and that when he met Jeannerette on this occasion he asked him what he owed him and why his woman couldn't go into the patch. What followed was about as already reported, but Kirchinski declared most vehemently that neither of them were mad, and that no threats were made in serious anger.

He said he always got along well with Jeannerette and had no reason for killing him.

The daughters and the wife of the prisoner were seen at their own home and they corroborated their father regarding the scratches on his face.

THEY SAY HE'S NOT GUILTY.

In addition to speaking of the marks on their father's face they declared that he did not go into the bush at all last Sunday afternoon, but that they brought the cattle in, and he tended them afterwards. They further urged the impossibility of their father's guilt. "For," said the eldest girl, "Jeannerette didn't leave Hagey's till 2 o'clock, and father was back at Mr. Detweller's for mother by 3.20."

BUNGLING OFFICIALS.

In connection with the preliminary steps of the trial there appears to have been considerable bungling by the officials.

The coroner's court was hurried through without a post mortem being held, and without the evidence of several important witnesses. The verdict reached was to the effect that deceased had been murdered by some persons or persons unknown, and a rider was added calling upon the Government to prosecute further inquiries.

Then when the prisoner was brought before Magistrate Mackay, of Breslau, he was committed for trial without any evidence being taken, and at once despatched to the jail here. The mistake of committing instead of remanding probably arose through the similarity of the forms used, and the difficulty was got over by Mr. Mackay withdrawing his order in favor of Mr. Mackie's warrant. Upon this latter the prisoner was brought up this afternoon before both Magistrates in the jailor's office and formally remanded for a week.

The Ontario Government has been asked to send a detective to work on the case.

THE MAYOR SNUBBED.

Roosevelt Refuses to be Ruled by Gotham's Civic Ruler.

Special to the Times.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—The Evening Sun publishes the following: Mayor Strong held a conference with President Roosevelt yesterday regarding the enforcement of the excise laws. When he sent for Mr. Roosevelt, the Mayor, it is said, distinctly requested the president of the police board to order a general halt, and to the Mayor's surprise Mr. Roosevelt declined to do so. In a word, he refused point blank to change his views on the enforcement of the excise laws.

IN SIGHT OF A FORTUNE.

A Father Atones for Twenty-seven Years Neglect.

Special to the Times.

ELSIE, Mich., Aug. 8.—Twenty-seven years ago John Paulding left his home, going to Australia. His daughter Minnie, now Mrs. Vandeusen, of McBride, was then an infant. Monday a man representing himself to be Paulding's cousin came here and made known that Minnie was entitled to seventy five thousand dollars by direct inheritance, and that search has been made for her nearly 20 years. Some people say that the stranger was Paulding himself, and there are all sorts of rumors afloat.

MAY STARVE.

Because of the Utter Failure of the Coast Fishery.

Special to the Times.

MONTREAL, Aug. 8.—A special from Gaspe, the furthermost eastern part of the Province of Quebec, whose coasts are laved by the waters of the St. Lawrence River and Gulf and Bay Chaleur, states that the coast fisheries have been an utter failure. The catch is not one third that of last year. The people are entirely dependent on the industry, and the outlook is black for the winter, when actual starvation is feared. On remote points on the mountainous coasts, owing to the light summer catch, fishing folk will be unable to prepare for the autumn catch, which will undoubtedly show a great falling off because of the scarcity of cod and scanty appliances.

A Brutal Wife Beater.

LONDON, Aug. 8.—Thomas Murphy made a brutal assault on his wife about noon yesterday. Murphy quarrelled with her over some trivial matter and hurled a heavy plate at her, inflicting an ugly wound. Then he struck her repeatedly with a chair. The woman is so seriously injured that she may not recover. Murphy was arrested. He is a plumber by trade and bears a bad reputation.

PETERBOROUGH, AUGUST 9 1895.

A NEW VEHICLE.

Some fifty years or so ago when the new wonder—railroads—was a good deal talked about an amiable enthusiast predicted that the day was not very far off when carriages would be propelled over ordinary roads by steam or some other motive power, and horses would become unnecessary for the purpose of either draft or travel. Those who listened to the old gentleman smiled indulgently, but it could easily be seen that they considered him a harmless sort of lunatic. Well, the prediction that seemed impossible of fulfilment then has come to pass. Carriages are now driven along ordinary roads, up hill and down dale, without horses or any other means of propulsion that is apparent. Neither the Americans nor the British have taken the lead in this improvement so pregnant with important possibilities. To France belongs the honor of inventing carriages that can be propelled on the common highways by petroleum and other motors. These carriages are not mere scientific toys, but substantial vehicles intended for business uses. They have stood severe tests. One of them was a race between Paris and Rouen. A hundred vehicles entered for this race but only twenty-one started. The winner accomplished the distance, eighty miles, in five hours and forty minutes. In another and longer race, between Paris and Bordeaux, as good time was made, about fifteen miles an hour. This, it must be remembered, was on the ordinary highway. The roads in France are remarkably good, but the performance was extraordinary. One of the carriages, managed by M. Lavasser, made the whole distance between Paris and Bordeaux and back in 48 hours and 53 minutes. The distance is 726 miles. This carriage was propelled by a Daimier engine.

The cheapness with which these carriages can be run is not the least surprising thing about them. In a letter to the Hamilton Spectator written by Mr. J. H. Killey, he says: "A four-seated high-road vehicle runs over all grades with one cent's worth of oil per mile, in France, where oil is very much more costly than it is here." Mr. Killey explains that the carriages are not run by steam but "by a mixture of one part kerosene vapor and ten or twelve parts of atmospheric air expanded on a piston by an incandescent platinum wire in the cylinder. This produces the same effect as steam at a pressure of 150 to 180 pounds and at about one third the cost. There is pressure on the cylinders and consequently no danger."

These horseless carriages are getting to be commonly used in France, and they have been introduced into England. The London Engineer, emulating what has been done in France, has offered prizes to the amount of $5,500 to be contested for by kerosene and other motor vehicles to be built in England, a committee of business men and engineering experts having been organized to report on the the test. What with the bicycle and the motor carriage the horse is indeed in danger of becoming obsolete.

The water in the Trent River, above Hastings, is so low that steamers find it difficult to reach the villiage. Supertindent Rogers should see that the water is kept at a uniform level.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell, a despatch says, is holding an important conference on the Manitoba School question in Vancouver. The place for such a conference should be Winnipeg and the time six months ago.

TREES THAT DO NOT DIE

THEY SURVIVE HACKING, HEWING, BURNING AND UPROOTING.

The Baobab Tree of South Africa Cannot Be Exterminated—The Nullah Tree Another Example—When Uprooted It Grows More Roots Elsewhere.

There are some trees and plants which it is exceedingly difficult to kill. An example is a tree found in South Africa, called the baobab tree, that is most useful to the natives. No matter what sort of treatment it receives it never seems to be the worse for it.

The natives make a strong cord that lasts for years out of the fibres contained in the pounded bark, and for this purpose the whole of the trunk, as far as they can possibly reach it, is barked, a course of treatment which if applied to any other tree would undoubtedly ruin if not kill it. The only effect, however, upon the extraordinary baobab tree is to make it throw out a new bark, apparently as capable of answering the natives' purposes as the old one.

No external injury, not even fire, appears to be able to injure this tough tree to any extent. If an axe be driven in with a hard blow, it can only with great difficulty be extracted, on account of the soft, spongy wood closing upon it. Neither can any injury be done to the tree from within, and even cutting it down does not exterminate it; it continues to grow after it is lying on the ground.

The nullah tree of the East Indies is also almost impossible to kill. It can be cut and hacked in any shape, and although uprooted and allowed to lie on the sandy plains for months an upright branch or new trunk will grow.

At Umballa, Bengal, India, there is a large tree that has had an experience. It is situated on the camping-ground used for regiments passing through Umballa, or for the infantry regiments which come down from the hill stations in winter for drill on the plains. The canteen tent is pitched near it, and the soldiers derive a great benefit from this curious tree, as the prostrate portion answers the purpose of two long seats and the upright part serves as a shade from the hot sun.

Another strange plant, belonging somewhat to this species, is the devil plant, found near the Lake of Nicaragua. It is of such a deadly nature that it destroys all insects and vegetable life in its vicinity. Nothing seems to be able to kill it, and though it has been burned down several times, it springs up again in vigorous life, without any loss of vitality.

In Jamaica there is to be found the life-plant, also almost impossible to kill. The writer knows it to be a fact that when a leaf is cut off and hung up by a string to dry or wither, it sends out white threadlike roots, gathers moisture from the air, and begins to grow new leaves. And still further, when it is pressed and packed away in a botanist's herbarium it has really been known to outgrow the leaves of the book in which it was placed. The only way known to kill it is by applying a red-hot iron to it, or by steeping it in boiling water.

These few examples give some idea of the extraordinary creations of the vegetable world, many of which must appear incredible to the unscientific. They do not realize that there is an infinitely greater variety of species in the vegetable world than in that part of the animal world visible to their eyes.

The trees and plants mentioned are among those whose extraordinary qualities are well authenticated. There have been many reports of still more remarkable vegetables, which, while they are not clearly verified by scientific works, cannot be proved to be untrue.

For instance, there is the plant which feeds on meat, and which, while it ordinarily nourishes itself on small birds and mice, shows a fondness for raw beef when it is placed in its way. Another has the power of coating itself with copper extracted from the soil in which it grows. Various persons have reported the discovery of plants similar to the devil plant of Nicaragua already mentioned, but possessing still more deadly powers, even to the endangering of human life.

Blunt Criticism.

President Kruger evidently has no music in his soul—if a story going the rounds in South Africa be true. At a social gathering gven in his honor some time ago, one of Bloemfontein's sweetest lady singers gave an artistic rendering of a popular song. The lady of the house, turning to "Oom Paul," who was probably pining for a pipe, asked, "How did your Honor like that?" The president bluntly replied, "I go into the veld when I want to hear the she-wolf scream!"—Washington Gazette.

PROFITS.

Policyholders of the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada receive ninety-three and one-third per cent. of the TOTAL surplus earned by the Company, and the stockholders the remaining six and two-thirds per cent. By this system the holders of participating policies receive ninety-three and one-third per cent. not only of the profits of their own class but also of those earned by the non-participating policies. They thus have the protection of a large capital stock for a merely nominal sum.

On ordinary policies profits are divided every five years, counting in each case from the date of the policy. The method adopted is eminently fair to all parties, and is a modification of what is known as the "Contribution Plan." The profits may be taken in cash to be used in payment of premiums, or applied to the purchase of bonus additions to the sum assured.

On Reserve Dividend Policies the surplus, instead of being distributed every five years, is accumulated during the Reserve Dividend period, and the accumulation thus arising is distributed among those who have survived that term and have kept their policies in force. The profits paid during 1895, to those entitled to receive them, are the largest that have ever been paid by the Company and have seldom been equalled by any other Company.

Electrical Treatment

210 Cowan Ave., Toronto.

A. NORMAN, ESQ.

Dear Sir:—We think we ought to acknowledge in some way that may become public, the very great benefit our daughter has derived from the use of your Electro-Curative Belts, and your application of Electricity in the Bath and from Dry Treatment: When we brought her to you she was a picture of unhealthiness, her limbs were shriveled up, and as thin as limbs could be; she had no strength even to play with other children, in fact she was dying of consumption. Besides this, there was a hard lump on her spine at the nape of her neck, which caused her neck to be so stiff she could not move her head. Although it is only three months since we brought her to you she is sound and well

FOR MEN AND WOMEN.

New York has twenty-seven female barbers.

Women are naturally more prone to insanity than are men.

All the very good Roman Emperors had very bad wives.

No woman has ever written an epic poem that became known to the world.

Napoleon's campaigns made one million French women widows, and three million children homeless.

The average European woman's life is shorter than the man's, but over two-thirds of the centenarians are women.

A committee, headed by the Marchioness of Queensberry, has been formed in London to revive the agitation for the release of Mrs. Maybrick from prison.

American women spend $20,000,000 a year for chewing gum, and yet the ready flow of female conversation is not checked. Grumpy old bachelors will hold that it only tends to strengthen the jaws.

TIPS FOR THE GIRLS.

Flowers are to be much used to trim evening gowns.

Large soft rosettes of velvet will be on the early spring hats.

Leghorn hats trimmed with ostrich feathers and lace are to be worn again.

English walking gloves for spring are of finely-dressed dog skin or Swedish kid.

There are now one hundred and seventy-seven women doctors in the United Kingdom.

There is a new button made apparently of twisted wire, with a large stone ball in the centre.

Violet bouquets for the crush collars and to wear on the wrap are as fashionable as for the hats.

Fancy fans are very popular, and are to be had in feathers tufted with blossoms of tiny curls of contrasting ostrich tips.

The best veils to wear have light sprays and spots on a clear ground, and greatly improve the appearance of a poor complexion.

Almost every bodice of recent date for evening dresses and walking gowns alike, has a pouched front, which conceals the waist line and overhangs the skirt.

Gladstone's trip to the Riviera appears to have restored him to vigorous health. Some of his friends say that he has not looked better in several years.

Mgr. Capel, well known as a Roman Catholic ecclesiastic some years ago, has become a ranchman since he took up his residence in California, and is now said to be very wealthy.

Signor Cavallotti, the opposition leader in the Italian chamber of deputies, has received nearly a dozen challenges from aggrieved ministerial journalists. He has referred all the would be duellists to the law courts.

The Empress of Austria has not had a portrait taken for thirty years. She wants to be remembered as the brilliant beauty who was almost six feet tall, whose hair came below her knees, and whose waist measured seventeen inches.

FARM FAGOTS.

A representative in the Illinois legislature has introduced a bill to make Chicago a state in herself. It is probably done as a matter of self-defence to prevent Chicago from absorbing the remainder of Illinois.

Greater New York, a topographical statistician points out, will cover an area of 317 square miles; three times the size of London and twelve times that of Paris. Rome, Babylon and Memphis are not to be mentioned in the comparison.

ELOPED WITH THE HIRED MAN.

A Well-to-do Farmer Badly Deceived by His Wife.

Special to the Times.

TORONTO, Aug. 7.—Thomas P. McDonnell, a farmer of Etobicoke, is having trouble on account of being overgenerous to his wife. He loaned $85 on a mortgage to T. P. Gracey, and put it in his wife's name. She afterwards eloped with the hired man and took $35 with her. Today McConnell entered an action to have the mortgage transferred and to recover $35 from his wife who he believes is living in Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.

THE TIDE TURNS.

Great Improvement in the Health of a Well-Known Peterboro' Lady.

PETERBORO, Aug. 5.—General satisfaction is expressed here at the greatly improved condition of health of Mrs. K. Stephens, the well known music teacher of this town. Her friends have been much exercised over her condition for a long time and a number of remedies have been tried during the ten years that she has been a martyr to a complication of complaints, which recently became very severe. She suffered frightfully with pains in the back, nervous prostration and swelling of the limbs. She has been taken the new remedy for kidney troubles, Dodd's Kidney Pills, and has already experienced the most beneficial results.

The City of Melbourne Bank Closes Its Doors—Its London Connection Not Notified.

Special to the Times.

LONDON, Aug. 7. — A despatch from Melbourne states that the City of Melbourne Bank closed its doors this morning. The London branch of the bank has not received any notice to this effect, but the officials here express surprise at the closing of the bank. The branch here has been in liquidation for some time. The assets are protected, but the doors have not been closed. There have been differences of opinion for some time between the London and Australian officials respecting the details of a reconstruction scheme.

MURDERED IN A SWAMP.

A Farm Laborer Found With His Throat Cut.

Special to the Times.

BERLIN, Aug. 7.—A search for a missing farm laborer employed by a Mr. Hagey, near Breslau by the name of Jeaupretto, resulted in the finding of his body in the swamp, partly covered with leaves, etc., late yesterday afternoon. At first it was thought he had committed suicide, as there was a gash across his throat, but it was subsequently found that his head is battered and bruised. Nothing was found on or near the body sufficiently sharp to produce the wounds and it is now openly believed that he was murdered. From what can be learned he had been in the employ of Mr. Hagey for a great number of years, and as a sort of extra help was given the use of the swamp which abounded in berries of various kinds, which he sold or allowed patrons to gather on shares. It is surmised now that he must have got into some altercation with some trespassers with the above result. A post mortem is being held at Breslau, when further developments will follow.

WILLING HIS WIFE TO A FRIEND

And the Legatee Promptly Went and Married Her.

Special to the Times.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Aug. 7.—About a year ago James Nugent arrived at Stratford, poor and friendless. James McElroy, up to the time of his death, owned a saloon in Stratford. He amassed a fortune. It was to McElroy's place that Nugent came a short time before the death of the former. A friendship was formed between the two men, which was so strong that on his death bed McElroy gave his wife to Nugent and requested that he marry her at once. Nugent says:

"Her husband died in my arms, and he willed her to me, so I lost no time marrying her after he was gone. McElroy said with his dying breath, 'I give you to Nugent, and I want you to be his wife when I'm gone.'"

The widow obeyed her husband and soon became the wife of Nugent.

LITERARY NOTES.

It is said that Esther, in General Wallace's "Ben Hur," was named after his mother.

"Thanatopsis" means "a vision of death." Bryant's poem of that name was published in 1816; it has been set to music.

"The Silver Fork school" was a name given to a group of writers of fiction in England who laid great stress upon matters of etiquette.

Fanny Crosby, the blind hymn-writer, was not born blind, but lost her sight when very young. Her husband, Alexander Van Alstyne, is also blind.

Captain Charles King, the novelist, is a West Point graduate. He has served in the United States artillery and also in the cavalry. He was retired from active service in 1879 on account of a wound received in the Apache campaign of 1874.

Homer is the poet to whom is assigned the authorship of the "Iliad" and "Odyssey." Of his personality nothing is known. Seven cities have contended for the honor of his birth.

Maarten Maarten's first book was called "An Old Maid's Love." His real name is J. M. W. Vander Poorten-Schwartz, and he is a Hollander by birth.

The Astor Library in New York City is an endowed reference library. It was founded in 1849 by John Jacob Astor, and it has received successive gifts from different members of the family. The library numbers over 245,000 volumes, and is, for the most part, admirably selected. Its range is general.

The real name of Madame Sans-Gene was Therese Ficquer. At the age of eighteen she donned the garb of a French soldier, and for twenty-two years she participated in the military glories of France. With Napoleon's fall her career ended. Her last days were not prosperous. After Napoleon's fall she opened a cook's shop, which failed. In 1818 she married a quartermaster of the gendarmes, a friend of her youth. Eleven years afterward her husband died, leaving her in very poor circumstances. Finally she was compelled to beg a place in a Hospital des Menages, where she dictated her memoirs and died.

POINTS FOR SHOPPERS.

A novelty among ribbons is the stilettoed or perforated sort. These come in pale delicate tints alone.

Black and white are likely to be a livery this year, the ground white, the stripes narrower and closer together than usual.

Big, white wash buttons come to match the white braids of various designs that are shown to trim suits of duck, pique and Galatea.

Tiny Chine flowers, on white grounded glaces, are much used for evening dresses and for blouses, and recall the Dolly Vardens, popular some time since.

A novelty in blouses is made of an India-patterned silk handkerchief, the corners being used to form pointed epaulets and basque, with straps of dark-red velvet over the shoulders.

Linen grenadine is a material of very loose weave, and is shown in brown and wood tones. It is found chiefly at the linen stores and comes in plain, dotted and striped designs.

A waist of soft black silk seen recently was made in a blouse effect, with violet velvet choux or rosettes set in irregular fashion about in its fullness. The collar was of silk, with violet rosettes.

"Angel" sleeves are shown on the tea gowns, those of a cobwebby net with an applique border being very fleecy and halo-like. They (the sleeves) are very long, with wide, fan points, and are most graceful and effective.

LIVE STOCK NOTES.

In country stables there is no excuse for foul odors.

Whatever you would like a pig to be you can have by selecting a boar that is a pattern of what you want.

When horses are kept in dark stables and brought out into the sunlight, the eyes are in great danger of injury.

The temperature of a stable should never go below the freezing point. The proper temperature is about sixty degrees.

Solitary confinement in a dark stable has a tendency to make a horse vicious. It affects the brain, as it does the brain of a human being in such confinement.

When hogs are fed upon alfalfa, they can be finished up nicely on Egyptian corn, and in some sections where alfalfa grows, this corn grows better than any other fat-producing grain.

At the last Smithfield show of England lambs of about 300 days of age tipped the scale at 222 pounds, giving about two-thirds of a pound of growth per day since birth. A fine record.

Young animals should be fed considerable bulk in order to develop the stomach. Heifer calves especially should be fed considerable bulky food. When concentrated food alone is fed, the stomach is contracted.—Farmer's Voice.

NEWSPAPERDOM.

Ten editors are members of the English parliament.

There are twenty-five women running country papers in Kansas.

A Spanish paper in the Pyrenees regularly suspends publication in hot weather.

One undoubted Americanism has taken firm root in England; the Times has adopted "gerrymandering."

In order to foster British commerce with Japan the British Trade Journal has determined to issue a regular quarterly edition in Japanese and to print and publish it in Japan.

Longmans, of London, are starting a new magazine for spotrs, to be called the Badminton Magazine, which will also contain "fiction which possesses a more or less pronounced savor of sport." The editor will be Mr. Alfred Watson, who assisted the duke of Beaufort in editing the Badminton Library.

PROGRESS OF SCIENCE.

A lady in Atchison has a poodle dog which has just been fitted with a glass eye.

Upon the meeting of the 54th Congress each member will find on his desk a button, a pressure upon which will be promptly answered by a page.

Billiard balls of cast steel have been made and used successfully at Stockholm. They are hollow and weigh about as much as the ordinary ivory balls. A lathe is used to turn them to perfect smoothness.

The advance of natural history within the last 100 years has been so great that the science is practically a product of the century. Even as great a naturalist as Linnaeus thought that swallows pass the winter under the ice, and held other beliefs which may now seem equally absurd.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

A DEATH TRAP.

Two Men and a Boy Frightfully Injured on Front Street West—Two of Them Die—James Welch and Charles Howe Are the Unfortunate Victims—McBride Will Live.

Special to the Times.

TORONTO, Aug. 7.—Shortly after three o'clock yesterday a frightful accident occurred on the premises of the W. J. Gage Company at 52 and 54 Front street west. The elevator, which has been in need of some repair, was being adjusted by three of the employes, Charles McBride, head machinist, James Welsh, a lad, and Charles Howe, a deaf mute, when something gave way and the cage, which was at the top of the shaft, fell with a crash to the bottom. McBride, when this occurred, was in the basement, but it is stated that his leg became entwined in a rope and that the falling cage jerked him upwards like lightning and caused a terrific collision when the meeting took place half way up.

The basement, after the first dull crash was over, was filled with the groans of the injured men and the entire establishment was seized with the greatest excitement. Medical men were called up by telephone and soon several were on hand. The terribly crushed men were extricated and laid out on the floor which was soon spotted with their blood.

Welsh and Howe were taken to the General Hospital in an ambulance, where they succumbed to their injuries, Howe dying at 5.50 and Welsh at 9.20. McBride was taken to his house on Major street, where he passed a good night, and was considerably improved this morning. The attending physician entertains hopes of recovery.

McBride has been for nearly a quarter of a century employed by the firm. Howe, the deaf mute, has also served 20 years. Welsh is a young man who has not long ago commenced his service there.

WELSH'S FUNERAL.

The funeral of the boy Welsh, who was killed by the fall of the elevator at W. J. Gage's yesterday, will take place tomorrow afternoon, from his late residence, 10 William street,

THE PROHIBITION APPEAL.

The Agreement in the Case be Closed—Judgment is Reterved.

Special to the Times.

LONDON, Aug. 7.—After hearing the reply of Mr. J. J. McLaren, Q.C., for the appelants, the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council today reserved judgment in the appeal to decide whether the power to pass prohibition liquor legislation belongs to the Federal or to the Provincial authorities in the Dominion.

"SUCH A NICE YOUNG MAN."

Miss Polly Cantwell Would Not Prosecute a Man Who Had Kissed Her by Force.

Special to the Times.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Gustav Plunkett, 23 years old, of No. 103 Manhattan street, was intoxicated yesterday afterkoon. He met Miss Polly Cantwell, a tall, slender, good looking blonde, of Manhattan street, near her home yesterday, threw his arms around her, knocked her down on the sidewalk, and kissed her on the mouth. Policeman Cook, of the West One Hundred and Twenty-fifte Street Station, saw the occurrence, and arrested the young man. He was arraigned in the Harlem Court aud fined $5. The young lady did not press the charge, because he was such a nice young man, she said, and didn't mean any harm.

Druggists say that their sales of Hood's Sarsaparilla exceeds those of all others. There is no substitute for Hood's.

IMPRESSED ON THE MEMORY

That Pond's Extract is without equal for relieving pain, and that no remedy should be accepted as "just as good." And unscrupulous druggists will insist on trying to force upon purchasers weak imitations which are irritating, uncertain and even poisonous, very different from genuine Pond's Extract, which is universally known as a great healer, pacifier and comforter. Nature's own remedy for all pain is genuine Pond's Extract.

Avoid substitutes; accept genuine only, with buff-wrapper and yellow label.

Special to the Times.

HAMILTON, Aug. 8.—John Higgins, aged about 35, who worked for wholesale butchers on the market, was found hanging in a barn on Walbut street this morning by Constable Zeatas. He had attached a clothes line about his neck after fastening it to a rafter in the ceiling. He was cut down in time to save his life and he will probably recover. THE TIDE TURNS.

Great Improvement in the Health of a Well-Known Peterboro' Lady.

PETERBORO, Aug. 5.—General satisfaction is expressed here at the greatly improved condition of health of Mrs. K. Stephens, the well known music teacher of this town. Her friends have been much exercised over her condition for a long time and a number of remedies have been tried during the ten years that she has been a martyr to a complication of complaints, which recently became very severe. She has been taken the new remedy for kidney troubles, Dodd's Kidney Pills, and has already experienced the most beneficial results.

ENLARGES THE USES OF MUSIC.

There is a good deal in the old saw that music will charm the savage breast. It always was possessed of a magnetic power over individuals. To the present age, however, must be credited the greater triumphs in musical directions. And not the least of these is the transposing piano of Heintzman & Co., Toronto, which opens out for vocalists a wide arena of delightful study. The instrument is unique in every particular, and ought to command the study of everyone interested in music, whether professionally or for its individual delights.

Aluminum in Billiard Balls.

A new substitute for ivory as the composition of billiard balls has been discovered in a combination of steel and aluminum, and according to the proprietor of a Chestnut street billiard room, this innovation will soon be introduced into several of the billiard establishments of the city. The new composition will, of course, be much cheaper than ivory, and will be absolutely proof against chipping. The ease with which a draw or "english" could be imparted to the new composition is not known, but the general belief is that the balls will respond much quicker than the ivory ones. Old billiard enthusiasts place no confidence in the invention, but curiosity has attained such proportions that the popularity of the new balls would be assured, at least for a short time. —Philadelphia Record.

Purified Blood

Saved an operation in the following case. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures when all others fail. It makes pure blood.

"A year ago my father, William Thompson, was taken suddenly ill with inflammation of the bladder. He suffered a great deal and was very low for some time. At last the doctor said he would not get well unless an operation was performed. At this time we read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and decided to try it. Before he used half a bottle his appetite had come back to him, whereas before he could eat but little. When he had taken three bottles of the medicine he was as well as ever." FRANCIS J. The garden party at the residence of Mr. Geo. Edmison last night under the auspices of the Y.P.S.C.E. of St. Andrew's church, was largely attended and proved a great success. The Fire Brigade Band was in attendance.

It's Your Own Fault

If you buy a loaf of bread and after taking it home you find it is sour and only half baked. If you insist on getting Bates' you will get a good sweet, healthy loaf. Look for a large "B" stamped on top of every loaf. Walter Bates, manufacturer and proprietor, 654 Stewart street.

A Presentation.

A number of members of the 57th battalion gathered at the residence of Mr. George Matthews last night and presented him with a beautiful marble clock on the occasion of his recent marriage. Speeches were made by Capt. E. F. Mason, adjutant, and others. Mr. Matthews made a suitable reply. A very pleasant evening was spent.

Smashed the Doors.

Chief of Police Bell, of Lindsay, with G. T.R. Constable Harris and County Constable Foster, drove thirty miles northerly and captured a hotel keeper named McEachren, who had previously escaped from custody. Their man fought fiercely, but was overcome, hand cuffed and returned to jail in Lindsay. The officers had to smash in the doors of the house in which McEachren sought refuge.

Nearly a Drowning.

Mr. G. Stewart and Mr. Menzie, of Toronto, who have been enjoying a camping expedition on Rice Lake, arrived in Cobourg this morning, and started to row to Port Hope. They were caught in a squall and their canoe swamped. At the time of the accident they were a mile out from shore. However, they managed to cling to the canoe, and after drifting for an hour reached shore in the vicinity of Mr. C. Stewart's residence. They were in an exhausted condition, and Mr. Menzie was seized with a cramp just as he was dragging himself out of the water. Had he taken the cramp two minutes sooner he would have been lost. Mr. Charles Stewart extended warm-hearted hospitality to the two young men. They lost their tent, guns and everything which their canoe contained.

Health Officers To Meet.

The tenth annual meeting of the Association of Executive Health Officers of Ontario will be held at Belleville on the 14th and 15th of this month, and it is expected that a large number of members will be in attendance. The program which has been prepared for the two days is of a most interesting and instructive character, and includes papers by many of the most prominent physicians in Ontario. Among those who have consented to speak on particular and important topics are Drs. Vaux of Brockville, Kitchen of St. George, J. D. Macdonald of Hamilton, Houtsky of Toronto, Chapman of Toronto, Coventry of Windsor, J. J. Cassidy of Toronto, Hodgetts of Toronto, J. J. Mackenzie of Toronto, and P. H. Bryce of Toronto. Discussions will take place after the reading of each group of papers on cognate subjects. These discussions will be introduced by Dr. Charles Sheard, M.H.O., Toronto; Dr. Henry Howitt, M.H.O., Guelph; Dr. Charles McDonald, H.M.O., Tilsonburg; Dr. M. McCrimmon, Palermo, and others. The Provincial Board of Health will hold a session on Tuesday, the 13th, the day prior to the annual meeting of the health officers.

BURGLARS CAUGHT.

Positively Identified as the Men Who Entered the Convent.

SAFE BLOWERS AS WELL.

THEY WERE IN TOWN PREVIOUS TO THE SAFE BLOWING AND DISAPPEARED THAT MORNING—THOUGHT TO BE TORONTO CROOKS.

The police are confident that they have in custody the gang of burglars who blew open Meldrum & McAllister's safe, and committed several other daring robberies in Peterborough. These men, three in number, have been positively identified as the men who entered the janitor's room at the Covent Notre Dame yesterday morning and robbed the janitor's trunk of $25.

Mr. Mercer, the caretaker, has his room in the rear of the convent. About 10.30 yesterday morning the three suspicious looking characters were observed near St. Peter's Cathedral and were noticed by Miss O'Brien. She informed Mr. Mercer to keep a sharp lookout. He did so, but one of the men managed to slip around to the rear of the convent and enter his room. The other two followed, and it was believed by the watchers that they had gone away.

Such was not the case. The burglars were in Mr. Mercer's room, and there they discovered a trunk which they cut open. Inside the trunk was $25 in money which they secured and then left.

Chief of Police Roszel had noticed the men in the vicinity and he also noticed that some one had broken into the convent. He went with Mr. Mercier and then the evidences of robbery were found.

In the meantime Officer McGinty met one of the men and had a few words with him about loafing around. The officer had no idea that robbery had been committed or he would have arrested the man then and there on suspicion. His interview with the man apparently frightened the thief for he immediately sought his companions and they secreted the money and then repaired to Rountree's hotel, where Officer McGinty arrested them shortly afterwards. When searched they had only a few dollars with them, but shortly before being arrested they changed a $5 bill at Rountree's hotel.

Last night Mr. and Mrs. Friedenburg called at the police station and positively identified the three men as parties whom they seen enter the Convent in the morning. They supposed the men had some business there and never paid any attention to them at the time.

The men gave their names as Duncan McCrae, Ned Sommers and Frank McDermott. They are well known Toronto crooks, if they gave the right names.

The police have found that these men were in Peterborough previous to the robbery at Meldrum & McAllister's, and that they disappeared the day following the blowing open of the safe. They came back several days ago, and are no doubt guilty of several petty robberies that have been committed lately. They spent money freely at several hotels in town.

The police arrested five tramps yesterday on suspicion, but it is not thought they had anything to do with the robberies.

THERE WASN'T A QUORUM.

The Board of Health Didn't Meet Last Night For That Reason.

There was to have been a meeting of the Board of Health last night to take medical evidence regarding Whyte's dam, but as usual there wasn't a quorum. Three members of the Board showed up and sat down and discussed the Manitoba school question and the equine qualities of the new fire horse. It required 5 to constitute a quorum, so there was a great deal of telephoning to members who had 'phones, with the result that at a quarter to nine there was still only 3 members present. Mr. John Burnham representing the owner of the dam, Mr. Owens, and the latter were present. An adjournment was made and all went home. It does seem that nothing short of an epidemic of diphtheria, typhoid, lagrippe, or epizootics will bring the Board of Health together. Seldom is it that a quorum is present at either a regular or special meeting until an hour after the regular time of meeting, if then. Perhaps, if a small army of microbes, commanded by a full grown Typhoid Bacilli, were to form in companies and march and counter march up George street, column right and column left up the residential streets and create a carnival of death in our midst, the Board of Health would meet, and order residents to throw cloride of lime in their garbage barrels, and boil their drinking water. It looks very much as though the Board of Health needed a good shaking up.

COAL UP A QUARTER.

No Prospect However of any Further Advances.

Anthracite coal advanced Wednesday to $4 75 a ton.

"There is no further prospect of a rise," said Mr. Elias Rogers to the News, "and this winter will likely see cheap coal. I don't think it will go over $5, and perhaps not to that. It is really worth more money than it is now being sold for."—News.

THE CONSTITUTION

Discussed Fully by the Emerald Benevolent Association.

The Emerald Benevolent Association spent yesterday morning in the hall at the corner of Queen and McCaul streets in discussing the proposed amendments to constitution. The matter was unfinished when the convention rose.

In the afternoon the members enjoyed a hack drive. The evening session was taken up with the election of officers and the reports of the Finance and Executive Committees.

AUBURN'S VICTORY.

Lindsay's Crack Team Vanquished by Our Suburban Baseballists.

The Auburn base ball club went to Lindsay yesterday and played an exciting game of ball with the Lindsay players, and succeeded in winning the game after a hard struggle. There has been considerable rivalry between Peterborough and Lindsay in base ball circles, and when the Peterborough's were worsted in Lindsay they felt their defeat very keenly. The victory of the Auburns has somewhat retrieved the position of this town as regards supremacy on the diamond. The teams lined up as follows:

PETERBOROUGH		LINDSAY
Tighe	2nd base	Clate Andrews
McAuliffe	left field	Burke
McCabe	Pitcher	Hamilton
O'Brien	Catcher	Clar Andrews
Welsh	1st base	Robinson
Parnell	short stop	Walters
Thompson	right field	Stalker
Kemp	3rd base	Reeves
Arsnault	centre field	Sinclair

By innings—		RUNS
Auburn	1 3 0 2 0 0 0 6 5	17
Lindsay	6 3 0 0 0 0 0 4 2	15

Grand Trunk Constable Robert Harrison of Toronto, returned from Lindsay, where he had an interesting wrestling match with a Waterloo, N.Y., man named Conner. Harrison in his first round downed his opponent, but in the second and third was vanquished.

The arena at Dallas, Texas, where Corbett will, in all probability meet Fitzsimmons is in seating capacity only second in size to the great Roman Coliseum. It will seat 63,000 people, and President Stuart expects to see it well filled on Oct. 31, the date of the great fight. The Florida Athletic Club has hung up a $41,000 purse for the contest, and each boxer has backed himself for the additional sum of $10,000.

The following team will comprise the Athletics who go to Cobourg today:

McMahon, goal; Lynch, point; Brown, cover point; Jno. McDonough, 1st defence; Thompson, 2nd defence; Jos. McDonough, 3rd defence; T. McDonough, centre; Hickey 3rd home; Rubidge, 2nd home; Lipsett, 1st home; Galley, outside home; Glover, inside home.

YOUNG GOES TO GOTHAM.

Fred W. Young, the Wanderers' flyer, who is known as the "pocket Hercules" by his diminutiveness, will make his debut as a professional bicyclist at Manhattan Beach, on Saturday. Many Toronto cyclists were of the opinion that Young would never race with the big cracker jacks, but they are astray, for Freddy left for Gotham this morning. He is accompanied by Mr. Maddocks, the young man who has been looking after him for some time. Young is sanguine of success. Before leaving he stated that he would return to Toronto for the professional meet at the island on Civic holiday.

Young's challenge to John S. Johnson, which appeared in the morning papers, was a surprise to the majority of Toronto riders, and has created no small amount of talk.

C. D. McDonald, Madoc, is in town, representing the Peterborough and Madoc lacrosse clubs. He is carrying on negotiations with the Tecumseh Lacrosse Club with a view to induce the crack city team to tour Central Ontario during August 17, 18, 19 and 20. Vice-President Thompson will probably take a strong intermediate twelve down drawn from the 1st and 2nd Tecumsehs.—Toronto News.

As an evidence of the depressed condition of the horse market, we might state that one day last week John Hartwick offered his fast trotting nag, harness and rig—a complete family turnout—for $10, with no takers. This shows a stringent money market or lack of enterprise on the part of our horse fanciers.—Lindsay Post.

An accident of a peculiar kind entailed the loss on Saturday morning last of a fine horse belonging to Mr. Thos. Brown, of Colborne. The animal would not become familiar with a bicycle, but in order in possible to bring about that result, Mr. Brown tied it with a rope to a tree on his premises while a bicyclist capered around. It became very much excited, and pulled until the rope snapped causing it to tumble over and sustain injuries which resulted in his death.

A story was recently told of how a preacher tested the effect of the hard times upon his congregation. At the conclusion of one of his sermons he said: "Let everybody in the house who pay their debts stand up." Instantly every man, woman and child, with one exception, arose to their feet. He seated the crowd, and then said: "Let every man who is not paying his debts stand up." The exception noted, a careworn, hungry individual, clothed in his last summer suit, slowly assumed a perpendicular position and leaned upon the back of the seat in front of him. "How is it, my friend," inquired the minister, "that you are the only man in this large congregation who is unable to meet his obligations?" "I publish a newspaper," he meekly replied, "and my brethern here, who have just stood up are my subscribers, and——" "Let us pray!" exclaimed the minister.

ABOUT CANADA'S HARVEST.

Satisfactory in the North-west Crop Generally Light.

The weather map for July, which has just been issued by the meteorological service of the Dominion, states that hurricanes are likely to be encountered from July to October on the great Lakes. The rainfall in the Dominion, with the exception of the North-west, was less than the average, the greatest deficiency being on Vancouver Island, and in Ontario near the shore of Lake Huron.

Grain and hay crops on the mainland everywhere are excellent in the North-west, and the other crops are likewise satisfactory. Fruit in the west will be scarce, on account of the late frosts. From the western portion of Ontario the reports are quite favorable. Wheat is considered slightly below the average, other grain crops fair, while hay is light. In the southern part of the peninsula the hay crop is much better. All crops are generally better in the northern section of Eastern Ontario. Quebec farmers expect to gather in a fair harvest.

BIG PROFITS —ON— SMALL INVESTMENTS

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our SYSTEMATIC PLAN OF SPECULATION.

Originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who, by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOFS, also our Manual on Successful Speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

A WONDERFUL INVENTION FOR WOMEN.

Nothing proves so uniformly successful in restoring health and happiness to worn-out women as the simple, safe and satisfactory home treatment afforded by Dr. Petit's Patent Electric Battery. It re-animates the languid body, cures all complaint, and vitalizes the important functions. This little gem is for women only, the price $5 00. A Metal Breadboard

THE WOMAN WHO HAS BEEN USED to kneading dough on the old fashioned wooden breadboard knows what a bother it is to get them clean and how cumbersome and heavy they are. When they begin to crack or check its almost impossible to thoroughly cleanse them, and they may easily become dangerous coveyances of disease. It was left for a woman, of course, to remedy this state of affairs, and Mrs. M. M. Everhard, of St. Joseph, Mich., has patented a metal bread-board, which is one of the greatest labor-savers imaginable. It is light, does not absorb grease, dough does not adhere to it, and while it possesses all the advantages of the marble bread-board it is much cheaper and, of course, far lighter and easier to handle. If readers want to confer a favor upon their wives they will be forever appreciated, let them send $1 to the manufacturers 161 Bay street Toronto, for one of these boards.

A MURDER MOST FOUL.

AN ITALIANS TERRIBLE EXECUTION WITH THE STILETTO.

Jilted and Crazed by Love He Leaps Upon His Victims in the Street in Broad Daylight—The Unfortunate Girls Shockingly Cut Up.

Special to The Times.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9—A double tragedy was enacted on the sidewalk in front of No. 325 East 88th street, at five minutes after four o'clock this afternoon, when an Italian stabbed two women with a stilleto, inflicting wounds from which both will die. The assassin is Philippo Giarnpata, 47 years old, a shoemaker. His victims are Kate Neil, 18 years of age, and her sister, Rosa, 27 years old. The sisters were walking down East 88th street, on their way home, while Giarnpata stood in hiding in the vestibule of No. 325 waiting for them. In his hand he held a stilleto, eight inches in length and placed in an awl handle. As the two women reached the stoop of the house he sprang from his hiding place, with a shout and a curse, and, siezing Kate by the throat, plunged the weapon into her left breast, near the heart. The wounded woman screamed in agony and her sister called for help. Withdrawing the stilleto, which had sunk to the hilt in the woman's breast, the assassin plunged it again and again into his victim. Giarnpata then turned to and seizing her by the throat drove the stilleto into her body over and over again. When be bad completed his murderous work he started to run away, but before he reached the corner he was taken into custody by the police. An ambulance was called and both the girls were taken to the Presbyterian Hospital. There it was stated that Kate, who had seven wounds, one near the heart and the others in her arms, back and breast, could not possibly survive. Rosa, who had received nine wounds, the most serious being one in the back, near the spine, may recover. About two years ago Kate Neil, then but 16 years old, met Giarnpata and fell in love with him. Although he had a wife living,

ROSA WHO STOOD PARALYZED WITH FEAR

GIARNPATA MADE HER PRESENTS

and spent much of his time with her and finally betrayed her. The intimacy was maintained till some time last May, when they quarrelled and separated. Giarnpata kept the baby which was the result of their intimacy and would not give it to her, hoping by that means to force her to return to him, but she would have no more to do with him. He pursued her with his attentions, following her on the streets, till, on the 2nd of July, she procured a warrant for his arrest. He was taken into custody, but the magistrate discharged him upon his promising not to annoy her any more. He still persisted in annoying her and yesterday she again caused his arrest. When arraigned before Magistrate Mott Kate complained that he annoyed her when he met her on the street and that he persisted in asking her to return to him. The magistrate held him in $500 to keep the peace. Less than an hour later he committed the crime.

ROUND THE CURVE TO DEATH.

Awful Railway Smash-up — Crushed to a Pulp.

Special to the Times.

PLYMOUTH, N.H., Aug. 9.—One of the worst collisions that ever occurred in the White Mountain division of the Boston and Maine railway took place at 9.40 this morning. Three men were killed, several injured and 10 or 15 passengers received a severe shaking up. Train No. 64, Cannon Ball express, due in Boston at 9 40, left Plymouth on time at 5.35. It consisted of an engine, baggage car and two passenger coaches. About one mile south of here when rounding the curve at the Kensington interval, the train ran into an extra, freight, north bound. The two trains met with a fearful crash. The engines were completely demolished both were thrown over a 20 foot embankment, and 14 freight cars were destroyed. The bodies were fearfully mangled and so scalded as to be unrecognized. The killed are Engineer Stevens and Fireman Carroll, of the Cannon Ball, and Firemen Gilnes of the freight. Several of the injured may die. The orders of the movement of the two trains were given by the despatcher at Woodsville, and it is not known who blundered.

A Labor Meeting In Chicago Winds Up In a Free Fight.

Special to the Times.

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—The Knights of Labor Garment Works closed their convention in this city yesterday, and last night held a mass meeting which broke up in a free fight, during which one man was thrown down a flight of stairs, another was struck on the head with a chair, and a third was all but killed by a mob which jumped on him. The fight was precipitated by garment workers who are affiliated with the American Federation of Labor and who had been invited to attend the meeting. The Knights were driven from the hall and the meeting was continued under the auspices of the rival organization.

FELL IN THE SLIDE.

Drowning of a Young Man in a Tail Race at Buckingham.

Special to the Times.

BUCKINGHAM, Aug. 9.—Daniel Cooligan, one of the sawmill hands, has mysteriously disappeared, About 5 o'clock p.m. he was seen, gaff in hand, going to break a jam in a refuse slide which empties into the tail race. The supposition is that he slipped into the water and is drowned. A large number of people are assisting in the search for his body. The missing boy is a son of of Mr. John Cooligan, of the West Ward. Up to 8 p.m. the body had not been found.

Opinion of the Rising.

LONDON, Aug. 9.—Mr. Waters, formerly British Consul at Foo Chow, where he resided for 30 years, attributes the recent massacre in China partly to the demonstration arising over the Japanese victory over China and partly to the absolute collapse of the Chinese.

FEAR CHOLERA!

It is Now the Most Dreaded Foe of the Missionaries — Another Outrage But in Turkey this Time.

Special to the Times.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 9.—The ravages of the cholera in Japan are set forth this week in a letter received by the friends of Miss Annie Davis, of this city, a missionary in Japan, Heretofore, Miss Davis states, the cholera has been confined to certain places and densely populated districts. But, owing to the war, the soldiers have scattered everywhere, and in their tracks the cholera has followed until safety is found almost nowhere.

Miss Davis, who is located at Tokio, has gone without her friends to the mountains for the heated months. Articles of food hitherto prized by the missionaries during their brief rests in the mountains have been the fruit brought from the near towns. This season the fruit cannot and must not be touched. It is so largely impregnated with cholera germs that it is perilous to partake of it. Of perils from the sword, the missionaries in Japan, Miss Davis states, stand in no danger.

AMERICAN MISSION ATTACKED.

THE OUTRAGE IS NOT IN CHINA THIS TIME BUT ASIA MINOR.

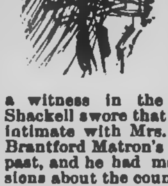
CONSTANTINOPE, Aug. 9. — Advices received here from Tarsus, Asia Minor, say that a mob has attacked the American mission school at that place, maltreated several of the students and threatened the missionaries. No details of the affair have yet reached here.

A SENSATIONAL CASE.

SHACKELL CHARGES MATRON WATTS WITH PERJURY.

He Has Laid an Information and Many Witnesses Will be Called to Sustain His Charges —That Brantford Shooting Case.

Special to The Times.



TORONTO, August 9.—There will be a sensational trial for perjury in Brantford arising out of the Watts-Shackell shooting affair, exclusively reported yesterday, in which several well known Torontonians will figure as witnesses.

When in the box as a witness in the shooting case Fred Shackell swore that he had been criminally intimate with Mrs. Mary Watts, of the Brantford Matron's Home, for some time past, and he had made numerous excursions about the country with her, the lady passing as his wife. Shackell swore that they had visited Buffalo, Hamilton, Tilsonburg, St. Thomas, Galt, Woodstock and Toronto. In this city he said he introduced Mrs. Watts to several well-known citizens as Mrs. Shackell.

Mrs. Watts strenuously denied Shackell's story, to which she gave a flat contradiction, and her denial is believed by her numerous friends.

The matter will not, however, end here, as an information for perjury has been laid by Shackell against Mrs. Watts for the purpose of proving the statements made by the former, and witnesses from several places will be summoned among the Torontonians being Robert Bond, George Thompson, brother-in-law of Mort Keachie, Fred Strowger and E. Clancy.

Shackell lived in Toronto for a year, during which time he was coachman for J. K. Osborne, vice-president of the Massey-Harris Company.

TO RESIST THE MORA CLAIM.

A Possibility of Trouble Between Spain and the United States.

Special to the Times.

MADRID, Aug. 9.—At a meeting of the Carlisle and Republican Deputies today the members present pledged the two parties to oppose the payment of the Mora claim of $1,5000,000 and which payment the United States Government threatens to enforce. In addition, it was decided to send a petition to the Queen regent against the decision of the Government to pay the claims and, if these steps were not successful in preventing the payment, the deputies decided to issue a manifesto to the nation.

SETTLED OUT OF COURT.

A Case That Was Expected to Have Some Spicy Evidence.

Special to the Times.

LONDON, Aug. 9.—A swell crowd of people assembled in the court room of the Queen's Bench Division of the High Court of Justice in expectation of some interesting developments during the second day's hearing of the suit for damages brought by Mrs. Jacoby against the Dowager Countess Cowley, whom the plaintiff charges with slander in alleging that she had written anonymous and obscene letters to parties. But the crowd was disappointed, for it was announced that the case had been settled privately and that both parties had agreed to withdraw the allegations made.

GLASS IN SOUP.

What "Doc" Erb of Stratford is Said to Have Given His Family.

Special to the Times.

STRATFORD, Aug. 9.—A warrant is out for the arrest of "Doc" Erb, an old quack doctor, who is accused of giving his family ground glass in soup. Erb is said to have skipped the country.

One of the girls of the family, Mary Erb, is so ill this morning that it is doubtful if she can recover, so her doctor says. She complains of shooting pains in the stomach as if a knife were inserted. She is also suffering from inflammation of the bowels.

A FIRE-BUG CONFESSES.

INCENDIARY CHARLES JENKINS OF MONTREAL TURNS QUEEN'S EVIDENCE.

He Admits Under Oath That He was an Accessory Before the Fact to the Boyd, Gillies & Co. Fire.

Special to The Times.

MONTREAL, Aug. 9.—There was another sensational phase in the Boyd, Gillies & Co. incendiary case in the Police Court yesterday afternoon, when Electrician Charles Jenkins, one of the two prisoners, turned Queen's evidence. The Crown prosecutor offered to withdraw the charge against him, but Judge Desnoyers asked for a plea. Jenkins pleaded guilty as an accessory before the fact, and was then put in the witness box.

JACKSON'S CONFESSION.

The witness said that he had known Haynes for more than two years, and knew the premises of Boyd, Gillies & Co. and remembered the fire there. He said that Haynes had purchased some material to be used in firing premises. The material consisted of linseed oil, methylated spirits and cotton waste, and was delivered at the store of Boyd, Gillies & Co. This was in the first week in May. He saw the material there on May 25th, when witness distributed it in the cellar and on the first flat. Haynes was around at the time—that is, he was in the building. Witness distributed this substance at the instigation of Haynes, to destroy the stock and building by fire. This was between 8 a.m. and 2 p.m. on May 25. This substance came from room 21, Atlantic chambers, No. 209 Commissioner street, occupied by Haynes. Haynes had said he had got the linseed oil at Ramsay's. This substance was also spread around the building.

FIRE ON SUNDAY MORN.

Haynes and the witness had many conversations before the date regarding the firing of these buildings. He said business was bad and the destruction of the buildings would end the lease. Witness left the premises about 3 o'clock in the afternoon. There was an arrangement that the fire would take place between 6 and 7 o'clock the following morning. Witness did not go that morning, because he was kept at work until after nine o'clock. The witness knew the fire came off on Sunday morning. Two or three days after he had spoken to Haynes to the effect that the fire had gone off very well, and done its work well. Jenkins said the books of the firm, three in number, were given him by Haynes. The largest, which was the ledger, was to be destroyed by order of Mr. Boyd, and the others were to be kept at the disposal of Haynes. Witness identified a note of Boyd, Gillies & Co. endorsed by Haynes and given to him by Haynes.

Court then adjourned until this morning.

TORONTO MAN MISSING.

HE IS WANTED ON THE CHARGE OF SETTING FIRE TO THE OSGOODBY BUILDING.

William McMillan is His Name and Detroit Police Cannot Find Him—Toronto Detectives are After Him But his Whereabouts Cannot be Learned.

Special to the Times.

DETROIT, Aug. 9.

SEVERAL days ago the local detective bureau received a letter from the authorities at Toronto asking that William McMillan, who is wanted there on a charge of arson, be arrested. It is claimed that he set the big fire in the Osgoodby building last January in order to cover up the accounts of goods that the firm for which he worked did not know had been sold. It was stated in the letter that McMillan lived on Abbott street, but detectives were unable to find him or any person who knew anything about such a man. From other information the officers came to the conclusion that McMillan was the man who killed himself at Battle Creek, and the Toronto authorities were so notified.

The Detroit police are evidently wrong in their interference, as the McMillan who was killed at Battle Creek has been identified as another man altogether.

Jenkins swore today that he was induced to do so by stories on the part of the detectives to the effect that his immediate associate, Haynes, had already confessed. He also swore that he had been plied with drinks and cigars.

BLAZING TIMBER.

$500.000 Worth Burned at Ogdensburg—Ontario Firemen Fighting the Fire.

Special to the Times.

OGDENSBURG, N.Y., Aug. 9—At 3.30 this morning fire started in the lumber piles of the Skillings, Whitney & Barnes Lumber Company, in the eastern part of this town. The local fire department was inadequate to cope with the conflagration, and at 6 o'clock the department from Prescott, Ont., arrived in response to appeals for assistance.

The flames in the lumber yard could not be checked, and from ten to twelve million feet of pine lumber has already been destroyed. It is valued at $500,000.

If the favorable wind continues it will enable the fire fighters to save the elevator with its contents, which are valued at a million dollars. The ware, freight and manufacturing buildings and coal piles near the Central Vermont depot are also believed to be safe.

INJUNCTING THE A. P. A.

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 9.—An injunction case has been brought by the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners against the appointees of the A.P.A. combine to restrain the latter from usurping the administration of the office until the Supreme Court can decide the controversy.

A TALE OF BLOODSHED

A SURVIVOR TELLS OF THE MASSACRE AT KU-CHUNG.

Women and Children Were Cut Down by the Bloodthirsty Band of Chinese Fanatics—Pleas For Mercy were Unheeded—Cruelty and Torture.

Special to the Times.

FOO CHOW, CHINA, Aug. 8.

AN American missionary, Dr. Gregory, who escaped from Ku Cheng, gives the following account of the massacre there: "At 12.30 p. m. on Thursday, Aug. 1, a native Christian rushed into my study saying that several of the foreign ladies at Hwasang, a mountain resort about 12 miles from the city of Ku Cheng, had been killed that morning and that two houses had been burned. Fifteen minutes later a note from Mr. Philipps confirmed this. He wrote that five ladies were dead, the stewards were missing and four persons were seriously wounded. He expressed the hope that I was then on my way to Hwasang. I immediately went into the Yamen, where hundreds of the excited native had already gathered, and requested the district magistrate, Wong, to send some soldiers at once to Hwasang to protect those still living. In half an hour the magistrate went to Hwasang under the escort of about 40 soldiers.

WOMEN CUT WITH SWORDS.

"The injured, excepting Mr. Phillips arrived there only two or three days before, and were lodging at a native house some distance from the English cottages. I was delayed in Ku Cheng, owing to the fact that the Coolies refused to carry chairs. On my arrival I set to work to make the injured as comfortable as possible. Miss Codrington received many sword cuts on the face. Miss Mabel C. Hartford of the Methodist mission, the only American residing in Hwasang at the time, who was living in a small native house some 20 rods from the English cottages, was attacked by one assassin armed with a trident. She received a slight cut in the lobe of the right ear, and was thrown to the ground and beaten about the lower extremeties and body. While the murderer was engaged in this attack, a servant grappled with the assailant and during the struggle Miss Martford escaped.

"Mildred Stewart, aged 12 years, and Kathleen Stewart, 11 years old, each received several slight wounds. Herbert Stewart, 6 years old, was killed. He was badly wounded. Evan Stewart, 3 years old, was stabbed in the left thigh. His condition is not serious. Baby Stewart, 13 months old, has a severe injury to the right eye, a small penetrating wound in the left frontal region. The injuries probably will prove fatal.

MURDERED AND THE HOUSE BURNED.

"Of those killed, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart, Nellie Saunders and Lena Bellow, an Irish nurse, were almost wholly incinerated in the burned house. In all probability they were murdered before the house was burned. Hessie Newcomb was cut on the left cheek and left hand, and then was thrown over a steep embankment, where we recovered the body. Miss Marshall's throat was frightfully cut, and there was a deep sword wound in the left wrist. Miss Gordon received a deep spear wound in the face, another in the side of the neck, one on the right side af the head. Topsy Saunders' death was caused by a spear wound on the right side of the head, the weapon entering the brain. The last three bodies were lying in one heap.

LIKE A BOLT FROM THE BLUE.

"This frightful massacre was done by members of the secret society known as the Veterians, who have been causing much trouble alike to Christians and heathens in and around Ku Cheng City. From various reports of those who saw the attack, I believe that about 80 men were engaged. They were armed with spears and swords, and seemed strongly organised under one chief leader. The attack came like a thunderbolt out of a clear sky. Thirty minutes from the time of the onslaught commenced not a single Vegetarian was to be seen near the grounds of the massacre. Mr. Phillips and I worked all the latter part of the night placing the remains in coffins. We finished the sorrowful duty about 8 p.m. on the second, and fearing to longer remain on the scene, we undertook to secure transportation to Suikow."

A SIKH ESCORT

WILL GUARD THE BRITISH CONSUL WHILE INQUIRING INTO THE OUTRAGES.

LONDON, Aug. 8.—A despatch to the Pall Mall Gazette from Shanghai says that further and reliable news of an alarming nature has been received there. It is stated that financial outbreaks against the Christians have occurred at Ching Chow, a seaport of the Province of the Province of Fo Kien and at Hupeh, Taiping and An Hui. These outbreaks, it is added, are not merely the work of Vegetarians, but they are said to be organized and carried out by the Chinese officials. The extent of the damage done, it appears, is not yet known, but the foreigners are reported to have escaped. Owing to the unsettled state of the province 200 Sikhs, reliable Indian troops, from Hong Kong, will escort the British Consul from Foo Chow to Ku Cheng, where the Consul will conduct an enquiry into the recent outrages. In conclusion, the Shanghai correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette expresses the opinion that further outrages are inevitable unless the Great Britain "takes swift and deadly vengeance."

In regard to the despatches from Hong Kong announcing that the British and American missions at Fat-Shan, near Canton, were attacked yesterday afternoon by a large and infuriated mob which demolished the hospitals and caused some of the missionaries to flee to Shameen, it is stated that the Wesleyan mission has one of the most important medical missions in China at Fat-Shan. The hospital and station are under the charge of Dr. Wanyon, who has just arrived here after a perilous overland journey during which he was arrested in Armenia as a spy. The rest of the mission staff of the Wesleyan mission at Fat-Shan are Chinese. They were attacked a few years ago, upon which occasion a missionary was killed. A representative of the Associated Press had an interview with Mr. W. W. Rockhill, Third Assistant Secretary of State of the United States, who was one of the delegates to the recent International Geographical Congress, and who returns to New York on Saturday next. Referring to the massacres in China, Mr. Rockhill said he thought it was a great mistake for the missionaries to have returned so soon to the outlying stations after the war, especially as they had been warned of the danger of so doing. Mr. Rockhill could not say anything about what the United States and the British Government might be expected to do under the circumstances, but he expressed himself as being certain that the diplomatic representatives of the different counties interested would make a common cause of some cases, as they did when the Swedish missionaries were murdered at Sang Pu.

STERN ACTION IS DEMANDED.

HONG KONG, Aug. 8.—At a public indignation meeting, just held here, resolutions were passed expressing anger at the supposed connivance of the Chinese Government in the Ku-Cheng massacres and disgust at the apathy and indifference of the British Government in failing to recognize the gravity of the situation. Those present at the meeting further declared that money compensation for such outrages is inadequate and that swift and stern action is required.

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 8.—Bishop Galloway, of this city, yesterday received a cablegram from Rev. Drs. Parker and Reid, of Shanghai, China, which read as follows: "Horrible massacre. More danger. Move Washington."

LADIES' BATHING SUITS.

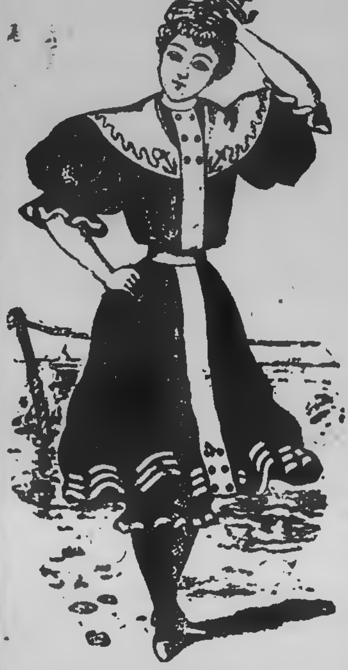
A Suit in Which the Devotees of Father Neptune Will Feel Comfortable.

The fair devotees of Father Neptune will be greatly rejoiced to find at last in this a suit in which they may feel attractively clad as well as genuinely comfortable and free from strain. This debonnaire young woman stands ready for her morning dip in a charming costume of black and white flannel.

It is cut after the latest mode, the waist and trousers being in one piece, thus suspending all the weight from the shoulders, which has been pronounced by eminent authorities the only healthy arrangement.

The full blouse-waist droops gracefully over a white flannel belt, and is finished at the neck with a broad, square, hand-embroidered collar of white flannel, which discloses a V of black flannel in front, almost covered by the applied box-pleat of white flannel, which reaches to the belt and is trimmed at the top with large pearl buttons.

The sleeves consist of full puffs extending to the elbow, and are finished with a frill edged with white flannel. The fullness of the trousers is confined at the knee with an elastic drawing-string, and they are also finished with a frill edged with white.



READY FOR HER MORNING DIP.

The skirt, which buttons to the waistband of the waist and trousers, is straight and full, and trimmed about its lower edge with three parallel rows of white flannel, and down the centre of the front with an applied box-pleat, also of white flannel, trimmed with six large pearl buttons, carrying out the idea of decoration shown on the waist. It is finished at the waist with a belt of white flannel, which fastens invisibly at the back, and the rest of the suit fastens in the centre of the front.

Serge, heptonette cloth, Jersey cloth, brilliantine, silk, cashmere, etc., will develop this mode attractively, and it may be variously trimmed or plainly completed, as dictated by the individual fancy.

FASHIONS AND FABRICS.

Goods That Make the Air Seem Fresher by Their Own Freshness.

With the advent of summer all shoppers have one cry, "Something cool!" and in their search for this blessed thing they cast their eyes upon counters piled with transparent lawns and dimities, delicately tinted ginghams, batistes and challis that make the air seem fresher by their own freshness.

Elegance, elaborateness and costliness seem to be the leading characteristics of imported models. Any woman who prices the beautiful confections displayed at the leading stores will soon become convinced that there is no possibility of being economical if she wishes to possess them.

The prettiest wash materials are the batistes. This family has increased and multiplied; and where it was formerly to be had only in white and ecru, it is now seen in every variety and shade—white, pink, blue, mauve, tan, red and black; sometimes plain, sometimes striped, but oftenest covered with sprays of flowers, single blossoms, vines, dots, fleur-de-lys and conventional figures. This material is so soft and light that it cannot fall ungracefully, and deserves to be even more popular than it is for constant wear in hot weather.

One sees a great deal of silk of the lighter kinds, and the India, Chinese and Japanese silks are cheap enough for even the most modest purse. These have the advantage of being washable if simply made, and in any case can be cleaned for a trifling sum. A pretty dress of Japanese silk was recently seen made of electric blue with a cherry-blossom figure of white and pink scattered thickly over it. The skirt was made with a Spanish flounce, at the bottom of which were full ruffles of half-inch yellow Valenciennes to a depth of two and a half inches; the heading of the flounce was a double row of similar ruffles. The bodice was full of the popular blouse pattern and full ruffings of narrow Valenciennes were placed upon it lengthwise at intervals of about an inch. A yoke was simulated by close rufflings of the lace, which also formed the collar. The sleeves had a large upper puff, full gatherings of the lace winding in serpentine fashion around the plain lower portion and ending in a chou on the inner seam at the elbow. The belt was of shirred silk, very tight. With this was worn a black straw hat with two rows of yellow lace running around the brim, and a bunch of bluets at one side of the crown.

Another very sweet toilette was of old-rose faille. The waist was made with a blouse effect, two box-pleats laid close together providing the fullness. A bolero jacket of handsome lace was made with a deep revers forming a round collar reaching from the neck to the sleeves and across the back. To this was attached a draped collar of silk ending in a small chou at each side. The sleeves were of gigot design, and not very full. In place of a belt were found four rows of lace-beading with blue ribbon run through it, and from this a deep flounce of lace fell over the hips. The skirt was trimmed around the bottom by a deep flounce of lace with a heading of wide blue ribbon laid in folds, and broken at short distances by knots and ends of narrower ribbon.

BERLIN, August 8.—When August Kerchinski, held on a charge of murder, was searched at the jail a pocket knife was found on him, one of the blades of which had stains on it which will be examined to ascertain if they were made by human blood.

When the knife was taken from Kerchinski he called attention to these marks, explaining that he used the blade to cut his tobacco and that these were tobacco stains, but a very casual examination shows that this statement at least is incorrect, whatever else may be the fact.

When seen yesterday he protested his innocence and told of his movements on Sunday and when asked about the scratches on his face he explained that he got the wound on his forehead from the bough of an apple tree on Sunday. The one across his nose was the result of coming in contact with some bushes on Saturday. He rubbed the skin off his cheek while shaving and the mark under his left eye had been there, he said, for two weeks.

ALWAYS PAID FOR HIS BERRIES.

Regarding the quarrel in the berry patch Kirchinski said he had always paid Jeannerette ten cents a quart for the fruit he had had, and that when he met Jeannerette on this occasion he asked him what he owed him and why his woman couldn't go into the patch. What followed was about as already reported, but Kirchinski declared most vehemently that neither of them were mad, and that no threats were made in serious anger.

He said he always got along well with Jeannerette and had no reason for killing him.

The daughters and the wife of the prisoner were seen at their own home and they corroborated their father regarding the scratches on his face.

THEY SAY HE'S NOT GUILTY.

In addition to speaking of the marks on their father's face they declared that he did not go into the bush at all last Sunday afternoon, but that they brought the cattle in, and he tended them afterwards. They further urged the impossibility of their father's guilt. "For," said the eldest girl, "Jeannerette didn't leave Hagey's till 2 o'clock, and father was back at Mr. Detweller's for mother by 3.20."

BUNGLING OFFICIALS.

In connection with the preliminary steps of the trial there appears to have been considerable bungling by the officials.

The coroner's court was hurried through without a post mortem being held, and without the evidence of several important witnesses. The verdict reached was to the effect that deceased had been murdered by some persons or persons unknown, and a rider was added calling upon the Government to prosecute further inquiries.

Then when the prisoner was brought before Magistrate Mackay, of Breslau, he was committed for trial without any evidence being taken, and at once despatched to the jail here. The mistake of committing instead of remanding probably arose through the similarity of the forms used, and the difficulty was got over by Mr. Mackay withdrawing his order in favor of Mr. Mackie's warrant. Upon this latter the prisoner was brought up this afternoon before both Magistrates in the jailor's office and formally remanded for a week.

The Ontario Government has been asked to send a detective to work on the case.

HAMILTON, Aug. 8.—John Higgins, aged about 35, who worked for wholesale butchers on the market, was found hanging in a barn on Walbut street this morning by Constable Zeatas. He had attached a clothes line about his neck after fastening it to a rafter in the ceiling. He was cut down in time to save his life and he will probably recover. He gives as a reason for his rash act that his lover, Mrs. Mary Foley, with whom he boarded, had been untrue to him and he wanted to die.

The Times.

PETERBOROUGH, AUGUST 10 1895.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell, a despatch says, is holding an important conference on the Manitoba School question in Vancouver. The place for such a conference should be Winnipeg and the time six months ago.

A doctor, writing in the periodical called Medicine, says that milk is unfit for food—that it is indigestible and cannot be properly assimilated. There are so many doctors who can give points to the Almighty!

Talking about the Ontario Bank reminds me of a remark I heard dropped by one of the leading financial men in Toronto one day this week. He was speaking about Mr. Chas. McGill, the new manager of the bank. "He's feeling his way," he said, "and mastering the situation before he moves. He's a nice fellow, he's a clever fellow, and should make a good manager."

At the last session of the Florida legislature an act was passed making it a criminal offence for a white child to attend a school where the colored youth are being educated. It is said that it was specially intended to destroy a school at Orange Park, which is supported by the American Missionary Association, and prevent the training of competent instructors of colored youth among their own number.

Immediately after the failure of the Banque du Peuple of Montreal, $100,000 of gold was withdrawn from the United States Treasury for shipment to Canada. This week another $100,000 has been withdrawn, for the same purpose, is the United States Treasury sustaining the paper issues of the Dominion as well as those of this Government?

These horseless carriages are getting to be commonly used in France, and they have been introduced into England. The London Engineer, emulating what has been done in France, has offered prizes to the amount of $5,500 to be contested for by kerosene and other motor vehicles to be built in England, a committee of business men and engineering experts having been organized to report on the the test. What with the bicycle and the motor carriage the horse is indeed in danger of becoming obsolete.

Until 1867 the law in Great Britain provided that an election should follow immediately after the death of sovereign. The Reform Bill did away with such a regulation, but it only applied to England and Wales, and the provision is still in force in Ireland and Scotland. The present government seems likely to see the death of Queen Victoria, and a half election would be very awkward. At the same time, the delicacy of the subject, now that the Queen is growing old, almost precludes any statutory change in the regulations.

The Postoffice Department of Canada controls 731 banks, and has more than 26 million dollars entered as deposits. This system was established in 1868, with 81 banks, but in one year the number had increased to 231 banks, with $850,000 as deposits. The system cost but 0.24 per cent. last year, and there are now 120,628 accounts. During recent years on account of lowering of the interests, other banks have competed with the Government's system, and during the last year only seven and a half millions were added, which is 30,000 less than the increase in the year previous.

The cheapness with which these carriages can be run is not the least surprising thing about them. In a letter to the Hamilton Spectator written by Mr. J. H. Killey, he says: "A four-seated high-road vehicle runs over all grades with one cent's worth of oil per mile, in France where oil is very much more costly than it is here." Mr. Killey explains that the carriages are not run by steam but "by a mixture of one part kerosene vapor and ten or twelve parts of atmospheric air expanded on a piston by an incandescent platinum wire in the cylinder. This produces the same effect as steam at a pressure of 150 to 180 pounds and at about one third the cost. There is pressure on the cylinders and consequently no danger."

THE LIME JUICE CLUB.

REGULAR WEEKLY MEETING OF THIS CHASE SOCIETY.

The Business Transacted at the Hall of Wisdom Last Night — Large and Enthusiastic Gathering of Members.

After taking his seat, and opening the meeting in the usual orthodox manner, the President read a letter from Bro. Lemonade Gall, of Keene, inviting the members of the Club going or returning from the east to make his house their home at ten per cent. discount from regular rates. In case the Club came in a body, he would make a still greater reduction and throw in buttermilk free.

FROM PORT HOPE.

The following communication was read by the secretary, in a voice full of deep emotion:

To the Hon. Sir Richard McBride, President of the Lime Juice Club.

RESPECTED SIR,—As chairman of a committee appointed at an adjourned meeting of the chartered and incorporated society of "True and Loyal Brothers of the Seven League" to solicit funds for the further aid and establishment of said society, I do herein present to your honorable body our position for financial aid in order to prepare, erect and complete a thorough 'walking rink' with all modern improvements (bay windows, hot and cold water, etc.), for the purpose of developing the latent physical powers of the human race in this our glorious and happy land. The early remmittance of a fifty dollar check will meet with a hearty approval on the part of the undersigned; and I am authorized to say that in such an event a memorial window, with a southern exposure, will be erected to the honor and glory of your honorable body on the final completion of this colossal monument of modern architecture. To this will be added a glorious consciousness of having nobly responded to the call of suffering humanity, myriads of whom are daily dying in darkest ignorance of the science and enlightenment of this, our nineteenth century. Heed the cry of the widow and the orphan, which is wasted on every breeze of our fair land, echoed in the glens and vales of the Indian nation at Hiawatha, who so nobly assist their pale face brethren of Port Hope on the field of lacrosse, and borne on the tidal wave to our neighboring brethren in the wilds of Alnwick, where, gathering renewed force, its thunders reverberate on the shores of Chemong Lake, and with free hearts and willing hands put your shoulder to the wheel.

Most sincerely your expectant servant,
RAZOR REYNOLDS,
Chairman.

"Gentlemen," said the President, as he slowly rose up after the reading and took a long squint at Bro. Water Phelan, who was sitting dangerously close to the sacred bear trap, "When the time arrives when this Club favors the walking match business, I want to be in that land where the population uses wings instead of legs to get from place to place. The difference between a loafer on the corner and one in the rink is so mighty small that an old man like me is all mixed up, and we will now drop the subject."

MORE HONOURS.

A flutter of excitement was apparent when the secretary opened a large official looking envelope. It contained a communication from the president of a well known college, conferring upon the President the title of L.L.D., and upon Prof. Boneyard Bellyjim that of P.H.

"For the Lord's sake, just listen to that?" yelled Bro. Jack Craig, as he rose up and swung his hat.

There was a grand yell from every member present, and during the excitement Bro. E. Wasson managed to get in his work on the stove-pipe, knocking it down for the fifth time in three months. When the excitement somewhat subsided the President said:

"Gentlemen, I am taken by surprise. Had a pocket book with fifty dollars in it dropped through the roof, the cold chills couldn't creep up my back any faster. But, surprised or prepared, there is but one course to take: I shall decline the title."

A groan of anguish resounded through the hall.

"Gentlemen, you forget that titles are only worn on the sleeve," continued the President. "We have seen judges put off the bench for corruption. We know councillors who can be bought for money. Doctors of divinity have stolen horses, and bachelors of art have robbed smoke houses. I have tried hard to win the title of an honest working man, who can behave like a gentleman at all times and in all places, and that's title enough for me. I am pleased with the compliment and am pleased to see the Club take it as an honour, but I must firmly decline to lengthen my name."

"Gentlemen and brethren," began the Professor, as he rose up, "I am deeply grateful for this timely recognition of my services as a professional humorist. I have tried to do what was right, and that feeling is worth a thousand times more to me than all the titles all the colleges in the land can bestow on me. Tell them they have my thanks, but they can tie the title to some one who needs it before he can get trusted at the grocery."

THE CIRCUS.

The President drew his legs out from under the table and slowly rose to his feet. "The season of circus has come," he began, as he looked hard at Bro. Dick Davidson, who was quietly skinning a banana. "I have seen the illustrious handbills on the walls, and in a few days the unbending elephant, the musical hyena, the wriggling snake and the lemonade stand will be in our midst. During the past week I have received several letters from different parts of the country, asking if this club favors going to the circus, and last night two brethren of the church arrove at my cabin to ask me to use my influence to prevent the circus from destroying the Sunday School business. Now, I have my own personal opinion about these things, but I'd like to hear from the members of the club in general."

There was a pretty solid chunk of silence after the President sat down, but Hon. Fortypercent Duncefort finally got up and said:

"Well, now, I believe I can remember of going to the first circus that struck this town of ours, and I reckon none ever showed up in Peterborough and got away from me. I've been right there, friends, and I've got a half dollar laid by for the next one. I belong to the church, I occasionally ring the bell for prayer meeting, and I am trying to live so as to reach that good place above where the weary are at rest, and I don't believe that going to the circus has even rubbed the hide off in one single spot. The man who can't go to a circus with a clean conscience, and come home the same way, had better set out and discover a country for himself."

Several other speeches of a like character were made, and the President arose ad said:

"Gentlemen, let it stand as the opinion of the Lime Juice Club that going to the circus is twice as respectable as sitting on the fince and making up faces at the Bengal tiger in his cage, and a heap better than beating a wood-yard man out of three dollars by visiting his wood pile at night."

INTERPOSED.

The Hon. Threeply Murry wanted the proceedings "interposed" and the Harmony Club were cordially supported as they ascended the platform and sung as follows:

Some folks are on the exodus,
And some are on the walk
(Ah-ha—oh yes!
True as gospel!)
And some are on the talk.

I know of several 'nice' young men
Toc lazy for to work;
(Ah-ha! Poor scrubs!
Hope they'll freeze!)
Our brothers must not shirk!

The brother who works will get most pay—
This is our dotcrine,
And they'll have most money when it comes Saturday,
As sure as you're borm!

NO DINNER.

Bro. Cautious Miller, of Keene, got Bro. Croft to wake up and introduce a resolution to the effect that the Club give itself a Thanksgiving dinner in the Hall of Wisdom on the proper day, paying all expenses out of the treasury, and he then jumped up and made a seven minutes' speech in favor of the project. The idea seemed to take all over the Hall in a flash, and the President rose up and said:

"The motion to adjourn is carried."

"No motion! No motion!" yelled fifty members.

"And we will therefore repudiate to our homes," the President continued:

"Question! Question!" they yelled.

"Going home takes the precedence over all other questions," softly replied Sir Richard, and he put on his hat, closed the books and beat the Thanksgiving dinner out of sight.

Market Reports.

PETERBOROUGH

The market is brightening up. New grain is coming in. Wheat is fetching from 75c to 80c; oats 35 for new, and 38 for old. Hay is still advancing; new timothy is selling at $16 per ton, and mixed at $14. New potatoes are plentiful at 15c per peck; other new vegetables are much sought after. Plums and all kinds of small fruits are in good demand at fair prices.

LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

Aug. 9.—The local live stock markets were quiet today, with no unusual features to note. Shippers report business jogging along in about the same groove. Cables report the English markets very dull, with ample supplies of stock on hand. At Point St. Charles market this morning there were large offerings, but the demand was slow and unsatisfactory. Prices show no material change. At the East End Abattoir the offerings comprised 550 cattle 250 calves and 1,600 sheep and lambs. Prices generally had a lower tendency. The best butchers' cattle were sold at 3¾c and a number of large cattle were bought for shipment to Great Britain at about 3½c. The poorer stocks ranged at from 2c to 3½c, calves selling at from $5 to $8 each, while sheep for export realized 3¼c to 3½c per lb. Others sold at from 2c to 2¾c. At both abattoirs about 6,000 live hogs were offered, but no sales were reported, the views of buyers and sellers being too far apart. The following are the shipments of live stock from Montreal for the week ending August 8th, as reported by R. Bickerdike:

"God Save the Queen."

A Queen's college student occupied the pulpit of the Presbyterian church, Cape Vincent, recently and created a sensation as with closed eyes he prayed fervently for the establishment of the throne of Great Britain in righteousness; for divine protection to her majesty, Queen Victoria, that peace might reign within her borders and righteousness o'erspread all her kingdoms. The invocation concluded with prayers for the good estate of all the royal family. A Yankee going out was heard to remark, "That fellow's a Britisher from his head to his heels."—Whig.

Cardinal Tosti took his greatest delight in watching people eat who were "blessed" with voracious appetites, and, to gratify his whims he frequently invited a company of notorious great eaters, and regaled them with an abundance of the choicest viands he could procure. One day, being in a specially good humor, His Eminence said to his cook—"To-day you must ask three men of extraordinary capacity to dinner, and prepare a set of courses that would satisfy eighteen ordinary persons."

The cook set off to Ripagrande, where he selected the strongest and most famished looking of the porters he found standing about, provided them with decent clothes and took them to the Cardinal's palace. The table groaned under a gigantic heap of the best and dearest eatables to be had. The porters required no pressing, but made a raid on the provisions like a pack of hungry wolves. The Cardinal watched the proceedings from behind a curtain, and was delighted when in a comparatively short time all the nice things which adorned the table had disappeared, down to the very last. As genuine Romans the three revellers were not unmindful of the rules of politeness, and one of them was deputed to express to His Eminence their heartfelt thanks for his real kind invitation. A footman took him into the presence of the Cardinal.

"Well," inquired the old gentleman, with a smile, "did you enjoy your feed?"

"Very much, Your Eminence!" was the reply. "Little, but good!"—Il Messaggero.

Keeping Himself Posted.

Why shouldn't a man read fashion notes if he wants to? He has a perfect right, certainly, and it is quite commendable in him to keep himself thus "posted," for it is a sort of satisfaction for a woman to be told by a man who she knows "knows" that her gown or bonnet is "just the thing."

He is a modest looking young man, working for a very moderate salary, but has a very charming little wife, and it was known among their friends that they meant to attend, just once, the grand opera. Riding out on a crowded car the other evening he unfolded his paper and began to read. There was a whole column of fashion items, illustrated, with suggestions as to how to get up an economical and pretty toilet for grand opera wear, and of course he was interested and began to follow it. A lady sitting next him innocently enough glanced at the paper, and, as a matter of fact, the first thing that her eye rested upon was the fashion column. The young man looked up at her from his paper and blushed as if ashamed to have been caught in the act, and immediately his eyes sought some telegraphic news, while the lady smiled knowingly and encouragingly; so he presently turned down the page of the paper and finished reading, word for word, all that was said about bodices and bonnets.

CAN WE ASPHYXIATE MICROBES?

A French Scientist Believes that Argon May be the Food of Bacteria.

A French scientist is making investigations regarding the part the newly discovered gas "argon" plays towards bacteria. The new gas which has so long been a part of our atmosphere without our knowing it, has been combined with oxygen, hydrogen, chlorine, phosphorus, sulphur, potassium, sodium and many other elements without any result. So far as the scientist can ascertain, "argon" has no effect chemically upon the higher animals. It may, however, be necessary to the nourishment of bacteria, and this is what he proposes to find out.

Supposing "argon" not to be necessary to man and necessary to bacilla, sterilization will be rendered much easier and the door be opened to all sorts of bacteriological possibilities.

In a Buffet Car.

The famished man fell into the arms of the relief committee, gasping for food. To the miserable man they brought soups, fishes, loaves and other things, and for six steady hours he devoured all they brought.

Doctors clustered round him and finally announced that he would live. Then they gave him brandy and bade him tell his awful tale.

"I—was—there—five—days," he whispered hoarsely, "five days. If you had not rescued me I would surely have starved to death."

He sank back, exhausted at the effort, which had evidently been too much for him. All the members of the committee clustered around him and pleaded with him to tell where he had been. At last he revived sufficiently to murmur:

"In a buffet car." All, everyone there present who had traveled in a buffet car and tried to get something to eat shuddered and covered their hands with their faces. Even strong men turned away their feet and cried.

She Has the Sleeves.

"There, my love," said the young husband, as he placed a large bundle on the table, "I've bought [illegible] a pair of sleeves."

"Oh, you darling," exclaimed the delighted wife. "I'm so happy. Anything will do for a dress."

No Crops This Year.

A startling announcement, founded upon the new rule of the Kennel Club, is to the effect that after March no crop-eared dog can win one of the K.C. prizes. "Hooray!" quoth the dogs. "Full ears and no crops!"—Punch.

IMPRESSED ON THE MEMORY

That Pond's Extract is without equal for relieving pain, and that no remedy should be accepted as "just as good." And unscrupulous druggists will insist on trying to force upon purchasers weak imitations which are irritating, uncertain and even poisonous, very different from genuine Pond's Extract, which is universally known as a great healer, pacifier and comforter. Nature's own remedy for all pain is genuine Pond's Extract.

Avoid substitutes; accept genuine only, with buff-wrapper and yellow label.

A CUT-OFF GAS PIPE

Running to a Room in the Holmes Castle—Believed to be Another Instrument of Death.

Special to the Times.

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—The pick of a workman in the Holmes castle uncovered a strange construction last night which carried more terrible suggestions of the conspirator's work. In the closet room on the second floor, where Holmes used to sleep, there is a gas pipe running over the floor and beneath the boards is a cut off. The pipe runs directly to the windowless room, where it is believed Mrs. Conner was murdered. The cut off is believed to be one of Holmes' instruments of death. Sitting in his room he could turn on the current with ease that would fill the dark sleeping appartment with deadly gas, asphyxiating the occupants. The cut-off was a secret. It was reached simply by lifting a board in the closet.

THE TIDE TURNS.

Great Improvement in the Health of a Well-Known Peterboro' Lady.

PETERBORO, Aug. 5.—General satisfaction is expressed here at the greatly improved condition of health of Mrs. K. Stephens, the well known music teacher of this town. Her friends have been much exercised over her condition for a long time and a number of remedies have been tried during the ten years that she has been a martyr to a complication of complaints, which recently became very severe. She suffered frightfully with pains in the back, nervous prostration and swelling of the limbs. She has been taken the new remedy for kidney troubles, Dodd's Kidney Pills, and has already experienced the most beneficial results.

ENLARGES THE USES OF MUSIC.

There is a good deal in the old saw that music will charm the savage breast. It always was possessed of a magnetic power over individuals. To the present age, however, must be credited the greater triumphs in musical directions. And not the least of these is the transposing piano of Heintzman & Co., Toronto, which opens out for vocalists a wide arena of delightful study. The instrument is unique in every particular, and ought to command the study of everyone interested in music, whether professionally or for its individual delights.

GEOFFRY O'BRIEN,

FOUND A FOOT.

Which Had Been Torn From one of the Victims of the Buildings.

Special to the Times.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—The workmen engaged in clearing away the debris in the collapsed building at West Broadway and West Third street at 5 30 o'clock this morning unearthed a right foot, on which was a shoe. This is said to be the right foot missing from the body of Peterson, which was recovered last night. At 7 o'clock another body, the fourth victim of the disaster was recovered. It has not been identified. It was horribly disfigured.

Ton after ton of debris was removed by the 60 workmen by the shovelful. Many times they came upon clots of blood, and they renewed their efforts to reach the body from which it flowed. Blood was scattered everywhere, showing that many of the men supposed to be buried beneath the pile of ruins were dead before they reached the cellar in their fall.

Among the list of missing last night was the name of Micheal Farrell, 35 years old, a steam fitter, living at Rutherford. N. J., Farrell turned up this morning all right. He was not in the building at the time of its collapse, but afterwards worked heroically in the search for his fellow workmen.

ADRIFT ON THE ATLANTIC.

Rescued After Being Without Food or Water for 46 Hours.

Special to the Times.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—The Dutch oil tank steamer La Campaign, which arrived this morning from Antwerp, picked up two French fishermen adrift in their dory, on August 4, and brought them to this port. The men had been adrift 46 hours without food and water. They had left their vessel the schooner Pervenche, of St. Pierre, Miq., on August 2 at 4 a.m., to attend to their trawls. A dense fog set in shortly afterwards, and they were unable to find their vessel. They drifted about hoplessly for over 46 hours, suffering intensely from lack of food and water. Both were well nigh exhausted, and had given up all hope of being rescued, when they attracted the attention of La Campine, who bore down and rescued them and brought them to this port.

Purified Blood

Saved an operation in the following case. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures when all others fail. It makes pure blood.

"A year ago my father, William Thompson, was taken suddenly ill with inflammation of the bladder. He suffered a great deal and was very low for some time. At last the doctor said he would not get well unless an operation was performed. At this time we read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and decided to try it. Before he used half a bottle his appetite had come back to him, whereas before he could eat but little. When he had taken three bottles of the medicine he was as well as ever." FRANCIS J. THOMPSON, Peninsula Lake, Ontario. Remember

BURGLARS CAUGHT.

Positively Identified as the Men Who Entered the Convent.

SAFE BLOWERS AS WELL.

THEY WERE IN TOWN PREVIOUS TO THE SAFE BLOWING AND DISAPPEARED THAT MORNING—THOUGHT TO BE TORONTO CROOKS.

The police are confident that they have in custody the gang of burglars who blew open Meldrum & McAllister's safe, and committed several other daring robberies in Peterborough. These men, three in number, have been positively identified as the men who entered the janitor's room at the Covent Notre Dame yesterday morning and robbed the janitor's trunk of $25.

Mr. Mercer, the caretaker, has his room in the rear of the convent. About 10.30 yesterday morning the three suspicious looking characters were observed near St. Peter's Cathedral and were noticed by Miss O'Brien. She informed Mr. Mercer to keep a sharp lookout. He did so, but one of the men managed to slip around to the rear of the convent and enter his room. The other two followed, and it was believed by the watchers that they had gone away.

Such was not the case. The burglars were in Mr. Mercer's room, and there they discovered a trunk which they cut open. Inside the trunk was $25 in money which they secured and then left.

Chief of Police Boszel had noticed the men in the vicinity and he also noticed that some one had broken into the convent. He went with Mr. Mercier and then the evidences of robbery were found.

In the meantime Officer McGinty met one of the men and had a few words with him about loafing around. The officer had no idea that robbery had been committed or he would have arrested the man then and there on suspicion. His interview with the man apparently frightened the thief for he immediately sought his companions and they secreted the money and then repaired to Rountree's hotel, where Officer McGinty arrested them shortly afterwards. When searched they had only a few dollars with them, but shortly before being arrested they changed a $5 bill at Rountree's hotel.

Last night Mr. and Mrs. Friedenburg called at the police station and positively identified the three men as parties whom they seen enter the Convent in the morning. They supposed the men had some business there and never paid any attention to them at the time.

The men gave their names as Duncan McCrae, Ned Sommers and Frank McDermott. They are well known Toronto crooks, if they gave the right names.

The police have found that these men were in Peterborough previous to the robbery at Meldrum & McAllister's, and that they disappeared the day following the blowing open of the safe. They came back several days ago, and are no doubt guilty of several petty robberies that have been committed lately. They spent money freely at several hotels in town.

The police arrested five tramps yesterday on suspicion, but it is not thought they had anything to do with the robberies.

THE CONSTITUTION

Discussed Fully by the Emerald Benevolent Association.

The Emerald Benevolent Association spent yesterday morning in the hall at the corner of Queen and McCaul streets in discussing the proposed amendments to constitution. The matter was unfinished when the convention rose.

In the afternoon the members enjoyed a hack drive. The evening session was taken up with the election of officers and the reports of the Finance and Executive Committees.

COAL UP A QUARTER.

No Prospect However of any Further Advances.

Anthracite coal advanced Wednesday to $4 75 a ton.

"There is no further prospect of a rise," said Mr. Elias Rogers to the News, "and this winter will likely see cheap coal. I don't think it will go over $5, and perhaps not to that. It is really worth more money than it is now being sold for."—News.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES

As an evidence of the depressed conditions of the horse market, we might state that one day last week John Hartwick offered his fast trotting nag, harness and rig—a complete family turnout—for $10, with no takers. This shows a stringent money market or lack of enterprise on the part of our horse fanciers.—Lindsay Post.

An accident of a peculiar kind entailed the loss on Saturday morning last of a fine mare belonging to Mr. Thos. Brown, of olborne. The animal would not become familiar with a bicycle, but in order in possible to bring about that result, Mr. Brown tied it with a rope to a tree on his premises while a bicyclist capered around. It became very much excited, and pulled until the rope snapped causing it to tumble over and sustain injuries which resulted in its death.

A story was recently told of how a minister tested the effect of the hard times upon his congregation. At the conclusion of one of his sermons he said: "Let everybody in the house who pay their debts stand up." Instantly every man, woman and child, with one exception, arose to their feet. He seated the crowd, and then said: "Let every man who is not paying his debts stand up." The exception noted, a careworn, hungry individual, clothed in his last summer suit, slowly assumed a perpendicular position and leaned upon the back of the seat in front of him. "How is it, my friend," inquired the minister, "that you are the only man in this large congregation who is unable to meet his obligations?" "I publish a newspaper," he meekly replied, "and my brethern here, who have just stood up are my subscribers, and——" "Let us pray!" exclaimed the minister.

AUBURN'S VICTORY.

Lindsay's Crack Team Vanquished by Our Suburban Baseballists.

The Auburn base ball club went to Lindsay yesterday and played an exciting game of ball with the Lindsay players, and succeeded in winning the game after a hard struggle. There has been considerable rivalry between Peterborough and Lindsay in base ball circles, and when the Peterborough's were worsted in Lindsay they felt their defeat very keenly. The victory of the Auburns has somewhat retrieved the position of this town as regards supremacy on the diamond. The teams lined up as follows:

PETERBOROUGH		LINDSAY
Tighe	2nd base	Clate Andrews
McAuliffe	left field	Burke
McCabe	Pitcher	Hamilton
O'Brien	Catcher	Clar Andrews
Welsh	1st base	Robinson
Parnell	short stop	Walters
Thompson	right field	Stalker
Kemp	3rd base	Reeves
Arsnault	centre field	Sinclair

By innings—										RUNS
Auburn	1	3	0	2	0	0	0	6	5	17
Lindsay	6	3	0	0	0	0	0	4	2	15

Grand Trunk Constable Robert Harrison of Toronto, returned from Lindsay, where he had an interesting wrestling match with a Waterloo, N.Y., man named Conner. Harrison in his first round downed his opponent, but in the second and third was vanquished.

The arena at Dallas, Texas, where Corbett will, in all probability meet Fitzsimmons is in seating capacity only second in size to the great Roman Coliseum. It will seat 63,000 people, and President Stuart expects to see it well filled on Oct. 31, the date of the great fight. The Florida Athletic Club has hung up a $41,000 purse for the contest, and each boxer has backed himself for the additional sum of $10,000.

The following team will comprise the Athletics who go to Cobourg today:

McMahon, goal; Lynch, point; Brown, cover point; Jno. McDonough, 1st defence; Thompson, 2nd defence; Jos. McDonough, 3rd defence; T. McDonough, centre; Hickey 3rd home; Rubidge, 2nd home; Lipsett, 1st home; Galley, outside home; Glover, inside home.

YOUNG GOES TO GOTHAM.

Fred W. Young, the Wanderers' flyer, who is known as the "pocket Hercules" by his diminutiveness, will make his debut as a professional bicyclist at Manhattan Beach, on Saturday. Many Toronto cyclists were of the opinion that Young would never race with the big cracker jacks, but they are astray, for Freddy left for Gotham this morning. He is accompanied by Mr. Maddocks, the young man who has been looking after him for some time. Young is sanguine of success. Before leaving he stated that he would return to Toronto for the professional meet at the island on Civic holiday.

Young's challenge to John S. Johnson, which appeared in the morning papers, was a surprise to the majority of Toronto riders, and has created no small amount of talk.

C. D. McDonald, Madoc, is in town, representing the Peterborough and Madoc lacrosse clubs. He is carrying on negotiations with the Tecumseh Lacrosse Club with a view to induce the crack city team to tour Central Ontario during August 17, 18, 19 and 20. Vice-President Thompson will probably take a strong intermediate twelve down drawn from the 1st and 2nd Tecumsehs.—Toronto News.

Vacation Time

Is at hand and is gladly welcomed by all, especially those whose duties in life have caused them to greatly run down their system to meet the requirements, physical and mental, forced upon them. With these and others, it is important, whether at home, at the seashore or in the country, that some thought be given to diet, and as further assistance to Nature, a good building-up medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla had best be restored to. If the digestion is poor, liver deranged and frequent headaches seem to be the rule, Hood's will change all this and enable everyone to return to their home and business in a refreshed state of mind and bodily health.

THERE WASN'T A QUORUM.

The Board of Health Didn't Meet Last Night For That Reason.

There was to have been a meeting of the Board of Health last night to take medical evidence regarding Whyte's dam, but as usual there wasn't a quorum. Three members of the Board showed up and sat down and discussed the Manitoba school question and the equine qualities of the new fire horse. It required 5 to constitute a quorum, so there was a great deal of telephoning to members who had 'phones, with the result that at a quarter to nine there was still only 3 members present. Mr. John Burnham representing the owner of the dam, Mr. Owens, and the latter were present. An adjournment was made and all went home. It does seem that nothing short of an epidemic of diphtheria, typhoid, lagrippe, or epizootics will bring the Board of Health together. Seldom is it that a quorum is present at either a regular or special meeting until an hour after the regular time of meeting, if then. Perhaps, if a small army of microbes, commanded by a full grown Typhoid Bacilli, were to form in companies and march and counter march up George street, column right and column left up the residential streets and create a carnival of death in our midst, the Board of Health would meet, and order residents to throw cloride of lime in their garbage barrels, and boil their drinking water. It looks very much as though the Board of Health needed a good shaking up.

BEHRING SEA FISHERY.

The Oft-Reported Extinction Story Again Heard From Washington.

Special to the Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Reports received at the State department from the United States consul at Victoria, B. C., are to the effect that the seals in the Behring Sea are practically exterminated. The only satisfaction that the department gets from this is that it sustains the contention of successive Secretaries of State that more stringent regulations than those which have been in force were necessary to prevent the destruction of seal life in Behring Sea.

MAY STARVE.

Because of the Utter Failure of the Coast Fishery.

Special to the Times.

MONTREAL, Aug. 8.—A special from Gaspe, the furthermost eastern part of the Province of Quebec, whose coasts are laved by the waters of the St. Lawrence River and Gulf and Bay Chaleur, states that the coast fisheries have been an utter failure. The catch is not one third that of last year. The people are entirely dependent on the industry, and the outlook is black for the winter, when actual starvation is feared. On remote points on the mountainous coasts, owing to the light summer catch, fishing folk will be unable to prepare for the autumn catch, which will undoubtedly show a great falling off because of the scarcity of cod and scanty appliances.

LOST ON SEA AND LAND.

BRITISH SHIP WRECKED ON THE ROCKS OFF SYDNEY, N.S.W.

Boat Loads of Passengers and Sailors Missing—A Dozen Killed in a New Mexico Railway Smash—Fearful Train Collision in New Hampshire.

Special to the Times.

LONDON, Aug. 8.—A despatch from Sydney, N.S.W., states that the British steamship Catterthun, bound from Sydney to Hong Kong, ran on the seal rocks between Sydney and Brisbane, and became a total wreck.

LOST IN THE NIGHT.

The vessel struck at two o'clock in the the morning. It was soon seen that there was no possible chance to save the vessel, and orders were given to abandon the ship.

All hands took to the small boats and laid their course for the mainland.

One of the boats reached Forster this morning, but the others have not been heard from, and it is feared they have been lost. There were a large number of Australian and English passengers on the steamer.

The Catterthun belonged to the Eastern and Australian Steamship Co. of London.

TWELVE KILLED.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Aug. 8.—Two sleepers and two coaches of the train from San Francisco left the track of the Atlantic and Pacific at Grant station last night.

Twelve persons were killed and twenty-five injured.

A message was sent for all the physicians who could go.

TRAINS CRASH TOGETHER.

PLYMOUTH, N.H., Aug. 8.—The "cannon ball" express crushed into a freight at 6 a. m.

An engineer and two firemen were killed and many passengers injured.

Fourteen new freight cars fresh from the shop and both locomotives, one new, were stove into pieces.

SWEPT BY FIRE.

One Hundred and Forty two Houses Destroyed and Many Homeless.

Special to the Times.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 8.—The town of Birvotch, in the Government of Voronesh, has been visited by a disastrous conflagration. One hundred and forty two houses were destroyed and many of the inhabitants are left destitute. During the progress of the fire one person was killed and five were wounded.

CUBA'S GOVERNORSHIP.

General Lopez's the new Man—Campos to Direct the Army.

Special to the Times.

LONDON, Aug. 8.—The Post tomorrow will publish a despatch from Madrid saying that it is stated there that Gen. Lopez has consented to become Governor General of Cuba. Gen. Martinez Campos will continue to direct the campaign against the insurgents in the island. This arrangement has been made in order to show that the different political parties are agreed as to the necessity of quelling the rebellion.

IN SIGHT OF A FORTUNE.

A Father Atones for Twenty-seven Years Neglect.

Special to the Times.

ELSIE, Mich., Aug. 8.—Twenty-seven years ago John Paulding left his home, going to Australia. His daughter Minnie, now Mrs. Vandeusen, of McBride, was then an infant. Monday a man representing himself to be Paulding's cousin came here and made known that Minnie was entitled to seventy five thousand dollars by direct inheritance, and that search has been made for her nearly 20 years. Some people say that the stranger was Paulding himself, and there are all sorts of rumors afloat.

A Brutal Wife Beater.

LONDON, Aug. 8.—Thomas Murphy made a brutal assault on his wife about noon yesterday. Murphy quarrelled with her over some trivial matter and hurled a heavy plate at her, inflicting an ugly wound. Then he struck her repeatedly with a chair. The woman is so seriously injured that she may not recover. Murphy was arrested. He is a plumber by trade and bears a bad reputation

BARNUM NO MORE.

Mrs. P. T. Relinquishes the Historic Name—The Widow Remarries.

Special to the Times.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Mrs. P. T. Barnum was married yesterday to Demetre Callias Bey, at the Greek church on Fifty-third street. A civil service was first performed at 3 p.m. Property deeds on both sides were executed. Mrs. Barnum was represented by ex-Gov. Ingersoll, of New Haven. The religious ceremony occurred at 5 p.m., and was conducted by the Greek priest of the Fifty-third street church. The bride was attired in a Worth gown of dark blue silk. Immediately after the ceremony there was a breakfast at Delmonico's. Mr. and Mrs. Demetre Bey are to pass a couple of days at Bridgeport before sailing Saturday for Paris. This is necessary because of the bride's determination to part with Marina, the estate just outside of Bridgeport.

The young widow of P. T. Barnum met her new husband in Cairo, Egypt, a year and a half ago, upon her first trip to the East after the death of her first husband. After a stop in Paris they will make their home in Greece. Under Mr. Barnum's will his widow inherited, besides Marina, which cost $300,000, an annuity of $40,000 and $1,000,000.

According to reports from British Columbia, seals in the Behring Sea are practically extinct.

BIG PROFITS —ON— SMALL INVESTMENTS

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our SYSTEMATIC PLAN OF SPECULATION.

Originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who, by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOFS, also our Manual on Successful Speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

LOCAL AND DISTRICT HAPPENINGS OF THE DAY.

His Arm Crushed.

While coupling cars Thursday in town, Brakeman McCarthy had his arm crushed. He was taken to Lindsay, his home. He will probably lose the limb.

The Tecumsehs Coming.

The Tecumseh lacrosse team of Toronto, will come to Peterborough on August 15th, Toronto's civic holiday, and play a game with the Athletics. The Tecumsehs are a strong aggregation of stick handlers and the match will be well worth witnessing.

Garden Party.

The garden party at the residence of Mr. Geo. Edmison last night under the auspices of the Y.P.S.C.E. of St. Andrew's church, was largely attended and proved a great success. The Fire Brigade Band was in attendance.

A Pleasant Outing.

The united choirs excursion to Burleigh Falls Tuesday was attended by nearly 300. The light rain fall in the morning and the threatening aspect of the weather deterred a number from going. A pleasant day was spent at Burleigh in boating and fishing and other sports. The party returned home at 10 o'clock.

Police Court Notes.

In the police court Wednesday Alphons Lefevre was charged with furious driving but the evidence was not very weighty and the charge was dismissed. For imbibing too much wrestling juice Patrick Coursey was fined $2, and Tom Coursey was taxed $2 for yelling on the street.

The Charge Fell Through.

In the police court Monday morning a charge of violating the liquor act against Mr. George Graham, proprietor of the Oriental hotel, was heard. The alleged infraction was said to have taken place on Sunday, July 14. A number of witnesses were called, but none gave evidence that proved the purchase of liquor. The case was dismissed.

Committed for Trial.

County Magistrate Edmison has committed James Sampson for trial on the charge of forcible entry in connection with the Holbrook affair. The missing Holbrook turned up at the court, and is now in charge of the authorities. The particulars of the case appeared in the TIMES sometime ago.

A Presentation.

A number of members of the 57th battalion gathered at the residence of Mr. George Matthews last night and presented him with a beautiful marble clock on the occasion of his recent marriage. Speeches were made by Capt. E. F. Mason, adjutant, and others. Mr. Matthews made a suitable reply. A very pleasant evening was spent.

Smashed the Doors.

Chief of Police Bell, of Lindsay, with G. T.R. Constable Harris and County Constable Foster, drove thirty miles northerly and captured a hotel keeper named McEachren, who had previously escaped from custody. Their man fought fiercely, but was overcome, hand cuffed and returned to jail in Lindsay. The officers had to smash in the doors of the house in which McEachren sought refuge.

Thieves Still Abroad.

There is no doubt that a gang of thieves are located in Peterborough, waiting an opportunity to make a big haul. J. B. Scriber, of Murray street is the latest victim. On Tuesday night someone entered his residence and seized his trousers which they carried to the woodshed and then rifled the pockets. Mr. Scriber says he is out just $23 by the transaction. The thief left the back door open when he took his departure.

Picnic Next Week.

The annual picnic of Cold Springs Union S. School will be held at Jubilee Point on Tuesday Aug. 13. The City of Peterborough will leave the Peterborough wharf at half-past seven, the locks at eight and will call at the usual landings if necessary. The infant classes go free, the other children of the school pay 25 cents, and adults 35 cents. A program of sports is being prepared, and prizes will be given to the winners. Hot water will be provided on the boat for those who wish to make tea. A pleasant time is anticipated as usual, and all who can come are cordially invited to be present.

To Meet in Toronto.

The session of the Supreme body of the Independent Order of Foresters closed in London Saturday. Additional officers elected Monday were as follows:—Thomas Millman, M.D., Toronto, Supreme Physician; Hon. Judge W. Wedderburn, Hampton, N.B., Supreme Counsellor; Benjamin Greer, London, and Charles Fitzgerald, Buffalo, auditors. An adjourned session will be held in Glasgow, Friday, August 9th, and the closing session in Belfast on the 10th. Some of the delegates will leave for home on the 15th August by the steamer Pennland, sailing from Queenstown. Toronto was chosen as the place for holding the next convention in 1898.

Another Big Circus.

Sells Brothers' great circus will spread its mammoth tents in this town on the 24th of August, afternoon and evening. Sells Bros.' enormous united show is now claimed to be the oldest and largest in every respect. In genuine merit and enterprise they are, it is said, to be assigned first place, while in features of originality and genuine excellence they lead. This is the 24th continuous year of their experience in the show business—a longer period than any other can boast of, and in all that time they have proved able, honorable, progressive, successful and popular caterers to the millions of amusement lovers.

Nearly a Drowning.

Mr. G. Stewart and Mr. Menzie, of Toronto, who have been enjoying a camping expedition on Rice Lake, arrived in Cobourg Friday morning, and started to row to Port Hope. They were caught in a squall and their canoe swamped. At the time of the accident they were a mile out from shore. However, they managed to cling to the canoe, and after drifting for an hour reached shore in the vicinity of Mr. C. Stewart's residence. They were in an exhausted condition, and Mr. Menzie was seized with a cramp just as he was dragging himself out of the water. Had he taken the cramp two minutes sooner he would have been lost. Mr. Charles Stewart extended warm-hearted hospitality to the two young men. They lost their tent, guns and everything which their canoe contained.

That Tired Feeling

Is a common complaint and it is a dangerous symptom. It means that the system is debilitated because of impure blood, and in this condition it is especially liable to attacks of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the remedy for this condition, and also for that weakness which prevails at the change of season, climate or life.

Hood's Pills act easily, yet promptly and efficiently on the bowels and liver, 25c.

ANOTHER LACROSSE GAME.

Another match in all likelihood will take place between the Ontarios, of Port Hope, and the Athletics, of Peterborough, on neutral grounds in a few weeks. The Ontarios communicated with the Athletics this morning and suggested that the teams identical with those that contested on Wednesday last, meet at Lindsay, and play for $250. The Athletics are agreeable and told the Ontarios if they sent a representative here tonight with the money, they would cover the amount. This Port Hope assented to and the arrangements will likely be made tonight. The Port Hopes, no doubt, feel sore over their defeat and are looking for revenge. The Athletics will be prepared for them.

A GENUINE DOG FIGHT.

A Bull Dog Attacks a Collie With Bloody Results.

Quite a little excitement was created on George st. Tuesday evening by a large bull dog which was "sicked" on a smaller canine by its owner. A number of people were thoroughly frightened and scurried from the spot, but a crowd gathered around and attempted to separate the enraged dogs.

The smaller dog, a collie was getting the better of the fight when the chief of police arrived and put an end to the disgraceful scene. Both dogs were covered with blood and would doubtless have killed each other had they not been parted.

The owner of the bull dog was told to take it home, and he may be summoned to appear in the police court for urging on the fight.

PREFERRED THE OLD NAME.

The E.B.A. Discuss Important Matters—Change of System Advocated.

The Emerald Benevolent Association continued its convention Wednesday morning. At 8 a.m. the members attended mass at St. Michael's cathedral and were addressed by Father Ryan, and Father Rholeder said mass.

At ten o'clock the delegates assembled in the hall at the corner of McCaul and Queen streets, and two very important matters came up. The first was in the form of a motion to centralize all the funds of the local branches in the hands of the Grand Branch for sick benefit purposes. The matter evoked considerable discussion and was finally laid over for a year.

Then another long discussion took place over a motion to change the name of the order to the United Catholic Association. This was rejected by a unanimous vote.

Yesterday evening the delegates was entertained at the house of President D. Carey.

ALL ARE SAFE.

The Canadian Missionaries, who are in China, Heard From.

A batch of correspondence from the Canadian missionaries in China was received at the mission rooms Tuesday. These state that all the Canadians are safe at Shanghai although some of the ladies are very much upset by the rioting. Mrs. Hartwell and Mrs. Stephenson have been very ill but are now improving. Dr. Stephenson and his family and Mrs. Hartwell will return to Canada, Dr. Hart is on his way to Pekin to interview the British Minister there in order to seek indemnity for damages occasioned by the riot, and to secure protection for the future. The missionaries hope to return to Chen Tu before the winter sets in, probably by the month of November. During Dr. Hart's absence Dr. Hare will act as physician to the customs officers at Shanghai.

Inquiry at the Presbyterian offices elicited the information that denomination has no missionaries in the district where the recent riots have taken place. All the Presbyterians in China are in the Province of Honan, which is remote from the seat of the present trouble.

MR. JOHN McKEE ELECTED

Vice-President of the Ontario College of Pharmacy.

At the meeting of the council of the Ontario College of Pharmacy in Toronto Wednesday, Mr. John McKee, of Peterborough, was elected vice-president.

The Council dealt with a host of resolutions which poured in upon them from all over. There was a full attendance, the number being completed by J. H. Dickey, of Trenton, who took his seat in the morning. A remarkable feature of the personnel is the youth of the members, who are practically all new members.

The officers elected are: President, J. H. Mackenzie, Toronto; vice president, John McKee, Peterborough; registrar and treasurer, J. T. Lewis; scrutineers, Messrs. Murchison and McCann; auditors, Messrs. James Watt and Hargreaves.

A resolution was passed declaring that all apprentices may write at the qualifying examinations in May or December if their apprenticeship terminates by the time of the meeting of the council in the following August. Students must attend the senior courses, and no part of the time spent at the senior course is allowed to count on the time of apprenticeship.

The report of the registrar dealt with the finances, assets and attendance at the institute. The receipts were $8,452 and the disbursements amounted to within $315 of that sum. The assets of the college are figured at $52,000, the building being valued at $33,551, against which there is a mortgage of $12,000, made to the Synod. This leaves a balance of $38,242, which is a better showing by $3,000 than last year.

Friday the Cavanville club will play for a silver cup with the Indians at Jubilee. Return tickets 65c to Harwood, 50c to Jubilee, 25c to Victoria Park.

STEAMER DAISY BURNED.

Commodore Calcutt's Staunch Little Boat Goes up in Flames.

Shortly after 2 o'clock on Saturday morning the steamer "Daisy," owned by Commodore H. Calcutt was burned to the water's edge in the Trent River near Huycke's farm, about five miles from Hastings. The machinery is in the water and all that is left of the staunch little boat is charred spars and twisted, blackened machinery. The steamer was built for Mr. Calcutt five years ago by Mr. John Stevenson. It was valued at $2.000 and was insured for $500.

The fire, it is thought was occasioned by a coal oil lamp upsetting and exploding in the engine room. where the small flames were quickly extended into larger ones, as the grease which is always plentiful in the vicinity of the engine, fed the blaze, anyway the steamer was soon a mass of flames and by 6.30 the flames had destroyed the Daisy and nothing could be discerned of the vessel.

The blaze commenced just as the "watch" was being changed. The steamer was towing logs for the Rathbun Co., from Hastings to Healey Falls and at the time of the fire was steaming along at very good speed. As soon as the explosion took place. those of the crew who were sleeping were aroused and as the steamer is enclosed with windows those inside had some difficulty in reaching the outside. Capt. Clare Calcutt was awakened and in escaping had his right cheek badly burned. Giroux Young, the engineer, had his legs burned, W. Johnston, who was at the wheel, had to jump from the upper deck into the river to save himself.

The crew of the boat was composed of Clare Calcutt, Captain; Giroux Young, engineer; R. White, wheelman; W. Johnston, (Harwood), deck hand. All the men had to jump into the river and they managed to get to the logs in the rear by means of the tow line attached to the boat. Then the canoe was taken and the crew paddled to the shore near at hand. Capt. Calcutt and the engineer went to Hastings and came to the town on the early train and had their injuries attended to.

A FULL FLEDGED CLUB.

The Bicyclists Have Secured the Curling Rink for Their Home.

A meeting of the Peterborough Bicycle Club was held Mon evening in the Catholic Association Rooms at which several new appointments were made and a complete set of officers appointed including an executive committee, which will have full power to act for the club.

It was decided to accept the offer of the Curling Club Co., and the skating rink will be the future home of the club. No expense will be spared in fitting up the club rooms, and as the location and conveniences are all that can be desired, it is proposed to make the new home of the P.B.C. second to none.

It is the intention of the club to have the rooms ready to entertain the visiting wheelmen who will be with them on the 15th, Peterborough's Civic Holiday, when it is hoped a large crowd will turn out to see the races and give the visitors a hearty welcome.

There will be a grand smoking concert at the opera house in the evening, when all the prizes will be distributed, and such well known entertainers as W. E. Ramsey and Frank Wright, of Toronto, unquestionably Canada's greatest comic artists, will appear.

It is hoped the citizens will turn out and make the coming "meets" a huge success, as much depends on the success of these "meets" whether Peterborough will secure the C.W.A. annual meet for 1896.

THE ONTARIOS FLUNKED

LACROSSE.

The Ontarios of Port Hope have made an ignominious flunk and taken back water on their own proposition to play the Athletics on neutral grounds with teams composed of the identical men who played in the match in Peterborough last week. The Athletics accepted the challenge which the Ontarios flaunted and agreed to play according to terms for $250 a side. Yesterday the Ontarios sent a representative to Peterborough in the person of Mr. Tuer, who consulted with the representatives of the Athletics and informed them that the Ontarios must be allowed to change three men, and that the game must be played in Toronto on the Island grounds.

The Athletics would not make these extraordinary concessions for obvious reasons, and the Ontarios evidently calculated that this would be the case. So the great match is off and the Ontarios can add a flat-footed flunk to their record of defeat this season.

ABOUT CANADA'S HARVEST.

Satisfactory in the North-west Crop Generally Light.

The weather map for July, which has just been issued by the meteorological service of the Dominion, states that hurricanes are likely to be encountered from July to October on the great Lakes. The rainfall in the Dominion, with the exception of the North-west, was less than the average, the greatest deficiency being on Vancouver Island, and in Ontario near the shore of Lake Huron.

Grain and hay crops on the mainland everywhere are excellent in the North-west, and the other crops are likewise satisfactory. Fruit in the west will be scarce, on account of the late frosts. From the western portion of Ontario the reports are quite favorable. Wheat is considered slightly below the average, other grain crops fair, while hay is light. In the southern part of the peninsula the hay crop is much better. All crops are generally better in the northern section of Eastern Ontario. Quebec farmers expect to gather in a fair harvest.

Health Officers To Meet.

The tenth annual meeting of the Association of Executive Health Officers of Ontario will be held at Belleville on the 14th and 15th of this month, and it is expected that a large number of members will be in attendance. The program which has been prepared for the two days is of a most interesting and instructive character, and includes papers by many of the most prominent physicians in Ontario. Among those who have consented to speak on particular and important topics are Drs. Vaux of Brockville, Kitchen of St. George, J. D. Macdonald of Hamilton, Houtsky of Toronto, Chapman of Toronto, Coventry of Windsor, J. J. Cassidy of Toronto, Hodgetts of Toronto, J. J. Mackenzie of Toronto, and P. H. Bryce of Toronto. Discussions will take place after the reading of each group of papers on cognate subjects. These discussions will be introduced by Dr. Charles Sheard, M.H.O., Toronto; Dr. Henry Howitt, M.H.O., Guelph; Dr. Charles McDonald, H.M.O., Tilsonburg; Dr. M. McCrimmon, Palermo, and others. The Provincial Board of Health will hold a session on Tuesday, the 13th, the day prior to the annual meeting of the health officers.

It is probable that Mr. Noxon's services will be retained.

They Enjoyed Themselves.

A jolly time was spent Thursday at the annual outing of Eglington Methodist Sunday school teachers who journeyed to Peterborough per C.P.R. A large number of city friends availed themselves of the cheap trip offered and spent an enjoyable day at the eastern town. The party left the Union and North Toronto Stations at 9 a.m. and returned to the city shortly after 7 in the evening, having spent about 5 1 2 hours at Peterborough.—Toronto News.

Jail Delivery.

Forty one persons will be released from the Kingston penitentiary this week. Of these the oldest is a colored man, Bower Dorsey, who was doing a five years term for perjury in Toronto. The youngest on the list is a young man of sixteen years, who is in from Toronto for horse stealing. There are 20 of the prisoner who are under 25 years of age, and four are 60 years old or over. The man who has served the most terms is only 22 years years old. He is from Wookstock and is doing his third term already.

Another Horse Stolen.

Chief of Police Roszel received a telephone message Thursday from Mr. Albert Bouncey, of Warkworth, asking him to keep a lookout for a man about 5 feet 10 inches in height, sandy complexion and wearing a mustache, who has stolen a horse in that village. The following description is given of the animal: Bay mare, four years old, left hip higher than right, shoes on feet, light mane and tall, scar near its ears. It weighs about 900 pounds, and is in good working order. A suitable reward is offered for the capture of man and beast.

Gold Near Madoc.

The people of Madoc and between Madoc and Marmora are becoming excited over some rich finds of gold. Mr. D. E. K. Stewart, barrister of Madoc, was in town on Wednesday and was interviewed by a News reporter regarding the reports that were being circulated, and stated that F. S. Miller, the mining engineer from Germany, who had been working at the mine near Marmora and Madoc for some time past, has struck an exceedingly rich vein, the richest ever found in the county of Hastings. A shaft had been sunk 70 feet, and a very rich vein 2 feet in width had been struck. Yesterday, Tuesday, pieces of gold as large as a two dollar gold piece had been found in the vein. Mr. Stewart also informs the News representative that Mr. Chipman, the New York miner, had leased the Canada Consolidated Gold Mine between Marmora and Madoc for 20 years and that the mine would be worked. Hastings Review.

Remanded For Trial.

Duncan McCrae, Frank McDiarmid and Ned Somers were charged with stealing $23 and a watch from Gideon Mercier at the Police Court yesterday morning. This was the result of the many arrests Thursday afternoon and in all probability the police have the right men. These three men were arrested at Overend's hotel Thursday afternoon and were the first of a batch of tramps that were landed in the cells on suspicion of having entered the room of Mr. G. Mercier, caretaker of the Notre Dame Convent Thursday morning and stealing $23 and a watch Mr. and Mrs. Fredenburg, who reside near the convent, identified the men and Mrs. Fredenburg states she saw one of the three entering the shed. Yesterday morning they were remanded until Monday. They elected to be tried by jury.

Piles! Piles! Itching Piles.

SYMPTOMS—Moisture; intense itching and stinging; most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. ATHLETICS DEFEATED.

Cobourg's Aggregation of Ringers Secure 3 Goals to 1.

The Athletice were defeated at Cobourg yesterday by 3 goals to 1.

The excursion party which went to Harwood yesterday on the City of Peterborough with the lacrosse players, and thence by rail to Cobourg, was a large one, numbering about 202. The trip was one of the most pleasant, and afforded a delightful view of the most picturesque parts of the river and Rice Lake. Train connections were made without waiting or delay and there was not a hitch to mar the pleasure of the day's outing. The excursionists reached Cobourg in plenty of time to get dinner and reach the lacrosse grounds before time for the game.

The Athletics did not go to Cobourg expecting to win, and would have been very much surprised had they worsted the aggregation which confronted them on the field. The team that went was composed of six junior men, and neither McCabe, Turnbull, Thompson, Galley or Lipsett were with the team. Their absence weakened the home team to such an extent that the boys expected no more than a chance goal and certainly not victory.

Cobourg's team was composed of Crowhurst, of Port Hope, J. and L. White, the Indians, of Port Hope, Richardson, of Port Hope, MacNamara, formerly of Peterborough, Burte, of Port Hope, Coleman, of Port Hope, Sullivan, of Port Hope and the other four players were Yorke, Duncan, Pearcy and Bredin, of Cobourg. The last four were the only Cobourg players on the Cobourg team. The Athletics practically played Port Hope, reinforced by Cobourg and (it is said) Cornwall players. The match was refereed by Misson, a member of the Port Hope team, and who played against the Athletics when the latter defeated the Port Hope's by 4 straight goals. Referee Misson, let it be said to his credit, did not show any of the soreness he felt, and his work was satisfactory.

Those who witnessed the match pronounced it a splendid exhibition game. There were probably 400 present, and they were unstinted in their applause whenever the Cobourg-Port Hope players made a play. The crowd was good natured, however. The teams lined up as follows:

COBOURG.		ATHLETICS.
Crowhurst	Goal	Wasson
White	Point	Borlin
York	Cover Point	Lynch
Richardson	First Defence	Brown
Duncan	Sedond Defence	J.McDonough
MacNamara	Third Defence	Green
Burte	Center	T. McDonough
Coleman	Third Home	Rubidge
Sullivan	Second Home	Borland
Pearcey	First Home	Glover
Bredin	Outside Home	J.McDonough
———	Inside Home	McMahon

When the ball was faced it looked as if the teams were evenly matched. The Athletics' defence was strong but the home was lamentably weak, and although the sphere was kept dangerously near Cobourg's goal for the first half hour it seemed an impossibility for the Peterboroughs to score. The latter outplayed the Cobourgs at every point before the first goal was scored, but it amounted to nothing as they could not shoot between the flags. Finally Cobourg got the ball and put it through the Athletic's goal. Time 38 minutes.

The next goal went to Cobourg in much the same manner. When the ball was faced for the third time, Peterborough shot it through Cobourg's flags in less than a minute. It was done like a flash, and was a surprise to all. Cobourg managed to secure the fourth, and then only one minute of the hour and a halt remained. This was played with no results.

The Athletics would have had a complete walk over if her best players had been on. With the original team they would have had no trouble in getting four straights, and it is to be hoped a return match can be arranged.

For the Athletics Tom McDonough and Rubidge did splendid work. Wasson in goal made some good stops and played good lacrosse. The Whites and Sullivan for the Cobourgs did effective work.

For Furious Driving.

On Monday last, Charlie Hunter and Roland Lee, of Peterborough, were brought before John Hull, J.P., charged by Constable Doidge with furious driving and disorderly conduct. They pleaded guilty to the charge and on account of it being their first offence, and the Chief not wishing to push the case, they were let off with a warning. The young fellows were not the party that the Constable was after but he is on their track now and summonses will be issued.—Lakefield News.

STONY LAKE NEWS.

Some Interesting Items from the Lakes—What is Going on at this Resort.

The season at Stony Lake is now at its height, and every cottage and island is now occupied with cottagers and campers bent on making the most of their time. Never before has there been so many occupying their cottages as this year.

During the past week the fishing has been excellent and many big catches are reported.

Steam yachts are now getting to be very numerous and one can hardly move around without seeing them or hearing their shrill whistle announcing their approach. It is a very convenient way of getting around the lakes.

The services at Cole's Island were well attended on Sunday, over four hundred cottagers being present, the shore being lined with canoes. The services were listened to attentively and are much appreciated. These services are a feature of the life at Stony Lake. What is badly needed is a wharf at this place and the person who makes a move in this direction will earn the gratitude of the campers.

The steamers are crowded on their Saturday night trips with parties going up to spend a quiet Sunday.

The numerous islands look very pretty lit up with Chinese lanterns and bonfires and is a sight long to be remembered.

The hotels are crowded to their utmost capacity and rooms are at a premium.

Mr. W. F. Tanner is spending a few days at "Rocklands" cottage,

Mr. J. C. Turnbull and family, of Peterborough, returned home on Wednesday, after spending a month at the lakes.

Mr. C. D. Crawford spent a few days at his cottage this week.

Mr. J. H. Sherin is spending a few days at Mr. Henderson's camp at Mt. Julian.

Major Sloan and party arrived here on Wednesday and will take up their quarters at Boscobel.

One day last week a party who were picking berries at Clarke's Landing saw a bear and two cubs. The place was deserted by berry pickers in short order.

Mr. and Mrs. Page, of Rochester; Dr. Bouynton, wife and family, of Genesso; Mr. and Mrs. Myers, of Rochester; and Messrs. J. T. Tucker and G. A. E. Turner, of Peterborough; are at "Dulce Domun" cottage.

The Misses Rackham, of Peterborough, are the guests of the Misses Hall at their cottage.

"Viamede" cottage, Mount Julien, has a large crowd, all of whom seem to be enjoying themselves immensely.

It is estimated that over fifteen hundred people are enjoying the breezes of Stony Lake at present.

Mr. Ed. Carter, wife and family, Miss Isaacs, and Mr. Chas Carter, of Pittsburg, Pa., are staying at grassy island.

A jolly crowd consisting of Miss May of Toronto, Miss Jones of Toronto, Misses Dawson of Peterborough, and Messrs. W. Isbister, of Peterborough; F. Bell, W. Campbell, S. Ridpath and J. W. Ridpath, of Lakefield, have been camped at "Lau Hinda" cottage during the past week.

Messrs. Andrew McNeil, Wm. Snowden, Wm. Atchison, and Will Brine, of Peterborough, left Tuesday morning to camp a couple of weeks at Eel's Creek. Some great fish stories may be expected on their return from "Saint's Rest," as their camp is known.

Capt. Clare Calcutt, of Peterborough, has secured the captainship of the trim little yacht "Idle Hour," owned by Mr. T. Hull, of Stony Lake. The steamer will connect with the afternoon train at Lakefield.

Mr. James Kendry and Mrs. Kendry, of Peterborough, spent Sunday at the cottage of Mr. A. L. Davis. This was Mr. Kendry's first visit to Stony Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. K. G. Lech and family, of Peterborough, went up Tuesday morning to occupy "Kenmore" cottage for the balance of the season.

Mrs. Whaley, of Toronto, and Messrs. John Clarin, C. Clarin, and Dr. Fraser, took in the round trip on the steamer Golden City on Wednesday.

Large parties from the United States who have been camping back at the lakes for the last month returned home Monday.

Mrs. Marshall, wife of Mr. Marshall, of the Bank of Commerce, Toronto, had the good luck on Saturday last, at Burleigh, to hook and land a 'lunge weighing twenty and a half pounds. Mr. and Mrs. Marshall were paddling at the upper end of Lovesick Lake, when Mrs. Marshall hooked the monster, and playing it brought it to the canoe unaided, when her husband despatched it with a knife, after first seizing it by the eyes. Later in the day the fish was photographed together with its captors. The monster was outlined on John Holmes' verandah as it lay there waiting to be packed in ice and shipped west. Mr. West, of Philadelphia, is an indefatigable fisherman and makes some great catches around Burleigh. The other day he captured seven 'lunge inside of a few hours. The largest weighed twelve and a half pounds.

It was found that his left collar bone was broken in two places. His foot was also bruised.

SHOWERS OF METEORS.

Carry Your Umbrella for Protection From Them These Evenings.

The constellation of Perseus, in the northern heavens, has a peculiar phenomenon associated with it in such juxtaposition that it has lent it even a name. The Perseids, or meteoric shower, that seem to come thence are at hand.

Tonight and Sunday night this old earth will roll through a meteoric stream that will probably contribute curiosities from the skies for the benefit of watching astronomers. On Saturday morning just before dawn, is the time when the display is expected to be the most brilliant. Already several meteors have been noticed.

WHAT YOU SHOULD PAY

A Metal Breadboard

THE WOMAN WHO HAS BEEN USED to kneading dough on the old fashioned wooden breadboard knows what a bother it is to get them clean and how cumbersome and heavy they are. When they begin to crack or check it is almost impossible to thoroughly cleanse them, and they may easily become dangerous conveyances of disease. It was left for a woman, of course, to remedy this state of affairs, and Mrs. M. M. Everhard, of St. Joseph, Mich., has patented a metal bread-board, which is one of the greatest labor-savers imaginable. It is light, does not absorb grease, dough does not adhere to it, and while it possesses all the advantages of the marble bread-board it is much cheaper and, of course, far lighter and easier to handle. If readers want to confer a favor upon their wives they will be forever appreciated, let them send $1 to the manufacturers 101 Bay street Toronto, for one of these boards.

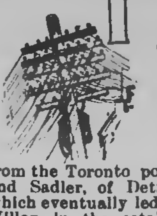
WM. McMILLAN IN JAIL.

HE IS CHARGED WITH FIRING THE OSGOODBY BUILDING.

A Mild Mannered Young Man, at one Time a Reporter in Toronto, Arrested for Starting the Globe Fire in January Last.

Special to the Times.



TORONTO, Aug. 10.—The arrest in Detroit last night of William McMillan marks a decisive step in the investigation begun by the Detective Department several months ago into the devastating fires which swept this city last winter. Acting on a request from the Toronto police, Detectives Lally and Sadler, of Detroit, began a search, which eventually led them to locate McMillan in the establishment of Paige, Chope & Booth, where he has been employed recently. News of his arrest was wired to Toronto, and on Friday night Detective Slemin left to bring him back for trial.

MCMILLAN DECLARES THAT HE IS INNOCENT.

The accused maintains that he is guiltless of firing the Osgoodby building, which is the charge on which his arrest is based, and asserts his belief that the case has arisen from a statement made by a young man who is attempting to blackmail him. It is true enough that there is a second man mixed up in the affair, and it is believed that it was from something in the nature of a confession from him that the police of this city decided on McMillan's arrest. The detectives are somewhat sanguine in the matter and consider themselves in possession of facts which will constitute a good case.

WOULD HAVE REMOVED HIS WHEEL FIRST.

It has been known almost ever since the fire occurred that McMillan was in all probability the last to leave the building before the flames were noticed. He was spoken to jocularly by a citizen soon after about the matter.

"They will be blaming you for setting fire to the building," said the latter, but not seriously.

"If I had burned the building," said McMillan, "I would have removed my bicycle first."

McMillan was present as the flames swept everything before them and witnessed the thrilling decent of Edward Caven and his wife and the nurse. He was then agent for the Union Card and Paper Company, of Montreal, and his office was practically in the center of the building. Not long after the fire his conduct became so unsatisfactory that the firm dispensed with his services.

CUT A WIDE SWATH.

McMillan is well known to many in the city. He was a member of "G" company of the Queen's Own Rifles and participated in many of the outings of his comrades. He was a mild mannered youth who nevertheless managed to cut a rather wide swath and gave some of his business friends considerable trouble to realize hard cash on his freely offered checks. In fact some have never realized at all and still retain the documents which serve only to remind the holders of misplaced confidence.

THAT LEAP FOR LIFE.

The Osgoodby building was destroyed on the evening of January 10, 1895. At 7 o'clock the caretaker, Edward Caven, was eating his supper in the top storey, 90 feet above the pavement, when he discovered the premises to be in flames. His wife lay in a sick bed in an adjoining compartment and a nurse attended her. The only escape was from the window and Mrs. Cavan was eventually forced to leap from the sill.

Fortunately she landed into a number of telephone wires which broke her fall and she fell into a netting, held far below by excited spectators, not much the worse. Caven and the nurse, amidst tremendous cheering, slid down an electric light wire to the second storey and finished their perilous journey by leaping into the net. The thrilling incident was witnessed by thousands.

The flames were driven by a brisk north east wind towards Wellington street and a number of business establishments were laid in ashes, the total loss amounting to nearly half a million dollars. A downpour of soft snow which eventually turned to rain went far towards checking the fire.

TO REWARD A CONSTABLE.

The Underwriters' Association intends to give Constable Shouldice, of Owen Sound a substantial reward for capturing and sending down Firebug Spencer of that place. Spencer got fourteen years recently. The association did not promise any reward, but they have suffered so much from incendiarism of late that they are taking this method of showing their appreciation of the efforts of any one who will help to stop it.

WHY MCMILLAN WAS ARRESTED.

They have promised $1,000 reward for the conviction of any one connected with the origin of the big Toronto fires. If McMillan is found guilty it will go to the man who gave the original information. It seems that a citizen went to his lawyers and told them to put the law in motion, as he knew a man who saw McMillan set the Osgoodby building on fire. The police investigated his story, and found that there was a man who admitted having seen the building fired. In case of conviction, the citizen giving the information will therefore get the $1,000.

ALL SOCIETY TALKS OF IT

THE APPROACHING HOWLAND-BETHUNE WEDDING.

The Family of the Ex-Lieutenant-Governor Opposed to the Match—As to the Marriage Settlement—The Wedding Likely to be a Very Quiet Affair.

Special to the Times.

TORONTO, Aug. 10.—The announcement of Sir William Howland's approaching marriage to Mrs. James Bethune has occasioned more talk in Toronto society than any incident that has occurred for many a long day. Both contracting parties are very well known in the social circles of the province and both are well up in years. The wedding, it is understood, has been fixed for Wednesday next, and will probably be a quiet one, as the family of the ex-Lieutenant-Governor has raised opposition to the match.

Sir William is an American by birth, his ancestor, the Puritan John Howland having been one of the Pilgrim Fathers. He was born in Dutchess County, N. Y., in 1811 and is therefore 84 years of age. He came to Toronto in 1830 and settled in Toronto Township. He built up a large milling business and afterwards branched out as a financier and politician, making his home in Toronto. He was appointed a member of the Executive Council of Canada in May, 1862. On July 1st, 1867, Canada's first Dominion Day, he was sworn in as a member of the Privy Council and became Minister of Inland Revenue in the first Federal Government, holding that position until July, 1868, when he became Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario. Previously, in 1834, he had been one of the pioneer capitalists in developing the resources of the Northwest Territories. From 1857 to 1868 he was member for West York in the Canada Assembly. In 1865 he was one of the Canadian Commissioners who visited Washington for the purpose of negotiating a reciprocity treaty. Her Majesty made him Commander of the Bath (civil) in July, 1867, when he entered the Privy Council and subsequently in 1879 he was made a Knight of the Order or St. Michael and St. George. It will be seen that Sir William is a man full of years and honors. His full title is Sir William Pearce Howland, C.B., K.C.M.G.

THIRD MATRIMONIAL VENTURE.

Twice before has he been married, and on both occasions to widows. First in 1843, when he espoused Mrs. Webb, who died in 1859. Again in 1866, when he married the widow of the late Captain Hunt. The second Lady Howland died a few years ago.

Owing to the opposition which his relatives have made to the marriage, it is not probable that Sir William will continue to reside in his old home in Simcoe street. Pending the arrangement of the marriage settlement the members of Mr. Howland's family have engaged the well-known barristers, Blake, Lash & Cassels, to see that their interests are protected.

THE FUTURE LADY HOWLAND.

Mrs. Bethune is nearly 60 years of age. She is the daughter of Dr. Rattray, of Cornwall, and was married to the late James Bethune, Q.C., LL.D., in 1860. She has four children and lives with her son at 123 Bedford road. Her late husband died in 1884.

Sir William is a man who bears his years well. Despite the fact that he is far past the limit set by the psalmist, his tall, lean and slightly stooping figure can be seen any day in the business streets, and he frequently handles the reins himself, when riding behind his handsome team of bays. He is a member of the National Club and an attendant at St. James' Cathedral.

ERB NOT ARRESTED.

His Unfortunate Child Cannot Last Much Longer.

Special to the Times.

STRATFORD, Ont., Aug. 10.—Dr. B. E. Hawke who is attending the Erb family says that the girl, Mary Erb is still in a precarious condition and unless there is a change soon she cannot possibly hang out much longer. The report that "Doc" Erb had been arrested at Baden turns out to be premature. Chief McCarthy says that so far he has received no word of Erb's arrest, notwithstanding that he has telegraphed and written all over the country, giving a description of the old man, who is sixty-one years of age, and who is dressed in a brown coat and vest with grizzly gray whiskers and moustache clipped short.

Mrs. Talmage's Will.

BROOKLYN, Aug. 10.—The will of Mrs. T. De Witt Talmage was filed for probate today. She leaves $166,000, of which $30,000 is real and $136,000 personal property. Her husband is the sole legatee.

ONE DAY'S FATALITIES.

A LONDON POST OFFICE CLERK COMMITS SUICIDE.

A Man Struck by Lightning While at a Social Gathering—Berlin Visited By Robbers Who Threaten to Shoot When Interfered With.

Special to the Times.

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 10. — A frustrated clerk in the London post office named Lawrence Lawless retired to his room at his boarding house corner of Ridout and Dundas streets about 9 o'clock last evening, laid down on the bed and fired seven shots into his side near the heart. The shooting attracted the attention of the boarding house proprietor, who burst open the door and found Lawless dead. Brooding over domestic troubles had made him insane. Two members of the Lawless family are now in an insane asylum, and a brother committed suicide about five years ago.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

SAD TERMINATION OF A SOCIAL PARTY IN THE BRUCE PENINSULA.

HEPWORTH, Ont., Aug 10.—While a few friends had gathered at the house of James Currie last night, about four miles from this place, the lightning struck the gable end of the house killing John Currie instantly and injuring two other young men named Wm. Hammond and Wesley Loucks. Currie was about eighteen years of age. The other two will recover.

ROBBERY NEAR BERLIN.

THE ROBBERS THREATENED TO USE THEIR GUNS WHEN INTERRUPTED.

BERLIN, Aug. 10.—A daring burglary was committed this morning between 12 and 1 o'clock at the village of Blair, eight miles south of here. The burglars entered the mills of J. Hilborn and blew open the safe of the mill. About this time Joseph Hilborn, son of the proprietor, arrived home from a drive, and noticing what he thought to be the door of the mill partly open, he drove up, and in an instant was covered with revolvers by the intruders, who demanded that he throw up his hands, which he reluctantly did, and gave up what cash he had in his possession, about $10. Fortunately there was but little money in the safe at the time, and it is thought not more than $25 was secured.

AT NEWMARKET, TOO.

NEWMARKET, Ont., Aug. 10.—The H. E. Maddock store was entered by two burglars last night. The intruders pried up a window in the lower storey. They were seen by Mrs. Little, who roused her husband, and Constable Savage was called up. The constable, after placing his men to guard the outside, entered the building. The burglars retreated upstairs followed by Savage. Finding the officer close on them the burglars rushed to a rear window and leaped to the ground a distance of 14 feet. The wonder is they were not injured getting out, but they escaped in the darkness.

TALK OF OUSTING THEM

POSSIBILITY OF THE GREENWAY GOVERNMENT BEING DISMISSED.

The Proposed Plan by Which a Conservative Administration Headed by Hugh John Macdonald Will Succeed Them.

Special to the Times.

MONTREAL, Aug. 10.—A Manitoban now here says that the report of Hon. J. C. Patterson's taking the Manitoba Governorship would not alter in the least the method of solving the school question which is being urged by western Conservatives upon the Federal authorities. "Sir John Schultz or Mr. Patterson," said he, "must both follow the same course. They represent Federal authority. The Privy Council's judgment clearly imposes action of some sort, and no Manitoba Governor can accept a blank refusal to act at all from the Provincial Ministers. He would have to find other advisers. These advisers would maintain the Public school system, but make enough concessions to satisfy the minority.

A CONSERVATIVE GOVERNMENT.

"The Manitoba Legislature does not meet till next year, but a Conservative Provincial Ministry, with Hugh John Macdonald or some other other good man leader, would be justified in appealing to the people upon their policy. At the same time the Dominion Government would be absolved by the action of the new Manitoba Ministers from holding another session of this Parliament. They could appeal to the country on the day the Manitoba local elections were held. With a reasonable measure of school reform and the support of the Canadian Pacific, both Government could carry the Prairie Province. This, or something like it, is the only solution of the school question."

PREPARING THEIR REPLY.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 10.—The full Provincial Cabinet will meet tomorrow to discuss the Dominion Government's rejoinder to their refusal to consider the remedial order. No reply, however, will probably be made to it for a week or so.

Sir John Schultz has returned from the coast. He denies that he discussed the school question while away with Premier Bowell in any shape or form.

AMERICANS IN CHINA.

Do Not Want a Britisher to Represent Them and Protect Vigorously.

Special to the Times.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 10.—Americans here have sent a cable despatch to President Cleveland protesting against the action of Minister Denby in consenting that a British consul should represent the United States at the enquiry into the outrages on Christians at Fucheng. They recommend in the despatch that the commission of enquiry be formed, and that an official of adequate rank be made a member of it, while Chinese who were in any way implicated in the massacres be excluded. The despatch concludes by urging that the commission be escorted to Kucheng by an escort of marines.

PETERBOROUGH, AUGUST 12 1895.

NO TRIFLING WITH SALISBURY.

If Turkey imagined that she would find Lord Salisbury more complaisant than Lord Rosebery in the matter of the Armenian business the "Sick Man" has totally exhausted the patience of Europe, and forfeited every political alliance. The only difference now between the two British parties, in this relation, is that the one barks a great deal and fails to bite, while the other gives unmistakeable notice that the bite will be given unless averted by immediate and unconditional submission. The other day—so a cable letter tells us—the Turkish Minister in London emerged from an interview with Lord Salisbury in a state of extreme agitation, and proceeded to wire a long cipher despatch to Constantinople. Now a Constantinople despatch to the Berlin Tageblatt says that "Turkey has decided to accept in their entirely the reforms demanded by the Powers." The acceptance of these reforms, the despatch says, is primarily due to the pressure brought to bear on the Government by Sir Philip Currie, the British Ambassador, "who communicated to the Porte a confidential note from Lord Salisbury to the effect that the Porte must accept the proposals of the Powers unconditionally, or England would use shaper means than those adopted by Lord Roseberry, to settle affairs in Armenia." Lord Rosebery, it is true, had only the shadow of a working majority behind him; but the whole Conservative party would have sustained him in an affair of common humanity. It is well that vacillation has been exchanged for resolution, and jelly for nerve.

Grasshoppers saved the life of a New York farmer who was being pursued by an angry bull. They jumped in the bull's face and turned him aside. This is the first evidence that grasshoppers have any gratitude toward those off whom they feed.

Mr. Laurier accuses the Government of having two policies on the Manitoba school question. That being the case they might go halves with Mr. Laurier. He doesn't seem to have any.

The shade of P. T. Barnum may be expected to take a chastened sort of satisfaction in the marriage of the dead showman's widow to a person with so romantic a name as Meditri Callias Bey. It is a big advertisement for the Greatest on Earth.

Alchylka in Siberia has a remarkable temperance society. Its members meet in church on the 1st of September and swear before the alter that they will drink no wine or liquor "from to-morrow morning." Then they go out and drink hard all day till no man or woman is left sober. For the rest of the year they are total abstainers.

When crooked work is exposed in Newfoundland, and when it is conclusively shown that there must be either retrenchment or ruin, then does someone suggest that there is need of a new office, and an increase in the expenditure, and straightway a new office is created. Just now the Government has resolved to create an office to be called the Department of Mines and Minerals. This office was never considered necessary in years past, there is less activity now than ever before, and there is little wealth to be invested or to be watched over. But no doubt some man is in need of a position, and though the days of alchemists are no more, and minerals cannot be created where none exist through 50 inspectors were appointed, yet some friend of the Government will be satisfied and happy.

WITH FIRE CHISELS.

Thirty Pounds of Stone Broken by One Pound of Wood.

At Bangalore, Southern India, the quarrying of granite slabs by means of wood fire has been brought to such a perfection that an account of the method is interesting. The rock forms solid masses uninterrupted by cracks for several hundred feet, and when quarried over an area is treated as follows: A narrow line of wood fire, perhaps seven feet long, is gradually elongated, and at the same time moved forward over the tolerably even surface of solid rock. The line of fire is produced by dry logs of light wood, which have been left burning in their position until strokes with a hammer indicate that the rock in front of the fire has become detached from the mass underneath. The burning wood is then pushed forward a few inches, and left until the hammer again indicates that the slit has extended.

Thus the fire is moved on, and at the same time the length of the line of fire is increased and made to be convex on the side of the fresh rock, the maximum length of the arc amounting to about twenty-five feet. It is only on this advancing line of fire that any heating takes place, the portion which has been traversed being left to itself. This latter portion is covered with the ashes left by the wood, and with thin splinters which have been burst off. These splinters are only of about one-eighth of an inch in thickness and a few inches across. They are quite independent of the general splitting of the rock, which is all the time going on at a depth of about five inches from the surface.

The burning lasts eight hours, and the line of the fire advances at the average rate of nearly six feet an hour. The area actually passed over by the line of fire is 430 feet, but as the crack extends about three feet on either side beyond the fire the area of the entire slab which is set free measures about 740 square feet. All this is done with, may be, about fifteen hundredweight of wood. Taking the average thickness of the stone at five inches, and its specific gravity as 2.62, the result is thirty pounds of stone quarried with one pound of wood.—Nature.

LOOKING AHEAD.

Thoughtful Mammy Kept the Floor Walker on Pins and Needles.

It was a little dried-up, stoop-shouldered, thick-lipped, white-eyed, black woman who went into a big dry goods emporium the other day and said to the affable floor walker as he met her at the door:

"Got any yarn knitting thread?"

"Yes; step this way, please."

"Wait a minute, honey," said the old woman, grabbing the floor walker by the coat tails, much to the amusement of all idle clerks who began to gather around her to see the fun, says the Philadelphia Times. "I ain't ax you yit: Got any pins an' cotton stripes an' silk dresses an' par'sols an' bleached ternestic an' blue ribbon an' piller cases an' undershirts an' sewin' merchines an' bustles an' crimpin' pins an' table clors an'—an'—"

"Step this way and I will show you what we have," interposed the floor walker, thinking she was about to break down, but she had only paused for breath.

"What mek you won't lemme ax you what I wants?" she went on. "Got any cooking stoves an' lace curtains an' lamp chimblies an' carpets an' chany cups an' hairth brooms an' pitcher frames an' writin' paper an' Bal'mals an' kid gloves an' head handkerchiefs an'——"

"Step this way."

"Wait jess a minute, chile, tell de ol 'oman git though, can't you? I d'want to look at nothin' tall to-day. What I ax you is you got 'em?"

"Yes."

PROFITS.

Policyholders of the Sun Life Assurance Comyany of Canada receive ninety-three and one-third per cent. of the TOTAL surplus earned by the Company, and the stockholders the remaining six and two-thirds per cent. By this system the holders of participating policies receive ninety-three and one-third per cent. not only of the profits of their own class but also of those earned by the non-participating policies. They thus have the protection of a large capital stock for a merely nominal sum.

On ordinary policies profits are divided every five years, counting in each case from the date of the policy. The method adopted is eminently fair to all parties, and is a modification of what is known as the "Contribution Plan." The profits may be taken in cash to be used in payment of premiums, or applied to the purchase of bonus additions to the sum assured.

On Reserve Dividend Policies the surplus, instead of being distributed every five years, is accumulated during the Reserve Dividend period, and the accumulation thus arising is distributed among those who have survived that term and have kept their policies in force. The profits paid during 1895, to those entitled to receive them, are the largest that have ever been paid by the Company and have seldom been equalled by any other Company.

Electrical Treatment

210 Cowan Ave., Toronto.

A. NORMAN, ESQ.

Dear Sir:—We think we ought to acknowledge in some way that may become public, the very great benefit our daughter has derived from the use of your Electro-Curative Belts, and your application of Electricity in the Bath and from Dry Treatment: When we brought her to you she was a picture of unhealthiness, her limbs were shriveled up, and as thin as limbs could be; she had no strength even to play with other children, in fact she was dying of consumption. Besides this, there was a hard lump on her spine at the nape of her neck, which caused her neck to be so stiff she could not move her head. Although it is only three months since we brought her to you she is sound and well

BIG PROFITS —ON— SMALL INVESTMENTS

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our SYSTEMATIC PLAN OF SPECULATION.

Originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who, by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOFS, also our Manual on Successful Speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

A CUT-OFF GAS PIPE

Running to a Room in the Holmes Castle—Believed to be Another Instrument of Death.

Special to the Times.

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—The pick of a workman in the Holmes castle uncovered a strange construction last night which carried more terrible suggestions of the conspirator's work. In the closet room on the second floor, where Holmes used to sleep, there is a gas pipe running over the floor and beneath the boards is a cut off. The pipe runs directly to the windowless room, where it is believed Mrs. Conner was murdered. The cut off is believed to be one of Holmes' instruments of death. Sitting in his room he could turn on the current with ease that would fill the dark sleeping appartment with deadly gas, asphyxiating the occupants. The cut-off was a secret. It was reached simply by lifting a board in the closet.

The Knights were driven from the hall and the meeting was continued under the auspices of the rival organisation.

SCISSORINGS.

There is no benefit so large but malignity will still lessen it—none so narrow which a good interpretation will not enlarge. No man can ever be grateful who views a benefit on the wrong side or takes a good office by the wrong handle.

The meaning of song goes deep. Who is there that, in logical words, can express the effect music has on us? A kind of inarticulate, unfathomable speech, which leads us to the edge of the infinite and lets us for moments gaze into it.

All great ages have been ages of belief. When there was any extraordinary power of performance, when great national movements began, when arts appeared, when heroes existed, when poems were made, the human soul was in earnest.

Few people are dull while they are diligently employed—none who take an interest in their work and try to do it well. It is when they lay it aside, and with it all sense of responsibility, that things sometimes take on a sombre and colorless aspect.

If we wait until we have more than we want before beginning to give, we shall die without giving. But if we give out of our scanty portion to those whose need is greater than ours, we shall live as givers, and shall enjoy living. The man who only gives from his surplus never knows the real joy of giving.

The thumb, according to professional palmists, is an unerring index to the mind. If a person is trying to deceive you he will invariably draw his thumb in towards the palm. On the other hand, if he is telling the truth, the thumb will be relaxed and point away from the palm.

DAIRY NOTES.

Remember that the value of butter increases with the quality.

Milk from cows nearing the period of lactation does not churn as easily as milk from fresh cows.

An exchange truly says that creamerymen everywhere owe themselves and their patrons the obligations to use every effort in their power to stamp out and crush the monstrous fraud called filled cheese.

The great secret in fancy butter-making, says a dairy writer, is a studied purpose to keep all foreign substances out of the milk, cream and butter, and have only original material from start to finish and fancy butter results.

The New York Experiment Station has been making some practical tests with cows, as to the amount of water they drank. It was found that during lactation, or the milk-giving period, the average per month was 1,660 pounds.

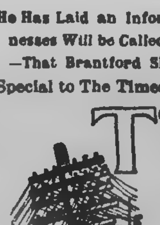
ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

A SENSATIONAL CASE.

SHACKELL CHARGES MATRON WATTS WITH PERJURY.

He Has Laid an Information and Many Witnesses Will be Called to Sustain His Charges—That Brantford Shooting Case.

Special to The Times.



TORONTO, August 9.—There will be a sensational trial for perjury in Brantford arising out of the Watts-Shackell shooting affair, exclusively reported yesterday, in which several well known Torontonians will figure as witnesses.

When in the box as a witness in the shooting case Fred Shackell swore that he had been criminally intimate with Mrs. Mary Watts, of the Brantford Matron's Home, for some time past, and he had made numerous excursions about the country with her, the lady passing as his wife. Shackell swore that they had visited Buffalo, Hamilton, Tilsonburg, St. Thomas, Galt, Woodstock and Toronto. In this city he said he introduced Mrs. Watts to several well-known citizens as Mrs. Shackell.

Mrs. Watts strenuously denied Shackell's story, to which she gave a flat contradiction, and her denial is believed by her numerous friends.

The matter will not, however, end here, as an information for perjury has been laid by Shackell against Mrs. Watts for the purpose of proving the statements made by the former, and witnesses from several places will be summoned among the Torontonians being Robert Bond, George Thompson, brother-in-law of Mort Keachie, Fred Strowger and E. Clancy.

Shackell lived in Toronto for a year, during which time he was coachman for J. K. Osborne, vice-president of the Massey-Harris Company.

IMPRESSED ON THE MEMORY

That Pond's Extract is without equal for relieving pain, and that no remedy should be accepted as "just as good." And unscrupulous druggists will insist on trying to force upon purchasers weak imitations which are irritating, uncertain and even poisonous, very different from genuine Pond's Extract, which is universally known as a great healer, pacifier and comforter. Nature's own remedy for all pain is genuine Pond's Extract.

Avoid substitutes; accept genuine only, with buff-wrapper and yellow label.

A Birmingham firm has just completed a palanquin which a firm trading in Central Africa intends as a present for a native chief. The body of the vehicle consists of a spring mattress, supported on a frame which is carried by a pair of lancewood shafts, sixteen feet long. The mattress is jointed, and there is a well in the centre of the vehicle, so that the occupant of the palanquin may adopt either a sitting, reclining or a recumbent attitude, the couch being cushioned with thick horse hair cushions, upholstered in silk tabouret. The canopy, consisting of fine blue cloth curtains with a gold and silk border, and festoons of terra-cotta silk, has a pyramidal roof, surmounted by a crown, while the brasswork of the frame has finals designed from the barbed spearheads in use in the chief's district. The structure would be handsome in its way, but for the fact that the woodwork of the body has painted upon it in large letters on each side the name and title of the chief, namely, "Coffee Adam—Iron Bar Duke." This feature, for which the manufacturer is not responsible, is expected to particularly please the dusky potentate, but it is fatal to the artistic pretensions of the design.

To Flash From Vancouver to Mexico.

The Mazamas, a society of mountain climbers, was organized in Oregon last year. On July 10, they will attempt to convey, by means of heliographs, along the line of mountain peaks, a message from British Columbia to Mexico and return. The mountians in Oregon and Washington to be used are Baker, Ranier, St. Helens, Adams, Hood, Jefferson, Three Sisters, Diamond Peak, Thielson, Scott and Pitt, and in California, Mounts Shasta, Tellac, Round Top, Dana, Lyell, Sillman, Whitney, Lowe, Baldy, etc. The modern heliograph Morse code will be used. Members of the Mazas in British Columbia are entering actively into the matter, and the British Columbia Garrison Artillery, Col. Prior, commandant, will substantially assist in the arrangements.

An Interesting Woman.

A very interesting woman is Mme. Rostokska, of Lille, France. Not only is she 112 years old and a major's widow, but she was the cantinière of a Polish regiment in the Russian campaign, was under fire twelve times and received three wounds. She was decorated with the silver cross. Besides this she has survived her fifteen children, the last of whom she buried at the age of 80.

MEAFORD WAS KILLED.

Robert Spring Crushed Under a Fast Express in Ohio.

Special to the Times.

TOLEDO, Ohio, Aug. 10.—A special from Tontongany, Ohio, this morning says Robert Spring, of Meaford, Ont., who with his brother was tramping to Cincinnati, from their home in Canada, was struck by a fast train on the Cincinnati, Hamilton, and Dayton railroad last evening and instantly killed. The men stepped from one track to another to avoid a passing freight, and failed to notice the express train, which was running at a high rate of speed. The brother escaped death by a miracle, but Robert's body was fearfully mangled.

THE TIDE TURNS.

Great Improvement in the Health of a Well-Known Peterboro' Lady.

PETERBORO, Aug. 5.—General satisfaction is expressed here at the greatly improved condition of health of Mrs. K. Stephens, the well known music teacher of this town. Her friends have been much exercised over her condition for a long time and a number of remedies have been tried during the ten years that she has been a martyr to a complication of complaints, which recently became very severe. She suffered frightfully with pains in the back, nervous prostration and swelling of the limbs. She has been taken the new remedy for kidney troubles, Dodd's Kidney Pills, and has already experienced the most beneficial results.

Dr. Yemen Acquitted.

STRATFORD, Aug. 10.—The police magistrate this afternoon dismissed the case against Dr. Yemen, charged with performing a criminal operation on Miss Dunn, of Mount Forest.

LONDON, Aug. 10.—On Wednesday last Malcolm H. Grieves was struck by a piece of wood which got caught in a circular saw at which he was working. He died on Thursday night.

A Birthday Party.

Little Miss Geraldine King, daughter of Dr. King, gave a birthday party on Saturday afternoon in honor of her 8th birthday. A number of her little friends were invited and the little folks spent a very enjoyable afternoon at the home of their young hostess whom they wished many happy returns of the day.

Funds for the Defence.

Some friends of the Grays, in jail awaiting trial for murder at the Fall Assizes, are circulating a subscription list for the purpose of raising funds for the defraying the cost of the defence of the accused. It is reported they are meeting with a liberal and hearty response and will probably succeed in raising the required amount.

Relief Of Derry.

The Orangemen of the county will celebrate the Relief of Derry today at Bridgenorth and Chemong park. About fifteen lodges will attend with several bands. Arches have been erected, stands put up and it is expected the celebration will reach monster proportions. A number of the brethren from Peterborough will attend.

Lots of Baseball Ahead.

The Auburns will go to Port Perry on Thursday afternoon and play the team of that town. After defeating the Lindsay bowlers the Auburns are now some pumpkins in baseball circles. The Crawford Juniors of Toronto will play the Junior Park nine in Peterborough on Aug. 19. On this date the Classics of Toronto will also play the Peterboroughs.

New Goods

On August 19th, (Toronto's Civic holiday) Court Cosmopolitan, No. 5687, and Circle Cosmopolitan No. 113, of Toronto will run an excursion to this place. Toronto Division No. 2, Knights of Pythias, will also bring down a large excursion party. There will be several attractions in town, principally the lacrosse match between the Athletics and the Tecumseths and a baseball match between the Classics of Toronto and the Peterborough's.

Ho! for Fenelon Falls!

The Salvation Army excursion to Fenelon Falls, will take place on Tuesday, 13th Aug., via G.T.R. and steamer Columbian. Train leaves Peterborough at 8.40 a.m., connecting with steamer at Lindsay, and arriving at Fenelon Falls at 11 a.m. Will return on the home trip at 5 p.m., remaining at Lindsay one and a half hours. This will be the first and only excursion of the season to this delightful summer resort. Don't fail to be there. Tickets for round trip, 80 cents, children, 40 cents. Major R. Morris, Provincial Secretary of the Ontario Division, and the famous brass band of Peterborough in attendance.

A Genius of the Tramp Genius.

One of the tramps who was arrested at Burnham's Point on suspicion of being connected with the robbery of the Convent Notre Dame, will be tried before the magistrate this morning on a charge of vagrancy. This fellow worked a clever game to raise pocket money. He applied at several lawyers' offices where he represented himself as being a broken down lawyer and deciple of Blackstone. Then he called at the printing offices and told a tale of woe about being a printer, but disabled on account of some imaginery infirmity. He posed as a man of medicine at drug stores, and in each case collected a donation to alleviate the pangs of hunger(?) It is rumored that he wheedled a quarter out of a well known politician by representing himself to be a dethroned political heeler, whose downfall began when Tammany fell before the great Republican majority of 1894. He will answer for his sins this morning, and his victims will give evidence against him.

That Tired Feeling

Is a common complaint and it is a dangerous symptom. It means that the system is debilitated because of impure blood, and in this condition it is especially liable to attacks of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the remedy for this condition, and also for that weakness which prevails at the change of season, climate or life.

Hood's Pills act easily, yet promptly and efficiently on the bowels and liver, 25c.

DROWNED AT LINDSAY.

MR. R. D. THEXTON DROWNED IN SIX FEET OF WATER.

Was Measuring Wood On a Scow When He Slipped and Immediately Sank—His Body Was Recovered in Five Minutes, But Life Was Extinct—He Was a Prominent Lindsay Merchant.

Special to the Times.

LINDSAY, Aug. 10.—A sad drowning accident occurred here about 3.15 this afternoon resulting in the death of Mr. R. D. Thexton, one of our best known business men. It appears that Mr. Thexton with a number of assistants was engaged in measuring wood, on a scow, about opposite Haslam's brewery. In shoving the boat out of the way of the steamer Crandella, which was then approaching and on which boat Mrs. Thexton and children were returning to town, he in some way slipped and fell into the river, which is about six feet deep at this point.

Being unable to swim he could do nothing to save himself. The alarm was promptly given and in about five minutes young R. Cote was on the spot and promptly dived for the body which was recovered in less than five minutes from the time of the accident.

Drs. McAlpin and White were soon on hand and worked for over an hour but to no avail. The sad occurrence has cast a gloom over the whole town. Mr. Thexton was a brother-in-law of Sam Hughes, M.P.

WHO FLUNKED?

Port Hope Still Howling About Their Defeat—The Guide's Simperings.

The Guide, of Port Hope says:—"Peterborough seems to be strangely agitated over lacrosse just at present because the Ontarios will not lie down and give the Athletics a chance to run over them again. They must be agitated to a very high pitch of excitement when annonymous communications appear announcing such fearful odds—for the odds are fearful when they are against a club from which Peterborough wins only to prove their is an exception to the rule that the Ontarios cannot always win. But when they say the team should be composed of persons who have lived in the respective towns for five years previous to this date, it is a case of big boy daring little boy. Peterborough, a city of 12,000, (with all the more opportunities of securing a good team) wanting to fight Port Hope, a town of only 5,000 inhabitants. Notwithstanding any benefits the Athletics might gain by having a larger population, we may say the Ontarios are willing to help them out of the difficulty they seem to be in and give them a game as per the terms of "George street's" communication, unless the "number of George street merchants" are like the rest of Peterborough and intend it for a bluff with the idea of flunking.

Flunkers Peterborough people certainly are, and the worst kind, for they are very free with their 10 to 5's now, when on the day of the match out there, they could not be coaxed to take a bet from Port Hope people 10 to 7, not even when Peterborough had three goals to their credit. It was repeatedly offered and was not accepted, and "the large amount of money" that was left in Peterborough, we may safely say, did not exceed twenty-five dollars."

Bro. Wilson is not Misson any opportunities of showing how sore the petted Ontarios feel over their recent defeat, nor to misrepresent the true state of affairs. The Athletics did not "run over" the Ontarios, but beat them fair and square, and it was the Ontario's proposition that the identical teams play again, which proposition their representative Mr. Tuer repudiated when in Peterborough a few days ago. Mr. Tuer wanted to change men, claiming that Natrass was unfit to play. The Athletics' representatives promptly replied, "put Natrass off and we will put one man off." The abject flunking of the Ontarios so disgusted business men of Peterborough to that extent that they offered to put up a purse of $1,000 to have the match come off. Now the Guide falls back on the big boy, little boy plea, and tries to insinuate that Peterborough is taking a mean advantage. So far as Port Hope's being the little boys, they have certainly acted and whimpered and flunked like little boys, but be this as it may, the Ontarios have quite as much territory to select players from as Peterborough. Not satisfied with the Indian settlements and their friends the Cobourgs they would evidently like to make up a team composed of Cornwalls, Indians, Cobourgs and any others. This is evidently the reason that Mr. Tuer insisted that the Ontarios should have the right to change the team.

So far as the betting and the odds offered on the recent match, the friends of the Athletics would have been foolish to bet when Port Hope had beaten the Athletics by four straight goals. However they did bet, and if $25 was the extent of the money that was left in Peterborough, it was because that was all the Port Hope's brought with them, and not because they could not find takers for their odds, which were not very tempting. The merchants of Peterborough certainly have faith in the Athletics' abilities to a greater extent than the friends of the Ontarios, (who are now howling for their $25) for they are willing to back them for $1,000—and this is no bluff.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

A Man's Clothes Torn Off on a Revolving Pulley.

Charles Milligan, a turner in the employ of the Peterborough Canoe Company had a narrow escape from fatal injury on Saturday morning.

While working at his machine he stepped too close to the shafting and his trousers were caught by the revolving belt and wound around the shaft, each revolution threatening to draw him under when he would have been perhaps fatally crushed.

By great presence of mind Milligan planted his foot on top of the shaft, and braced himself in that wise. His trousers were literally torn off him, and he received a long deep gash in the calf of one limb.

Dr. Clarke attended the injured man and he is now progressing nicely toward recovery.

THE SUSPECTED BURGLARS.

They Will Have a Hearing Before the Magistrate This Morning.

The three tramps who were arrested and held on suspicion of having robbed the Convent Notre Dame, will have a hearing this morning before Magistrate Dumble. The three men have elected to be tried by a jury, and the evidence will be purely in the direction of securing their committal for trial until the Fall Assizes. A number of citizens have called at the Police station and stated that they saw the men lurking in the vicinity of the convent. They will give evidence. The police think they have a strong case against the men, who are undoubtedly pretty hard coons, and a few months in jail will do them good.

THE 'PRENTICE BOYS

Listened to an Eloquent Sermon by Rev. Rae Yesterday.

The 'Prentice Boys attended divine worship yesterday afternoon at the Charlotte street Methodist church and listened to an eloquent and instructive sermon by Rev. J. J. Rae.

The 'Prentice Boys formed at their lodge rooms and headed by the Sons of England band marched to the church.

The reverened gentleman began his sermon by referring to the origin of the 'Prentice Boys after the Relief of Derry. He eulogized the men who fought and won this victory—fought and won a victory for Protestantism, England and the Bible. They were honorable and brave men.

Mr. Rae took many truths from the Bible and advised the 'Prentice Boys to hold fast to these:

1. God is the father.
2. Sacred right of coming to God.
3. Every man can make life a victory.
4. Man should be a worker.
5. The religion of Lord Jesus Christ is a universal religion.

AT CHEMONG PARK.

Hotels and Cottages Filled Up—Lots of Fish—Services Yesterday.

At Chemong Park mine host Fobert has had his popular hotel filled with guests, and he has his hands full. He is proving himself equal to the occasion and the greatest satisfaction prevails. In fact, it is stated that the cuisine is above reproach. The tourist season which opened on June 15th, will not close as early this year by a month. It is thought that the end of September will see the hotel and cottages full.

Fishing at Chemong was never better. Genial Ben Ostrom is in the lead so far as regards number and size of the fish caught. On Friday he landed 9 lunge, the smallest weighing 10 pounds. Herr Sellinger, of Rochester, who is stopping at the park with his estimable wife, landed a good sized fish on Saturday—at least a pretty large fish for one of his avoirdupois.

The cottages are nearly all filled. County Magistrate George Edmison is enjoying the balmy breezes from the verandah of his cosy cottage. Councillor Denne and wife and the Misses Denne with their guest Miss Harmer, of Toronto, are at their cottage. Mr. Alex Elliott and Mr. H. S. Macdonald spent Sunday at the park. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stocker are occupying their cottage, and right across the way Mr. R. C. Kells and Mr. J. S. Knapman are spending cool mornings and evenings.

Yesterday Rev. H. Symonds, of St. Luke's conducted services at the park and preached an eloquent sermon to an attentive congregation.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES

Items of Interest Intelligently Presented for Busy Readers.

Look out for meteoric showers tonight, if it is clear.

The electric lights went out between 7 and 8 on Saturday night, and left many of the stores in darkness.

A remarkable thing about the heavy rainfall of Saturday evening, was that not a drop fell at the Locks, nor at Chemong Park.

The True Blues will attend the celebration at Lindsay today while the 'Prentice Boys will likely go to Toronto.

Now the festive husband sendeth
To the lakes his trusting wife;
While she's absent he pretendeth
His will be a lonely life,
Tearfully with her he parteth,
Gladly he would go, but cant'—
When she's gone he gayly starteth
Out to see the elephant.

Two men engaged in a fight on the streets Saturday night and were locked up, but afterwards released on their own fail to appear before the magistrate.

JOHNSON TAKES IT UP.

Fred Young, the speedy Toronto cyclist, who announced that he would ride in the professional ranks a few days ago, and issued a challenge to all comers for a race, $100 a side, has not had long to wait for an answer. John S. Johnson is ready for him and this telegram was received by the editor of The Sunday World yesterday:

SELLS BROS. CIRCUS.

It is Magnificent and Grand—Everything as Represented.

Everywhere that Sells' Bros. circus has pitched its enormous canvas, and given performances, the newspapers have been loud in their praise of the excellence, magnificence of the circus, the splendor of the accessories and the wonderful work of the performers. This is not all. Sells' Bros. have won an enviable reputation for the cleanness and freedom from the usual fakir contingent of their show. Everything connected with it is genuine. There is no misrepresentation, no attempt to humbug or beguile the public. Everything takes place as represented. The Daily Sun, of St. John, N. B., has the following to say of the show:

Sells' circus gave two performances yesterday in the presence of immense audiences. The street parade in the morning attracted large crowds of people, and the principal streets through which the procession passed was crowded with people. The parade was one which thoroughly impressed the people as one which only precedes a first class show.

The trapeze acts, with the wonderful mid-air leaps, the balancing, the remarkable feats of strength, the jugling, the bare back riding, etc., were all features well worth witnessing.

A most interesting part of the performance was the exhibition of the trained Alaska seals and sea lions, in charge of Captain Woodward. They entranced the audience with music, rang bells, beat drums, and finally wound up with firing a salute from a rifle.

St. John has hundreds of bicyclists, and every lover of the silent steed must have been greatly impressed with the wonderful control the Stirk family, consisting of three ladies and two gentlemen, have over the wheel. Their performances were simply marvellous. Altogether the entertainment is one which no citizen should miss seeing.

A Metal Breadboard

THE WOMAN WHO HAS BEEN USED to kneading dough on the old fashioned wooden breadboard knows what a bother it is to get them clean and how cumbersome and heavy they are. When they begin to crack or check its almost impossible to thoroughly cleanse them, and they may easily become dangerous conveyances of disease. It was left for a woman, of course, to remedy this state of affairs, and Mrs. M. M. Everhard, of St. Joseph, Mich., has patented a metal bread-board, which is one of the greatest labor-savers imaginable. It is light, does not absorb grease, dough does not adhere to it, and while it possesses all the advantages of the marble bread-board it is much cheaper and, of course, far lighter and easier to handle. If readers want to confer a favor upon their wives they will be forever appreciated, let them send $1 to the manufacturers 101 Bay street Toronto, for one of these boards.

WANT BLOOD FOR BLOOD.

THIS IS THE ATONEMENT ASKED FOR THE MISSIONS OUTRAGE.

The Innocent Blood Shed By the Chinese Must Be Avenged—Great Britain and the United States Urged to Instant Action.

Special to the Times.

SHANGHAI, August 12.—At an indignation meeting of American citizens in Shanghai on July 15, resolutions were passed calling on the U. S. Government to appoint a commission headed by a consular officer of the highest rank, consisting of Americans and possessing a knowledge of Chinese language and customs, to proceed at the earliest moment to Cheng Tu and thoroughly investigate the cause and fix the responsibility of the recent riots, in which valuable American property was wantonly destroyed, and twenty-four American missionaries with numerous children were violently maltreated at the instigation of native officials.

The Government at Washington was also advised that a money indemnity was insufficient to meet the demands of the case, and that those in attendance at the meeting insisted upon prompt punishment of the guilty parties without regard to rank or station. Furthermore, they demanded that provision be made for the immediate return of the missionaries to their stations in Sza Chuan Province, and that their right to reside and prosecute their work in the interior of China be publicly proclaimed in all parts of the Empire.

DIPLOMACY USELESS.

BRITAIN AND THE UNITED STATES MUST THREATEN REPRISALS.

TIEN TSIN, Aug. 12.—A meeting of the foreign residents of this city was held here today. It was decided to communicate by cable the necessity of immediate intervention in China upon behalf of the British and United States Governments, and the following telegram was, according to a resolution by the meeting, addressed to the Associated Press as an expression of the sentiments of the foreign residents of Tien Tsin and as an appeal to the people of the United States for assistance: "The foreign community of Tien Tsin expresses sympathy with the friends of the Ku-Cheng victims. They consider the Chinese officials guilty and the British and Americans blame the continued apathy of their Governments for the situation. They regard England's demands for an enquiry into the Ku-Chung massacre to be useless, for, as before, the officials will buy innocent heads and substitutes for the actual criminals. They protest that the Szechuen commission implicated officials of that province, and thereon England and America must send an ultimatum threatening reprisals. Diplomacy is useless. We implore attention. (Signed) Dickenson, chairman."

WAS UP AT 5 A. M.

In Order to be the First Member of the New Parliament to Take a Seat.

Special to the Times.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—The preparations for the assembling of the House of Commons commenced at an early hour this morning. One member arrived at 5 o'clock in the morning and waited outside until the House was opened at 6 o'clock in order to win the distinction of being the first member to enter. The other members came in later, until by 10 a.m. thirty places were secured by the Government side of the House, while only six side seats had been taken on the Opposition.

GULLY AGAIN SPEAKER.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—Mr. William C. Gully, member of Parliament for Carlisle, was re-elected Speaker without opposition.

BOLD HIGHWAYMEN THESE.

Tried to Rob Omnibus Passengers at the Hotel Door.

Special to the Times.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Aug. 12.—Five highwaymen tried to rob the passengers on the Clifton house omnibus last night right at the hotel door as they alighted from the vehicle. One of the gang turned down the street lamp and others grabbed for an envelope containing $200 which they had seen John J. Jones, of Wheeling, W. Va., place in his coat pocket after paying for a 'bus ticket. The robbers failed of their purpose and were chased in various directions. Two were captured, who gave their names as Kelly and Molyneux.

Special to The Times.

ST PAUL, Minn., Aug. 12.—A special to the Globe from Winnipeg says: "Premier Greenway has informed your correspondent that the latest communication from the Ottawa Government on the school question is not to be considered until after harvest. It is inferred that should the harvest be safely garnered Greenway may appeal to the people.

Mr. Wood succeeded in saving his horses and some implements, but the loss will be about three thousand dollars, with seventeen hundred dollars insurance.

It is only one feature of the McKinley campaign in this State, and is in keeping with a well defined understanding that has been arrived at between the Governor of Ohio and the Mayor of this city.

Awful Storm in Southern Japan—Railway Train Overthrown.

Special to the Times.

VICTORIA, Aug. 12.—A storm of extraordinary severity visited South Japan on July 25, causing great loss of life and destroying property of immense value. A railway train bringing disabled soldiers from Hiroshima north for hospital treatment was overthrown.

The force of the tempest was such that thirteen cars together with the engine were blown from a causeway into the inland. It is stated that 130 passengers were killed or fatally injured, but hopes are entertained that these first rumors may prove to be exaggerated. A corps of surgeons was despatched from Hiroshima to the scene by the Emperor's orders and 500 men were sent to relieve the immediate wants of the sufferers.

JAPAN IS ON TOP.

The Minister at Pekin Shown Honors Never Before Accorded a Foreigner.

Special to the Times.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 12.—The new Japanese envoy to the Chinese court was received with honors never before shown a foreigner. The envoy's speech on being received was a follows:

"His Majesty, the Emperor of Japan, rejoicing sincerely at the restoration of peaceful relations, has been pleased to name me as his representative at your Majesty's court. It is my profound hope that hereafter the amicable intercourse of the two empires may become more intimate and that I may long be favored with your Majesty's consideration. I pray that your Majesty may be blessed with long life and a prosperous reign."

The reply was brief and to this effect: "The war is ended and peace re-established I am happy to receive you. Two countries separated only by a narrow strip of water should always maintain terms of friendship."

THE FIREBUGS REMANDED

ROSENTHAL ARRESTED AS AN ACCESSORY AFTER THE FACT.

Both Prisoners Plead ot Guilty and Ask Not be Tried by Jury—No Bail is Allowed Them—What McMillan Has to Say.

Special to the Times.

TORONTO, Aug. 12.—The two alleged firebugs—William McMillan and Adolph Rosenthal—looked anything but comfortable when arraigned before Police Magistrate Denison this morning. McMillan's face was a picture of seriousness. A rather sickly symptom of a smile occasionally flitted over Rosenthal's.

They were arraigned on a charge that, on January 10 last, they did unlawfully and wilfully, without legal justification or excuse and without color of right set fire to a certain building, to wit, a warehouse situated and known as Nos. 29-33 Melinda street, the property of James W. Woods.

J. W. St. John, M.P.P., appeared for McMillan, and on his behalf pleaded not guilty, and elected to go for trial before a jury. J. M. Godfrey did likewise for Rosenthal, and the magistrate remanded both prisoners until the 20th.

When the question of bail was broached, Crown Attorney Curry stated that he could not consent to bail in either case.

HE BEARS A GREAT NAME.

Thomas Carlyle is a clean shaven slick young man who occasionally goes by the name of Allen. He was the bosom friend of "Dickie" Lewis, who shot George Martin last Christmas morning and is now serving five years in Kingston penitentiary for that and other convictions for robbery of furs from Hammond, the Yonge street furrier. Carlyle was tried in the fur cases but was acquitted. To escape a sentence for professional vagrancy he then pleaded guilty on condition that he might leave city under suspended sentence. He left, but, as always occurs, he came back again. On Saturday Detectives Davis and Black arrested him, and in his pocket was found a clipping, presumably from a New York paper, describing a robbery at Tiffany's by a thief disguised as a plumber. Several valuable brooches and other jewelry were taken. In Carlyle's pocket was found a locket which answered the description of some of the jewelry taken from Tiffany's. It is thought possible that it is trashy and and that the clipping is used to gull greenhorns. Carlyle was remanded until the day after the Civic Holiday, and inquiries will meanwhile be made.

Complaints have come in lately to the detectives that a bogus plumber has been spying out several city institutions and establishments, and the prisoner is believed to be the man.

BEHRING SEA SEIZURES.

Sensational News Expected from the Mare Clausum in a Few Days.

Special to the Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12.—The steamer Uranus brings news that the sealers have reached Behring Sea and are in imminent danger of seizure by the revenue cutters. The instructions under which the cutters are boarding vessels this year are said to include orders to seize all sealskins. All these things indicate that the next news received from Behring Sea is likely to be sensational in its nature.

NOT ANXIOUS FOR GLORY.

Recruits for the Spanish Army in Cuba Forced Into Service.

Special to the Times.

MADRID, Aug. 12.—The mobilizing of the army reserve continue in some cases against the will of the Reservists. At Matara, near Barcelona, for instance, the Reservists refused to march when called upon to do so until the gendarmes fired in the air and thus enforced discipline.

Imperial Parliament.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Harold Frederick cables from London to the Times: The assembling of the new Parliament next Monday excites small attention and no curiosity. No question of patronage remains open save that of the law officers, and this concerns only the bar. Anything like a declaration of policy is not looked for, and whatever interest may be aroused will be strictly of a personal sort. The radicals will raise the question of Henry M. Stanley's nationality, they having an idea that he is a naturalized American citizen.

DEATH SWEEPS AN ARMY

THE SPANIARDS DYING BY THE THOUSANDS IN CUBA.

Fifteen Thousand Soldiers in Four Months—Drunkenness Aiding the Work of the Disease—General Campos' Official Head to Fall Soon.

Special to the Times.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—The steamer Seneca, from Mexican and Cuban ports, arrived this morning.

One of the Havana passengers, in speaking of affairs at that place, says on August 7, the day before the Seneca sailed, Captain General Campos called together all the volunteer organizations and demanded the transfer to the regular army of 100 men from each company. General indignation prevails among these organizations, but the order will be enforced.

CAMPOS' HEAD TO FALL.

The insurrection is more widespread than the people of Havana are allowed to believe, and Campos will not last long. He was caught in a bad trap at Bayamo, and but for the impulsive action of the Cuban General, Maceo, who precipitated the attack, Campos would certainly have been captured.

FEARFUL SPANISH MORTALITY.

The insurgents win in every fight. In the past four months the Spanish forces have lost by disease, drunkenness and killed in battle, fully 15,000 men. No reports are allowed to be circulated concerning losses in battle, but the authorities admit that in this period 10,000 men have died from disease or excessive indulgence in food or drink.

Thirty thousand insurgents are known to be in the field, overrunning the country and making their camps in the mountain fastnesses, whence they sally to strike a blow, and return to camp, depending on their rigid movements to disconcert the enemy.

DANGER OF NEGRO GOVERNMENT.

A large majority of the inhabitants of Cuba are negroes, and independence would mean negro Government. If independence could be secured with the establishment of a protectorate under the United States or some other strong government, then the question would soon be settled. Failing in this, the general desire is to secure home rule from the mother country.

The capture of an important sea coast town would be followed by the recognition of their rights as belligerents. Until some definite plan can be settled the guerilla warfare will be continued. A large majority of the people are hoping for concessions from Spain in preference to independence, as a republic without negro domination would be difficult to obtain.

FOUGHT IN A BAR-ROOM.

"Gentleman" Jim Pulled Fitz's Nose and Spat in His Face.

Special to the Times.

PHILADELPHIA, August 12.—Crowds of sports collected at the Queen's Hotel today and eagerly sought for details of a little "scrap" last night between Corbett and Fitzsimmons. Fitz. left Philadelphia early this morning for New York but the big Californian spent the day here and left for Scranton, Pa., this evening. When Corbett was seen and asked for his version of last night's row, his account of the affair would make it seem that he intended merely to be playful and that Fitzsimmons resented this playfulness, when it took the form of being called a cur and having his nose pulled. Corbett said: "The whole trouble started about two weeks ago in New York, when I refused to ride a bicycle match with Fitzsimmons for the benefit of the ice fund. When I am going to fight a man I want to be aggressive; I want to be on outs with him, see. I had publicly stated I intended to pull Fitzsimmons' nose next time I met him, but I want to say that I did not know that he was at the Queen's hotel. When I went there last night the first I knew of him being there was when I turned around and saw him standing at the register. Then I said to him, 'You big monkey what do you want at that register, you know you cannot write,' then I said to him, 'You've been talking about me again, haven't you.' He said, 'No I haven't, but what if I had,' then I said to him, 'You said I sneaked out of riding a bike race with you in New York and now you are going around saying I'm going to try and sneak out of the fight.' All this time I was only sort of in fun and just stinging him, but Fitzsimmons began to get mad. Then I reached out and pulled his nose for a kind of a joke. Then he made a motion as if to lead for me. I didn't at all think he would, but it is always best to be on the safe side, so I closed in on him and we clinched. Then my friends grabbed me and my brother grabbed Fitzsimmons. The kid was tickled to death when he found he could hold the big fellow and told him he could lick him himself and punched him in the mug. I did not get at him, so I leaned over and spat in his face and said to him, "you are a cur the world over and I wouldn't have that scared look on your face for $1,000." He wiped off the spit, saying as he did so, "That's a nice thing for a man to do; you're a gentleman you are." Now that was a nice thing for him to say, wasn't it. If he had been a man he would have punched me. You would have punched any man that spat in your face, would'nt you. Fitzsimmons broke away and picked up a bottle and threw it at Joe, and hit Brady. Joe picked up a decanter but they wouldn't let him throw it and then we parted. I want it understood that I was not drunk last night.

FIFTEEN VICTIMS.

More of the Crushed Workmen Recovered From the Ruins.

Special to the Times.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Three more bodies of workmen who perished in the collapse of the building at South 5th avenue and 3rd streets last Thursday were recovered in the ruins between midnight last night and six o'clock this morning in such a mutilated and decomposed state that they were unrecognizable. They were sent to the morgue unidentified. These with the man who died at the hospital of injuries received in the disaster will make 15 victims in all.

AFFAIRS IN CHINA.

The thorough thrashing Japan gave China has not taught the latter the lesson its people have so badly needed, and until Britian and the United States read the Celestials' government a plain, unvarnished lecture, and force it to inflict condign punishment on the fiends who have massacred the missionaries, the stern justice called for by the crimes will not be meted out.

Even that will not ensure future safety for missionaries and other foreigners in China, and there seems no reason to hope for that safety until Britain and the United States have compelled the Chinese Emperor to place in all his civil and military offices men who will see that human life and the property of foreigners is held safe. Until the official class in China is thoroughly reformed there will be no guarantee that there will not be periodical massacres.

The outfall sewer is again to the fore Town Solicitor Edwards: If you don't see anything you want ask for it.

All those who have not been murdered by H. H. Holmes will please rise and remain standing until counted.

A howling farce is what the Winnipeg Tribune cruelly calls the attempt of the Bowell government to reopen negotations with the Manitoba government on the school question. To the Dominion premier there is nothing farcical in the situation. It is tragic.

Dr. Reilly of the Chicago Bureau of Public Health, says: "Do not let others kiss you indiscriminately, and never without first wiping your lips with carbolzied rose-water and thoroughly drying them." But, if you don't want to be kissed, what's the matter with an onion?

On June 30, 1894, there were in the hands of receivers 39,000 miles of railways in the United States. This number represented one-quarter of the total railway mileage of Republic and a capital of two and a half billion dollars. The figures for the present fiscal year do not show any material change from those just given. The industrial development of our neighbors has been phenomenal, but a good deal of it has a very shaky foundation.

A steamer running on rails is a curious sight to be seen near Copenhagen. Two lakes are separated by a narrow strip of land on which rails are laid running into the water on either side. The steamer, which is 44 feet long and carries 70 passengers, is guided to the rails by piles like a ferry slip. It has wheels on either side which fit the rails, and is driven full speed up one side of the incline and down the other into the water on the other side.

Mrs. Dibbe Nobles of Twiggs County, Ga., murdered her husband and was sentenced to be hanged. Certain New Women in other parts of Georgia conceived the idea that Mrs. Nobles had been driven to her crime by the brutality of her husband, and asked the Governor to commute her sentence. They also interested women of other States in her behalf. Now the voters of Twiggs County have held a mass-meeting and passed resolutions to the effect that any interference with the sentence would induce a contempt for law which would be likely to lead to lynching. The Maria Barberi agitation would not stand much show in Georgia.

AN INTERESTING CEREMONY.

Inauguration of the Presiding Officer of the House of Commons.

In the confirmation of the House of Lords of the election of a Speaker of the English Parliament, the most striking portion of the ceremony is witnessed, when it forms, as it usually does, a part of the proceedings of the opening of Parliament. The day following the election the House of Commons meets again. The Lords are also in session. The commoners sit silent, and the stranger looks on in wonder, vainly endeavoring to ascertain what is their purpose in coming together. Presently he notices a rush of attendants to the door leading from the inner lobby to the chamber proper. The Sergeant-at-arms, dressed after the manner of the Speaker, without the wig or gown, an old-fashioned sheathed sword dangling by his side, carries a golden key. In an instant he locks the door with an alacrity which suggests the possibility of an attempt to storm the parliamentary citadel. Then is a tapping. Once it is ignored; twice it is ignored; it is repeated a third time, and the Sergeant-at-arms shouts, "Who's there?"

"Black Rod," comes the reply. Three times the question is repeated and three times the same answer is given.

"Enter Black Rod," says the Sergeant, as he throws open the door.

Black Rod enters. He is a peculiar little man, of a pleasing rotundity of person, and a becoming gravity of demeanor. "Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod" is his full title. He is an officer of the crown, whose duty it is to wait upon the peers while in session. It is his duty, also, to take charge of any peer arrested for any crime against the Lords or on any charge upon which impeachment is attempted. In his right hand he carries a black rod, upon the top of which rests a golden lion. Everything about him is black except the few scattered hairs which peep out from under an old-fashioned wig.

Slowly and sedately Black Rod walks up the floor of the House.

"Her Majesty demands the presence of her faithful Commoners," he says. Then he bows to the Speaker, and the Speaker bows in return. Solemnly the Speaker descends from his chair and proceeds down the floor of the House. Black Rod, still facing him and still bowing, moves backward toward the door. A ludicrous touch is given to the proceedings by the manner in which he casts his eye over his shoulders, as if to assure himself that he will not meet with any dangerous obstruction. The members follow the Speaker, and the procession passes through the chamber and inner and outer lobbies. A number of policemen scattered about the building now yell themselves hoarse, "Make way for Black Rod." Across the tessellated floor of the House the procession moves, through the lobby leading to the peers, and now it has reached its destination.

When Black Rod enters he announces: "Her Majesty's faithful Commoners wait upon your lordships." The election of the new speaker is announced and a hope is expressed that he will be acceptable to Her Majesty, whereupon the Lord Chancellor assures the Commoners of Her Majesty's gracious pleasure, and extends her congratulations to both House and the Speaker. Then the Queen's speech is read; the Commoners return to their places, and an adjournment is taken till evening. When the House comes together again the acceptance of the address is formally moved and seconded by two supporters of the Ministry of the day, while an amendment is moved by some leader of the Opposition. This is the first shot in the battle which is to be waged for six or seven months. The day begins in peace and harmony; it ends in fierce and angry debate. Thus rapidly is the scene ever shifting on the parliamentary stage of Great Britain.

PROFITS.

Policyholders of the Sun Life Assurance Comyany of Canada receive ninety-three and one-third per cent. of the TOTAL surplus earned by the Company, and the stockholders the remaining six and two-thirds per cent. By this system the holders of participating policies receive ninety-three and one-third per cent. not only of the profits of their own class but also of those earned by the non-participating policies. They thus have the protection of a large capital stock for a merely nominal sum.

On ordinary policies profits are divided every five years, counting in each case from the date of the policy. The method adopted is eminently fair to all parties, and is a modification of what is known as the "Contribution Plan." The profits may be taken in cash to be used in payment of premiums, or applied to the purchase of bonus additions to the sum assured.

On Reserve Dividend Policies the surplus, instead of being distributed every five years, is accumulated during the Reserve Dividend period, and the accumulation thus arising is distributed among those who have survived that term and have kept their policies in force. The profits paid during 1895, to those entitled to receive them, are the largest that have ever been paid by the Company and have seldom been equalled by any other Company.

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our SYSTEMATIC PLAN OF SPECULATION.

Originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who, by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

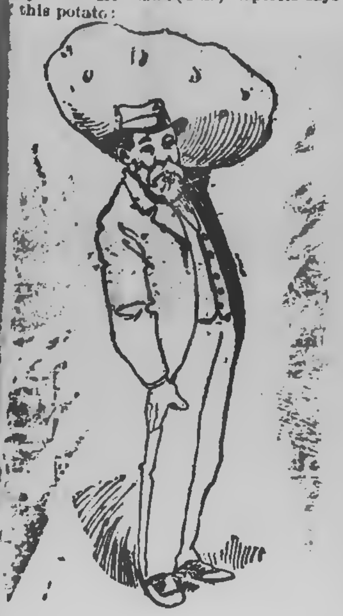
A PRIZE POTATO.

It Was Raised in Colorado by J. B. Swan and Weighs 86 Pounds 10 Ounces.

'r. E. William Randall, of North Eas· Mass., has received a photograph of rother-in-law, Mr. Howard Talbot, h a mammoth potato said to weigh hty-six pounds on his shoulders. Mr. albot was a former resident of North ston, and is known as a man of verity. The Loveland (Col.) Reporter says this potato:



A LOAD FOR ANY MAN.

"At last J. B. Swan has succeeded in having his immense potato of the Maggie Murphy variety photographed. This mammoth potato was twenty-eight inches in length, not circumference, and fourteen inches across it, and is claimed to weigh eighty-six pounds and ten ounces. Mr. Swan is a grower of great repute, but this last production beats anything of the kind we have yet seen."

Galloway Robes.

Just having killed an immense bull bufio and sent the meat to market makes me iink more forcibly than ever that the alloway is to take the place of the exinct buffalo. Having in the ten years between 1873 and 1883 tanned nearly 200,000 buffalo hides into buffalo robes, or more than any other man, living or dead, I think I know whereof I speak when I say the Galloways and their grades furnish robes that are equal to the famous robes of years ago.

Any one can tan them equal to the best Indian tanning. The squaws did that work entirely. On the plains wherever the hunt was going on the squaw at once stretched out the robe on four poles quite tight, and in freezing weather they were allowed to freeze over night. Then in the morning early the squaws would stand on the hide with their clipping tool, and with a quick sharp stroke made the chips fly like a carpenter with his plane. In about one hour the hide was ready for the grease. They smeared on any kind the flesh side. Then they moistened r with water and rolled it up for an ur or two. Then they would fasten a en hide rope on a stout stake driven in e ground, or a tree, about four feet om the ground, and fasten it again at e bottom, making the rope tight. Then rasp the hide with both hands and saw ck and forth for a few moments; then t the rope again, and so on until perfecty dry, soft and white.

The Galloways, like the buffalo, are rime for robes only in winter months, eing best in November, December and January, or up to the time the hair begins to loosen in spring. The better care and richer feed the better the robe. That alloway cattlemen can grow and make their own robes I know, and at no greater cost than a few hours' work which can e done in winter. One can easily make ne robe in a day. I can make from five o ten in a day with one boy's help. The ll blood steers, 3 years old, killed in eason, ought to make robes worth $25, nd the grades according to fineness and mount of pure blood they carry, say $10 erage. That they can add that much the profits of the farm and occupy are hours there is no doubt.—F. B. ark, in Breeder's Gazette.

Feeding Dairy Cows.

A series of observations of the winter eding practices of Connecticut dairymen as led the Storrs station to the conclusion that in general there was the largest yield of milk and the largest butter production with narrow rations rich in protein. Wide rations low in protein did not favor large milk or butter production. In the three tests when it was possible to study the financial side of the feeding narrow rations rich in protein were decidedly the more economical. Bearing in mind that there is no such thing as a "best ration," and that all attempts to express in terms of protein and energy the needs of a dairy cow are only approximations, the following ration is tentatively suggested as a basis for feeding dairy cows:

Organic matter, 25 pounds; digestible protein, 2.5 pounds and enough digestible fat and a carbohydrates to bring the fuel value up to about 81,000 calories.

The subject of cattle feeding and handling is a large one, and only general principles can be laid down. No hard and fast rules for feeding are now known, and doubtless none ever will be known. It is nevertheless true that the man who exercises the largest amount of good judgment, based upon all that the most advanced science can bring him, and who tries to put into practice the knowledge thus acquired, will be much surer of success than one who works blindly. There may be no "best" breed, no "best" ration, and no "best" way of handling dairy stock, but there are poor cows, uneconomical rations and bad ways of handling, and the man who learns to avoid the bad and choose the better is well on the road towards the best.

Hogs Cleaned the Meadow.

Last year an Indiana farmer had a meadow so badly infested with asters as to render it worthless for hay, so he concluded to make a hog pasture of one portion and cut the remainder for home use. The hogs were turned on when the grass and weeds were six to eight inches high. The animals took to the weeds, leaving the grass. Being without rings they took to rooting and in three weeks the weeds were destroyed. The hogs were then turned off and at harvest time the field yielded over two tons per acre of pure timothy. The unpastured portion was almost worthless. This spring the pastured land promises a good yield of hay free from weeds.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

TALK OF OUSTING THEM

POSSIBILITY OF THE GREENWAY GOVERNMENT BEING DISMISSED.

The Proposed Plan by Which a Conservative Administration Headed by Hugh John Macdonald Will Succeed Them.

Special to the Times.

MONTREAL, Aug. 10.—A Manitoban now here says that the report of Hon. J. C. Patterson's taking the Manitoba Governorship would not alter in the least the method of solving the school question which is being urged by western Conservatives upon the Federal authorities. "Sir John Schultz or Mr. Patterson," said he, "must both follow the same course. They represent Federal authority. The Privy Council's judgment clearly imposes action of some sort, and no Manitoba Governor can accept a blank refusal to act at all from the Provincial Ministers. He would have to find other advisers. These advisers would maintain the Public school system, but make enough concessions to satisfy the minority.

A CONSERVATIVE GOVERNMENT.

"The Manitoba Legislature does not meet till next year, but a Conservative Provincial Ministry, with Hugh John Macdonald or some other other good man leader, would be justified in appealing to the people upon their policy. At the same time the Dominion Government would be absolved by the action of the new Manitoba Ministers from holding another session of this Parliament. They could appeal to the country on the day the Manitoba local elections were held. With a reasonable measure of school reform and the support of the Canadian Pacific, both Government could carry the Prairie Province. This, or something like it, is the only solution of the school question."

PREPARING THEIR REPLY.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 10.—The full Provincial Cabinet will meet tomorrow to discuss the Dominion Government's rejoinder to their refusal to consider the remedial order. No reply, however, will probably be made to it for a week or so.

Sir John Schultz has returned from the coast. He denies that he discussed the school question while away with Premier Bowell in any shape or form.

AMERICANS IN CHINA.

Do Not Want a Britisher to Represent Them and Protect Vigorously.

Special to the Times.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 10.—Americans here have sent a cable despatch to President Cleveland protesting against the action of Minister Denby in consenting that a British consul should represent the United States at the enquiry into the outrages on Christians at Fucheng. They recommend in the despatch that the commission of enquiry be formed, and that an official of adequate rank be made a member of it, while Chinese who were in any way implicated in the massacres be excluded. The despatch concludes by urging that the commission be escorted to Kucheng by an escort of marines.

ALL SOCIETY TALKS OF IT

THE APPROACHING HOWLAND-BETHUNE WEDDING.

The Family of the Ex-Lieutenant-Governor Opposed to the Match—As to the Marriage Settlement—The Wedding Likely to be a Very Quiet Affair.

Special to the Times.

TORONTO, Aug. 10.—The announcement of Sir William Howland's approaching marriage to Mrs. James Bethune has occasioned more talk in Toronto society than any incident that has occurred for many a long day. Both contracting parties are very well known in the social circles of the province and both are well up in years. The wedding, it is understood, has been fixed for Wednesday next, and will probably be a quiet one, as the family of the ex-Lieutenant-Governor has raised opposition to the match.

Sir William is an American by birth, his ancestor, the Puritan John Howland having been one of the Pilgrim Fathers. He was born in Dutchess County, N. Y., in 1811 and is therefore 84 years of age. He came to Toronto in 1830 and settled in Toronto Township. He built up a large milling business and afterwards branched out as a financier and politician, making his home in Toronto. He was appointed a member of the Executive Council of Canada in May, 1862. On July 1st, 1867, Canada's first Dominion Day, he was sworn in as a member of the Privy Council and became Minister of Inland Revenue in the first Federal Government, holding that position until July, 1868, when he became Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario. Previously, in 1834, he had been one of the pioneer capitalists in developing the resources of the Northwest Territories. From 1857 to 1868 he was member for West York in the Canada Assembly. In 1865 he was one of the Canadian Commissioners who visited Washington for the purpose of negotiating a reciprocity treaty. Her Majesty made him Commander of the Bath (civil) in July, 1867, when he entered the Privy Council and subsequently in 1879 he was made a Knight of the Order of St. Michael and St. George. It will be seen that Sir William is a man full of years and honors. His full title is Sir William Pearce Howland, C.B., K.C.M.G.

THIRD MATRIMONIAL VENTURE.

Twice before has he been married, and on both occasions to widows. First in 1843, when he espoused Mrs. Webb, who died in 1859. Again in 1866, when he married the widow of the late Captain Hunt. The second Lady Howland died a few years ago.

Owing to the opposition which his relatives have made to the marriage, it is not probable that Sir William will continue to reside in his old home in Simcoe street. Pending the arrangement of the marriage settlement the members of Mr. Howland's family have engaged the well-known barristers, Blake, Lash & Cassels, to see that their interests are protected.

THE FUTURE LADY HOWLAND.

Mrs. Bethune is nearly 60 years of age. She is the daughter of Dr. Rattray, of Cornwall, and was married to the late James Bethune, Q.C., LL.D., in 1860. She has four children and lives with her son at 125 Bedford road. Her late husband died in 1884.

Sir William is a man who bears his years well. Despite the fact that he is far past the limit set by the psalmist, his tall, lean and slightly stooping figure can be seen any day in the business streets, and he frequently handles the reins himself, when riding behind his handsome team of bays. He is a member of the National Club and an attendant at St. James' Cathedral.

ERB NOT ARRESTED.

His Unfortunate Child Cannot Last Much Longer.

Special to the Times.

STRATFORD, Ont., Aug. 10.—Dr. B. E. Hawke who is attending the Erb family says that the girl, Mary Erb is still in a precarious condition and unless there is a change soon she cannot possibly hang out much longer. The report that "Doc" Erb had been arrested at Baden turns out to be premature. Chief McCarthy says that so far he has received no word of Erb's arrest, notwithstanding that he has telegraphed and written all over the country, giving a description of the old man, who is sixty-one years of age, and who is dressed in a brown coat and vest with grizzly gray whiskers and moustache clipped short.

Mrs. Talmage's Will.

BROOKLYN, Aug. 10.—The will of Mrs. T. De Witt Talmage was filed for probate today. She leaves $166,000, of which $30,000 is real and $136,000 personal property. Her husband is the sole legatee.

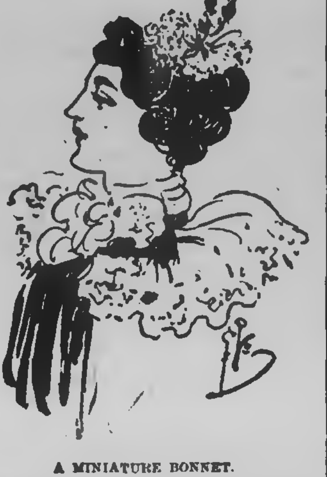
HINTS ON HAIR.

Fashionable Women Are Looking for a New Arrangement of the Coiffure.

Most people have grown tired of the Psyche knot, and are experimenting with their tresses trying to discover some new style of coiffure that is becoming. Those women whose faces will bear it, part their hair and draw it down over the ears, then coil it loosely at the nape of the neck. It is waved very little and is fastened down very smooth on each side the part with the little side combs that everybody wears. Tiny curls just above the ears are a relief to the severe lines at the forehead, and are very coquettish on a pretty girl if they are becoming.

Nearly every woman parts her hair, and then each coils the back hair as it is most becoming. Many of the summer hats are made to accommodate the high coiffure. The little Napoleon hats admit of both high coiffures and the pompadour front, which is coming into vogue.



A MINIATURE BONNET.

So long as the tiny bonnets stay with us, there must of necessity be considerable elaborateness in the arrangement of the coiffure, for a woman must have the appearance of wearing something on her head.

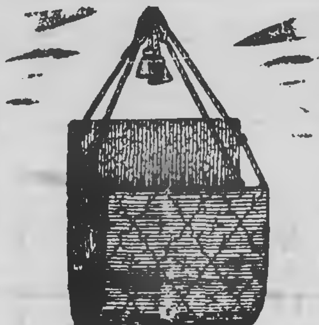
The tiny capote which is pictured here would look very diminutive indeed if the hair were brushed back smooth and tight instead of being waved all over the head. It consists of a bunch of roses and buds placed just above the knot of hair, with a small violet crown and some flounces of lace to make at least an apology for a hat.

The arrangement of the neck fixings also has much to do with the appearance of the hat. This has a yoke of mousseline de soie with a band of silk wrapped around the neck and run through round buckles on each side. The same trimming finishes the bottom of the yoke.

Pocket for Stationery.

A nice receptacle for the unanswered letters which accumulate so quickly in the summer when one is away from home, is as follows:

Take two pieces of pasteboard or stiff canvas, each six inches wide and fourteen inches long. Cover one side of each piece with pretty figured silk, satine or cretonne, turning the edges over on the other side and basting them smoothly all round.



POCKET FOR STATIONERY.

Lay the wrong side of the two pieces together, and overhand the edges together with fine silk. At equal distances apart on each side edge, beginning a little way from one end, sew eight small rings, crocheted over with silk or floss in a color to match some color in the covering.

Bend the case as shown in the picture and lace a pretty cord throught the rings at each side, carrying the ends up and knotting them together at the top.

With needle and silk fasten the cords (so they cannot draw up and close the pocket) where they pass through the three upper rings, and sew little tassels to the ends.

A larger pocket of this kind, ten by twenty-three, makes a convenient holder for magazines and daily papers.

A Polish for Tan Shoes.

Now that tan-colored shoes are so much worn a hint as to how they may be preserved indefinitely may not be amiss. A clever little woman of my acquaintance had a handsome pair of very light yellow low buttoned shoes that were ruined as far as appearances went. Her husband was to bring her some dressing, but he would not return until night and she wanted to wear them after lunch. She put her wits to work; wet a soft muslin rag with water into which a few drops of household ammonia had been poured, rubbed it with a little Castile soap, and applied it first to the back of the shoe. It worked admirably. The entire shoe was thoroughly clean in five minutes. She kept one hand inside the shoe to hold it in shape, and was careful not to wet the rag so much as to soak through the leather to the lining, and also to rinse off well before drying. While damp she smoothed them into fine form, then stood them away for half an hour to dry. Then she took a soft flannel rag and rubbed them well over for a minute or two. This gave them a natural gloss. She has worn these shoes for six weeks, cleaning them in this way three and four times a week and they are as soft and pliable and presentable as the day she bought them.

A Simple Cosmetic.

A woman who has reached middle age with a skin of cream and roses says of her complexion regimen:

"My recipe is the simplest and cheapest in the world. A little milk and water and ten minutes a day are all the secrets involved. All women know that to consult a skin specialist, or even the family physician, about their complexion means an endless routine of dosing and doctors' bills, but my remedy will serve for the busiest, as well as the most economical of women. I use nothing but milk and warm water—one part milk to two of water. With this I bathe my face and neck freely twice a day, five minutes, night and morning."

That Pond's Extract is without equal for relieving pain, and that no remedy should be accepted as "just as good." MAY BANKRUPT HAWAII.

Britain is Thought to be About to Demand Damages.

Special to the Times.

HONOLULU, Aug. 1, via San Francisco, Aug. 10.—Aside from chafing over the $25,000 claim made by American Minister Willis in behalf of Durrell for false imprisonment, the Hawaiian Government is disturbed over late advices that England will demand heavy damages for British subjects imprisoned and deported for alleged connection with the January uprising.

A report comes from Victoria that two British warships have been ordered to Honolulu.

Commissioner Hawes has presented no claim in behalf of Great Britain, yet he is expected to do so. Claims amounting to over a million dollars have been filed by Britons, and if England insists on payment the Hawaiian Government would be bankrupted—perhaps compelled to turn over the Customs and Postoffice revenues to Great Britain.

AN EXCEPTIONAL SALE.

St. John is much Interested in the Recent Medical Discovery.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Aug. 12.—The many cases of marvellous restoration to health from various forms of kidney trouble which have been constantly appearing in the daily press of the Dominion have for sometime awakened the liveliest interest here, and the remedy by which the cures were effected namely, Dodd's Kidney Pills, are obtaining great celebrity throughout the province. The appearance of the testimonials of Drs. Rose and McCormick stating the benefits which they had personally derived from their use was considered a sufficient sign of the merits of the remedy, and the other interesting and wonderful cases which have since been chronicled has caused the specific to have an exceptional sale.

Almost Wiped Out by Fire.

LOCKPORT, Ill., Aug. 12.—This town of 3,000 people on the canal, five miles from Joliette, had a narrow escape from destruction by fire yesterday. The loss is probably $250,000. Two engines and two hose-cars, which were sent by the Chicago fire department at noon in response to appeals for help; a chemical engine and hose car from Joliette, and an engine from Lamont, saved the whole town from being in ashes last night. Lockport had no water power or apparatus adequate to subdue the flames. One half of the business buildings of the town were consumed, including the City Hall and all the records, the post office and its contents, the Chicago and Alton Railway depot and freight sheds, and the telephone exchange. The fire started in the Phoenix newspaper and printing building, owned by Mayor Lem McDonald.

One of the wives is in New York city, one in Columbus, Ga., one in Atlanta, Ga.. two at South Towns, and one at Jacksonville. Smith's death was noticed in press despatches and telegrams have been pouring in on the officials from his many wives. The New York wife, who claims to be No. 1, wanted the body held until she arrived, but the Jacksonville wife favored immediate interment, and her wishes prevailed. The New York woman will reach here today, and the other wives are also expected. There will probably be a lively fight for Smith's property.

HACKED TO PIECES.

Mrs. Stewart's Brave Struggle Against the Chinese Hordes.

Special to the Times.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—The World's special from Foo Chow, China, says: Baby Stewart, is dead, the 11th victim of the massacre of missionaries at Hwasang. One of the murderers of the Stewarts has been caught and confesses that they cut off the hands, feet and head of the wife. Mrs. Stewart was frenzied and fought till hacked to pieces. CANADIAN PIRATES.

Combined Action Must be Taken to Restrain These Modern Jack Kidds.

Special to The Times.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Aug, 12.—Capt. W. H. Smith, R.N.R., of the Marine and Fisheries Department, has returned from Quebec, where he has been holding an investigation into the stranding of the British steamer Mexico. The steamer went on the rocks at Belle Isle on Sunday, February 7th and became a total loss. The captain says the experience of the crew during the following day was melancholy to relate and calls for the concerted action of the British, Canadian and Newfoundland Governments to prevent such acts of piracy as were carried on by fifty or sixty fishermen on the island. It seems they boarded the vessel in small boats and plundered it of everything they could lay their hands upon. They broke open the hatches and pulled up the flour, cheese, butter, etc., from the vessels hold. They ransacked the cabins, tore down all the valuable fittings, looking glasses, door handles, etc. They stole the chronometer and all the nautical instruments, including compasses, in fact so thoroughly did they wreck the interior of the steamer that had the captain been successful in getting her off the rocks he would not have been able to proceed to a place of safety.

It is stated that so determined were these fishermen to plunder the ship that had her officers interfered they would hardly have escaped with their lives.

IN THE BRESLAU MURDER.

Evidence Being Gathered Against August Kirchinski, Charged with the Crime,

Special to The Times.

BERLIN, Ont., Aug. 12.—Detective Greer, of the Attorney-General's Department, has been working upon the Jeannerett murder case here. Kirchinski's stories are not tallying very well. Several persons heard him explain the scratches on his face as sun blisters, which they plainly are not, and to several others he said they were caused by an apple bough.

The bough he was supposed to have struck was several inches higer than the top of the prisoners head, and it has been recently cut off, so measurement can be made. This action on the part of the members of his family will not be at all in favor of the prisoner.

Some witnesses have been discovered who called to inquire after Mrs. Kirchinski on the fatal Sunday, and were told that Kirchinski was in the bush, which the members of his family now deny. One of these callers will testify to seeing Kirchinski come out of the bush at a point towards where Jeannerett's body was found, and cross the field to the house.

Kirchinski had four cows and a horse and refused an invitation to dine at Detweiler's, on the ground of having to attend to the cattle, which, as a fact, were pasturing in a part of the bush distant from where the murder was committed, and required no attention in the middle of the day. Kirchinski and his wife say he got home from Detweiler's at 3.20, bvt several witnesses say it must have been almost 5 o'clock.

Wednesday the prisoner will be again brought up for the preliminary investigation, but a remand will likely be taken to allow the Crown time to connect a complete case. Jeannerett's body will be exhumed and carefully examined, and it is thought that if he inflicted the scratches on Kirchinski's face some traces of skin will be found under his finger nails.

Death or Marriage.

DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 12.—While C. McNorton, a mulatto coachman, and Sadie Johnson were standing before a minister in church on Friday night about to be married, two men refused to have the ceremony performed, McNorton exclaiming "Death or Marriage," shot the prospective bride in the back as she turned to escape. Her injuries are fatal. McNorton is in jail.

Beware of Chokecherries.

This being the season for chokecherries, it is just as well that parents should know that this fruit and milk sometimes prove fatal when taken together by children. A girl named Jane Herd, 16 years of age, living at Minden, Ont., died from eating chokecherries and drinking milk, on Saturday.

A Steamer Ashore.

BRIGHTON, Ont., Aug. 12.—At 12.30 this morning the steamer Alexandria, Captain Smith, bound from Charlotte for this port, went ashore a little south east of Presque Isle main light, owing to the dense fog. The vessel sustained no damage.

The tug Chieftain, of Garden Island, is on the way to her assistance. Between 50 and 60 passengers were transferred to the steamer Nellie Cuthbert and brought to this place.

A Branch Ticket Office.

Sells' Brothers in all cities where they exhibit have a branch ticket office in the central part of the city, for the convenience of ladies and children and especially for circus parties, where tickets can be obtained in advance without extra charge. This is quite a convenient feature, and very agreeable for the fair sex. Patrons to Sells' Brothers' circus are as carefully handled as they are at any first-class theater, and nothing is said or done to offend the most fastidious.

ENLARGES THE USES OF MUSIC.

There is a good deal in the old saw that music will charm the savage breast. It always was possessed of a magnetic power over individuals. To the present age, however, must be credited the greater triumphs in musical directions. And not the least of these is the transposing piano of Heintzman & Co., Toronto, which opens out for vocalists a wide arena of delightful study. The instrument is unique in every particular, and ought to command the study of everyone interested in music, whether professionally or for its individual delights.

That Tired Feeling

Is a common complaint and it is a dangerous symptom. It means that the system is debilitated because of impure blood, and in this condition it is especially liable to attacks of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the remedy for this condition, and also for that weakness which prevails at the change of season, climate or life.

Hood's Pills act easily, yet promptly and efficiently on the bowels and liver, 25c.

COUNTERFEITERS JAILED.

A FAMILY OF MANVERS FARMERS JUGGED AT LINDSAY.

The Dominion Police Supply the Information and Have the Warrants Issued—Dies and Counterfeit Coin Seized—Great Excitement in the Township.

On information supplied by the Dominion police a family by the name of Murphy, living on the fourteenth concession of Manvers, were yesterday morning lodged in jail at Lindsay charged with uttering and having in their possession counterfeit money, and also with having the dies and other plant necessary for the manufacture of spurious coin.

The warrant for their arrest was issued a few days ago by County Police Magistrate Deacon, of Lindsay.

The family lives about ten miles south of Lindsay, and is well known, having always made Lindsay its market town.

In the vicinity they have many friends, who were somewhat surprised to hear of the arrest.

The authorities who have the case in hand claim to have convincing evidence, and when the accused are brought up before Magistrate Deacon it is said it will be shown that they have been in the counterfeit business for a long time and are the manufacturers of much of the bogus money now in circulation.

The prisoners were called yesterday morning, but were remanded in order to allow the Crown to secure further evidence.

At present the officers are making a thorough search of the Murphys' premises.

Manvers is a prosperous and usually a quiet township, and the arrest of the alleged counterfeiters has created considerable excitement.

There has been a great deal of counterfeit money in circulation for the past two years. It has been principally in 50 cent and 25 cent pieces, very cleverly made, but containing very little silver. The police of Toronto and the Dominion Government have received numerous counterfeit coins of these denominations and have had special men working on the case for some months.

Where the Government got the clue that lead to the arrest of these parties, is not definitely known, but it is said that neighbors of the accused have been suspicious for some time. These suspicions were verified, says the report, during last month. One of the neighbors received some money from Murphy in silver coins, and this neighbor attended Barnum's circus at Port Hope and offered in payment for a ticket one of the 50 cent pieces received from Murphy. It was instantly detected by the shrewd ticket seller as being counterfeit, and this confirmed certain suspicions that the neighbor had. He communicated the incident to the authorities and the arrest followed.

The farmers of Manvers are very much excited over the arrest.

THE BICYCLE MEET.

A Large Number of Entries—General Notes of Sports.

Two entries for the bicycle races on Thursday were received from Chicago last night.

The local club is working hard to make the meet on Civic Holiday a success. Every one of the Canadian champions have entered, and two tandems will be put in to pace the riders in the ten mile, class B. championship, which will undoubtedly establish a new Canadian record for the distance. It will be a glorious fight from start to finish between McCarthy, Wells, McIntosh, McLeod, and Gibbons, with a possibility of a dark horse turning up in the persons of Frank Radway and Billy Carmen. The track is in splendid condition, thanks to the veteran sport, Mr. Sam Ray, who has had charge of the work. The local club hope to have some wins to their credit as Walker, Lord, Evans, King and Lush, are all riding in good form. Lord will be a hard man to beat in the novice race, class A, and Walker will be a hard man to defeat for the district championship. The entries are larger than last year, and all events will be hotly contested. Mr. H. Thompson has charge of the score cards, and every one taking in the races should have one, as without one you cannot find out who the men are in the race, the riders place by numbers and the rider's name will be opposite the number on the score card.

The officials for the day are:—

Referee—Geo. H. Orr, Toronto.

Starter—W. E. Lech, Peterborough.

Timers—E. W. Gaudrie, Campbellford, Hope McGinnis, Belleville, C. L. Owen, Campbellford and G. J. Horkins, official timer, Peterborough.

Judges—W. McGee, Toronto, A. H. Stratton, Peterborough, Geo. Benor, Campbellford, C. LeBrun, Peterborough.

Umpires—D. Milne, Stirling, F. Carscallen, Marmora, Gus Gough, Peterborough and Robt. Fair, Peterborough.

Scorers—Alf Terrill, Peterborough, W. A. Buchanan, Peterborough.

Clerk of the Course—S. B. Ewing, Peterborough.

The Lindsay baseball club defeated the Port Hope's yesterday by 25 runs to 13.

The Port Hope Guide says that the Athletics were defeated by the Ontarios in Cobourg on Friday. This is a pretty barefaced misrepresentation of facts for a good Methodist like Bro. Wilson to make. If the Athletics had won the game would the Guide come out and say that the Ontarios had been defeated?

JOHNSON-YOUNG RACE.

Tom Eck completed arrangements for the race between John S. Johnson and Fred W. Young, of the Wanderers, yesterday. Mr. Eck said that Mr. Johnson would race Young next Monday at the professional races at Rosedale. Young is expected from New York immediately to prepare for the contest.

THERE IS FRICTION

Between the Bicycle Meet Committee and the Brigade Band.

There appears to be a certain amount of friction between the committee which has in charge the bicycle meet on Thursday, and the Fire Brigade Band.

The committee, it is understood, has made an effort to secure a band of 20 to play at the Driving Park on Thursday, and has offered the Fire Brigade Band $40 to play on that day. The band has placed its figures at $60, and will not go for any less. For this sum they are willing to go out to the Driving Park in the afternoon 30 or 35 strong and toot all the popular airs, and give a concert in the evening as well. The committee says $40, or nothing.

The band looks at it this way: Thirty men are worth at least $2 a day. To make up a band of 20, the best players will have to be selected, and this causes hard feelings among those who are left out in the cold.

The committee thinks that $40 is enough and that the Fire Brigade Band, having played for less than this sum should be willing to engage for $40. It is said the committee will make an effort to get an outside band.

If they do, the Fire Brigade Band is determined to play in the park that afternoon, and at the lake in the evening. In fact the band will run an opposition to the meet.

MUST STAND TRIAL.

The Three Suspects of the Convent Robbery Committed.

The three men accused of robbing Gideon Mercier, caretaker of the Convent Notre Dame, were formally committed to stand their trial at the next Fall Assizes, by Magistrate Dumble yesterday morning. The men are Fred Somers, Duncan McCrae and Frank McDiarmid.

The witnesses who testified against the prisoners were Mr. and Mrs. William Fredenburg, Gideon Mercier, Carrie Strain, Miss Maggie O'Brien, Arthur Rountree, S. B. Ewing and Doig. These witnesses conclusively showed that the accused were hovering around the convent, acting in a very suspicious manner, and that two of them disappeared somewhere's around the convent while the other one watched. Hotelkeeper Rountree testified that the men had spent money freely at his bar. Doig said he was with the men all that morning, and did not miss them. The evidence was somewhat conflicting.

TO SAVE WAIFS AND STRAYS.

An International Convention of Workers in a Good Cause.

The Waif Saving Association of America has written to J. J. Kelso, superintendent of neglected and destitute children, urging the cooperation of Canadians, and asking that a delegate be appointed to the third annual convention of the Association at Detroit on Aug. 29.

The object of the association is the organization of a plan of cooperation of efforts in waif saving that are being made in nearly every large community in the world. It will also afford humanitarians an opportunity to meet and exchange views and experiences.

Superintendent Kelso is anxious to have the matter taken up.

A Metal Breadboard

THE WOMAN WHO HAS BEEN USED to kneading dough on the old fashioned wooden breadboard knows what a bother it is to get them clean and how cumbersome and heavy they are. When they begin to crack or check it is almost impossible to thoroughly cleanse them, and they may easily become dangerous conveyances of disease. It was left for a woman, of course, to remedy this state of affairs, and Mrs. M. M. Everhard, of St. Joseph, Mich., has patented a metal bread-board, which is one of the greatest labor-savers imaginable. It is light, does not absorb grease, dough does not adhere to it, and while it possesses all the advantages of the marble bread-board it is much cheaper and, of course, far lighter and easier to handle. If readers want to confer a favor upon their wives that will be forever appreciated, let them send $1 to the manufacturers 101 Bay street Toronto, for one of these boards.

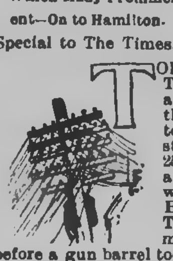
HAYHURST'S RECEPTION

ALL TORONTO PAYS HONOR TO THE HERO OF HAMILTON.

A Civic Address is Followed by a Luncheon at Which Many Prominent Citizens Were Present—On to Hamilton.

Special to The Times.



TORONTO, Aug. 13.—Talk about idolatry and the obtuse heathen who bows down to blocks of wood and stone! Toronto has 250 odd churches and a morality inspector who is known to fame. But a large portion of Toronto, civil and military, is prostrate before a gun barrel today and none of the clergy has protested. The gun barrel is a Martini and belongs to Private Tommy Hayhurst who took up his quarters in the Red Parlor at the Queen's early this morning.

Private Hayhurst came in at 7 o'clock morning, bringing with him her Majesty's guineas, the Bisley medal and two companions. He carried about him a large amount of military impediments, helmet cases, cartridges pouches and such like, but the Martini he left behind in the baggage room, and many inquisitive riflemen would have like to examine it, lock stock, and barrel, and a Martini that has done such good work has a right to be exclusive.

THE SHOOTER'S COMPANIONS.

Staff Sergt. Marris and Color Sergt. Skedden, of the 13th Battalion, but members of the Bisley team, were his companions of the voyage. Sergt. Major Huggins of the 13th, who has been shooting at the Quebec matches, accompanied the party from Montreal. All these gallant riflemen persisted in deprecating their achievements before Private Tommy, who had to shoulder theirs as well as his own blushing honors.

"I tell you," said Staff Sergt. Marris, "that my own score wouldn't have been so good but that Tommy's splendid shooting put nerve into me."

Private Hayhurst wore the Bisley medal on his breast. His right arm was emblazoned with the badges of his previous victories, but the modest gold medal with its bit of blue ribbon was the cynosure. The medal has in high relief upon one side the figure of an archer of 1300 and a rifleman of 1890. Underneath is the legend, "Sit Perpetnum." The obverse has the inscription "Bisley Common.

HAD THE BRIDAL CHAMBER AT THE WINDSOR.

Private Hayhurst escaped from Montreal last night. He was afraid that if he stayed longer he would own the town. At the Windsor hotel they gave him the bridal chamber, and he is not a married man! He thought that it looked as if some one wanted to capture him willy nilly. He couldn't, however, escape an illuminated address signed by the leading military men of Montreal. It is a handsome document ornamented with the badges of the various corps and elaborately framed in guilt. At the Queen's the military men, in uniform and mufti, kept coming in a constant stream from seven a.m. until noon, when the party left for the armories. They shook his right hand until it was exhausted. They took a little something at the Queen's bar

THE MILITARY WELCOME.

During the morning all the leading officers of the city called upon the Bisley hero. Major Delamere was one of the first to welcome him, and before eight o'clock Major Macdonald, Capt. Arthur Kirkpatrick, Staff-Sergeant Rose, Sergeant Thomson, Lieutnant Craig, Sergeant-Major George and a host of others had dropped in.

At eleven o'clock the Bisley party went for a drive about the city and returned to the Queen's at noon, where they were met by Ald. Shaw and the corporation of Toronto.

Major Macdonald, secretary of the Reception Committee, rode in the carriage with the Bisley party.

PROCEEDINGS IN THE ARMORIES.

The proceedings in the armories were held in the east gallery on account of its superior acoustic properties. Lieut.-Col. Buchan, acting D. A. G., assumed the direction of the meeting and introduced Private Hayhurst to the assembled company. On the platform were gathered the majority of the militia officers in Toronto and a goodly number of the city fathers. The Highlanders' band on the entrance of the party of course played "See the Conquering Hero Comes."

HE IS A MODEST MAN.

Private Hayhurt is a modest man. Between the missiles of a field battery and the complimentary projectiles of the English language, he would undoubtedly prefer the former. When he first gazed upon the targets at Bisley Common he felt some trepidation as he raised his trusty Martini to his shoulder. But when Ald. Shaw, as Acting Mayor, drew a formidible parchment from his tail pocket, Pte. Hayhurst's left knee wobbled perceptibly as he braced himself for the onset. True enough, Pte. Hayhurst had a copy of that very address in his pocket. He was dealing with an honorable man who didn't lay ambuscades. It was presumed that he was soldier enough to get his defence ready, and so he had. But, then, had not his friends informed him of the mental effort expended upon that little bit of paper.

It was yesterday afternoon that Ald. Shaw and City Clerk Blevins got together in the throes of composition.

"How's that?" said the chairman of the Executive as he read an especially sonorous sentence.

"Can't you make it a little more euphonious, John?" asked the critical Blevins. Then Ald. Shaw pulled three strands from his whiskers and remodeled the sentence.

THE CIVIC ADDRESS.

This is the address as presented to Private Tommy in the new Armory this morning:

"A soldier is a man of deeds, not words. The congraulatory address which the citizens of Toronto, through me, desire to present to you will be brief as becomes an address to a soldier.

"Already the press of Canada has trumpeted to every part of the Dominion the news of your success in England, and it is no exaggeration to say that in every part of the British Empire, wherever a military circle exists, it is known that Private Hayhurst, of the 13th Battalion of Hamilton, Canada, has won the Queen's prize, the highest offered in the world for marksmanship. The citizens of Toronto desire to congratulate you on your brilliant achievement. We feel and appreciate the honor you have brought, not only on yourself and the 13th Battalion, but on the city of Hamilton and the whole active militia force of the Dominion. The people of Canada are proud of their citizen soldiers. We and know how promptly on two memorable occasions they left their homes to face the stern realities of war. In our own Queen's Park the citizens of Toronto have erected a memorial to the men who died bravely defending our beloved country at Ridgeway, and not far off in the same park a monument is being erected to commemorate the victors of Batoche. And in other cities and towns in Canada, Canadians have done honor to their country's brave defenders.

"Yours has been a peaceful triumph of skill in the use of arms, but the coolness, intelligence and nerve which enabled you to make the highest score in a friendly contest, are just the qualities most desired in actual deadly fight, just the qualities which win renown in war. They are characteristics of Canadian soldiers. You have shown that you possess them in an eminent degree. We are proud of your success and are delighted to know that an enthusiastic reception awaits you tonight in your own city of Hamilton. The citizens of Toronto may not be there to participate in your welcome home, but they claim the privilege of extending here and now in this city their hearty congratulations on the magnificent prizes which crowned your skill in the Mother Land and brought honor to yourself and fresh laurels to the active militia and Canada."

HAYHURST'S REPLY.

After Private Hayhurst had responded briefly, then came a fue-de-joie of congratulatory speeches. The reception was concluded at 1.30 p. m., and the party proceeded to luncheon at Webbs. At 3 p. m., Bond's four-in-hands drew up before the restaurant and the party were taken for a second outing. Private Hayhurst left by the five o'clock boat for Hamilton. He was escorted by the Q.O.R. bugle band which will take part in the celebration there tonight. A special train will leave for Hamilton at 6.30 p.m., when a large number of Toronto people will go to Hamilton to do Hayhurst further honor.

SEVENTEEN ROBBERS SHOT.

The Stern Measures by Which Mexico Represses Pillage.

Special to the Times.

FRONTERAS, Sonora, Mexico, Aug. 13.—Six weeks ago the private messenger of Colonel John Weirs was killed by a gang of highwaymen and robbed of $6,000. Since then the Mexican authorities have kept up an unrelenting chase after the robbers and finally captured them. Seventeen of the number who were directly concerned in the affair have been convicted and shot. Forty others, among them an American named Tribolet, who belonged to or sympathized with the robbers, have been impressed into the Mexican army. The entire band of robbers who have infested that region have now all been shot or are under arrest.

HE BLEW HIS HEART OUT.

Birmingham's Despondent County Treasurer Suicides.

Special to the Times.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 13.—At Livingston, Sumpter County, Robert Barnes, treasurer of the county, committed suicide at an early hour Sunday morning. Barnes arose from his couch, got a shotgun out of a corner of his room and fired a load of buckshot into his heart. That organ was literally blown out. He was a most popular man, and leaves a wife and two children.

ONE MURDER, FOUR RAPES.

The Awful Record Against Five Young Men in Arkansas.

Special to the Times.

FORTH SMITH, Ark., Aug. 13.—Rufus Buck, Sam Sampson, Mena Judy, Lucky Davis and Albert Stake were lodged in the U.S. jail here resterday. All are young men, who have in the past ten days made a criminal record for themselves which is almost without parallel in the Indian Territory. They murdered John Garrett, a negro deputy-marshal of this court, about ten days ago. They met Mrs. Rosette Wilson, two miles from Sapulpa, took her from the wagon, and at the point of their revolvers outraged her, each assaulting her in turn. Two days later they went to the house of Mr. Hasson, between Sake Creek and Duck Creek, and all five assaulted Mrs. Hasson in the presence of her husband. They are charged with outraging two other women, robbing two stores and holding three individuals. They robbed a stock man named Calahan and killed a negro boy who was with him.

TOOK HIM FOR A THIEF.

Accidental Shooting of an Inoffensive Man On the North Shore.

Special to the Times.

SUDBURY, Aug. 13.—William Carrol and William Miller, of Nairn, were taking a stroll the other evening and in the course of it came to the house of a family named McNearny. The McNearnys had been suffeing from chicken thieves and were laying for the culprits. They took Carroll and Miller for the right parties, and one of the boys opened fire with a Winchester. The bullet struck Miller in the left ankle. Carroll fled. Miller was subsequently brought to the hospital here for treatment. He will be a cripple for life. Young McNearny has been arrested.

AN EXCEPTIONAL SALE.

St. John is much Interested in the Recent Medical Discovery.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Aug. 12.—The many cases of marvellous restoration to health from various forms of kidney trouble which have been constantly appearing in the daily press of the Dominion have for sometime awakened the liveliest interest here, and the remedy by which the cures were effected namely, Dodd's Kidney Pills, are obtaining great celebrity throughout the province. The appearance of the testimonials of Drs. Rose and McCormick stating the benefits which they had personally derived from their use was considered a sufficient sign of the merits of the remedy, and the other interesting and wonderful cases which have since been chronicled has caused the specific to have an exceptional sale.

Fatally Hurt.

PARIS, Ont., Aug. 13.—About 11 o'clock last night a young man named Edwin Lister, of Mount Pleasant, was, it is supposed, fatally injured. It appears he was about to take the late train for Brantford and while standing on the track at the G.T.R. station, the rear car of the mixed train was backing up knocked him down and passed over his leg and arm mangling them frightfully. Dr. Sinclair had charge of him at once and conveyed him to Brantford Hospital where he is now lying in a very low condition.

Five Overcome by Heat.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 13.—Five persons were removed to the hospitals yesterday suffering from the effects of excessive heat.

A HIRED MAN'S CRIME.

MURDERS HIS EMPLOYER'S WIFE AND CUTS HIS THROAT.

Family Poisoned by eating Ice Cream—Arizona Banditism—A Batch of Arkansas Desperadoes Destined for the Scaffold—New Policy Game.

Special to the Times.

HAMOKIN, Pa. Aug. 13.—Mrs. Peter Koch Mrs. Morris Zimmerman and 2 children, of Shipman's Mills, near here, are dying from the effects of being poisoned by eating ice cream. An examination proved that poison had been put in the extract which flavored the ice cream.

STABBED BY HIGHWAYMEN.

TUESON, Ari., Aug. 13.—Advices from Fronleras, Sonora, Mex., say: Six years ago Col. John Weirs, a messenger, was killed and $6,000 taken by highwaymen in Sonora, south of Bisbee. The Mexican authorities have pursued the bandits with unrelenting vigor. Seventeen of the number captured, who were in some way concerned in the affair, have been convicted and shot. One of the accused was an America. Forty others who sympathized with the robbers have been pressed into the Mexican army. All of the robbers who infested that region have been shot or are under arrest.

A HIRED MAN'S CRIME.

SHELBY, Aug. 13.—Mrs. Wilhelm Kruger, wife of a prosperous farmer near here, was shot and beaten to death last night by her nephew, Herman Kohaupt, 18 years of age, who had been working as a hired man for the Krugers. The murderer then cut his throat with a razor, inflicting a wound which must have resulted in almost immediate death. Mr. Kruger, who was away at the time, came to him last March from Germany. He was a most surly fellow and for some reason never liked Mrs. Kruger.

FOR THE SCAFFOLD

FORT SMITH, Ark., Aug. 13.—Cherokee Bill was sentenced this morning by Judge Parker, to be hanged on September 10. He is now under ten sentences of death. The Supreme Court has stayed former sentences three weeks later from the same scaffold, at a single drop. Mrs. Kittering, George Washington, R. Calhoun, John Allison, Eli Lucas and F. Caever are to be hanged for murder.

NEW POLICY GAME.

BUFFALO, August 13.—An evening newspaper, Enquirer, announces a new policy game operating, with headquarters in Canada. The policy sharks who infested Buffalo for so many years were to a great extent broken up by police persecution, as the sharks termed it. Then one of the big firms established a headquarters at Fort Erie, Ontario, and conducted their drawings there, but sold most of the slips in Buffalo and adjoining towns. This invasion of the Queen's domains worked so well that another firm has been established and drawings are conducted daily at Niagara Falls, Ont., which, by the way, is the headquarters of the Ontario Police and official residence of the Stipendiary Magistrate of Niagara District. Name of this new policy is "Ontario and Quebec.

STABBED TO DEATH.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 13.—Last Saturday night Patrick and Denis Morgan, brothers employed in the Laurel Hill mines, became involved in a quarrel. Denis stabbed his brother in the heart, causing instant death. Denis is in a critical condition from a stab inflicted by Patrick, and may not recover.

A LAD'S SUICIDE.

CINCINNATI, August 13.—A special from Warsaw, Ind., says: Leroy Cardiff, aged 9 years, committed suicide last night by taking a heavy dose of rough on rats. His mother recently obtained a divorce from her husband upon sensational grounds, and the little boy left a note saying he could no longer stand the taunts of his playmates. His father is a prominent attorney of the city, and has served three years on the State Legislature.

SIX STORY TUMBLE.

Thomas Caffery Terribly Injured at the Guaranty Building.

Special to the Times.

BUFFALO, Aug. 13.—Thomas Caffery, a laborer of No. 170 Exchange street, attempted to break the falling record yesterday afternoon by dropping from the sixth story of the Guaranty building to the ground.

With three or four other workmen he was standing on a scaffolding on the sixth story, when one of the ropes became loosened and allowed the platform to sway outward.

Caffery lost his balance and went tumbling into space, a part of the scaffolding following. When he struck the ground he was unconscious. Both his legs were broken, his face was severely jammed and cut, and he sustained severe internal injuries. He was taken to the Emergency Hospital, and the physicians there say his condition is critical.

MURDERED HIS WIFE AND BABE.

The Fiendish Crime of an Educated Englishman is Avenged.

Special to the Times.

YORK, England, Aug. 13.—Robert Hudson, a young and highly educated man who had run through his own and his wife's fortune, was executed by hanging here today, for the murder of his wife and child on Hamsley Moor, Yorkshire, in June last. He decoyed his victims to the moor, cut their throats, shot them with a revolver and buried them on the moor. Before he killed his wife Hudson had advertised for another wife under the name of Hunter. The crime was accidentally discovered by a man who noticed the freshly turned earth on the moor, investigated the matter and dug up the bodies. After being tracked for five days Hudson was captured and his trial and condemnation to death followed. He died calmly.

PETERBOROUGH, AUGUST 14 1895.

THE C. P. R. MAIL SUBSIDY.

The Toronto Globe makes a ferocious attack upon the Dominion Government because an additional $100,000 or so a year has been granted to the Canadian Pacific Railway for its postal service by an Order-in-Council. In the first place, it may be said in reply that the raising of the allowance by Order-in-Council was entirely constitutional. The Government had a perfect right to do what it has done, though, of course, it must account for its action at the next session of Parliment. In the next place, the increase was granted simply because it was being earned. The Auditor-General's report shows that the Grand Trunk Railway receives $160 per mile per annum for postal car service, while the Canadian Pacific has heretofore been paid only $105. For branch lines the Grand Trunk is paid $80 per mile per annum, while the Canadian Pacific rate is aslo was $12 on some of the short lines and only $58 beteewn Quebec and Montreal, The intercolonal receives $130 per mile per annum for postal-car runs, whether on the main line or on the branches. On the main line of the Canadian Pacific, between Montreal and Vancouver, the compensation has heretofore been based on a calculation which has been outgrown, and, it is said, unless the company provided room in the baggage cars, mail matter would frequently have to be left over. The company has thus of late years been giving more than it undertook to give, at the same old figure. It is not to be wondered at that the company chafed under the injustice, and that the Government has recognized its claim to increased compensation, just as it has recognized the growing claims of the Grand Trunk in the same matter ever since 1865. The more closely this little affair is examined, the more clearly it will be seen that Sir Adolphe Caron has only done what any Postmaster-General would have to do, and what every future Postmaster-General must do until the country becomes stationary.

If H. H. Holmes is hanged before he can finish the story of his life, no reasonable exception need be taken to his work upon such a book.

A Connecticut policeman gave a fellow-officer a beer-bottle filled with muriatic acid and the officer took a drink. It is a flattering tribute to the kind of beer they drink in Connecticut that the dose impaired the officer's usefulness only temporarily.

The Kights of Labor and the Federation of Labor have come to blows in Chicago. People who have no confidence in either of these societies, nevertheless, are sorry to see representatives of the Labor movement thus bringing discredit on the cause.

The serious outbreak of cholera in southern Russia furnishes cause for increased care to prevent the introduction of the plague into Canada by ships trading from the Mediterranean. It is a good deal less costly to prevent the entry of such a disease than to stamp it out after an entrance has been effected.

Considerably over one-third of the national revenues of France are taken to pay the cost of maintaining the army and navy, while in Germany and Great Britain about two-fifths of the national income is required for the same purpose. And in these three countries over one and a quarter million men are constantly under arms. This keeping Europe in the condition of an armed camp imposes enormous burdens on the masses.

WHAT THE PALLIUM IS.

A Sacred Vestment That Every Priest Cannot Wear.

The ceremony of investing Archbishop Langevin of St. Boniface, Man., with the pallium at the Basilica was perhaps one of the most interesting ecclesiastical events seen in Ottawa for some time. The pallium is an ecclesiastical vestment peculiar to archbishops in the Roman church. In the cast the pallium is worn by all bishops, and one or two instances have occurred in the Western church also in which it has been conferred by the pope on prelates of less than archiepiscopal rank. The canon law forbids archbishops to wear this vestment until it has been solemnly asked for and obtained from the holy see; even then it is only to be worn on certain specified occasions, such as at high pontifical mass or at an episcopal consecration. Every archbishop must apply for it within three months after his consecration, and it is buried with him at his death.

The pallium is never granted until after payment of considerable dues. The pallia are prepared by nuns from white wool, obtained from lambs which have been consecrated on St. Agnes Eve, in the church of that saint in Rome; the vestments are blessed on the festival of Saints Peter and Paul, and deposited for a night on the altar over St. Peter's tomb; they are afterwards taken charge of by the subdeacon and given out as required.

Son is a Lucky Suffix.

The curious in the science of names should have their attention drawn to the singular favors extended by the muses to writers who possess in their name the syllable son. It might be another indication of the preferences of ladies—even when they are muses—for the masculine, even in an appellation, but, of course, in this case the poetess as well as the poet can boast the magic syllable. Tennyson set the wheel spinning, but he and Robert Louis Stevenson are of the past. But the name of Austin Dobson has been given as that of a possible laureate. So has the name of William Watson, who has for fellows on the list of Bodley Head poets Francis Thompson, John Davidson, Mr. Benson, Newton Robinson, Graham R. Tomson, Miss Dora Sigerson and Lionel Johnson. If the muses love a man or woman born out of the name they arrange an inheritance, or marriage, and Frederick Locker becomes Mr. Locker-Lampson straightway, and Miss Katharine Tynan turns to Mrs. Hinkson. Ladies, on the contrary, who were born to the son, and have abandoned it in marriage, cease to be known at the sign of the lyre, and take mainly to prose, as Miss Alice Thompson did when she became Mrs. Mopnell, and Miss Mary Robinson when she became Mme. Darmesteter. The muses work the whole thing so obviously and openly that one wishes any other article of belief could be so clearly proved and illustrated by patent fact, by rewarded achievement, by punished apostacy.

Certainly it is a little odd, in face of this utterly overwhelming contemporary preponderance, to find an almost equally conspicuous absence of the syllable from the names of the poets of the past. Until Tennyson began the run in England, and Emerson in America, we had only had a bare half dozen such on all the long rolls of the bards who composed in the English tongue. There were Ben Jonson, and Samuel Jonson, and Allison, who wrote "There is a garden in her face," and such "meaner beauties" as Addison, Macpherson and Mason. The amazing number of sons of the muses in modern days is mentioned here as a mere coincidence, but there will not be wanting students of race to see in it the poetical superiority of the bearers of early English surnames over those who bear Norman surnames. —Pall Mall Budget.

PROFITS.

Policyholders of the Sun Life Assurance Comyany of Canada receive ninety-three and one-third per cent. of the TOTAL surplus earned by the Company, and the stockholders the remaining six and two-thirds per cent. By this system the holders of participating policies receive ninety-three and one-third per cent. not only of the profits of their own class but also of those earned by the non-participating policies. They thus have the protection of a large capital stock for a merely nominal sum.

On ordinary policies profits are divided every five years, counting in each case from the date of the policy. The method adopted is eminently fair to all parties, and is a modification of what is known as the "Contribution Plan." The profits may be taken in cash to be used in payment of premiums, or applied to the purchase of bonus additions to the sum assured.

On Reserve Dividend Policies the surplus, instead of being distributed every five years, is accumulated during the Reserve Dividend period, and the accumulation thus arising is distributed among those who have survived that term and have kept their policies in force. The profits paid during 1895, to those entitled to receive them, are the largest that have ever been paid by the Company and have seldom been equalled by any other Company.

Electrical Treatment

210 Cowan Ave., Toronto.

A. NORMAN, ESQ.

Dear Sir:—We think we ought to acknowledge in some way that may become public, the very great benefit our daughter has derived from the use of your Electro-Curative Belts, and your application of Electricity in the Bath and from Dry Treatment: When we brought her to you she was a picture of unhealthiness, her limbs were shriveled up, and as thin as limbs could be; she had no strength even to play with other children, in fact she was dying of consumption. Besides this, there was a hard lump on her spine at the nape of her neck, which caused her neck to be so stiff she could not move her head. Although it is only three months since we brought her to you she is sound and well

BIG PROFITS —ON— SMALL INVESTMENTS

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our SYSTEMATIC PLAN OF SPECULATION.

Originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who, by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOFS, also our Manual on Successful Speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

DIAGNOSIS BY WIRE.

Unquestionable Advantage of Having a Telephone in Every Household.

The beneficent uses of the telephone are not as yet fully understood. The other night young Smythe awoke about 3 a.m. with an excruciating pain in his stomach. The more he squirmed the worse he grew. Finally the terrible thought flashed upon him that he had been poisoned. In a moment he dashed out of bed, downstairs to the telephone and demanded to be switched on to his physician's number without delay.

"For heaven's sake, doctor, come at once! I'm poisoned!"

The M.D., who had also crawled out of bed to answer the summons, growled back. "What makes you think so?"

"Frightful pain—awful cramps—insides on fire—hurry up, or I'm a dead man!"

"Humph; Does—er—does your stomach make any noise?"

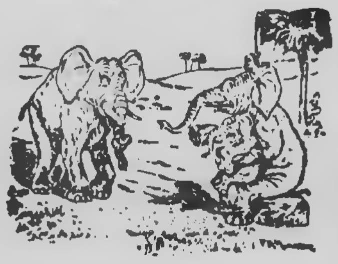
"Yes; kinder growls—must be arsenic, or something."

"Growls, eh? Just put the 'phone against the pit of your stomach. Ah! I thought so—you've been to the French Hospital fete this evening, haven't you?"

"Yes, sir."

"Exactly. You're suffering from a general fermentation of lemonade, crab salad, fruit cake, pickled oysters and Roman punch. You're all right. Just take a little peppermint and ginger, then go to bed and grin it through."—San Francisco Examiner.

Helps to Memory.



Mrs. Elephant (afterr tying knot in her spouse's trunk)—There, now! I guess you won't forget again to bring the baby home some of those cocoanuts when you go down to the jungle.

A Young Example.

"Jedediah," asked Mrs. Jiggs, "what do you think the baby has done?"

"I dunno," replied Mr. Jiggs. "Something smart, I'll bet you."

"No. It's dreadful. Do you remember the gold dollar you laid on the parlor table?"

"Yes."

"The baby swallowed it."

"You don't say so."

"And that isn't the worst. It found a silver three-cent piece in my work basket and swallowed that, too."

"Aha—didn't I tell you that it was something smart? That baby's got brains. Its heard me talking on the currency question, and he's a good bimetallist."

And Mr. Jiggs smiled as only a proud father can.—Washington Star.

A Slight Offense.

An English tourist arrived in an Irish town where a man was about to be hanged for shooting his landlord. Ignorant of the cause of the gathering, he questioned one of the peasants.

Englishman—What is going on to-day, my man?"

Peasant—They're going t' hang a man, sor.

Englishman—What is he to be hanged for?

Peasant—Just for a bit uv a joke, sor.

Englishman—Hang a man for a joke? Absurd! What did he do?

Peasant—He just made game of his landlord, sor.—Life.

Juvenile Theology.

A Washington woman is the happy mother of a bright boy, whose only failing is his boylike propensity to be mischievous. After doing some annoying thing yesterday, his mother called him to account and remonstrated with him for being naughty.

"Nobody saw me, mamma," said the young hopeful.

"Yes, my son," said the mother, "God saw you."

The little fellow looked up at her with a thoughtful expresson, and said:

"God won't tell."—Washington Post.

A Cunning Patient.

Muller meets his friend Nagel at the Turkish baths. Each is troubled with a gouty foot and has been ordered massage by his doctor. During the operation Muller cried lustily with pain, while Nagel maintained a stolid composure, greatly to Muller's astonishment, who afterward asked him:

"How could you stand the rubbing so quietly? Didn't it hurt you atrociously?"

"Nothing of the kind," smilingly replied Nagel. "I simply held out my healthy foot."—Lustige Blaetter.

Scared Them Off.

Friend—How is this? I thought you were to be called as a witness in that trial.

Sharp—I got out of it.

"Eh? Why, I heard that both sides were after you!"

"I scared them both off."

"Cracky! How?"

"Told 'em that if I was called I would tell the truth."—Puck.

"How do you account for it?"

"The easiest way in the world. I never wrote poetry."

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

FOUGHT IN A BAR-ROOM.

"Gentleman" Jim Pulled Fitz's Nose and Spat in His Face.

Special to the Times.

PHILADELPHIA, August 12.—Crowds of sports collected at the Queen's Hotel today and eagerly sought for details of a little "scrap" last night between Corbett and Fitzsimmons. Fitz. left Philadelphia early this morning for New York but the big Californian spent the day here and left for Scranton, Pa., this evening. When Corbett was seen and asked for his version of last night's row, his account of the affair would make it seem that he intended merely to be playful and that Fitzsimmons resented this playfulness, when it took the form of being called a cur and having his nose pulled. Corbett said: "The whole trouble started about two weeks ago in New York, when I refused to ride a bicycle match with Fitzsimmons for the benefit of the ice fund. When I am going to fight a man I want to be aggressive; I want to be on outs with him, see. I had publicly stated I intended to pull Fitzsimmons' nose next time I met him, but I want to say that I did not know that he was at the Queen's hotel. When I went there last night the first I knew of him being there was when I turned around and saw him standing at the register. Then I said to him, 'You big monkey what do you want at that register, you know you cannot write,' then I said to him, 'You've been talking about me again, haven't you.' He said, 'No I haven't, but what if I had,' then I said to him, 'You said I sneaked out of riding a bike race with you in New York and now you are going around saying I'm going to try and sneak out of the fight.' All this time I was only sort of in fun and just stinging him, but Fitzsimmons began to get mad. Then I reached out and pulled his nose for a kind of a joke. Then he made a motion as if to lead for me, I didn't at all think he would, but it is always best to be on the safe side, so I closed in on him and we clinched. Then my friends grabbed me and my brother grabbed Fitzsimmons. The kid was tickled to death when he found he could hold the big fellow and told him he could lick him himself and punched him in the mug. I did not get at him, so I leaned over and spat in his face and said to him, " you are a cur the world over and I wouldn't have that scared look on your face for $1,000." He wiped off the spit, saying as he did so, "That's a nice thing for a man to do; you're a gentleman you are." Now that was a nice thing for him to say, wasn't it. If he had been a man he would have punched me. You would have punched any man that spat in your face, would'nt you. Fitzsimmons broke away and picked up a bottle and threw it at Joe, and hit Brady. Joe picked up a decanter but they wouldn't let him throw it and then we parted. I want it understood that I was not drunk last night.

Bird Foods Explained...

SAY! DO YOU KNOW That much of the seed sold is poor stuff, unfit for Bird Food, save to destroy song and endanger life. To secure health, song and brilliant plumage use Cottam's Bird Seed. We put up no less than six different brands of Bird Seed, all equal in value to anything of the kind in the market, but all very much inferior to Cottam's Bird Seed. C.B.S. is acknowledged to be the very best. WHY? For explanation read Cottam's Book on Birds and Bird Foods, price 25 cents. C.B.S. is sold by all the best grocers; only 10 cents per package, but really worth 15 cents, as each packet contains 16 ounces of choice Bird Seed and a 5 cent cake of our patent Bird Bread. Beware of worthless imitations.

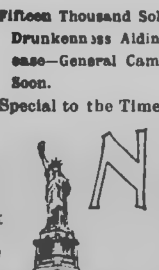
DEATH SWEEPS AN ARMY

THE SPANIARDS DYING BY THE THOUSANDS IN CUBA.

Fifteen Thousand Soldiers in Four Months—Drunkenness Aiding the Work of the Disease—General Campos' Official Head to Fall Soon.

Special to the Times.



NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—The steamer Seneca, from Mexican and Cuban ports, arrived this morning.

One of the Havana passengers, in speaking of affairs at that place, says on August 7, the day before the Seneca sailed, Captain General Campos called together all the volunteer organizations and demanded the transfer to the regular army of 100 men from each company. General indignation prevails among these organizations, but the order will be enforced.

CAMPOS' HEAD TO FALL.

The insurrection is more widespread than the people of Havana are allowed to believe, and Campos will not last long. He was caught in a bad trap at Bayamo, and but for the impulsive action of the Cuban General, Maceo, who precipitated the attack, Campos would certainly have been captured.

FEARFUL SPANISH MORTALITY.

The insurgents win in every fight. In the past four months the Spanish forces have lost by disease, drunkenness and killed in battle, fully 15,000 men. No reports are allowed to be circulated concerning losses in battle, but the authorities admit that in this period 10,000 men have died from disease or excessive indulgence in food or drink.

Thirty thousand insurgents are known to be in the field, overrunning the country and making their camps in the mountain fastnesses, whence they sally to strike a blow, and return to camp, depending on their rigid movements to disconcert the enemy.

DANGER OF NEGRO GOVERNMENT.

A large majority of the inhabitants of Cuba are negroes, and independence would mean negro Government. If independence could be secured with the establishment of a protectorate under the United States or some other strong government, then the question would soon be settled. Failing in this, the general desire is to secure home rule from the mother country.

The capture of an important sea coast town would be followed by the recognition of their rights as belligerents. Until some definite plan can be settled the guerilla warfare will be continued. A large majority of the people are hoping for concessions from Spain in preference to independence, as a republic without negro [illegible] domination would be difficult to obtain.

WAS UP AT 5 A. M.

In Order to be the First Member of the New Parliament to Take a Seat.

Special to the Times.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—The preparations for the assembling of the House of Commons commenced at an early hour this morning. One member arrived at 5 o'clock in the morning and waited outside until the House was opened at 6 o'clock in order to win the distinction of being the first member to enter. The other members came in later, until by 10 a.m. thirty places were secured by the Government side of the House, while only six side seats had been taken on the Opposition.

GULLY AGAIN SPEAKER.]

LONDON, Aug. 12.—Mr. William C. Gully, member of Parliament for Carlisle, was re-elected Speaker without opposition.

BOLD HIGHWAYMEN THESE.

Tried to Rob Omnibus Passengers at the Hotel Door.

Special to the Times.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Aug. 12.—Five highwaymen tried to rob the passengers on the Clifton house omnibus last night right at the hotel door as they alighted from the vehicle. One of the gang turned down the street lamp and others grabbed for an envelope containing $200 which they had seen John J. Jones, of Wheeling, W. Va., place in his coat pocket after paying for a 'bus ticket. The robbers failed of their purpose and were chased in various directions. Two were captured, who gave their names as Kelly and Molyneux.

Death or Marriage.

DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 12.—While C. McNorton, a mulatto coachman, and Sadie Johnson were standing before a minister in church on Friday night about to be married, two men refused to have the ceremony performed, McNorton exclaiming "Death or Marriage," shot the prospective bride in the back as she turned to escape. Her injuries are fatal. McNorton is in jail.

BITS OF HUMOR.

Uncle Hiram—If yer want ter have good dogs yer must edjicate 'em to it. I took as much trouble to rear me dog thar es I did with me son Ike!

"But the dog is no good!"

Uncle Hiram—Neither is Ike.

An Irishman, in the midst of a tirade against landlords and capitalists, declared that "if these men were landed on an uninhabited island they wouldn't be there an hour before they would have their hands in the pockets of the naked savages."

A Boston gentleman tried to ingratiate himself with a lady by noticing the child she held in her arms. "Ah catsee catsoo coo coo," he gurgled, chucking the little one under the chin. The child looked up inquiringly to its mother and said distinctly: "Mamma, is the gentleman affected with paresis?"

Mutual Friend—It really is shocking, dear, the way in which you and your husband quarrel and carry on. I wonder you don't separate from him.

Injured Wife—What! Go away and leave him alone to do just as he likes? Not I.

"How many feet are in one yard?"

Tommy—Well, about 1,000, if you count all the chicken tracks in the new flower beds in our yard.

Aunt Rosa—Well, Juanito, what would you like to be when you are grown up?

Juanito (whose parents are very strict)—I'd like to be an orphan.

An Irishman's definition of wit—Wit is the lava which comes from the mouth of a lively crater.

The lady arrives a little late at the sewing circle.

Servant—Excuse me, madam, but I'd advise you to wait a few minutes. Just now they are talking about you!

Negligence is the rust of the soul, that corrodes through all her best resolves.—Feltham.

We think very few people sensible except those who are of our opinion.—Rochefoucauld.

The passions are like fire—useful in a thousand ways, and dangerous only in one, through their excess.—Bovee.

The two powers which in my opinion constitute a wise man are those of bearing and forbearing.—Epictetus.

No joy in nature is so sublimely affecting as the joy of a mother at the good fortune of her child.—Richter.

Every man who observes vigilantly and resolves steadfastly, grows unconsciously into genius.—Bulwer.

Most people judge others by the company they keep, or by their fortunes.—Rochefoucauld.

ALL THE WORLD OVER.

The world's population increases at the rate of 1 per cent. per annum.

Half of the world's product of quinine is used in the United States.

The feeding expenses of the animals in the London Zoo are $500 weekly.

According to Marie Tempest, the finest opera house in the world is at Duluth.

Berlin ranks as the healthiest city in the world.

Three Canadians, of Fort Erie, Ont., are hard at work digging up the ruins of the fort, searching for the chest of gold said to have been buried by Major Buck during the war of 1812.

The ancient Egyptian cats were yellow with reddish stripes—such as are occasionally seen nowadays, and called by some Venetian cats. The cat was domesticated in Europe shortly after the Christian era, and the first specimens brought into England were very highly valued.

California is being literally squeezed for gold just now. Not only are the old diggings in Calaveras and a score of other counties worked for the precious dust, but the very shore along the ocean in sight off San Francisco is being searched for it.

GERMAN AFFAIRS.

The German Empire has 10,930,000 women over the age of 16.

The Emperor of Germany, it is said, has decided to honor Bismarck by having his head stamped on a future issue of German coins.

During the Franco-Prussian war the Germans fired 30,000,000 rifle cartridges and 363,000 charges of artillery, killing or mortally wounding 77,000 Frenchmen, showing that 400 shots are required to kill or mortally wound one man.

A new outer sole is being tried on the boots of the German soldiers by direct order of the emperor. It consists of a paste of linseed oil varnish and iron filings, which is said to render the sole flexible and make it more durable than the new aluminum boot nails.

The German emperor's imperial train cost $750,000, and took three years to construct. There are altogether twelve cars, including two nursery carriages. The reception saloon contains several pieces of statuary, and each of the sleeping cars is fitted with a bath.

ABOUT EATING.

In good eating there is happiness.—Apicius.

Thou shouldst eat to live, not live to eat.—Cicero.

A rich man may eat when he will, but a poor man when he can.—Diogenes.

Eating to repletion is bad; but what we eat should be good of its kind.—Dr. S. S. Fitch.

It is not the eating, but the inordinate desire thereof, that ought to be blamed.—St. Augustine.

In eating it is a great fault for a man to be ignorant of the measure of his own stomach.—Seneca.

Animals feed, man eats; tell me what you eat and how you eat, and I will tell you what you are; the man of intellect alone knows how to eat.—B. Savarin.

Eat not for the pleasure thou mayest find therein; eat to increase thy strength; eat to preserve the life which thou hast received from heaven.—Confucius.

POND'S EXTRACT

IMPRESSED ON THE MEMORY

That Pond's Extract is without equal for relieving pain, and that no remedy should be accepted as "just as good." And unscrupulous druggists will insist on trying to force upon purchasers weak imitations which are irritating, uncertain and even poisonous, very different from genuine Pond's Extract, which is universally known as a great healer, pacifier and comforter. Nature's own remedy for all pain is genuine Pond's Extract.

Avoid substitutes; accept genuine only, with buff-wrapper and yellow label.

ENLARGES THE USES OF MUSIC.

There is a good deal in the old saw that music will charm the savage breast. It always was possessed of a magnetic power over individuals. To the present age, however, must be credited the greater triumphs in musical directions. And not the least of these is the transposing piano of Heintzman & Co., Toronto, which opens out for vocalists a wide arena of delightful study. The instrument is unique in every particular, and ought to command the study of everyone interested in music, whether professionally or for its individual delights.

CITY AND COUNTY NEWS

LOCAL AND DISTRICT HAPPENINGS OF THE DAY.

The Weather.

PROBS.—Light to mederate, variable winds, fine and decidedly warm. Very warm tomorrow.

Lacrosse on the 19th.

The Peterborough Junior lacrosse team have arranged a game with the second Elms, of Toronto, to be played on the P.A.A.A. grounds on Monday, August 19, Toronto's Civic holiday. The Elms are a good team and the game will be worth witnessing.

A Trenton Opinion.

The following speaks for itself:—

"TRENTON, Aug. 8, 1895.

"J. J. Turner & Sons.

"Awning to hand. It is O.K. Well pleased with it in every respect.

"T. O. KINSELLA."

It's Your Own Fault

If you buy a loaf of bread and after taking it home you find it is sour and only half baked. If you insist on getting Bates' you will get a good sweet, healthy loaf. Look for a large "B" stamped on top of every loaf. Walter Bates, manufacturer and proprietor, 654 Stewart street.

Oddfellow's Excursion.

On Civic holiday the Oddfellows will run an excursion to Rochester, per G.T.R. and steamer North King, under the auspices of Otonabee Lodge, I. O. O. F. Tickets good for round trip, two days, going on trains of morning of 15th, and returning not later than morning of 17th, from Peterborough and Lakefield.

Photographed the Accused.

Chief Roszel has two excellent photographs of the three men who were recently committed for trial on the charge of robbing the Convent Notre Dame. He will go to Toronto with the photographs in a day or two and find out whether or not the men are known to the Toronto police.

Grenadier Band Coming.

It is probable that the Royal Grenadier Band, of Toronto, will accompany the Foresters on their excursion to Peterborough on August 19th. The Grenadiers are engaged to play at Hanlan's Point on that date, but if they can get the Highlanders or Queen's Own to take their place, they will come to Peterborough.

Coming.

Jebb, the well known Eye Specialist and Inventor of the Recherche Optometer, the only instrument that measures the eye and sight accurately, will be at his office in Clarke & Gibson's Jewelry store from 13th to 17th inst. Consultation and examination of the eye and sight free; also a valuable little treatise on the eye and sight given free.

New Goods

At Clegg's, now arriving every day for the fall trade. Not only fine and expensive furniture, but the cheaper lines as well. Good common chairs at 33c, a good bedstead, all hard wood and well finished, for $2. Mattresses, springs, pillows, etc. Cheap extension tables and sideboards. Four flats one hundred feet long filled full of furniture and all at bottom prices, A. Clegg, 427 George street.

The Madoc's Coming.

Mr. G. J. Horkins received a telegram from the Madoc lacrosse team last night stating that they would play the Athletics on the Driving Park grounds on the morning of Civic holiday. The game will commence at 10 o'clock. The Madoc's have a strong lacrosse team. Recently they defeated the Campbellford stick handlers by 6 straight goals. The Athletics will put up a strong team against them. McCabe and Phelan will play and the game will be very close.

No Council Meeting.

A special meeting of the council was called for last night but it did not take place. There was an exciting meeting of the Sewerage Committee, however, at which two councillors came nearly to blows, and had it not been for the intervention of Councillor Cahill, it is likely a very sanguinary "scrap" would have taken place. Happily, peace was restored and the committee got down to business. The object of the meeting was to provide for the inspection of the work on the sewer by competent engineers and brick layers.

Look Out For Him.

A tramp, very well dressed for a tramp, too, wearing a straw hat and a navy blue coat, is making the rounds of the business men seeking and asking for alms. His limit is ten cents—that is the amount he asks for and generally gets. If he doesn't meet with a ready response he becomes very abusive and threatening. He struck THE TIMES office yesterday and put up a tale that would have caused an undertaker to shed tears. But it didn't work, and he showed the other side of his character. It took the combined efforts of the fish editor, the horse editor and the ice cream editor to put him out, but he was ousted. The police are directed to his existence.

"How to Cure All Skin Diseases

SEVERELY INJURED.

Mrs. and Miss Raymond the Victims of a Runaway.

Mrs. and Miss Raymond, who have been spending several months in Peterborough, at the Grand Central hotel, were the victims of an unfortunate runaway accident yesterday afternoon.

Early in the afternoon they started for Chemong with a horse and buggy to spend the afternoon there, which they did very pleasantly.

They left the Chemong Park hotel a little before dark on their return to Peterborough, and were proceeding homeward when their horse became frightened at a lumber pile by the roadside and ran away.

Both were thrown violently to the ground, and injured more or less seriously. Assistance was promptly at hand and a conveyance was secured in which the injured ladies were placed and conveyed to their rooms in the Grand Central hotel.

Drs. Scott and Fife attended them. Mrs. Raymond is more seriously injured than her daughter, but the latter received a severe shaking up and a terrible shock, the outcome of which is not known. Mrs. Raymond sustained both severe injuries and a shock, the extent of which the doctors were not able to determine last night.

They were given every care and attention last night, and it is hoped will soon recover from their unpleasant experience.

Bargain day in raspberries, water melons peaches, bananas, cucumbers and tomatoes at J. B. Oke's. Telephone 304.

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

A Trolley Collides with a Wagon and the Driver is Seriously Hurt.

There was an exciting street car and wagon collision on George street, at 6 o'clock yesterday evening, in which Joseph Lavasseur came near losing his life.

Lavasseur is driver for the P. Connal grocery, and was driving down Dalhousie street. When he reached George street he was going too fast too turn without first crossing the street car track, and a high board fence prevented him from seeing a street car which was bowling along at a pretty fair rate of speed.

Lavasseur was in the act of crossing the track, when the car struck his wagon. The horse was clear of the track, but the wagon was square across it when the car struck. The wagon was struck square amidships to use the nautical term, and the unfortunate driver was pitched out into the road with terrible force.

Levasseur was picked up in an unconscious condition, and taken to his home on Bethune street by Mr. Timothy Cavanagh who happened along at the time.

When examined by a doctor it was found that his tongue was split open to the depth of an inch or more, he had a lump on his head as big as a tea cup, his ear was nearly torn off, and his shoulder upon which he alighted, was considerably sore and wrenched. He may be injured internally as well.

The wagon was a complete wreck, and a total loss.

No blame attaches to the motorman on the car, as he could not see the wagon on account of the high board fence, which effectually hid from view the approaching wagon.

Levasseur will likely recover, but it will be some time before he can assume his duties.

What the Cobourg Advertiser Says of the Recent Match.

The Cobourg Advertiser has the following to say of the recent match in Cobourg:—

Considerable excitement prevailed at the lacrosse meeting in the rooms over the Bank on Toronto on Wednesday evening, when the men were chosen who were to cross sticks with the champion "Athletics," of Peterborough. The best members of the club were selected and we are of the opinion judging by the manner in which the "Cobourgs" conducted themselves yesterday, that with practice they need not fear to face the "Shamrocks" of Montreal in a game in the near future. Early in the day the sky clouded over and the boys were rather doubtful as to whether there would be a match. But it cleared up towards noon and Pearcy's team was happy. About one o'clock the excursionists arrived by the Grand Trunk, having been conveyed to Harwood by the steamer City of Peterborough.

The Cobourg lacross club mustered the strongest team available in town yesterday when they met for the first time the invincible "Athletics," of Peterborough. Millbrook, Port Hope and several other places have suffered defeat at the hands of this team, it being one of the strongest amateur lacrosse teams in Canada. The team is exceptionally strong at their defence. A large number of our citizens attended the game, and never before was as much interest shown at a lacrosse match in Cobourg.

A large number of the Peterborough admirers accompanied the visitors on their trip and witnessed their favorites' crushing defeat. At two o'clock large crowds were seen wending their way to the Agricultural Park to witness the lacrosse match of the season. Although the time advertised for the commencement was 2.30 some of the players did not arrive until late, and it was fully three o'clock before the referee called the game. Then slugging commenced, and it took our "boys" 27 minutes to score the first goal, Percy being the fortunate one and was loudly cheered by his many admirers. Then Cobourg went into it with a vim, and Sullivan scored the next goal in 12 minutes. Peterborough got the next in one minute, while Cobourg scored the 4th goal in 9 minutes and within one minute of the next face off the time was called and Referee Mission declared the Cobourg Lacrosse Club victors by a score of 3 to 1.

With beautiful gall the Advertiser would have outsiders believe that it was a purely Cobourg aggregation of lacrossists that defeated the Athletics. What are the facts? They are these: Cobourg had four men on the team that defeated the junior players of the Athletics, and four animated cigar sign dummies would have done quite as effective playing and contributed just as much towards winning the game as did these four chrysanthemum topped Cobourgs. With a team composed of the pick of seven or eight outside teams, the Cobourgs succeeded in defeating a "scratch" team of the Athletics. Without going outside of Peterborough the Athletics with their regular players, can wipe up the earth with any team composed of purely Cobourg players, or of Cobourg and Port Hope players combined. These two sawdust towns can't create a lacrosse team that can win from Peterborough and they know it. But when it comes to taking credit upon themselves when no credit is due, they can beat the world, and everybody knows it.

THE BAND ENGAGED.

They will Play at the Driving Park on Civic Holiday.

The article in yesterday's TIMES referring to the Bicycle Meet Committee and the Fire Brigade Band was not instigated either by the committee or the members of the band, but was published purely as an item of news. It was common talk that there was a misunderstanding as to the terms demanded by the band and those offered by the committee. This certainly constituted a friction, and while the executive of the band is on the best of terms with the committee, there was certainly some feeling and much talk among the members.

Bandmaster Miller, when seen yesterday by THE TIMES, declared that he was on good terms with the committee, but he explained what had taken place. Nearly two months ago Mr. Horkins had asked him to hold the band for Civic Holiday, and at the time there was nothing said about terms. Several times he had spoken to Mr. Horkins in regard to holding the band and was told that the committee intended engaging the band for civic holiday, so there was the verbal and implied engagement, although no contract was signed. The band considered themselves engaged and made no other engagements for the civic holiday, although they had a chance to go with the Canton to Rochester. When it came to a question of terms the committee said they could not afford to pay $60, and there the matter dropped.

That is Mr. Miller's statement. The members of the band, however, felt that they had been done out of a day's engagement, and there was considerable talk.

Secretary Harper made practically the same statement as Mr. Miller.

THE BAND ENGAGED.

At a meeting of the band last night, Mr. Horkins closed a contract with the band to play on the afternoon of Civic Holiday for $30. The best feeling prevailed. Citizens will be glad to learn that the band will not go out of town on Civic Holiday, and the "Meet" Committee can rest assured that they have not lessened their attractions at the Driving Park by securing the Fire Brigade Band.

WITH THE SPORTS.

The Civic holiday meet will draw some of the best known bicyclists of the province as competitors in the events. Everything is now ready for a big day and in all likelihood the contests will be interesting and exciting. When such fast men as McLeod, Loughead, McIntosh and McCarthy, have entered, the meet's success is assured. Last evening Secretary Horkins received the entries by telegram of Rigby and Barnhart, two Chicago flyers.

The following are those already entered: T. B. McCarthy, Toronto; J. H. Gratz, Toronto; Sam Young, Toronto; L. King, Peterborough; Marshall Wells, ex-champion, and R.C. McCall, Toronto; C.F. Heebner, Toronto; W. Hulse, Toronto; B.E. Cummings, Belleville; H. D. McKellar, Toronto; H. Hulse, Toronto; F. Longhead, Class A. champion, Sarnia; E. Lord, Peterborough; F. J. Smith, Campbellford; J. Archer, Campbellford; F. B. Rigby, Chicago; O. P. Barnhart, flyer, Chicago; Geo. Evans, Peterborough; R. O. Blayney, Toronto; A. McLeod, Class B. champion, Sarnia; F. G. Boulter, Picton; R. Gardener, Toronto; Jno. Wills, 25 mile Class A. champion, Toronto; F. R. Crowley, Toronto; G. W. Wrigley, Toronto; W. G. Walker, Toronto; A. E. The following letter is taken from the Port Hope Guide:

To the Editor of the Guide:

SIR,—In Saturday's issue of the Guide it was stated that the Ontarios, reinforced by Cobourg players, defeated the Athletics, of Peterborough, by 3 goals to one, on Friday at Cobourg, and the question was asked if there had been a mistake in advertising the game as a Cobourg-Athletic match.

Now sir, allow me to inform your reporter that such a statement is incorrect and should never have been published, as it casts a slur on both the Cobourg team and the Ontarios. The Cobourgs are a newly organized club, and when they challenged the Athletics to play in Cobourg, they intended to place a strong team on the field to represent Cobourg in order to make the match close and exciting, so as to build up lacrosse in their town, and consequently sent to Port Hope for some players, and when the team lined up on the field it is quite true that half were Ontarios. But, sir, whose business was it, as long as they represented Cobourg, and I think that all true thinking people would say it was not a bit worse for Cobourg to pay Port Hope players than it would be to bring men from a greater distance, and as nearly every club in Canada does it, why should Cobourg not do it?

Hoping you will give these few sentiments space in your valuable paper, and not wishing to find fault with or discourage your reporter for making such a mistake, I remain truly yours,

STICKHANDLER.

LATEST FROM LAKEFIELD.

From our own Correspondent.

The agitation concerning the proposed application for a change of the route of the canal through the village has not yet been dropped, but the whole business appears to be still shrouded in mystery and uncertainty and so far as your correspondent can ascertain no steps have been taken by the contractors towards a commencement of work. It is reported that payment has actually been made by the Government for some property on the route and tenders have been asked for by the engineer in charge for the purchase and removal of buildings, but in spite of this there are still unbelievers.

THE LAKES.

The popularity of our lakes has, if anything, increased this season: lack of accommodation is the only thing that prevents still larger numbers of visitors coming to gain rest and health in the splendid air of Stony Lake. Several of the cottages now accommodate boarders and no doubt in future years there will be an extension of this line of business. The number of small steam launches has increased to fourteen, and the appearance of the wharf on Saturday evening particularly would indicate that the passenger steamers are doing a thriving trade.

FURIOUS DRIVING.

The recent action of the Chief of Police in looking after cases of furious driving is to be commended, and it is hoped will be a warning to those, who particularly on Sunday, are guilty of this dangerous and cruel practice: the offenders are almost invariably mere boys who would be the better for a sound whipping.

BUILDING.

The plans for a handsome new residence to be erected on the Nicholls' property, recently purchased by Mr. E. Tate, have been prepared by Mr. W. Blackwell and operations will commence immediately. A neat fence has been erected at the entrance to the English church which is a great improvement.

A CHEMICAL WONDER.

Interesting Tests in the Ottawa Patent Office.

"Gas in chunks," is the way Major James Sutherland, the Opposition whip, described a new discovery which he was the means of introducing yesterday to the favorable notice of Sir Adolphe Caron and many prominent government officials in the Langevin Block. So pleased, indeed, was the acting premier with the experiments he had just witnessed that, meeting the Citizen reporter in the corridor, Sir Adolphe advised him to "take the elevator to the top flat and first see one of the most promising chemical discoveries of recent years."

In the Patent room the reporter found an interested group, including Commissioner Pope and several of his staff, gathered about a modest-looking young man who was explaining the modus operandi of an equally modest-looking gas factory. The "plant" consisted merely of an improvised tin gas holder—capable of holding about ten gallons, a small jar, a few feet of rubber pipe and two intensely bright gas jets. The demonstrator was Mr. Thomas L. Wilson, a fellow townsman of Major Sutherland, and discoverer of the marvellous chemical product known as calcium carbides, or, as he terms it, acetylene. The whip's description was rather apt, for the two bright jets were fed by gas produced simply by dropping chunks of acetylene in the water jar.

The materials for making acetylene are common lime and carbon in any form—either hard or soft coal, coal dust, charcoal, petroleum, tar, peat, or even sawdust—and treating them in an electric furnace. And he is confident that where electricity can be generated with water power the cost of manufacturing calcium carbide will bring it easily into competition with other materials of feul and light.

In appearance, the material that Mr. Wilson used in his tests yesterday resembled ordinary unslacked lime, and is not combustible. The acetylene gas, burned at the rate of 5 cubic feet per hour, produced light equal to 250 common candles, so that it has about 12½ times the value, of ordinary illuminating gas.

The discoverer admitted that under present conditions of manufacture the material could not be produced cheaply enough to compete with gas or electricity for lighting purposes. "But," said he, "when we are able to generate our electricity for the furnace by means of water power, such as you seem to have in such abundance in the Ottawa district, we shall be able to sell it at not more than $50 per ton, which is equivalent to ordinary city gas at 50c per 1,000 feet."

The test of yesterday was made in connection with the completion of the Canadian patent requirements, Mr. Fraser, of New York, who is associated with him in the American patent.

Major Sutherland explained that they are not here to seek capital, but, he said, the inventor was greatly taken with the facilities which Ottawa offers for the production of acetylene on a commercial basis. "Some day," added the Opposition whip, "you will be turning out gas in Ottawa to sell all over the country by the pound, just as you sell cheese nowadays."—Ottawa Citizen.

A Fine Invention.

The Peterborough Lock Company has today closed an agreement with J. C. Craig, of Kinmount, who has been here for some time arranging for the manufacture of 3 door locks recently patented, 2 working on the first laws of nature, gravitation, being springless. The other consists of one single spring operating the entire movement. The brass models are beautiful in design and the matter can be summed up in a very few words. The invention is a genuine one and the company has signed agreements today to pay a royalty of 24 cents a dozen on each—a very high revenue considering the ten of thousands of dozens of the many makes of locks sold annually. Mr. Craig patented a lock in Fenelon Falls in 1880, that had an enormous sale.

A Metal Breadboard

THE WOMAN WHO HAS BEEN USED to kneading dough on the old fashioned wooden breadboard knows what a bother it is to get them clean and how cumbersome and heavy they are. When they begin to crack or check its almost impossible to thoroughly cleanse them, and they may easily become dangerous conveyances of disease. It was left for a woman, of course, to remedy this state of affairs, and Mrs. M. M. Everhard, of St. Joseph, Mich., has patented a metal bread-board, which is one of the greatest labor-savers imaginable. It is light, does not absorb grease, dough does not adhere to it, and while it possesses all the advantages of the marble bread-board it is much cheaper and, of course, far lighter and easier to handle. If readers want to confer a favor upon their wives that will be forever appreciated, let them send $1 to the manufacturers 101 Bay street Toronto, for one of these boards.

ANARCHY AMONG CHINESE

THE PEKIN GOVERNMENT IN A PERPLEXED POSITION.

Commission Sent to Kucheng—The Gopez Gift to King Alfonso—Bulgaria's Ruler—Kaiser and Prince.

Special to the Times.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—Mr. Gladstone is stated as saying in reply to an enquirer that he was not conscious of ever having given an opinion in favor of the abolition of a second parliamentary chamber or of having used language in that direction.

DEPUTY SPEAKERSHIP.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—The Post will announce that it has been definitely arranged to appoint J. W. Lowther chairman of the ways and means committee of the House of Commons. This office is coupled with that of the Deputy Speakership of the House. When the House is in committee the Speaker vacates the chair and the chairman of the ways and means committee is called on to preside. Mr. Lowther is the husband of a niece of Lord Salisbury.

BURNED BY BULGARIANS.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—The Post tomorrow will publish a despatch saying that the Bulgarian village of Kustendil, in the Rhodophe district, which was inhabited by Mohammedans, was attacked and burned by Bulgarians. The villagers made a fierce resistance and many on both sides were killed and wounded.

THE CHINESE GOVERNMENT.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—The Times will print a despatch from Tien Tsin saying that the Chinese Government is in a state of helpless confusion and incapable of any decisive action or of exercising effective authority. The results, the correspondent adds, will probably be serious unless the powers take precautions.

CONVICTED OF THEFT.

PARIS, August 14.—De Lannoy, a noted Malingerr, whose supposed cure at Lourdes in 1880, was made a prominent incident in one of Zola's novels, has just been convicted of thefts from the Fathers at Lordes and similar offences in this city. He was sentenced to four years imprisonment and ten years surveillance after his release.

KAISER AND PRINCE.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—Truth learns that Prince Henry of Battenburg and Princess Beatrice went abroad on the evening of Emperor William's arrival in order to prevent a repetition of unpleasantness that occurred in 1894. The Emperor always manifests disapproval of what he regards morganic alliances of some of his English relatives with characteristic bluntness. During his stay in 1894 he would only address Prince Henry as Governor of Wright.

ANTI PARNELLITES.

LONDON, August 14.—The anti-Parnellite meeting was chiefly occupied in discussing a motion presented by Arthur O'Connor in favor of abolishing the consultative committee.

The Times will say: "The motion was submitted to a meeting in behalf of the Healyite faction, the committee having become a Dilonite body and that it was defeated by a vote of 34 to 23. That after the Queen's speech had been heard by Parliament the Federationists will hold a meeting to determine whether to move an amendment to the speech or not.

MISSIONARIES IN PERIL.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—The Chronicle will tomorrow print a Constantinople despatch saying that fresh troubles are feared at Marsovan, involving two American missionaries, one of whom was named Briggs. It is not clear whether the missionaries were killed or only wounded.

TO KING ALFONSO.

MADRID, Aug. 14.—The Pope has sent to King Alfonso as a souvenir of the King's first communion, a diamond cross, to which is attached a gold chain. Accompanying the gift was an autograph letter containing exhortations and wishes for the King's welfare.

MASSACRE OF CHRISTIANS.

LONDON, August 14.—A despatch from Shanghai received today says the commission appointed to inquire into the recent massacre of Christians will leave Foo Choo this afternoon for Kucheng. The commission is composed of Mr. Mansfield, acting British consul at Foo Choo, J. C. Hixson, U. S. Consul at that place, E. L. B. Allen, British vice consul at Pagoda Island, Rev. Messrs. Banister, Gregory and Starr. A lieutenant from the U. S. warship, Detroit, and a number of Chinese officials of high rank. The escort will consist of one hundred Chinese braves. The Viceroy Hi refused to allow a foreign escort to accompany the commission through the country.

DRUGGED AND MARRIED.

A Young Man Spirited Away and Forced to Wed.

Special to the Times.

HAMILTON, August 14.—Mrs. McCormack, of Petrolia, was in the city today looking for her son, W. J. McCormack, aged 19, who left Petrolia suddenly on Sunday last. She found him at the residence of a relative here, but the young man refused to return home with her. He says that on Friday evening last as he was out walking with a girl named Sarah Savage, the girl's father and brother came along and escorted he and the girl to the house of a man named Josh, where he was forced to go through the marriage ceremony with the girl. McCormack says he was drugged and was not aware of what he did, but the men threatened his life if he refused to consent to the ceremony. A license was procured and McCormack was married to Miss Savage by Rev. Mr. McRobbie of Petrolia, at two o'clock on Saturday morning. When McMack realised his situation next morning he decided to flee and says he is going to California. Mrs. McCormack secured an affidavit containing the facts of the case as sworn by her son and says she will make it hot for the parties on her return to Petrolia.

The International Parliamentary Conference of Peace Arbitration was opened in Brussels yesterday.

TO BRIBE THE JURY.

An Offer to Secure Durant's Freedom In Return For Coin.

Special to the Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 14.—Another sensation has developed in the Durant case. Whether it is a case of jury bribing or a bold attempt at blackmail, the police and others who have investigated the matter are unwilling and probably unable to state with positiveness.

The fact remains that Mrs. Durant, mother of the young man who is accused of murdering Minnie Williams and Blanche Lamont, was approached recently by a mysterious woman whose desire was to tell something of extreme importance to the safety of Theodore Durant. It was intimated that at least three of the jurors already accepted could be influenced to vote for an acquittal. But coin would be required to get these votes. Mrs. Durant not only spurned the offer, but informed the attorneys for her son, and also notified the police of the nature of the offer made to her. The woman is Mrs. Sarah Groger; while she denies having offered any jurors for sale, she admits having visited Mrs. Durant and offering for coin to bring about the accomplishment of something which would be invaluable to the defence of Theodore Durant. Mrs. Groger says she only acted as the agent of a third party, and did so innocently.

WAS NIPPED IN THE BUD

A CLEVER PLAN TO BREAK JAIL AT THE CENTRAL DISCOVERED.

Prisoners Cut a Hole in a Car and Left Room for Three or Four Men to Hide Among the Freight—But the Scheme Miscarried.

Special to the Times.

TORONTO, August 14.—The authorities of the Central prison learned yesterday of a novel and ingenious scheme for the escape of several prisoners, which, however, for some reason as yet not apparent, was not successful. On April 5 or 6 a Grand Trunk box-car was beside the storehouse of the woodwork department. The ends were filled with croquet sets and the central part reserved for a cargo of brooms.

The car was afterwards shunted to the broom factory where it was loaded full, sealed and after a day or so, consigned to H. A. Nelson & Sons, Montreal. On its arrival there it was discovered that a round hole had been cut in the floor of the car, quite large enough to allow a man to crawl through from below, and three dozen brooms had been removed leaving a comfortable nest in the interior of the cargo where three or four men could ride in safty. The firm claimed from the Grand Trunk the value of the missing brooms, and a detective began an investigation, which eventually proved the fact that the cutting was done within the prison walls by certain long-term prisoners, who secretly placed the brooms back in the storeroom with the other stock. Their failure to escape was probably owing to the fact that the car was removed when the schemers were in their cells at dinner or at night time.

YANKEE NOT IN IT.

The English Schooner Wiped the Eye of the American Boat.

Special to the Times.

COWES, Isle of Wight, Aug. 14.—In a whole sail westerly breeze, at 10 o'clock this morning, Mr. R. S. Palmer's crack American schooner cruiser, Yampa, and Mr. Frederick Wills' English cruising schooner, Amphitrite, started in a race for a prize of £100 over the old Queen's course. Both yachts are allied to carry all the men they please. Great interest was taken in the event, as a rumor is in circulation here that should Defender fail to retain the America's cup on the other side of the Atlantic an American schooner will be sent after it next year.

The course was 50 miles long, and Yampa allowed Amphitrite 7m. 31s. The schooners rounded Lymington Spit as follows: Amphitrite, 11.47.10; Yampa 12.00.00. Yampa pulled up considerably and passing West Cowes had reduced the gap to a couple of minutes, but from that point Amphitrite pulled away again in great style, and the two passed Ryde Pier as follows: Amphitrite, 12.48.05; Yampa, 1.01.33. This, with the time allowance, put Amphitrite in advance 21 minutes 9 seconds a rather hopeless lead for Yampa to cut down. The American schooner bowled along after her leader in gallant style, scudding along before the wind with all sail set and pulling beautifully. But she was unable to overtake her rival, and the English yacht won easily without her time allowance.

AN EXCEPTIONAL SALE.

St. John is much Interested in the Recent Medical Discovery.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Aug. 12.—The many cases of marvellous restoration to health from various forms of kidney trouble which have been constantly appearing in the daily press of the Dominion have for sometime awakened the liveliest interest here, and the remedy by which the cures were effected namely, Dodd's Kidney Pills, are obtaining great celebrity throughout the province. The appearance of the testimonials of Drs. Rose and McCormick stating the benefits which they had personally derived from their use was considered a sufficient sign of the merits of the remedy, and the other interesting and wonderful cases which have since been chronicled has caused the specific to have an exceptional sale.

A CATHOLIC PILGRIMAGE.

The Shrine of Our Lady of Martyrs Visited by Devotees.

Special to the Times.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—One hundred Catholic devotees left this city this morning for Anriesville, N. Y., where they will join others at Albany, Troy, Amsterdam and other places to make a pilgrimage to the Shrine of Our Lady of Martyrs. Several Philadelphians went with the pilgrims from this city. The pilgrims assembled at seven o'clock this morning in the Church of St. Francis Xavier, West 16th street, where mass was celebrated by the Rev. Father Van Renseller, S.J. After the mass the pilgrims left for the shrine by the West Shore railroad.

TRAMPS RAID A TRAIN.

FOUR MARAUDERS CREATE CONSTERNATION ON A TRAIN.

York County is Being Run by Tramps, the Result of not Paying County Constables for Their Work—Scene on a Scarboro Junction Train.

Special to The Times.

TORONTO, August, 14.—"Who soweth the wind shall reap the whirlwind."

The auditors of the County of York can take this to heart. At their last audit they threw out the expense bills of several county constables who arrested tramps. The result is that tramps are now free to do what they please, short of arson or murder; the county and its inhabitants suffer and small burglaries and minor outrages are alarmingly on the increase. It is not the fault of the constables. They are paid for what they do in the way of arrests and so on. The county officials wont pay them for arresting tramps, therefore they let the tramps go.

A RAID ON NORWAY AND SCARBORO.

Norway and Scarboro' are among the villages which reap the doubtful benefits of the protected tramp industry and they had a wild eyed sample of it yesterday. In the afternoon four savage looking, ragged and unkept individuals struck Norway and proceeded to assert the rights of men who are under the special protection of the authorities and have immunity from arrest. They first visited the store of Mrs. Rosa and levied upon her for a pail. The lady asked for payment for the same and was promptly told to go to that place where a refrigerator would demand millions. The tramps went off to wet the pail. One of their number took the utensil across to Fred Smith's hotel and ordered a gallon of beer in a truculent tone. Now Fred Smith knows a thing or two and he filled the pail and placed it on the counter. He kept hold of it with his right hand and extending the left smiled in a winning manner, and demanded pay. His manner was suggestive of the "sautiver in mode and the fortitier in re," which means an awfully nice man you know, but a demon to scrap. The tramp thought so and paid. The hobo returned to his comrades, and each in turn poured a libation to Baschus down their throats and proceeded to own the village. They formed up in quarter column, like the 13th Battalion when it received Private Hayhurst, and walked up the side walk. The treasure chest, or rather the pail of beer, was in the middle, which showed a knowledge of warfare. The police was sent for, telegraphed for, but hearing that invaders were only tramps concluded that it was none of their business. The county auditors had said so.

A TRIUMPHANT PROCESSION.

The Coxeyites marched on in triumph, halting every now and then for an investigation of the beer. As it grew less their spirits rose, which is natural, because he who drinketh out of a pail looketh up and hopes. Their triumphant procession was uninterrupted and they reached Scarboro Junction. Encouraged by previous immunity and beer they took possession of the station. One man said he was Sir Charles Rivers Wilson which was a lie, and the others began to monkey with things generally which was a mistake. The G.T.R. can provide all the disasters needed without any assistance from tramps and word was sent up to Toronto that hostiles had taken possession of Scarboro' Junction. Prompt measures were taken. An engine and tender were despatched with G.T.R. Constable Hinds and County Constables Kennedy and Porter.

SEIZED A RAILWAY TRAIN.

In the meantime the local arrived at Scarboro' and the tramps boarded the train. They were asked for their fare and promptly pulled a gun. Just then the engine, tender and constables came upon the scene and the fun started. The tramps were husky, so were their opponents. They were desperate, but the officers were determined, and after a vicious struggle the whole outfit were corralled and jailed.

RIDICULOUS MAGISTERIAL LENIENCY.

This morning they were taken before George Trench, J.P. They gave their names as John Powell, of London; Wm. Jones, of Trenton; Joseph Nelson, of Hamilton, and Wm. Campbell, of Toronto. The evidence was heard and a big surprise sprung on the community. Powell and Jones were let go on suspended sentence, while Nelson and Campbell got off with the absurdly light sentence of ten days, and there are lots of tramps in the County of York who will smile when they hear of the sentence.

Three steamships were driven ashore and few of their crews and passengers escaped alive. Several villages on the sea coast have been literally destroyed by the flood. The lists of deaths as stated by the authorities will exceed three thousand.

PETERBOROUGH. AUGUST 14 1895.

Jules Breton is going to publish a volume of essays on art.

English curates are thinking of forming themselves into a professional union, on the plan of the trades unions.

Microbes killed a Vienna bank clerk lately, who in counting a pile of bank notes, moistened his fingers with his lips.

The profits of Wannamaker's Philadelphia store reached $4,000,000 last year—all due to liberal and persistent newspaper advertising.

Archduke Robert Salvator of Austria, the ninth child of the ex-Grand Duke of Tuscany, died recently from the effects of a cold bath in the lake of Constance. He was 10 years old.

The London women who shot a man merely because he was looking at her through the window was much to handy with her revolver. If she didn't want to be looked at she could have pulled down the blind.

The Bulgarian authorities have set free the man whom Stambuloff himself charged with planning his death. After that, there can be no question as to where Prince Ferdinand's sympathies lie, or as to that monarch's unfitness to rule.

The wheat harvest has begun in Manitoba and the crop is not only a heavy one but has escaped injury by frost. The Prairie Province ought to boom this year and all Canada must benefit as a result of the prosperity of the vast territories of the West.

Duck's eggs are shipped pretty ripe, from Swatow, in China, to Bangkok and Singapore. They are put in shallow baskets in layers two or three deep, wrapped up in soft paper, and climate is so hot that they are hatched before they reach their destination.

American residents in China are indignant because Minister Denby has let the British representatives act for him in the matter of the outrages on foreigners. Minister Denby, however, understands the policy of the Administration he represents better than do the American residents in China. And, it may be added, that Great Britian is likely to be treated with more respect by China than is the United States.

At Mile End in London there is a serious outbreak of small-pox, the vestry and guardians, being opposed to vaccination, refuse to exercise the power placed in their hands by law to make it compulsory. In the district there are from twelve to fourteen thousand unvaccinated children. The guardians assert that the small-pox has come from the neighboring districts, where the law is enforced.

Last Sunday a fiery Toronto minister addressing some True Blue lodges in a church, declared that Roman Catholic convents are brothels. Some journals declare that he should be disciplined. Not many months ago an obscene Catholic priest of St. Louis made himself temporarily notorious by publicly denouncing Christian Endeavor societies as hotbeds of immorality. Many voices were then heard demanding that the clerical slanderer be unfrocked; but no attention was paid by his spiritual superiors to these demands. The best treatment to accord blatant persons like the western priest and the Toronto minister is to regard their utterances with contemptuous indifference.

WHAT THE PALLIUM IS.

A Sacred Vestment That Every Priest Cannot Wear.

The ceremony of investing Archbishop Langevin of St. Boniface, Man., with the pallium at the Basilica was perhaps one of the most interesting ecclesiastical events seen in Ottawa for some time. The pallium is an ecclesiastical vestment peculiar to archbishops in the Roman church. In the east the pallium is worn by all bishops, and one or two instances have occurred in the Western church also in which it has been conferred by the pope on prelates of less than archiepiscopal rank. The canon law forbids archbishops to wear this vestment until it has been solemnly asked for and obtained from the holy see; even then it is only to be worn on certain specified occasions, such as at high pontifical mass or at an episcopal consecration. Every archbishop must apply for it within three months after his consecration, and it is buried with him at his death.

The pallium is never granted until after payment of considerable dues. The pallia are prepared by nuns from white wool, obtained from lambs which have been consecrated on St. Agnes Eve, in the church of that saint in Rome; the vestments are blessed on the festival of Saints Peter and Paul, and deposited for a night on the altar over St. Peter's tomb; they are afterwards taken charge of by the subdeacon and given out as required.

Son is a Lucky Suffix.

The curious in the science of names should have their attention drawn to the singular favors extended by the muses to writers who possess in their name the syllable son. It might be another indication of the preferences of ladies—even when they are muses—for the masculine, even in an appellation, but, of course, in this case the poetess as well as the poet can boast the magic syllable. Tennyson set the wheel spinning, but he and Robert Louis Stevenson are of the past. But the name of Austin Dobson has been given as that of a possible laureate. So has the name of William Watson, who has for fellows on the list of Bodley Head poets Francis Thompson, John Davidson, Mr. Benson, Newton Robinson, Graham R. Tomson, Miss Dora Sigerson and Lionel Johnson. If the muses love a man or woman born out of the name they arrange an inheritance, or marriage, and Frederick Locker becomes Mr. Locker-Lampson straightway, and Miss Katharine Tynan turns to Mrs. Hinkson. Ladies, on the contrary, who were born to the son, and have abandoned it in marriage, cease to be known at the sign of the lyre, and take mainly to prose, as Miss Alice Thompson did when she became Mrs. Mepnell, and Miss Mary Robinson when she became Mme. Darmesteter. The muses work the whole thing so obviously and openly that one wishes any other article of belief could be so clearly proved and illustrated by patent fact, by rewarded achievement, by punished apostacy.

Certainly it is a little odd, in face of this utterly overwhelming contemporary preponderance, to find an almost equally conspicuous absence of the syllable from the names of the poets of the past. Until Tennyson began the run in England, and Emerson in America, we had only had a bare half dozen such on all the long rolls of the bards who composed in the English tongue. There were Ben Jonson, and Samuel Jonson, and Allison, who wrote "There is a garden in her face," and such "meaner beauties" as Addison, Macpherson and Mason. The amazing number of sons of the muses in modern days is mentioned here as a mere coincidence, but there will not be wanting students of race to see in it the poetical superiority of the bearers of early English surnames over those who bear Norman surnames. —Pall Mall Budget.

PROFITS.

Policyholders of the Sun Life Assurance Comyany of Canada receive ninety-three and one-third per cent. of the TOTAL surplus earned by the Company, and the stockholders the remaining six and two-thirds per cent. By this system the holders of participating policies receive ninety-three and one-third per cent. not only of the profits of their own class but also of those earned by the non-participating policies. They thus have the protection of a large capital stock for a merely nominal sum.

On ordinary policies profits are divided every five years, counting in each case from the date of the policy. The method adopted is eminently fair to all parties, and is a modification of what is known as the "Contribution Plan." The profits may be taken in cash to be used in payment of premiums, or applied to the purchase of bonus additions to the sum assured.

On Reserve Dividend Policies the surplus, instead of being distributed every five years, is accumulated during the Reserve Dividend period, and the accumulation thus arising is distributed among those who have survived that term and have kept their policies in force. The profits paid during 1895, to those entitled to receive them, are the largest that have ever been paid by the Company and have seldom been equalled by any other Company.

LIGHTNING RAN ALONG THE FENCE

Remarkable Death of 25 Head of Cattle During an Electric Storm in Kansas.

Special to the Times.

TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 13.—Twenty five head of cattle were killed by lightning in a most remarkable way in Finnis county. A herd of 800 were being moved from one pasture to another and for a part of the distance were driven through a narrow lane hedged by a wire fence.

While in this narrow passage a thunder storm overtook them and a bolt of lightning descended and struck a fence post, felling the wire for 200 yards. Every head that was crowded against the wire was killed.

DRAGGED FROM HER WHEEL.

A Prominent Society Woman of St. Louis Attacked by Highwaymen.

Special to The Times.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 13.—Mrs. Hayden Rubelman, prominent in West End society, while out cycling, was dragged from her wheel by highwaymen, knocked unconscious and her diamond earrings taken from her ears. Her husband was riding ahead of her, but when he reached his wife the highwaymen had fled.

SEVENTEEN ROBBERS SHOT.

The Stern Measures by Which Mexico Represses Pillage.

Special to the Times.

FRONTERAS, Sonora, Mexico, Aug. 13.—Six weeks ago the private messenger of Colonel John Weirs was killed by a gang of highwaymen and robbed of $6,000. Since then the Mexican authorities have kept up an unrelenting chase after the robbers and finally captured them. Seventeen of the number who were directly concerned in the affair have been convicted and shot. Forty others, among them an American named Tribolet, who belonged to or sympathized with the robbers, have been impressed into the Mexican army. The entire band of robbers who have infested that region have now all been shot or are under arrest.

ONE MURDER, FOUR RAPES.

The Awful Record Against Five Young Men in Arkansas.

Special to the Times.

FORTH SMITH, Ark., Aug. 13.—Rufus Buck, Sam Sampson, Mena Judy, Lucky Davis and Albert Stake were lodged in the U.S. jail here yesterday. All are young men, who have in the past ten days made a criminal record for themselves which is almost without parallel in the Indian Territory. They murdered John Garrett, a negro deputy marshal of this court, about ten days ago. They met Mrs. Rosette Wilson, two miles from Sapulpa, took her from the wagon, and at the point of their revolvers outraged her, each assaulting her in turn. Two days later they went to the house of Mr. Hasson, between Sake Creek and Duck Creek, and all five assaulted Mrs. Hasson in the presence of her husband. They are charged with outraging two other women, robbing two stores and holding three individuals. They robbed a stock man named Calahan and killed a negro boy who was with him.

A Regiment of Vagabones Being Raised in Oklahoma.

Special to the Times.

GUTHRIE, Okla., Aug. 13.—A regiment is being raised in Oklahoma to join the insurgents in Cuba. Dreads the Assassin.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—The Daily News will print a despatch from Vienna saying that M. Unrokoff, Chief of Police of Sofia was taken into custody at the railway station today on suspicion of having been concerned in the murder of ex-Premier Stambuloff. The despatch also says Prince Ferdinand's departure from Ebenthal last night was surrounded with mystery. None of his family accompanied him. Troops were stationed along the line of the railway from Zaribrodt to Sofia.

SOFIA, Aug. 13.—Prince Ferdinand arrived here today, and was given a most hearty reception. In reply to an address by the Mayor of Sofia, the Prince declared that he was consoled for all that had occurred recently by the loyal enthusiasm displayed by the people.

FRUIT EXPERIMENTS IN ONTARIO.

Result of the First Year's Work in Testing Varieties.

Already the work of the experiment stations of Ontario is making itself known and appreciated. The first annual report, which has just been published by the Ontario Department of Agriculture, has sixty-four pages of valuable reading matter and numerous tables showing the result of the first year's work in testing varieties. A[illegible] secretary says in his letter of transmittal, it would be impossible to have results so extended ready for publication this first year were it not that practical fruit growers of long and careful experience in their various lines have been selected as the experimenters. These men are able to draw lessons from the knowledge gained from years of careful work with that variety of fruit which is the specialty of each. In this way the reports from these gentlemen become most valuable to the country.

Apples.—Mr. W. H. Dempsey, Superintendent of the Bay of Quinte station, speaks well of the Winter St. Lawrence, Pewaukee and Ontario apples.

He says the Pewaukee is a large apple and more productive than the King and as good in quality. Of the Ontario he says, "It is one of the most profitable apples we have. My own Ontario apples sold equal to Spys in Montreal." Of the Alexander he says, "This variety is coming more into favor every year as one of the best selling fall apples;" of the Red Astrachan, "It is not desirable to grow here." To the Ben Davis he gives twenty-three marks of value out of a possible forty, and adds that its chief value consists in its long keeping qualities.

Grapes.—Mr. M. Pettit, Superintendent of the Wentworth grape station, gives an interesting table showing the actual productiveness and the various prices per pound which he received for certain varieties in 1894. Thus the Agawam, which was harvested October 22nd, yielded 17½ lbs. of grapes to the vine, of which all but a half pound were first grade; the average selling price was three cents a pound, giving a total income of about fifty cents per vine. The Concord yielded nineteen lbs. per vine and so sold at two cents a pound, or about thirty-eight cents per vine. The Catawba yielded 16¾ lbs. and sold at five cents a pound, giving a total of about eighty cents per vine. About thirty varieties of grapes are fully described.

The secretary, in his notes on varieties, speaks favorably of the Victoria grape. He says, "The Victoria, one of the numerous seedlings raised by Mr. B Miner, of Linden, N. Y., was this year a favorite white grape with me, and I am inclined to think that it will yet take a foremost place among white grapes. The bunches are well shaped; the skin has a fine waxen lustre and heavy bloom, and the berries are of good size and fair quality. The vine is very productive. By some this grape is called a white Concord."

Peaches.—In his notes on peaches, Mr. W. Hillborn, Superintendent of the South-Western Stations, says, "Alexander, Amsden's June and Early Canada are all practically identical. The four most profitable varieties to grow in this locality have been Alexander, Barnard's Early, Tyhurst Seedling and Hill's Chili. The two latter are perhaps the most hardy in fruit buds and give a good crop nearly every season. They are probably the best to plant in sections not well adapted to peach culture. Among new varieties the Fitzgerald is perhaps the most promising. It is of the Early Crawford type and apparently an improvement on that old favorite. The fruit buds are hardy and the young trees will begin bearing the second year after planting. The fruit is large; skin, bright yellow suffused with red; flesh, deep yellow, of best quality; stone, not as large as that of the Crawford. Its season of ripening is with or just after, the Early Crawford. Boyle's Early is another quite new sort in this locality that is very promising. It is the first yellow flesh peach to ripen with me."

Strawberries.—Mr. E. B. Stevenson, strawberry specialist, describes forty-two varieties, placing the Greenville at the head for productiveness and among the best for quality. It is a large crimson berry originating in Ohio. The Haverland he also ranks very high for productiveness. The Timbrell does not ripen evenly, and the Parker Earle rusts and cannot endure the drought. The Woolverton, he says, is well worth growing.

Gooseberries.—Mr. A. Morton, of Brampton, reports upon twenty-six varieties of gooseberries, mostly English.

Mr. S. Spillett, Superintendent of the Simcoe gooseberry station, reports upon ten varieties. He speaks highly of the Pearl. He says, "Take it all around as a medium sized berry, the pearl is hard to beat. More vigorous and with better foliage than the Downing, it is bound to be generally planted. It yielded this year five quarts to the bushel all around. The Champion, a peer to the Pearl in vigor and foliage, is ahead of it apparently in productiveness and size. The berry is a cross of Downing upon a wild Rocky Mountain gooseberry, so the originator informs me. It is certainly unlike any other gooseberry I have seen in habit of growth and appearance and shape of berry. In quality, I do not think the fruit equal to the Pearl. I may say that by spraying with liver of sulphur, most of the English varieties may be grown successfully, but, in my opinion, our future berry for general cultivation will be along the line of a cross between the so-called American varieties and the English."

Spraying for Fungi and Insects.

That paris green and kerosene emulsion still remain the leading insecticides, and that bordeaux mixture is the best remedy for plant diseases, is the exprience of the New York station at Geneva. The knapsack sprayer is generally useful, though extensive growers need a machine of greater capacity. The suction pump shoud always enter the tank at the top, and the pump should be made of brass or be brass lined. Hand pumps should allow the weight of the body to be used on the handle while at work. Vermorel nozzles give a better spray than the disk machines. For spraying potatoes and tomatoes a nozzle is needed which can be lowered between the rows, and directed so as to force the spray up through the vines. The agitator is needed to keep the poisons in solution. The best forms work up and down in an upward tank, like a dash in the old churn. Where the pump piston has a packing this should be often renewed. For killing cabbage worms and insects, no liquid has been found equal to dry paris green applied with a hand sifter. Powder guns are useful for applying dry powdered poisons, pyrethrum, tobacco dust and sulphur. Bamboo extensions should be used in spraying large trees.

We never would raise more heifer calves than we needed for our own herd. It will not pay.

STABBED BY HIGHWAYMEN.

TUESON, Ari., Aug. 13.—Advices from Fronieras, Sonora, Mex., say: Six years ago Col. John Weirs, a messenger, was killed and $6,000 taken by highwaymen in Sonora, south of Bisbee. The Mexican authorities have pursued the bandits with unrelenting vigor. Seventeen of the number captured, who were in some way concerned in the affair, have been convicted and shot. One of the accused was an America. Forty others who sympathized with the robbers have been pressed into the Mexican army. All of the robbers who infested that region have been shot or are under arrest.

A HIRED MAN'S CRIME.

SHELBY, Aug. 13.—Mrs. Wilhelm Kruger, wife of a prosperous farmer near here, was shot and beaten to death last night by her nephew, Herman Kohaupt, 18 years of age, who had been working as a hired man for the Krugers. The murderer then cut his throat with a razor, inflicting a wound which must have resulted in almost immediate death. Mr. Kruger, who was away at the time, came to him last March from Germany. He was a most surly fellow and for some reason never liked Mrs. Kruger.

FOR THE SCAFFOLD

FORT SMITH, Ark., Aug. 13.—Cherokee Bill was sentenced this morning by Judge Parker, to be hanged on September 10. He is now under ten sentences of death. The Supreme Court has stayed former sentences three weeks later from the same scaffold, at a single drop. Mrs. Kittering, George Washington, R. Calhoun, John Alison, Eli Lucas and F. Caever are to be hanged for murder.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 13.—Last Saturday night Patrick and Denis Morgan, brothers employed in the Laurel Hill mines, became involved in a quarrel. Denis stabbed his brother in the heart, causing instant death. Denis is in a critical condition from a stab inflicted by Patrick, and may not recover.

A LAD'S SUICIDE.

CINCINNATI, August 13.—A special from Warsaw, Ind., says: Leroy Cardiff, aged 9 years, committed suicide last night by taking a heavy dose of rough on rats. His mother recently obtained a divorce from her husband upon sensational grounds, and the little boy left a note saying he could no longer stand the taunts of his playmates. His father is a prominent attorney of the city, and has served three years on the State Legislature.

BIG PROFITS —ON— SMALL INVESTMENTS
Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.
$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our SYSTEMATIC PLAN OF SPECULATION.
Originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.
It is a well known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who, by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.
It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.
Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.
WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOFS, also our Manual on Successful Speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

ENLARGES THE USES OF MUSIC.

There is a good deal in the old saw that music will charm the savage breast. It always was possessed of a magnetic power over individuals. To the present age, however, must be credited the greater triumphs in musical directions. And not the least of these is the transposing piano of Heintzman & Co., Toronto, which opens out for vocalists a wide arena of delightful study. The instrument is unique in every particular, and ought to command the study of everyone interested in music, whether professionally or for its individual delights.

A Deer Story.

Local deer slayers will be interested in this: As a fire ranger was going his rounds near the Nipissing road in Loune township the other day, he was surprised to see a red fox in close pursuit of a fawn along a strip of beaver meadow. The poor fawn was bleating with fear at every jump, and just managed to lead the chase by a short distance as long as they remained in sight of the man, whom they passed at a distance of perhaps thirty yards. He yelled at Mr. Fox, thinking to frighten it from the pursuit, but to no purpose. Just as they disappeared from view, a noise behind the ranger caused him to look around, to see the mother of the fawn following up, to save her offspring, if possible, from destruction.

Health Officers Meet.

Addresses of welcome will be given by Mayor Walmsley, the President of the Board of Trade, chairman of the local Board of Health and by the President of the Medical and Surgical Association. Everything is being done to make the convention a success in every particular. This afternoon the visitors will be the guests of the city. They will be conveyed down the bay per steamer Merritt to Glenora and Lake on the Mountain, and in the evening will be entertained at a banquet at Massassaga Park hotel.

Mr. Kenrick at Port Hope.

We understand, the Port Hope Times says, that it has been decided by the authorities of St. Mark's to undertake the renovation of their church. Rev. C. B Kenrick announced Sunday that the matter had been taken up so enthusiastically by the few to whom he had been able to speak during the preceeding week that an effort would at once be made to raise the necessary sum. He was sure they would rally round the old church and make it worthy to take its place with the other handsome buildings the town contained. On the first Sunday in September those who wished to help would be given an opportunity to contribute towards the expense. In the meantime subscriptions would be personally solicited from members of the congregation. We scracely need to remind our readers that St. Mark's is the oldest church building in the town and any effort to restore the edifice to its former beauty and stability will meet with the sympathy of many who do not make it their place of worship. We are informed that the improvements at present in contemplation which have reference merely to the exterior will cost about $500. The objects of the repairs will be not merely to improve the appearance of the building, but to make it weather proof.

A BICYCLE RAILWAY.

ONE MAY BE CONSTRUCTED BETWEEN PETERBOROUGH AND CHEMONG.

A Company to Be Formed for This Purpose —The New Invention, Which is a Marvel of Cheapness, Safety and Speed, Explained— Peterborough to Chemong in Ten Minutes For Five Cents.

Peterborough, which is ever to the fore in adopting latest inventions, will likely lead the Dominion in erecting and operating a railway, which is an entirely new departure and bids well to revolutionize the present appliances used in passenger transportation. This is an invention known as the Hotchkiss Bicycle Railway, which is in successful operation in two places in the United States. Mr. William Rudkins, of Peterborough, is the owner of rights to make and operate this railway in the Dominion of Canada, and he has been urged by several citizens to build a line between Peterborough and Chemong Park. Those who have looked into the matter are enthusiastic in its praise, and at a meeting which will be held in a few days, there is little doubt that a company will be formed to at once build the line mentioned. The proposed route is from the end of the street car line to Chemong Park.

To construct this line, outside of the cost of the machines, there would be very little expense. The bicycles run on an elevated track, or on a narrow T. shaped rail, laid on the top of a fence. This fence can be three or four feet high, and is constructed of wood, occupying no more space than an ordinary fence. A few inches up from the ground stringers are fastened on to the post and the lower part of the machine is guided by these, while the top wheel rides on the narrow T. shaped rail. That is practically all there is to the railway, which combines great speed, convenience and safety. It is little more than a common fence. Posts are put down at regular intervals, a plank on either side is nailed on, a scantling forms the top and on this rests the narrow rail. It has been estimated that ten men can build this railway in two weeks, so the cost can be surmised.

Then comes the bicycle. It is constructed of the best steel tubing, and is otherwise first-class in every respect. The frame is double, extending down below the track rail on either side a distance of 18 or 20 inches, and has at the lower end a small guide wheel running horizontally, which serves to keep the machine in an upright position, and absolutely prevents any possibility of jumping the track. The front wheel is the driving wheel—20 inches in diameter, and like the other riding wheel is grooved to fit the rail. This system is perfectly safe, conductive to good health, has no tendency to demoralization, and places within the power of all, the means of indulging in the exhilarating recreation of cycling, one of the most popular sports of the day. Combining as it does, the most absolute security with a simplicity of operation which entirely obviates the necessity of any previous experience on the part of the rider it can at once be seen how eminently adapted it is for all resorts patronized by the general public for pleasure and recreation.

A line between Peterborough and Chemong with 25 machines can be equipped for $5,000. Anyone can ride, and age would be no deterent. Double machines would be put on and a gentleman could take his family, mount one of these machines and pedal to Chemong in 10 minutes. In case of an excursion, an employee would accompany the machines down and trail them all back, the operation only taking a few minutes. There is not the shadow of a doubt that such a line would pay immense profits.

The bicycle railway is a new idea and wasn't rightly started in the United States until taken hold of by Canadians. It has been highly spoken of by all the leading scientific and engineering journals in the United States and Canada. There is a line in operation between Chicago and Milwaukee, a distance of 80 miles, and the charge for riding this distance is only 10 cents. The money making possibilities of the railway is seen at once. A line between Peterborough and Chemong could be run summer and winter, as the track is so elevated that the snow would not interfere with the passage of the machines.

These machines are propelled by a straight pedal and have a greater speed than the road bicycle. A rider can go as fast as he likes and with very little exertion, as there is scarcely any friction. With this railway Peterborough would be brought in close touch with Chemong and, in addition, it is proposed to establish stations along the route for the use of farmers who could mount a machine and come to Peterborough at will. This will make the new railway immensely popular with the farmers along the route, for in case of sickness or accident, they would be able to come to town in a few minutes for medical assistance. The track would also serve as a fence along their property, and would be quite as serviceable for that purpose as their present fences.

There is another of these railways at Mount Holly, New Jersey, three miles in length, and it is paying an enormous profit.

Mr. Rudkins has one of these machines with 12 feet of track in Toronto, and he will bring it to Peterborough in a few days. It is proposed to hold a meeting to discuss the feasibility of constructing the line, and a company will be formed to build the railway at once. THE TIMES will announce the date of the meeting.

A Heartless Case.

The heartlessness of some people is amazing. An old woman named Mrs. Mary Magill, of Millbrook, aged 81 years, who was sent to the county goal to be cared for and supported, died from natural causes on Wednesday morning. Her two married daughters, who live near Millbrook, and who, we are informed are in affluent circumstances, were communicated with by the goal authorities, but refused to claim the remains of their mother, which was therefore handed over to the inspector of anatomy for dissection purposes at some medical school. Coroner McNicholl empanelled a jury and held an inquest, which returned the verdict usual in such cases. The heartless conduct of the unnatural daughters, who for the sake of a few dollars allowed the remains of their mother to be devoted to such a purpose, cannot be too strongly condemed. Fortunately there are not many such heartless specimens of humanity outside of the lower regions. The names of these unnatural people should have been given, and published far and wide.—Cobourg Sentinel-Star.

SELLS' BROS. GREAT CIRCUS.

The Best Ring Performances and Menagerie in the World.

The Halifax Herald has the following to say of Sells' Bros' Great United Circus, which will be in Peterborough on August 24:—

The "evolution of the circus" was apparent to the visitor to the mammoth show on the common yesterday. In years gone by, when the fathers were the children, the circus was as popular as it is today, but how different the display that was witnessed? Then the horse riding and the trapeze, with the menagerie, were nearly all that the best circus contained. And the spectators of that time were satisfied. No matter what amusement was missed the circus drew its full crowd. But the circus goer of today would grumble ferociously if nothing more was forthcoming than what drew forth enthusiastic plaudits in the "good old time."

Sells Brothers circus, we now know, is far superior to any circus ever seen in Halifax. There have been good circuses in this city, but none at all equal to Sells Brothers, either in respect to the ring performances or the menagerie, while the street parade was the most magnificant ever seen here. Another point of superiority of Sells' circus is that it has drawn the largest audience, or as large as any, that ever gathered under canvas in Halifax. At 8 o'clock last night every seat in the great tent was occupied, and 8,000 pairs of eyes were turned to the two rings and the stage.

The performance was almost bewildering in its multifarious magnitude. Not a moment was lost in waiting, and from beginning to end the spectator had his choice of three distinct centres of attraction. The show was magnificent indeed. Every feature of it was firstclass, and the show bills for once seemed to have been exceeded by the reality. The feats of horsemanship were as good as any ever seen. The costuming was superb. The trapeze work was thrilling. The strong men and strong women did herculean feats, and the acrobatic men were wonderful. The trick bicycle riding was not only wonderfully clever, but the effect of the combinations was very pretty, and evoked one of the most hearty bursts of opplause during the show. The act by the preforming seals and sea seals was novel and exceedingly interesting. The clowns were clever and genuinely amusing, especially that stout one.

A Metal Breadboard

THE WOMAN WHO HAS BEEN USED to kneading dough on the old fashioned wooden breadboard knows what a bother it is to get them clean and how cumbersome and heavy they are. When they begin to crack or check its almost impossible to thoroughly cleanse them, and they may easily become dangerous coveyances of disease. It was left for a woman, of course, to remedy this state of affairs, and Mrs. M. M. Everhard, of St. Joseph, Mich., has patented a metal bread-board, which is one of the greatest labor-savers imaginable. It is light, does not absorb grease, dough does not adhere to it, and while it possesses all the advantages of the marble bread-board it is much cheaper and, of course, far lighter and easier to handle. If readers want to confer a favor upon their wives that will be forever appreciated, let them send $1 to the manufacturers 101 Bay street Toronto, for one of these boards.

AN IMPORTANT WITNESS.

SHE WILL FORGE THE LAST LINK IN THE CHAIN AGAINST DURANT.

Saw Him Go Into the Church the Night the Murder Is Thought to Have Taken Place—Thought He Was a Very Exemplary Young Man.

Special to the Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—A local paper says the last link in the chain of evidence against Theodore Durant has been discovered. Mrs. Leake, fifty years of age and a member of the church who lives across the street from Emanuel church, has reported to the police that she saw Durant and Blance Lamont enter the church at 4 10 on April 3rd, the day of Miss Lamont's disappearance. She knew both Durant and Miss Lamont intimately and therefore cannot be mistaken as to the identity. On April 3 Mrs. Leake sat at the window of her residence nearly all the afternoon, looking for her daughter whom she expected to arrive from San Mateo. At 4 o'clock she saw a couple coming up the street, one of them she instantly recognized as Durant. As the couple came nearer she recognized the girl as Blanche Lamont. Miss Lamont wore a short school girl's dress and carried a package of school books. The dress and school books were afterwards found secreted in the church. When the couple reached the church gate they stopped for a moment. Durant opened the gate and they passed through. Mrs. Leake knew of nothing detrimental to Durant. She had always considered him "such an exemplary young man" but notwithstanding the fact she thought it exceedingly imprudent for the girl to go into the church with him alone. She imagined that they had some errand in the church and expected in a few minutes they would come out. She watched carefully but the gate did not open.

DID NOT SEE HIM LEAVE THE CHURCH.

There is only one entrance to Emanuel church during the week, and that is by the side gate and rear door. Mrs. Leake knew the young people would have to pass through the gate, and she wanted to see them on the street again before she left the window. She waited a long time, but household duties finally called her to another part ot her flat, and she was obliged to give up her vigil.

THE CHAIN COMPLETE.

Mrs. Leake's testimony completes the chain of evidence against Durant. These school girls saw Durant and Blanche Lamont riding on a Powel street car at 3.30 on the day that Miss Lamont disappeared. Attorney Quinlan saw the couple a few blocks from the church a few minutes before four o'clock. Now comes Mrs. Leake who says she saw Durant and Miss Lamont near the church a few minutes later. George King, the organist, has already testified that he entered the church about 5 o'clock and saw Durant coming out down from the attic. Durant's hair was disheveled, his face was red, he was panting for breath and was in a state of utter physical and nervous collapse. In answer to enquiries he explained that he had been engaged in arranging electric lights in the loft and had been overcome by gas.

FIGHTING IN CUBA.

Insurgents Attack a Spanish Force and are Repulsed—A Town Assaulted

Special to the Times.

HAVANA, Aug. 16.—Advices from Tanta Clare are to the effect that a Government column under command of Major Zubias arrived on Wednesday at the Natalia plantation, in the Sagua district. Shortly after its arrival it was attacked by a band of rebels, who were repulsed and dispersed. The rebel loss is not known. The Government loss was one killed.

The town of Cumanayagua, in the Cienfuegos district, has been attacked by rebels. No details of the fighting have been received.

LEE-MEDFORDS.

Hon. Mr. Dickey Promises Better Accoutrements for the Militia.

Special to the Times.

HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 16.—At the close of the meeting of the Provincial Rifle Association yesterday, Minister of Militia Dickey presented the prizes and received a complimentary address. Replying to it, the Hon. Mr. Dickey said he would do everything in his power to further the interests of the militia in Canada, and would see that they were provided with better accutrements. He also stated that an order to the amount of $30,000 had been given in London for Lee-Medford rifles for the use of the Canadian militia.

FIGHTING IN CUBA.

A Train Load of Volunteers Blown up With Dynamite

Special to The Times.

TAMPA, Florida, Aug. 16.—The officially revised despatches cabled from Havana and the accounts of Cuban passengers who arrive by the various steamers continue to tell two different stories of the progress of the insurrection in Cuba. Passengers from Cuba last night report that on last Wednesday an insurgent band under Managas encountered a band of Spanish guerillas at Colon. Eighty five of the latter were killed while the insurgent loss was seven killed and 32 injured. A train bearing a large detachment of Havana volunteers to Santa Clare district was destroyed by dynamite at Bolondon railway bridge. Very few volunteers escaped death. The explosion was terrible. Campos has ordered the Spanish troops to dress in blue checked goods to distinguish them from insurgents it having been discovered that the Spaniards occasionally shot one another through mistake. Hospitals are being constructed wherever Spanish troops are stationed to care for yellow fever and wounded patients.

Getting Ready for the Fight.

DALLAS, Texas, Aug. 16.—The contract for the erection of the Florida Athletic Club's amphithepter is let. The Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway gave its check for $20,000 for one thousand reserved seats to the contest to be sold along the line. A letter has been received here saying that Fitzsimmons will probably train at Terrill, a small town thirty miles east of Dallas. Corbett's quarters at Galvestion are being fixed up for his reception.

HOLMES TRIAL.

He Will Probably be Taken to Chicago—Conference Today At Which It Was Decided by District Attorney Graham of Philadelphia to Give Him Up.

Special to the Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 16.—It has practically been decided that H. H. Holmes, the alleged murderer of Minnie and Nannie Williams, B. F. Pietzel and half a dozen others, will go to Chicago for trial for the murder of the Williams girls. This is the outcome of a lengthy conference held in this city today between W. A. Capps, of Fort Worth, Texas, and District Attorney Graham. After the conference Lawyer Capps said that he had urged the District Attorney to allow Holmes to go to Chicago and that Mr. Graham could hardly refuse to grant his request.

JURY'S STRONG VERDICT.

WAS FRED WALKER, THE BOOKMAKER, MURDERED AT WINDSOR.

Suspicious Circumstances Surround His Death—The Coroner's Verdict—The Letter Found in Walker's Room.

Special to the Times.

WINDSOR, Aug. 16.—The coroner's jury in the death of Fred Walker returned a verdict last night that he came to his death by being hit upon the head by some blunt instrument in the hands of unknown persons. It is generally believed here that he committed suicide, notwithstanding the verdict of the jury. A letter was left by him to the public to the effect that he was going to make away with himself, and was found in his room at Detroit yesterday.

Early Tuesday morning two strangers landed in Amherstburg from up the river. They abandoned the small boat which had carried them to town, had breakfast at the American hotel, skipping out without paying for their meals and being caught later. The men failed to give a good account of themselves, but were released after being questioned. One claimed to be Ed. Collins, 2248 Monroe street, Toledo, but when questioned showed considerable ignorance of the town he called his home. It is thought that Walker may have been killed in Windsor and the body then brought across in a small boat.

Consideration was given by the jury to the letter which was turned over by Al. Taylor, Walker's friend, to Detective Campau, of Windsor. The letter read as follows:

> Detroit, Menday, Aug. 12.
>
> My name is Alexander Frederic Walker. My parents live in Guelph, Canada. My wife, God bless her, lives in Cincinnatti. Her address is 114 West Seventh street. I am tired. (Signed).
>
> FRED WALKER.
>
> P.S.—Give what I have got to my wife.

Taylor found the letter in Walker's room at the Detroit House, and knew that the hand writing was that of Walker. Two other letters, which were directed to his wife and mother, and marked private, were also turned over to Coroner Hobley at the inquest, but he refused to make them public. It was declared their contents were substantially the same as that of the one above. There seems to be little doubt he committed suicide, notwithstanding the verdict of the coroner's jury, which says he was murdered. The theory built up by his friends is that he went aboard the Cleveland steamer Monday night to carry out his oft made threat of suicide, and that, after the steamer was in midstream Walker jumped overboard around Fighting Island, and that he was killed by being struck on the head by paddle of the wheel. For this reason the body did not sink, and the time from the departure of the steamer up to the finding of the body would necessarily be required for the body to float down to Amherstburg.

WOMAN SAVED THREE LIVES.

She Took Her Son, Daughter and Sister Through Blazing Rooms.

Special to The Times.

BALTIMORE, Md., Aug. 16.—The presence of mind and heroism of Mrs. Peter McCormick, of No. 1,518 Rutter Street, probably saved the lives of three persons this morning. She was awakened at three o'clock by suffocating smoke to find her home in flames. The fire had already attacked the only stairway, but Mrs. McCormick awoke her nineteen year old son and led him to the street. She then dashed into the burning building, aroused her fifteen year old daughter and piloted her through the smoke filled and blazing rooms to safety.

Mrs. McCormick then made a third trip up the fast succumbing stairway and, arousing her sleeping sister, Mrs. Perkins, who was suffering with rheumatism, guided her in safety to the street where she was taken care of by the excited neighbors.

When the engines arrived nothing remained for them to save but the brick walls. Fifteen hundred dollars will probably cover the money loss.

WORK ON THE BRESLAU MURDER.

Photographs of the Scene and Kirchinski's House—No Accomplice Suspected.

Special to the Times.

BERLIN, Ont., Aug. 16.—Detective Greer and Detective Klippert are at work on the Breslau murder case. They do not think there was any accomplice to the deed.

Messrs. Greene & Co. yesterday photographed the spot where the dead man was found, and also Mr. Hagey's house, Kirchinski's house and surroundings. The ground traversed in the case will be surveyed.

MUST BE SLAUGHTERED.

CANADIAN CATTLE CANNOT ENTER ENGLAND ALIVE.

Symptoms of Pleuro Detected In Recent Shipments From Canada—The Embargo to Remain In Force.

Special to the Times.

LONDON, Aug. 16.—The expectation that the embargo on the importation of Canadian cattle into England would be lifted with the advent of a new Government, is not likely to be realized. Hon. W. Long, who succeeded Hon. H. Gardner as President of the Board of Agriculture, said today, in reply to a question put to him in the House of Commons that the fact that Canadian cattle landed as recently as July 18 were reported to be effected with pleuro, compels the continued enforcement of the order which calls for slaughter at the port of debarkation.

LONDON, Aug. 16.—In the House of Commons today Mr. Walter Hume Long, President of the Board of Agriculture, in replying to a question asked by Mr. R. J. Price, said he was aware that many persons desired that the Government allow the importation of Canadian cattle, but the interests of farmers generally imperatively demanded that every safeguard be taken against the introduction of disease. He would therefore insist that Canadian cattle be slaughtered at the port at which they were landed. Mr. Long added that as recently as July 18th two animals that had been landed from Canada were found to be infected with pleuro pneumonia.

NEW SUNSTROKE CURE.

FORMER METHODS DISCARDED FOR ICE WATER BATHS.

The Patient is Handled Swiftly by Novel Appliances and Submerged in Ice—This Reduces the Temperature of the Body and Saves His Life.

Richard Collins was the first patient to test the new sunstroke apparatus in the House of Relief in Hudson street, New York. It proved a complete success.

The apparatus, which was designed by Dr. Louis A. Stimson, the house surgeon, is operated by electricity. From the moment a patient arrives until he is on the high road to recovery, he is lifted and carried about and laid down by electric force. Not only is this more gentle for the patient, but it saves the strength of the employes, especially if the patient is a big man. The method of treating sunstroke has been completely changed of late. Formerly hot cloths and plasters were applied to the extremities to draw the blood from the head and so reduce the temperature. Ice water baths form the basis of the new cure.

Both the apparatus and the method of treatment can best be described by taking Collins' case. He is an Irishman, 24 years old. He was offered work by a contractor tearing down a building and accepted it, although he was not fit for such heavy labor, and in no condition to stand such heat as that which prevailed recently.

He suffered much that day, but kept at work. About two o'clock he began to stagger and suddenly fell unconscious. An ambulance was called, and the surgeon saw it was a case of sunstroke, so hurried his patient to the House of Relief.

By the time he reached the hospital his temperature had reached 109 degrees. He was carried to the operating room. Here he was carefully rolled into a hammock. This hammock is supported by two iron bars on the sides, as if the man were lifted in a blanket. The head is kept a little higher than the feet. The bars connect with an electric crane, which will carry 900 pounds, running on a track fastened to the roof. A switch in the wall turned on the electric force, and the hammock, with Collins in it, was lifted from the floor. It was guided across the room and stopped over a tub filled with ice water, near which was another tub containing big chunks of ice.

The hammock was lowered, and Collins was soon immersed in the tub of ice water with the exception of his face. Pieces of ice were piled in and about his head, and the first stage of the treatment was begun. Collins was kept in the tub thirty-five minutes. The physician stood beside him, carefully recording his temperature. The ice water treatment is quick and effective. Within a few minutes there was a change, and in a quarter of an hour the temperature of the body began to fall. In half an hour it had gone down several degrees, though still above normal, and five minutes later the signal was given, the electricity turned on and Collins lifted out of his icy bath.

This time the force was kept on, and the hammock was lifted to the roof. Here a peculiar tent has been erected. It is of iron, being, in fact, a wire tent surrounded with a strong iron fence and covered with an awning. The fence prevents any possibility of a delirious patient jumping off the roof.

Collins was rolled out of the hammock on to a cot. He was still unconscious, but the doctor said he would be all right, and, after fixing the awnings so as to afford necessary shelter left him in charge of nurse to "sleep it off" in the fresh air.

Four hours later Collins woke up. He felt very weak, but his temperature was normal and his mind clear. From that time his treatment was that of a convalscent.—Recorder.

The Earldom of Menteith.

As the pending claim of a gentleman resident in Toronto to the ancient honors of the Grahams of Menteith has appeared in the press, the following facts may be made known. The claimant, Mr. George Marshall Graham, is the son of the late Mr. James Graham, J.P., D.L., of Leitchtown, in the Stewartry of Menteith, Perthshire, by his second wife, Isabella Murdoch, only child of William Marshall, captain in H.E.I. Company's army. About forty years ago Mr. James Graham unfortunately found it necessary to part with the family estates, for which purpose he got the entail broken, with the consent of his heir, the late Lieutenant J. E.N. Graham, R.N., afterwards of the U. S.N., and with the sanction of the Court of Session. Mr. Graham then retired to Canada, and died here in 1884. When he inherited the paternal lands of Leitchtown they were worth £2,500 a year, and entirely unencumbered, his father indeed having amassed a considerable fortune for those days as a West India proprietor, and three generations of the family had been connected with the West Indies from the time the present representative's great-grandfather went west at the beginning of last century. The beautiful domain of Leitchtown, hard by the romantic Lake of Menteith, came into the family 250 years ago, and prior to this they had been at Grahamstown, in the Barony of Rednock, contiguous thereto. Grahamstown forms part of the Leitchtown estate to this day, and what remains of the whole is now called Blairhoyle, an attractive and charming seat of, it is understood, about 1,500 acres. The name is the modern orthography of Blairquhoill, or Blairchoill, the ancient name of Leitchtown. Mr. George Graham's right to the dignities in question was discovered by his relative, Mr. Walter Malise Easton, younger, of Ryefield, on the Water of Rye, Ayrshire. Mr. Easton takes a deep interest in all matters pertaining to archaeology, and is a keen student in historical research. It may here be said the main feature of the new claim was the discovery of two names hitherto entirely overlooked by all genealogists who had enquired into the Menteith history. The effect of this is to change the Leitchtown descent from Walter Graham of Gartur and make it from Walter Graham of Lochtown. Knowing themselves to be descended from a Walter, both the Leitchtown and Gartur families, after the loss of papers during the rebellion of 1715, fixed on the wrong one. All this will be demonstrated in the proper place; but instead of Gartur, all along Leitchtown has been the senior branch. They had a common ancestor in Walter of Lochtown. Since 1818 the Gartur family has been extinct. Mr. Easton will also demonstrate that the present Grahams of Gartmore are not of the Menteith stock; that their pedigree is manifestly a false one; and their pretensions to the Earldom a sham.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

TO BRIBE THE JURY.

An Offer to Secure Durant's Freedom In Return For Coin.

Special to the Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 14.—Another sensation has developed in the Durant case. Whether it is a case of jury bribing or a bold attempt at blackmail, the police and others who have investigated the matter are unwilling and probably unable to state with positiveness.

The fact remains that Mrs. Durant, mother of the young man who is accused of murdering Minnie Williams and Blanche Lamont, was approached recently by a mysterious woman whose desire was to tell something of extreme importance to the safety of Theodore Durant. It was intimated that at least three of the jurors already accepted could be influenced to vote for an acquittal. But coin would be required to get these votes. Mrs. Durant not only spurned the offer, but informed the attorneys for her son, and also notified the police of the nature of the offer made to her. The woman is Mrs. Sarah Groger; while she denies having offered any jurors for sale, she admits having visited Mrs. Durant and offering for coin to bring about the accomplishment of something which would be invaluable to the defence of Theodore Durant. Mrs. Groger says she only acted as the agent of a third party, and did so innocently.

DRUGGED AND MARRIED.

A Young Man Spirited Away and Forced to Wed.

Special to the Times.

HAMILTON, August 14.—Mrs. McCormack, of Petrolia, was in the city today looking for her son, W. J. McCormack, aged 19, who left Petrolia suddenly on Sunday last. She found him at the residence of a relative here, but the young man refused to return home with her. He says that on Friday evening last as he was out walking with a girl named Sarah Savage, the girl's father and brother came along and escorted he and the girl to the house of a man named Josh, where he was forced to go through the marriage ceremony with the girl. McCormack says he was drugged and was not aware of what he did, but the men threatened his life if he refused to consent to the ceremony. A license was procured and McCormack was married to Miss Savage by Rev. Mr. McRobbie of Petrolia, at two o'clock on Saturday morning. When McMack realized his situation next morning he decided to flee and says he is going to California, Mrs. McCormack secured an affidavit containing the facts of the case as sworn by her son and says she will make it hot for the parties on her return to Petrolia.

AN EXCEPTIONAL SALE.

St. John is much Interested in the Recent Medical Discovery.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Aug. 12.—The many cases of marvellous restoration to health from various forms of kidney trouble which have been constantly appearing in the daily press of the Dominion have for sometime awakened the liveliest interest here, and the remedy by which the cures were effected namely, Dodd's Kidney Pills, are obtaining great celebrity throughout the province. The appearance of the testimonials of Drs. Rose and McCormick stating the benefits which they had personally derived from their use was considered a sufficient sign of the merits of the remedy, and the other interesting and wonderful cases which have since been chronicled has caused the specific to have an exceptional sale.

Weakness is the symptom, impoverished blood the cause, Hood's Sarsaparilla the cure. It makes the weak strong.

BIG PROFITS —ON— SMALL INVESTMENTS
Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.
$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our SYSTEMATIC PLAN OF SPECULATION.
Originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.
It is a well known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who, by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.
It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.
Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.
WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOFS, also our Manual on Successful Speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

The Times.

PETERBOROUGH, AUGUST 17 1895.

THE C. P. R. MAIL SUBSIDY.

The Toronto Globe makes a ferocious attack upon the Dominion Government because an additional $100,000 or so a year has been granted to the Canadian Pacific Railway for its postal service by an Order-in-Council. In the first place, it may be said in reply that the raising of the allowance by Order-in-Council was entirely constitutional. The Government had a perfect right to do what it has done, though, of course, it must account for its action at the next session of Parliment In the next place, the increase was granted simply because it was being earned. The Auditor-General's report shows that. the Grand Trunk Railway receives $160 per mile per annum for postal car service, while the Canadian Pacific has heretofore been paid only $105. For branch lines the Grand Trunk is paid $80 per mile per annum, while the Canadian Pacific rate is aslo was $12 on some of the short lines and only $58 beteewn Quebec and Montreal, The intercolonal receives $130 per mile per annum for postal-car runs, whether on the main line or on the branches. On the main line of the Canadian Pacific, between Montreal and Vancouver, the compensation has heretofore been based on a calculation which has been outgrown, and, it is said, unless the company provided room in the baggage cars, mail matter would frequently have to be left over. The company has thus of iate years been giving more than it undertook to give, at the same old figure. It is not to be wondered at that the company chafed under the injustice, and that the Government has recognized its claim to increased compensation, just as it has recognized the growing claims of the Grand Trunk in the same matter ever since 1865. The more closely this little affair is examined, the more clearly it will be seen that Sir Adolphe Caron has only done what any Postmaster-General would have to do, and what every future Postmaster-General must do until the country becomes stationary.

The wheat harvest has begun in Manitoba and the crop is not only a heavy one but has escaped injury by frost. The Prairie Province ought to boom this year and all Canada must benefit as a result of the prosperity of the vast territories of the West.

Duck's eggs are shipped pretty ripe, from Swatow, in China, to Bangkok and Singapore. They are put in shallow baskets in layers two or three deep, wrapped up in soft paper, and climate is so hot that they are hatched before they reach their destination.

American residents in China are indignant because Minister Denby has let the British representatives act for him in the matter of the outrages on foreigners. Minister Denby, however, understands the policy of the Administration he represents better than do the American residents in China. And, it may be added. that Great Britian is likely to be treated with more respect by China than is the United States.

At Mile End in London there is a serious outbreak of small-pox, the vestry and guardians, being opposed to vaccination, refuse to exercise the power placed in their hands by law to make it compulsory. In the district there are from twelve to fourteen thousand unvaccinated children. The guardians assert that the small-pox has come from the neighboring districts, where the law is enforced.

Last Sunday a fiery Toronto minister addressing some True Blue lodges in a church, declared that Roman Catholic convents are brothels. Some journals declare that he should be disciplined. Not many months ago an obscene Catholic priest of St. Louis made himself temporarily notorious by publicly denouncing Christian Endeavor societies as hotbeds of immorality. Many voices were then heard demanding that the clerical slanderer be unfrocked; but no attention was paid by his spiritual superiors to these demands. The best treatment to accord blatant persons like the western priest and the Toronto minister is to regard their utterances with contemptuous indifference.

THE LIME JUICE CLUB.

REGULAR WEEKLY MEETING OF THIS CHAS SOCIETY.

A High Old Time in the Hall of Wisdom—A Few Pungent Remarks by the President—Poetry—Other Business.

Since the last meeting the friends of this Club in various localties have bestirred themselves, and the Janitor has been kept busy receiving and opening boxes sent by express. Some one at Port Hope forwarded a padlock weighing four pounds, and warrented to be the padlock used by Razor Reynold and Big Bass Wilmot to lock up the members of the Ontario Lacrosse Club in order to prevent them from accepting Peterborough's challenge to play the Athleties of the town for $250 a side. Afriend forwarded to the Club the pen used by Bro. Cam Sawers in writing his Orange letters in support of Separate Schools. The pen was worn down to the hilt, and looked as though it had been in the Battle of the Boyne. A party in the Eastern States forwarded a four gallon jug of tar, to be used in greasing the hinges of the Hall of Wisdom. Some kind friend in Stoney Lake forwarded the tin coffee pot used by the Snowden McNeil go as-you-please fishing party, and parties in the South Ward sent on a beautiful cabinet photograph of the Outfall Sewer, with Town Solicetor Edwards in the back ground. The Hall of Wisdom has not only become a place of meeting for the historic club, but a museum and an art gallery of no mean reputation

A FEW OBSERVATIONS.

"During my three score years of life I have observed several curious things," said the President, as the thermometer showed 98 degrees and still rising. "I have observed, for instance, that the men mostly concered about the welfare of the country, are the men who do the least to prosper her.

"I have observed that the politician who sets out to save the country is generally hauled up for robbing her.

"I have observed that the man who wants a fat government job usually writes long orange sermons in support of Separate Schools, or assumes the role of a Roman Catholic politician.

"I have observed that the man who seem to have the most sympathy, for the poor never waits five minutes to foreclose a chattel mortgage.

"I have observed that good clothes and impudence will pass for riches and education

"I have observed that brag and bluster are better weapons than argument and truth.

"I have observed that a grand monument in a graveyard, don't hide the meanness of a dead man's relations.

"I have observed that charity can make paupers almost as fast as a conflagration.

"I have observed that while all agree that honesty is the best policy, not one man in a hundred hesitates to work a lead nickle off on a street car.

"I have observed many other things equally strange and inconsistent, and I am prepared to say to you:

"Motives don't mean business.

"Maxims can be forgotten faster than written.

"Promises is a wheel with one cog gone.

"Friendship will last as long as you can afford to buy at ten per cent per annum. Let other business now proceed."

CHAMPION POETS.

The committee in whose charge were the prize poems, reported that 126 poems had been received, each one written by a member of the Club in good standing. The choice of the committee had rested on three of the following named efforts:

First prize—The Bycicle Girl, by Bro. John Mervin. Mr. Mervin can take his choice between a hand-painted back-action autograph of the first President of this Great Club, or $3 in money. We print the poem below.

Second Prize—Softly stealing Through the Melon Patch, Bombshell McNaughton. Mr. McNaughton can take his choice between a pen-wiper used by Bro. Sawers, in writing his 12th of July speech in support of separate schools and a $2 bill with the corners torn off.

"Third Prize—Bury me in a Tennis Court," by Bro. McKey, (assisted by Bro. W. Phelan,) these two rising young poets can have their choice between an eight dollar note of hand against Bro. A. Blanchard or two rides on Dennis McMartin's merry-go-round.

While the committee were limited to three prizes, and while they endeavored to select the best, the other 123 poets need not be discouraged. Their is room for all, and those who continue to court the muses must someday achieve success. Any of the rejected poems would bring the highest cash price per pound, even when the market was overstocked.

MUSIC.

The Harmony Club tuned up and sung and played Bro. Mervin's poem, so beautifully that the Hall clock stopped dead still at five minutes to ten?

"My mother can I go out to wheel?"
"Yes, my darling daughter;
I suppose, of course, you won't wear skirts,
Although I think you oughter"

The bloomer girl don't care who knows
That she is just a biped;
And so her hose she boldly shows,
Or checked, or clocked, or striped.

Oh woman, in your proper dress,
A vission of true loveliness,
But when you put the bloomers on
Your grace and comliness are gone.

The offspring now to have a wheel
Will beg or borrow, buy or steal.
He rides along in bicycle pants,
And so do his sisters, his cousins and his aunts.

Old Grimes is dead, that good old man,
He never had a chance
To see a woman ride her wheel
Dressed in her bloomer pants.

One sex alone did use to smoke,
But now look for t'other;
Since a bicycle girl can scratch a match
Just like her elder brother.

The biggest joke upon a wheel
We've noticed up to date
Was a bloomered matron five feet high,
Two hundred pounds in weight

GOING TO THE CIRCUS.

Bro. C. LeBrun offered the following resolution:

"Resolved, that when Sells Bros. circus comes to town, and a member of the Lime Juice Club in good standing can't raise the necessary wealth to buy a ticket, it is not doregotary on his character to crawl under the canvass."

Bro. Jamfed Jones objected to the resolution. He always began saving up shortly after Christmas, and by the middle of July he could lay his hands on a half dollar to go to the stupendous combinations of world celebrities.

Henroost Bell hoped that no such resolution would pass. He had crawled under the canvass without been seen, he had done the same and had his head nearly broken with a neck-yoke, and in both cases he had feelings that he had derogatoried his character. The best way was to carry water to the elephants and get a free ticket.

Several others spoke in the same strain, and upon a vote being taken the resolution was defeated by a vote of 1431 to 4.

SCIENTIFIC.

Bro. John Mervin stated that he wished to nominate a young gentleman of fine physique and verdant understanding named Nutmeg Cunningham, as a member of the club. Mr. Cunningham was employed in a prominent grocery, and had made a study of many scientific subjects. He was now seeking to stir up the public on the subject of discovering the East and West poles, leaving the North and South to be found by other people. Bro. Mervin went on to say that he had been converted to the new theory, as had also Mr. Bert Brown and many other prominent scientists who belonged to the club. He, the speaker, was of the opinion that an open sea existed around the West pole—a sea whose waters were as tranquil as a meadow, and tasting like Bro. C. LeBrun's lemonade, with gin and sugar added. The bark which enters this sea would pass over beds of purest coral, be surrounded by mermaids, move in an air of choice flowers, and be certain to return laden with diamonds, rubies and pearls.

Bro. Jamfed Jones, accidentally swallowed the key of the padlock belonging to the club's safe (which he was holding in his mouth to cure the ear ache,) in his haste to get his jaws open to move that a subscription be opened among the members for funds to enable Bro. Cunningham to charter a vessel and buy provisions. It was his idea that at least two members of the Lime Juice Club accompany the ship.

A subscription paper was at once opened and at the conclusion of the meeting the following amounts were subscribed: Cripes Mulcahey, 2c; Bro. Bob Fife, a quarter with a hole in it; Jamfed Jones, 1c; Henroost Bell, 1c; Sam Clegg, 2c.

BY-LAW 341,862.

Bro. Jack Christie called attention to the above by-law, which makes all business transacted after eleven p.m, illegal. Accordingly all the unfinished business was put in the refregriator, the water pail turned upside down, and the members went home.

Catarrh in the Head

Is a dangerous disease because it is liable to result in loss of hearing or smell, or develop into consumption. Read the following:

"My wife has been a sufferer from catarrh for the past four years and the disease had gone so far that her eyesight was affected so that for nearly a year she was unable to read for more than five minutes at a time. She suffered severe pains in the head and at times was almost distracted. About Christmas, she commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and since that time has steadily improved. She has taken six bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and is on the road to a complete cure. I cannot speak too highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I cheerfully recommend it." W. H. Fursier, Newmarket, Ontario.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Is the Only True Blood Purifier

Prominently in the public eye today.

Hood's Pills cure habitual constipation. Price 25c. per box.

A Connecticut policeman gave a fellow-officer a beer-bottle filled with muriatic acid and the officer took a drink. It is a flattering tribute to the kind of beer they drink in Connecticut that the dose impaired the officer's usefulness only temporarily.

The serious outbreak of cholera in southern Russia furnishes cause for increased care to prevent the introduction of the plague into Canada by ships trading from the Mediterranean. It is a good deal less costly to prevent the entry of such a disease than to stamp it out after an entrance has been effected.

PETERBOROUGH, AUGUST 17 1895.

THE C. P. R. MAIL SUBSIDY.

The Toronto Globe makes a ferocious attack upon the Dominion Government because an additional $100,000 or so a year has been granted to the Canadian Pacific Railway for its postal service by an Order-in-Council. In the first place, it may be said in reply that the raising of the allowance by Order-in-Council was entirely constitutional. The Government had a perfect right to do what it has done, though, of course, it must account for its action at the next session of Parliment In the next place, the increase was granted simply because it was being earned. The Auditor-General's report shows that the Grand Trunk Railway receives $160 per mile per annum for postal car service, while the Canadian Pacific has heretofore been paid only $105. For branch lines the Grand Trunk is paid $80 per mile per annum, while the Canadian Pacific rate is aslo was $12 on some of the short lines and only $58 beteewn Quebec and Montreal, The intercolonal receives $130 per mile per annum for postal-car runs, whether on the main line or on the branches. On the main line of the Canadian Pacific, between Montreal and Vancouver, the compensation has heretofore been based on a calculation which has been outgrown, and, it is said, unless the company provided room in the baggage cars, mail matter would frequently have to be left over. The company has thus of iate years been giving more than it undertook to give, at the same old figure. It is not to be wondered at that the company chafed under the injustice, and that the Government has recognized its claim to increased compensation, just as it has recognized the growing claims of the Grand Trunk in the same matter ever since 1865. The more closely this little affair is examined, the more clearly it will be seen that Sir Adolphe Caron has only done what any Postmaster-General would have to do, and what every future Postmaster-General must do until the country becomes stationary.

The wheat harvest has begun in Manitoba and the crop is not only a heavy one but has escaped injury by frost. The Prairie Province ought to boom this year and all Canada must benefit as a result of the prosperity of the vast territories of the West.

Duck's eggs are shipped pretty ripe, from Swatow, in China, to Bangkok and Singapore. They are put in shallow baskets in layers two or three deep, wrapped up in soft paper, and climate is so hot that they are hatched before they reach their destination.

American residents in China are indignant because Minister Denby has let the British representatives act for him in the matter of the outrages on foreigners. Minister Denby, however, understands the policy of the Administration he represents better than do the American residents in China. And, it may be added, that Great Britian is likely to be treated with more respect by China than is the United States.

At Mile End in London there is a serious outbreak of small-pox, the vestry and guardians, being opposed to vaccination, refuse to exercise the power placed in their hands by law to make it compulsory. In the district there are from twelve to fourteen thousand unvaccinated children. The guardians assert that the small-pox has come from the neighboring districts, where the law is enforced.

Last Sunday a fiery Toronto minister addressing some True Blue lodges in a church, declared that Roman Catholic convents are brothels. Some journals declare that he should be disciplined. Not many months ago an obscene Catholic priest of St. Louis made himself temporarily notorious by publicly denouncing Christian Endeavor societies as hotbeds of immorality. Many voices were then heard demanding that the clerical slanderer be unfrocked; but no attention was paid by his spiritual superiors to these demands. The best treatment to accord blatant persons like the western priest and the Toronto minister is to regard their utterances with contemptuous indifference.

THE LIME JUICE CLUB.

REGULAR WEEKLY MEETING OF THIS CHAS SOCIETY.

A High Old Time in the Hall of Wisdom—A Few Pungent Remarks by the President—Poetry—Other Business.

Since the last meeting the friends of this Club in various localties have bestirred themselves, and the Janitor has been kept busy receiving and opening boxes sent by express. Some one at Port Hope forwarded a padlock weighing four pounds, and warrented to be the padlock used by Razor Reynold and Big Bass Wilmot to lock up the members of the Ontario Lacrosse Club in order to prevent them from accepting Peterborough's challenge to play the Athleties of the town for $250 a side. Afriend forwarded to the Club the pen used by Bro. Cam Sawers in writing his Orange letters in support of Separate Schools. The pen was worn down to the hilt, and looked as though it had been in the Battle of the Boyne. A party in the Eastern States forwarded a four gallon jug of tar, to be used in greasing the hinges of the Hall of Wisdom. Some kind friend in Stoney Lake forwarded the tin coffee pot used by the Snowden McNeil go as-you-please fishing party, and parties in the South Ward sent on a beautiful cabinet photograph of the Outfall Sewer, with Town Solicetor Edwards in the back ground. The Hall of Wisdom has not only become a place of meeting for the historic club, but a museum and an art gallery of no mean reputation

A FEW OBSERVATIONS.

"During my three score years of life I have observed several curious things," said the President, as the thermometer showed 98 degrees and still rising. "I have observed, for instance, that the men mostly concered about the welfare of the country, are the men who do the least to prosper her.

"I have observed that the politician who sets out to save the country is generally hauled up for robbing her.

"I have observed that the man who wants a fat government job usually writes long orange sermons in support of Separate Schools, or assumes the role of a Roman Catholic politician.

"I have observed that the man who seem to have the most sympathy, for the poor never waits five minutes to foreclose a chattel mortgage.

"I have observed that good clothes and impudence will pass for riches and education.

"I have observed that brag and bluster are better weapons than argument and truth.

"I have observed that a grand monument in a graveyard, don't hide the meanness of a dead man's relations.

"I have observed that charity can make paupers almost as fast as a conflagration.

"I have observed that while all agree that honesty is the best policy, not one man in a hundred hesitates to work a lead nickle off on a street car.

"I have observed many other things equally strange and inconsistent, and I am prepared to say to you:

"Motives don't mean business.

"Maxims can be forgotten faster than written.

"Promises is a wheel with one cog gone.

"Friendship will last as long as you can afford to buy at ten per cent per annum. Let other business now proceed."

CHAMPION POETS.

The committee in whose charge were the prize poems, reported that 126 poems had been received, each one written by a member of the Club in good standing. The choice of the committee had rested on three of the following named efforts:

First prize—The Bycicle Girl, by Bro. John Mervin. Mr. Mervin can take his choice between a hand-painted back-action autograph of the first President of this Great Club, or $3 in money. We print the poem below.

Second Prize—Softly stealing Through the Melon Patch, Bombshell McNaughton. Mr. McNaughton can take his choice between a pen-wiper used by Bro. Sawers, in writing his 12th of July speech in support of separate schools and a $2 bill with the corners torn off.

"Third Prize—Bury me in a Tennis Court," by Bro. McKey, (assisted by Bro. W. Phelan,) these two rising young poets can have their choice between an eight dollar note of hand against Bro. A. Blanchard or two rides on Dennis McMartin's merry-go-round.

While the committee were limited to three prizes, and while they endeavored to select the best, the other 123 poets need not be discouraged. Their is room for all, and those who continue to court the muses must someday achieve success. Any of the rejected poems would bring the highest cash price per pound, even when the market was overstocked.

MUSIC.

The Harmony Club tuned up and sung and played Bro. Mervin's poem, so beautifully that the Hall clock stopped dead still at five minutes to ten?

"My mother can I go out to wheel?"
"Yes, my darling daughter;
I suppose, of course, you won't wear skirts,
Although I think you oughter"

The bloomer girl don't care who knows
That she is just a biped;
And so her how she boldly shows,
Or checked, or clocked, or striped.

Oh woman, in your proper dress,
A vision of true loveliness,
But when you put the bloomers on
Your grace and comliness are gone.

The offspring now to have a wheel
Will beg or borrow, buy or steal.
He rides along in bicycle pants,
And so do his sisters, his cousins and his aunts.

Old Grimes is dead, that good old man,
He never had a chance
To see a woman ride her wheel
Dressed in her bloomer pants.

One sex alone did use to smoke,
But now look for t'other;
Since a bicycle girl can scratch a match
Just like her elder brother

The biggest joke upon a wheel
We're noticed up to date
Was a bloomered matron five feet high,
Two hundred pounds in weight

GOING TO THE CIRCUS.

Bro. C. LeBrun offered the followiag resolution:

"Resolved, that when Sells Bros. circus comes to town, and a member of the Lime Juice Club in good standing can't raise the necessary wealth to buy a ticket, it is not doregotary on his character to crawl under the canvass."

Bro. Jamfed Jones objected tc the resolution. He always began saving up shortly after Christmas, and by the middle of July he could lay his hands on a half dollar to go to the stupendous combinations of world celebrities.

Henroost Bell hoped that no such resolution would pass. He had crawled under the canvass without been seen, he had done the same and had his head nearly broken with a neck-yoke, and in both cases he had feelings that he had derogatoried his character. The best way was to carry water to the elephants and get a free ticket.

Several others spoke in the same strain, and upon a vote being taken the resolution was defeated by a vote of 1431 to 4.

SCIENTIFIC.

Bro. John Mervin stated that he wished to nominate a young gentleman of fine physique and verdant understnnding named Nutmeg Cunningham, as a member of the club. Mr. Cunningham was employed in a prominent grocery, and had made a study of many scientific subjects. He was now seeking to stir up the public on the subject of discovering the East and West poles, leaving the North and South to be found by other people. Bro. Mervin went on to say that he had been converted to the new theory, as had also Mr. Bert Brown and many other prominent scientists who belonged to the club. He, the speaker, was of the opinion that an open sea existed around the West pole—a sea whose waters were as tranquil as a meadow, and tasting like Bro. C. LeBrun's lemonade, with gin and sugar added. The bark which enters this sea would pass over beds of purest coral, be surrounded by mermaids, move in an air of choice flowers, and be cer.ain to return laden with diamonds, rubies and pearls.

Bro. Jamfed Jones, accidentally swallowed the key of the padlock belonging to the club's safe (which he was holding in his mouth to cure the ear ache,) in his haste to get his jaws open to move that a subscription be opened among the members for funds to enable Bro. Cunningham to charter a vessel and buy provisions. It was his idea that at least two members of the Lime Juice Club accompany the ship.

A subscription paper was at once opened and at the conclusion of the meeting the following amounts were subscribed: Cripes Mulcahey, 2c; Bro. Bob Fife, a quarter with a hole in it; Jamfed Jones, 1c; Henroost Bell, 1c; Sam Clegg, 2c.

BY-LAW 341,862.

Bro. Jack Christie called attention to the above by-law, which makes all business transacted after eleven p.m, illegal. Accordingly all the unfinished business was put in the refregriator, the water pail turned upside down, and the members went home.

If H. H. Holmes is hanged before he can finish the story of his life, no reasonable exception need be taken to his work upon such a book.

A Connecticut policeman gave a fellow-officer a beer-bottle filled with muriatic acid and the officer took a drink. It is a flattering tribute to the kind of beer they drink in Connecticut that the dose impaired the officer's usefulness only temporarily.

The serious outbreak of cholera in southern Russia furnishes cause for increased care to prevent the introduction of the plague into Canada by ships trading from the Mediterranean. It is a good deal less costly to prevent the entry of such a disease than to stamp it out after an entrance has been effected.

Catarrh in the Head

Is a dangerous disease because it is liable to result in loss of hearing or smell, or develop into consumption. Read the following:

"My wife has been a sufferer from catarrh for the past four years and the disease had gone so far that her eyesight was affected so that for nearly a year she was unable to read for more than five minutes at a time. She suffered severe pains in the head and at times was almost distracted. About Christmas, she commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and since that time has steadily improved. She has taken six bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and is on the road to a complete cure. I cannot speak too highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I cheerfully recommend it." W. H. INS AND OUTS.

The villians still per sewer.

⁂

Bicycle races and lemonade will never draw a crowd to the Driving Park.

⁂

Why not settle the dispute about who is competent of inspecting the sewer by having the Town Solicitor go through it?

⁂

Heard at the bicycle races: "Did yer hear about me scrap with Pinky W——" asked the tough youg man. "Well, it were a beaut. He was givin' it out ter the push dat he were going to buy a bicycle, an' I said dat it was a shame fer him to blow de dough his mudder earned takin' in washin'. I axed him why he didn't take de wheel outer his head an' de rubber outer his neck an' make a bicycle fer de fall fair. Dat phased him an' den we came tergedder, and I gib it to him pretty good an' fast—dat's de reason he carryin' around dem black lamps, see!"

⁂

"I have called here," he began, as he entered a George street saloon the other night and found the bartender alone—"I have called here—."

"Nothing for you!" brusquely interrupted the bartender.

"But there may be, sir. Please hear me out. I have a proposition to make you. You want custom—I want beer."

"I don't want your custom!"

"You wait a bit. You give me a glass of beer. I drink it and go out doors. Standing in front of your door I begin to groan and moan and yell. Six or eight pedestrians halt to find out what the trouble is. I yell some more and fall down and squirm and kick and have a fit. In ten minutes I draw a crowd of 100 people. Draw a crowd of 100 Peterboroughites in front of a saloon and what is the result—the inevitable result—the cash result to that saloon."

The bartender shook his head.

"Sir," continued the man, "you are a man of business. You can see 400 per cent. profit a mile away. You press the button and I do the rest. For one glass of beer I do the rest. For one glass of beer I guarantee you at least 20 customers.

"It wouldn't work," said the bartender as he turned away.

"But why? A crowd makes thirst—thirst demends lager—lager is found only in saloons."

"A fellow tried that very trick for me last night."

"And 30 customers rushed in here and asked for beer."

No sir. About 70 rushed in here for ice water and whiskey and brandy for the old man lying in a fit, and I was 70c out of pocket before the police rushed him off. If you are thirsty you'd better go down to the river and get a drink."

An absent minded young preacher wishing to address the young ladies of his congregation after the morning service, is reported to have remarked from the pulpit that he would be very glad if the female brethren of the congregation would remain after they had gone home.

SLOPEVILL NEWS.

From our own Correspondent.

Frequent showers are doing the crops much good.

Miss Annie Carey and Miss Nora Condon were the guests of their uncle Michael McCann last week.

Messrs. Dennis Guerin and John Lonergan joined the brotherhood of the S.O.R. Monday last.

Mr. Wm. O'Brien of the village is at present acting agent for THE TIMES. He received 25 subscribers one day last week without ever leaving his office. This speaks well for the success of THE TIMES, which has at present a very extensive circulation in this neighborhood and is becoming more popular and more interesting day after day.

Mr. Silas O. Ginks, financial and insurance agent, is at present occupying four of the front rooms of Mr. Wm. O'Brien's newly finished terrace, corner of Bloor street and Lovesick avenue. The building is a magnificent structure of Gothic architecture, which may well be considered a credit to the contractor, Mr. D. McMahon. The architect, Mr. Wm. Baggerall, of Bluemud, called in to inspect the job and pronounced it all O.K.

A meeting of the Lime Juice Club took place at Flynnville Wednesday evening. Crowds gathered from different lodges in the country to hear Bro. Solomon Casey founder of the L.J.C., give his entertaining lecture on temperance. Bro. Maurice Tobin occupied the chair. President John McBride looked very tired and exhausted at the meeting as he worked hard drawing up a new statue of regulations an provisions since five o'clock in the morning. Bro. T. Heffernan, of Otonabee, gave an interesting insight on the Peterborough sewer question, and the Trent Valley Canal. The meeting was dismissed with loud applause for the speakers.

The village has given birth to another valuable invention through the forethought and ingenuity of Mr. P. G. Towns in inventing and patenting a valuable egg tester. The machine is unique in shape and truly it may be said "science and inventions shall never cease to improve and advance the civilization of nations."

On Monday last Dr. Lonergan and his student D. Guerin, of the Royal Medical Academy took a trip up the river for the purpose of securing their winters' supply of juniper berries and sarsaparilla roots. On their return, as the day was favorable, they thought they would try trolling. All went well till nearing Carlow's Narrows the bait disappeared in the fangs of some huge serpent which capsized the skiff. Mr. Guerin swam ashore while his companion got entangled in the line and would undoubtedly have been drowned had it not been for the heroism of Patrick Heffernan who was bathing at the time and swam to his rescue and carried him to shore unconscious. It was fully 15 minutes before he recovered and his first words were "God bless you, you're a grand man."

Mr. Baptie, a prominent Young's Point cheese maker, arrived here one evening last week, on a wheel, or more properly speaking, with a wheel on him as he got broke down on the way.

He was going to Norwood and had he not met Mr. McCann on the street he would likely to have had to walk the rest of the way and his best girl would have ample reason to accuse him of tardiness Of course McCann always has an eye to business so he kept the wayfarer over night and fixed his wheel the next day. It was a great trial on his skill but he proved himself quite an expert although it was out of the line of his business; but he now intends giving up blacksmithing and starting up a general repair shop for bicycles, guns, umbrellas, etc. This will be a great boon for our thriving burgh.

Mr. Baptie intends making a trip round the world on his wheel in eighty days and he thinks there would be no trouble in so doing if there were a lot of such men as Mick McCann sparingly distributed along the route.

A DELIGHTFUL TRIP.

An Excursion Over the Route of the Trent Valley Canal.

The excursion of the season will take place over the route of the Trent Valley Canal, to Cameron Lake, under the auspices of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the George Street Methodist church, on Tuesday next, August 20, per G.T.R. to Chemong, and steamer Columbian. Train leaves G.T.R. station at 8.40 a.m., connecting with Columbian at 9. This is positively the most delightful trip of the season. Steamer passes through Chemong, Buckhorn and Pigeon Lakes, thence up the picturesque Bobcaygeon River and through the locks to Sturgeon Lake, passing Sturgeon Point with its score of handsome summer residences, and thence into the magnificent Fenelon River, passing within full view of the miniature Niagara, on the left, and entering the largest and most expensive set of locks on the entire Trent Canal system. The lock is known as the double lift lock, having three enormous gates. After an hours stay here for dinner (25 cts.) and where the fine Howry Saw Mills are situated, the steamer will pass up the Fenelon River to Cameron Lake—one of the most beautiful sheets of water in the country. Returning, Chemong will be reached at 8.30, and home at 9 a.m. Tickets, round trip, $1, for sale at THE TIMES office, Peterborough and at the station.

TRAMPS RAID A TRAIN.

FOUR MARAUDERS CREATE CONSTERNATION ON A TRAIN.

York County is Being Run by Tramps, the Result of not Paying County Constables for Their Work—Scene on a Scarboro Junction Train.

Special to The Times.

TORONTO, August, 14.—Who soweth the wind shall reap the whirlwind."

The auditors of the County of York can take this to heart. At their last audit they threw out the expense bills of several county constables who arrested tramps. The result is that tramps are now free to do what they please, short of arson or murder; the county and its inhabitants suffer and small burglaries and minor outrages are alarmingly on the increase. It is not the fault of the constables. They are paid for what they do in the way of arrests and so on. The county officials wont pay them for arresting tramps, therefore they let the tramps go.

A RAID ON NORWAY AND SCARBORO.

Norway and Scarboro' are among the villages which reap the doubtful benefits of the protected tramp industry and they had a wild eyed sample of it yesterday. In the afternoon four savage looking, ragged and unkept individuals struck Norway and proceeded to assert the rights of men who are under the special protection of the authorities and have immunity from arrest. They first visited the store of Mrs. Ross and levied upon her for a pail. The lady asked for payment for the same and was promptly told to go to that place where a refrigerator would demand millions. The tramps went off to wet the pail. One of their number took the utensil across to Fred Smith's hotel and ordered a gallon of beer in a truculent tone. Now Fred Smith knows a thing or two and he filled the pail and placed it on the counter. He kept hold of it with his right hand and extending the left smiled in a winning manner, and demanded pay. His manner was suggestive of the "sautiver in mode and the fortiter in re," which means an awfully nice man you know, but a demon to scrap. The tramp thought so and paid. The hobo returned to his comrades, and each in turn poured a libation to Baachus down their throats and proceeded to own the village. They formed up in quarter column, like the 18th Battalion when it received Private Hayhurst, and walked up the side walk. The treasure chest, or rather the pail of beer, was in the middle, which showed a knowledge of warfare. The police was sent for, telegraphed for, but hearing that invaders were only tramps concluded that it was none of their business. The county auditors had said so.

A TRIUMPHANT PROCESSION.

The Coxeyites marched on in triumph, halting every now and then for an investigation of the beer. As it grew less their spirits rose, which is natural, because he who drinketh out of a pail looketh up and hopes. Their triumphant procession was uninterrupted and they reached Scarboro Junction. Encouraged by previous immunity and beer they took possession of the station. One man said he was Sir Charles Rivers Wilson which was a lie, and the others began to monkey with things generally which was a mistake. The G.T.R. can provide all the disasters needed without any assistance from tramps and word was sent up to Toronto that hostiles had taken possession of Scarboro' Junction. Prompt measures were taken. An engine and tender were despatched with G.T.R. Constable Hinds and County Constables Kennedy and Porter.

SEIZED A RAILWAY TRAIN.

In the meantime the local arrived at Scarboro' and the tramps boarded the train. They were asked for their fare and promptly pulled a gun. Just then the engine, tender and constables came upon the scene and the fun started. The tramps were husky, so were their opponents. They were desperate, but the officers were determined, and after a vicious struggle the whole outfit were corralled and jailed.

RIDICULOUS MAGISTERIAL LENIENCY.

This morning they were taken before George Trench, J.P. They gave their names as John Powell, of London; Wm. Jones, of Trenton; Joseph Nelson, of Hamilton, and Wm. Campbell, of Toronto. The evidence was heard and a big surprise sprung on the community. Powell and Jones were let go on suspended sentence, while Nelson and Campbell got off with the absurdly light sentence of ten days. and there are lots of tramps in the County of York who will smile when they hear of the sentence.

FOUR MONTHS FOR THIS ROBBERY.

Special to the Times.

VICTORIA, B.C., Aug. 14.—Many additional disasters caused by the storm of July 25th are reported from the south and west of Japan. One thousand fishermen of the single Province of Satsuma are known to have been drowned.

Three steamships were driven ashore and few of their crews and passengers escaped alive. Several villages on the sea coast have been literally destroyed by the flood. The lists of deaths as stated by the authorities will exceed three thousand.

Special to the Times.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—One hundred Catholic devotees left this city this morning for Auriesville, N. Y., where they will join others at Albany, Troy, Amsterdam and other places to make a pilgrimage to the Shrine of Our Lady of Martyrs. Several Philadelphians went with the pilgrims from this city. The pilgrims assembled at seven o'clock this morning in the Church of St. Francis Xavier, West 16th street, where mass was celebrated by the Rev. Father Van Renseller, S.J. After the mass the pilgrims left for the shrine by the West Shore railroad.

YANKEE NOT IN IT.

The English Schooner Wiped the Eye of the American Boat.

Special to the Times.

COWES, Isle of Wight, Aug. 14.—In a whole sail westerly breeze, at 10 o'clock this morning, Mr. R. S. Palmer's crack American schooner cruiser, Yampa, and Mr. Frederick Wills' English cruising schooner, Amphitrite, started in a race for a prize of £100 over the old Queen's course. Both yachts are alled to carry all the men they please. Great interest was taken in the event, as a rumor is in circulation here that should Defender fail to retain the America's cup on the other side of the Atlantic an American schooner will be sent after it next year.

The course was 50 miles long, and Yampa allowed Amphitrite 7m. 31s. The schooners rounded Lymington Spit as follows: Amphitrite, 11.47.10; Yampa 12.00.00. Yampa pulled up considerably and passing West Cowes had reduced the gap to a couple of minutes, but from that point Amphitrite pulled away again in great style, and the two passed Ryde Pier as follows: Amphitrite, 12.48.05; Yampa, 1.01.33. This, with the time allowance, put Amphitrite in advance 21 minutes 9 seconds a rather hopeless lead for Yampa to cut down. The American schooner bowled along after her leader in gallant style, scudding along before the wind with all sail set and pulling beautifully. But she was unable to overtake her rival, and the English yacht won easily without her time allowance.

BURNED BY BULGARIANS.

THE CHINESE GOVERNMENT.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—The Times will print a despatch from Tien Tsin saying that the Chinese Government is in a state of helpless confusion and incapable of any decisive action or of exercising effective authority. The results, the correspondent adds, will probably be serious unless the powers take precautions.

CONVICTED OF THEFT.

PARIS, August 14.—De Lannoy, a noted Malingerr, whose supposed cure at Lourdes in 1889, was made a prominent incident in one of Zola's novels, has just been convicted of thefts from the Fathers at Lordes and similar offences in this city. He was sentenced to four years imprisonment and ten years surveillance after his release.

KAISER AND PRINCE.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—Truth learns that Prince Henry of Battenburg and Princess Beatrice went abroad on the evening of Emperor William's arrival in order to prevent a repetition of unpleasautness that occurred in 1894. The Emperor always manifests disapproval of what he regards morganic alliances of some of his English relatives with characteristic bluntness. During his stay in 1894 he would only address Prince Henry as Governor of Wright.

ANTI PARNELLITES.

LONDON, August 14.—The anti Parnellite meeting was chiefly occupied in discussing a motion presented by Arthur O'Connor in favor of abolishing the consultative committee.

The Times will say: "The motion was submitted to a meeting in behalf of the Healyite faction, the committee having become a Dilonite body and that it was defeated by a vote of 34 to 26. That after the Queen's speech had been heard by Parliament the Federationists will hold a meeting to determine whether to move an amendment to the speech or not.

MISSIONARIES IN PERIL.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—The Chronicle will tomorrow print a Constantinople despatch saying that fresh troubles are feared at Marsovan, involving two American missionaries, one of whom was named Briggs. It is not clear whether the missionaries were killed or only wounded.

VISITED THE PREMIER.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—The Marquis of Salisbury also received a visit from King Leopold. The King started on his homeward journey this evening.

MASSACRE OF CHRISTIANS.

LONDON, August 14.—A despatch from Shanghai received today says the commission appointed to inquire into the recent massacre of Christians will leave Foo Choo this afternoon for Kucheng. The commission is composed of Mr. Mansfield, acting British consul at Foo Choo, J. C. Hixson, U. S. Consul at that place, E. L. B. Allen, British vice consul at Pagoda Island, Rev. Messrs. Banister, Gregory and Starr. A lieutenant from the U. S. warship, Detroit, and a number of Chinese officials of high rank. The escort will consist of one hundred Chinese braves. The Viceroy Hi refused to allow a foreign escort to accompany the commission through the country.

A CLEVER PLAN TO BREAK JAIL AT THE CENTRAL DISCOVERED.

Prisoners Cut a Hole in a Car and Left Room for Three or Four Men to Hide Among the Freight—But the Scheme Miscarried.

Special to the Times.

TORONTO, August 14.—The authorities of the Central prison learned yesterday of a novel and ingenious scheme for the escape of several prisoners, which, however, for some reason as yet not apparent, was not successful. On April 5 or 6 a Grand Trunk box-car was beside the storehouse of the woodwork department. The ends were filled with croquet sets and the central part reserved for a cargo of brooms.

The car was afterwards shunted to the broom factory where it was loaded full, sealed and after a day or so, consigned to H. A. Nelson & Sons, Montreal. On its arrival there it was discovered that a round hole had been cut in the floor of the car, quite large enough to allow a man to crawl through from below, and three dozen brooms had been removed leaving a comfortable nest in the interior of the cargo where three or four men could ride in safty. The firm claimed from the Grand Trunk the value of the missing brooms, and a detective began an investigation, which eventually proved the fact that the cutting was done within the prison walls by certain long-term prisoners, who secretly placed the brooms back in the storeroom with the other stock. Their failure to escape was probably owing to the fact that the car was removed when the schemers were in their cells at dinner or at night time.

SE. PETERSBURG, Aug. 14.—The Novosti recommends that Russia, France and Germany unite with the United States and Great Britain with a view of obtaining satisfaction for the outrages committed by Chinese upon the different missions and in order to obtain substantial guarantees against the repetition of these occurrences.

Some friends of the Grays, in jail awaiting trial for murder at the Fall Assizes, are circulating a subscription list for the purpose of raising funds for the defraying the cost of the defence of the accused. A New Medal.

Capt. Mason on Wednesday shewed us a handsome silver medal which was presented to the 57th Battalion Rifle Association for competition at the forthcoming matches. The winner of this medal will be entitled to free entry into the Dominion and affiliated associations for one year. The medal becomes the property of the winner. A similar medal is to be presented yearly to the different military rifle associations throughout the Dominion.

A Deer Story.

Local deer slayers will be interested in this: As a fire ranger was going his rounds near the Nipissing road in Loune township the other day, he was surprised to see a red fox in close pursuit of a fawn along a strip of beaver meadow. The poor fawn was bleating with fear at every jump, and just managed to lead the chase by a short distance as long as they remained in sight of the man, whom they passed at a distance of perhaps thirty yards. He yelled at Mr. Fox, thinking to frighten it from the pursuit, but to no purpose. Just as they disappeared from view, a noise behind the ranger caused him to look around, to see the mother of the fawn following up, to save her offpring, if possible, from destruction.

Health Officers Meet.

The 10th annual meeting of the Association of the Executive Health Officers of Ontario, opened at Belleville Wednesday and will continue in session today. The meetings are held in the Council Chamber at the City Hall. The first session was held at 10 a.m. This evening the session will be held at the opera house. Addresses of welcome will be given by Mayor Walmsley, the President of the Board of Trade, chairman of the local Board of Health and by the President of the Medical and Surgical Association. Everything is being done to make the convention a success in every particular. This afternoon the visitors will be the guests of the city. They will be conveyed down the bay per steamer Merritt to Glenora and Lake on the Mountain, and in the evening will be entertained at a banquet at Massassaga Park hotel.

A Heartless Case.

The heartlessness of some people is amazing. An old woman named Mrs. Mary Magill, of Millbrook, aged 84 years, who was sent to the county goal to be cared for and supported, died from natural causes on Wednesday morning. Her two married daughters, who live near Millbrook, and who, we are informed are in affluent circumstances, were communicated with by the goal authorities, but refused to claim the remains of their mother, which was therefore handed over to the inspector of anatomy for dissection purposes at some medical school. Coroner McNicholl empanelled a jury and held an inquest, which returned the verdict usual in such cases. The heartless conduct of the unnatural daughters, who for the sake of a few dollars allowed the remains of their mother to be devoted to such a purpose, cannot be too strongly condemed. Fortunately there are not many such heartless specimens of humanity outside of the lower regions. The names of these unnatural people should have been given, and published far and wide.—Cobourg Sentinel-Star.

Mr. Kenrick at Port Hope.

We understand, the Port Hope Times says, that it has been decided by the authorities of St. Mark's to undertake the renovation of their church. Rev. C. B Kenrick announced Sunday that the matter had been taken up so enthusiastically by the few to whom he had been able to speak during the preceeding week that an effort would at once be made to raise the necessary sum. He was sure they would rally round the old church and make it worthy to take its place with the other handsome buildings the town contained. On the first Sunday in September those who wished to help would be given an opportunity to contribute towards the expense. In the meantime subscriptions would be personally solicited from members of the congregation. We scracely need to remind our readers that St. Mark's is the oldest church building in the town and any effort to restore the edifice to its former beauty and stability will meet with the sympathy of many who do not make it their place of worship. We are informed that the improvements at present in contemplation which have reference merely to the exterior will cost about $500. The objects of the repairs will be not merely to improve the appearance of the building, but to make it weather proof.

DROWNED AT LINDSAY.

MR. R. D. THEXTON DROWNED IN SIX FEET OF WATER.

Was Measuring Wood On a Scow When He Slipped and Immediately Sank—His Body Was Recovered in Five Minutes, But Life Was Extinct—He Was a Prominent Lindsay Merchant.

Special to the Times.

LINDSAY, Aug. 10.—A sad drowning accident occurred here about 3.15 this afternoon resulting in the death of Mr. R. D. Thexton, one of our best known business men. It appears that Mr. Thexton with a number of assistants was engaged in measuring wood, on a scow, about opposite Haslam's brewery. In shoving the boat out of the way of the steamer Crandella, which was then approaching and on which boat Mrs. Thexton and children were returning to town, he in some way slipped and fell into the river. which is about six feet deep at this point,

Being unable to swim he could do nothing to save himself. The alarm was promptly given and in about five minutes young R. Cote was on the spot and promptly dived for the body which was recovered in less than five minutes from the time of the accident.

Drs. McAlpin and White were soon on hand and worked for over an hour but to no avail. The sad occurrence has cast a gloom over the whole town. Mr. Thexton was a brother-in-law of Sam Hughes, M.P.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

A Man's Clothes Torn Off on a Revolving Pulley.

Charles Milligan, a turner in the employ of the Peterborough Canoe Company had a narrow escape from fatal injury on Saturday morning.

While working at his machine he stepped too close to the shafting and his trousers were caught by the revolving belt and wound around the shaft, each revolution threatening to draw him under when he would have been perhaps fatally crushed.

By great presence of mind Milligan planted his foot on top of the shaft, and braced himself in that wise. His trousers were literally torn off him, and he received a long deep gash in the calf of one limb.

Dr. Clarke attended the injured man and he is now progreseing nicely toward recovery.

THE 'PRENTICE BOYS

Listened to an Eloquent Sermon by Rev. Rae Yesterday.

The 'Prentice Boys attended divine worship yesterday afternoon at the Charlotte street Methodist church and listened to an eloquent and instructive sermon by Rev. J. J. Rae.

The 'Prentice Boys formed at their lodge rooms and headed by the Sons of England band marched to the church.

The reverened gentleman began his sermon by referring to the origin of the 'Prentice Boys after the Relief of Derry. He eulogized the men who fought and won this victory—fought and won a victory for Protestantism, England and the Bible. They were honorable and brave men.

Mr. Rae took many truths from the Bible and advised the 'Prentice Boys to hold fast to these:

1. God is the father.
2. Sacred right of coming to God.
3. Every man can make life a victory.
4. Man should be a worker.
5. The religion of Lord Jesus Christ is a universal religion.

LATEST FROM LAKEFIELD.

From our own Correspondent.

The agitation concerning the proposed application for a change of the route of the canal through the village has not yet been dropped, but the whole business appears to be still shrouded in mystery and uncertainty and so far as your correspondent can ascertain no steps have been taken by the contractors towards a commencement of work. It is reported that payment has actually been made by the Government for some property on the route and tenders have been asked for by the engineer in charge for the purchase and removal of buildings, but in spite of this there are still unbelievers.

THE LAKES.

The popularity of our lakes has, if anything, increased this season: lack of accommodation is the only thing that prevents still larger numbers of visitors coming to gain rest and health in the splendid air of Stony Lake. Several of the cottages now accommodate boarders and no doubt in future years there will be an extension of this line of business. The number of small steam launches has increased to fourteen, and the appearance of the wharf on Saturday evening particularly would indicate that the passenger steamers are doing a thriving trade.

FURIOUS DRIVING.

The recent action of the Chief of Police in looking after cases of furious driving is to be commended, and it is hoped will be a warning to those, who particularly on Sunday, are guilty of this dangerous and cruel practice: the offenders are almost invariably mere boys who would be the better for a sound whipping.

BUILDING.

The plans for a handsome new residence to be erected on the Nicholls' property, recently purchased by Mr. E. Tate, have been prepared by Mr W. Blackwell and operations will commence immediately. A neat fence has been erected at the entrance to the English church which is a great improvement.

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

A Trolley Collides with a Wagon and the Driver is Seriously Hurt.

There was an exciting street car and wagon collision on George street, at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening, in which Joseph Lavasseur came near losing his life.

Lavasseur is driver for the P. Connal grocery, and was driving down Dalhousie street. When he reached George street he was going too fast too turn without first crossing the street car track, and a high board fence prevented him from seeing a street car which was bowling along at a pretty fair rate of speed.

Lavasseur was in the act of crossing the track, when the car struck his wagon. The horse was clear of the track, but the wagon was square across it when the car struck. The wagon was struck square amidships to use the nautical term, and the unfortunate driver was pitched out into the road with terrible force,

Levasseur was picked up in an unconscious condition, and taken to his home on Bethune street by Mr. Timothy Cavanagh who happened along at the time.

When examined by a doctor it was found that his tongue was split open to the depth of an inch or more, he had a lump on his head as big as a tea cup, his ear was nearly torn off, and his shoulder upon which he alighted, was considerably sore and wrenched. He may be injured internally as well.

The wagon was a complete wreck, and a total loss.

No blame attaches to the motorman on the car, as he could not see the wagon on account of the high board fence, which effectually hid from view the approaching wagon.

Levasseur will likely recover, but it will be some time before he can assume his duties.

COUNTERFEITERS JAILED.

A FAMILY OF MANVERS FARMERS JUGGED AT LINDSAY.

The Dominion Police Supply the Information and Have the Warrants Issued—Dies and Counterfeit Coin Seized—Great Excitement in the Township.

On information supplied by the Dominion police a family by the name of Murphy, living on the fourteenth concession of Manvers, were Monday morning lodged in jail at Lindsay charged with uttering and having in their possession counterfeit money, and also with having the dies and other plant necessary for the manufacture of spurious coin.

The warrant for their arrest was issued a few days ago by County Police Magistrate Deacon, of Lindsay.

The family lives about ten miles south of Lindsay, and is well known, having always made Lindsay its market town.

In the vicinity they have many friends, who were somewhat surprised to hear of the arrest.

The authorities who have the case in hand claim to have convincing evidence, and when the accused are brought up before Magistrate Deacon it is said it will be shown that they have been in the counterfeit business for a long time and are the manufacturers of much of the bogus money now in circulation.

The prisoners were called yesterday morning, but were remanded in order to allow the Crown to secure further evidence.

At present the officers are making a thorough search of the Murphys' premises.

Manvers is a prosperous and usually a quiet township, and the arrest of the alleged counterfeiters has created considerable excitement.

There has been a great deal of counterfeit money in circulation for the past two years. It has been principally in 50 cent and 25 cent pieces, very cleverly made, but containing very little silver. The police of Toronto and the Dominion Government have received numerous counterfeit coins ofj these denominations and have had special men working on the case for some months.

Where the Government got the clue that lead to the arrest of these parties, is not definitely known, but it is said that neighbors of the accused have been suspicious for some time. These suspicions were verified, says the report, during last month. One of the neighbors received some money from Murphy in silver coins, and this neighbor attended Barnum's circus at Port Hope and offered in payment for a ticket one of the 50 cent pieces received from Murphy. It was instantly detected by the shrewd ticket seller as being counterfeit, and this confirmed certain suspicions that the neighbor had. He communicated the incident to the authorities and the arrest followed.

The farmers of Manvers are very much excited over the arrest.

SELLS' BROS. GREAT CIRCUS.

The Best Ring Performances and Menagerie in the World.

The Halifax Herald has the following to say of Sells' Bros' Great United Circus, which will be in Peterborough on August 24:—

The "evolution of the circus" was apparent to the visitor to the mammoth show on the common yesterday. In years gone by, when the fathers were the children, the circus was as popular as it is today, but how different the display that was witnessed? Then the horse riding and the trapeze, with the menagerie, were nearly all that the best circus contained. And the spectators of that time were satisfied. No matter what amusement was missed the circus drew its full crowd. But the circus goer of today would grumble ferociously if nothing more was forthcoming than what drew forth enthusiastic plaudits in the "good old time."

Sells Brothers circus, we now know, is far superior to any circus ever seen in Halifax. There have been good circuses in this city, but none at all equal to Sells Brothers, either in respect to the ring performances or the menagerie, while the street parade was the most magnificant ever seen here. Another point of superiority of Sells' circus is that it has drawn the largest audience, or as large as any, that ever gathered under canvas in Halifax. At 8 o'clock last night every seat in the great tent was occupied, and 8,000 pairs of eyes were turned to the two rings and the stage.

The performance was almost bewildering in its multifarious magnitude. Not a moment was lost in waiting, and from beginning to end the spectator had his choice of three distinct centres of attraction. The show was magnificent indeed. Every feature of it was firstclass, and the show bills for once seemed to have been exceeded by the reality. The feats of horsemanship were as good as any ever seen. The costuming was superb. The trapeze work was thrilling. The strong men and strong women did herculean feats, and the acrobatic men were wonderful. The trick bicycle riding was not only wonderfully clever, but the effect of the combinations was very pretty, and evoked one of the most hearty bursts of opplause during the show. The act by the preforming seals and sea seals was novel and exceedingly interesting. The clowns were clever and genuinely amusing, especially that stout one.

A BICYCLE RAILWAY.

ONE MAY BE CONSTRUCTED BETWEEN PETERBOROUGH AND CHEMONG.

A Company to Be Formed for This Purpose—The New Invention, Which Is a Marvel of Cheapness, Safety and Speed, Explained—Peterborough to Chemong in Ten Minutes For Five Cents.

Peterborough, which is ever to the fore in adopting latest inventions, will likely lead the Dominion in erecting and operating a railway, which is an entirely new departure and bids well to revolutionize the present appliances used in passenger transportation. This is an invention known as the Hotchkiss Bicycle Railway, which is in successful operation in two places in the United States. Mr. William Rudkins, of Peterborough, is the owner of rights to make and operate this railway in the Dominion of Canada, and he has been urged by several citizens to build a line between Peterborough and Chemong Park. Those who have looked into the matter are enthusiastic in its praise, and at a meeting which will be held in a few days, there is little doubt that a company will be formed to at once build the line mentioned. The proposed route is from the end of the street car line to Chemong Park.

To construct this line, outside of the cost of the machines, there would be very little expense. The bicycles run on an elevated track, or on a narrow T. shaped rail, laid on the top of a fence. This fence can be three or four feet high, and is constructed of wood, occupying no more space than an ordinary fence. A few inches up from the ground stringers are fastened on to the post and the lower part of the machine is guided by these, while the top wheel rides on the narrow T. shaped rail. That is practically all there is to the railway, which combines great speed, convenience and safety. It is little more than a common fence. Posts are put down at regular intervals, a plank on either side is nailed on, a scantling forms the top and on this rests the narrow rail. It has been estimated that ten men can build this railway in two weeks, so the cost can be surmised.

Then comes the bicycle. It is constructed of the best steel tubing, and is otherwise first class in every respect. The frame is double, extending down below the track rail on either side a distance of 18 or 20 inches, and has at the lower end a small guide wheel running horizontally, which serves to keep the machine in an upright position, and absolutely prevents any possibility of jumping the track. The front wheel is the driving wheel—20 inches in diameter, and like the other riding wheel is grooved to fit the rail. This system is perfectly safe, conductive to good health, has no tendency to demoralization, and places within the power of all, the means of indulging in the exhilarating recreation of cycling, one of the most popular sports of the day. Combining as it does, the most absolute security with a simplicity of operation which entirely obviates the necessity of any previous experience on the part of the rider it can at once be seen how eminently adapted it is for all resorts patronized by the general public for pleasure and recreation.

A line between Peterborough and Chemong with 25 machines can be equipped for $5,000. Anyone can ride, and age would be no deterent. Double machines would be put on and a gentleman could take his family, mount one of these machines and pedal to Chemong in 10 minutes. In case of an excursion, an employee would accompany the machines down and trail them all back, the operation only taking a few minutes. There is not the shadow of a doubt that such a line would pay immense profits.

The bicycle railway is a new idea and wasn't rightly started in the United States until taken hold of by Canadians. It has been highly spoken of by all the leading scientific and engineering journals in the United States and Canada. There is a line in operation between Chicago and Milwaukee, a distance of 80 miles, and the charge for riding this distance is only 10 cents. The money making possibilities of the railway is seen at once. A line between Peterborough and Chemong could be run summer and winter, as the track is so elevated that the snow would not interfere with the passage of the machines.

These machines are propelled by a straight pedal and have a greater speed than the road bicycle. A rider can go as fast as he likes and with very little exertion, as there is scarcely any friction. With this railway Peterborough would be brought in close touch with Chemong and, in addition, it is proposed to establish stations along the route, for the use of farmers who could mount a machine and come to Peterborough at will. This will make the new railway immensely popular with the farmers along the route, for in case of sickness or accident, they would be able to come to town in a few minutes for medical assistance. The track would also serve as a fence along their property, and would be quite as serviceable for that purpose as their present fences.

There is another of these railways at Mount Holly, New Jersey, three miles in length, and it is paying an enormous profit.

Mr. Rudkins has one of these machines with 12 feet of track in Toronto, and he will bring it to Peterborough in a few days. It is proposed to hold a meeting to discuss the feasibility of constructing the line, and a company will be formed to build the railway at once. THE TIMES will announce the date of the meeting.

SEVERELY INJURED.

Mrs. and Miss Raymond the Victims of a Runaway.

Mrs. and Miss Raymond, who have been spending several months in Peterborough, at the Grand Central hotel, were the victims of an unfortunate runaway accident Tuesday afternoon.

Early in the afternoon they started for Chemong with a horse and buggy to spend the afternoon there, which they did very pleasantly.

They left the Chemong Park hotel a little before dark on their return to Peterborough, and were proceeding homeward when their horse became frightened at a lumber pile by the roadside and ran away.

Both were thrown violently to the ground, and injured more or less seriously. Assistance was promptly at hand and a conveyance was secured in which the injured ladies were placed and conveyed to their rooms in the Grand Central hotel.

Drs. Scott and Fife attended them. Mrs. Raymond is more seriously injured than her daughter, but the latter received a severe shaking up and a terrible shock, the outcome of which is not known. Mrs. Raymond sustained both severe injuries and a shock, the extent of which the doctors were not able to determine last night.

They were given every care and attention last night, and it is hoped will soon recover from their unpleasant experience.

PROFITS.

Policyholders of the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada receiv ninety-three and one-third per cent. of the TOTAL surplus earned by th Company, and the stockholders the remaining six and two-thirds pe cent. By this system the holders of participating policies receive ninety-three and one-third per cent. not only of the profits of their own class but also of those earned by the non-participating policies. They thus have the protection of a large capital stock for a merely nominal sum.

On ordinary policies profits are divided every five years, counting in each case from the date of the policy. The method adopted is eminently fair to all parties, and is a modification of what is known as the "Contribution Plan." The profits may be taken in cash to be used in payment of premiums, or applied to the purchase of bonus additions to the sum assured.

On Reserve Dividend Policies the surplus, instead of being distributed every five years, is accumulated during the Reserve Dividend period, and the accumulation thus arising is distributed among those who have survived that term and have kept their policies in force. The profits paid during 1895, to those entitled to receive them, are the largest that have ever been paid by the Company and have seldom been equalled by any other Company.

The tournament is to be open to Peterborough, Port Hope, Millbrook, Madoc and Cobourg, and could be held on two days in successive weeks. Arrangements have been made for a 50 cent rate to Jubilee from any of the points named, and the lacrosse men should be quick to close with the generous offer. The grounds are in good shape and of fair size and a great crowd will doubtless be present on both days to witness the contest.

Crops Out West.

Amongst other places visited by Councillor Cahill while travelling as the special correspondent of THE MORNING TIMES in 1889 in Manitoba and British Columbia was Willow Banks farm, a few miles north of Vinden, Manitoba. Today Mr. Cahill received a letter from Mr. Bickerton, in which he says: "I (Mr. Bickerton) have inspected lands 30 miles north and 35 miles south of here and in all my journeys did not see a crop that would go less than 20 bushels to the acre, and in many cases the wheat crop will reach 40 bushels to the acre. Grain was being cut in the Oak Hall district 8 days ago, but we will not begin cutting wheat for at least 10 days as our land is much heavier. I am doing very well, have no reason to complain of ever coming to this country. Although the country has had a check for 2 or 3 years I hope with the big crops safely harvested to see things boom again.

ENLARGES THE USES OF MUSIC.

There is a good deal in the old saw that music will charm the savage breast. It always was possessed of a magnetic power over individuals. To the present age, however, must be credited the greater triumphs in musical directions. And not the least of these is the transposing piano of Heintzman & Co., Toronto, which opens out for vocalists a wide arena of delightful study. The instrument is unique in every particular, and ought to command the study of everyone interested in music, whether professionally or for its individual delights.

CONFESSED HIS CRIME.

Mystery Concerning the Strange Disappearance of Annie Calinder.

The following is taken from the Tweed News:—

The newspaper readers will remember the reports of the strange and sudden disappearance of Annie Calinder a young English girl, living near Peterborough, ane her brother, about the 16th of August of last year. This was the celebrated case which occupied the attention of the detectives for a long time but despite their most careful investigations no trace of the parties could be found. By many the circumstances of this case will long be forgotten but those who associated with the case will well remember the circumstances. Even to the present day this strange and tragic disappearance is talked of in Peterborough. The authorities were not able to find even the slightest clue to their whereabouts. But as is often the case is only requiries time for the solution of mysteries of this kind: for "Murder will out."

Edward Dowall, section foreman at Sheffield station, while going quietly about his work on Thursday last had occasion to look under the timbers of a bridge a few miles east of Tweed and there discovered a piece of planned board about 13 inches square with writing on its face. Removing it he found these words written legibly thereon with an indelibible pencil. It was dated Sheffield, Apr. 26th. 1894 and was addressed thus: "To all the world, a greeting." The confession read as follows: "This is to certify that I did on the night of the 16th of Aug., '94 murder Annie Calinder, a young English girl, in the little cemetery at Peterborough and with a piece of rope and R.R. iron I sank her dead body in the lake. I did it to hide crime. I feel that God will never forgive me for it. I cannot rest day or night. I would like her body was taken up and buried.

F. R. STREETSVILLE,
Ont.

The above confession is precisely as was written on the board save the spelling, punctuation, etc. The writing was in a bold legible hand, but was evidently not done by a scholar.

Mr. Dowall sent the board to the News office where it has been on exhibition. The signature was precisely as above, but whether he meant that his initials were F. R. and he was a native of Streetsville, Ont., or whether his name was F. R. Streetsville and he lived somewhere in Ontario cannot be ascertained by the writing. Word has been sent to the authorities of Peterborough of this important discovery which solves the mystery of the sad disappearance of Annie Calinder.

That Turkey Stealing Case.

On Wednesday morning last court was held in the town hall before P. M. Edmison and S. Nelson, J. P. David Darling, of Douro, was charged by Thos. Hockaday with stealing 19 turkeys belonging to him, on Sunday, July 21. Mr. E. B. Stone for the defendant, and Mr. R. E. Wood for the prosecution. Considerable evidence was taken as to the ownership of the fowls. Darling claiming that he took the turkeys on the road believing them to belong to him. Hockaday claimed that the turkeys were taken by Darling when he knew that they did not belong to him. The principal trouble was about nine of the turkeys that were missing shortly after Darling had taken them to his place, and which Hockaday wanted Darling to pay for, which he refused to do, though he admitted that the other ten turkeys belonged to Hockaday and that he could take them away. On summing up the case the magistrate decided that Darling had not taken the turkeys with intent to steal, he believing that they belonged to him at the time, and discharged the accused. He also said that it was clear that the turkeys belonged to Hockaday and he should have them. The matter might easily have been settled out of court if the other nine turkeys had turned up.—Lakefield News.

THE BICYCLE RACES.

Evans and King Win Races—McLeod is 10-mile Champion.

The bicycle meet held in Peterborough Thursday was a marked success, nothwithstanding the attendance was not over a thousand. It being Civic Holiday a number of excursions were run out of town and citizens went on these. The racing events were interesting and the spectators witnessed good clean racing on a track that was almost fast.

The fact that such men as McLeod, McCarthy and McIntosh, ex-champion Wells and other Canadian flyers were entered maintained the interest that was manifested throughout the races. While there were no very fast exhibitions, McCarthy succeeded in breaking the 1.02 half mile record by finishing in 59 3.5 seconds The riders did not exhibit a desire to forge ahead, and in the half mile open (Class B) event two attempts resulted in no race being declared, the time limit not being made. The events were run off without a hitch. The arrangements were very complete and everything was satisfactory. The officials who had charge were:—Referee, Geo. H. Orr, Toronto; starter, W. E. Lech, Peterborough; timers, E. W. Gaudrie, Campbellford; Hope McGinniss. Belleville; C. L. Owen, Campbellford; official timer, G. J. Horkins, Peterborough; judges, W. McGee, Toronto: A. H. Stratton, Peterborough; George Benor, Campbellford; C. LeBrun, Peterborough. Umpires, D. Milne, Stirling, F. Carscallen. Marmora, Gus Gough, Peterborough, Robert Fair, Peterborough; scorers. Alf. Terrill and W. A, Buchanan, Peterborough.

The event in which the most interest centered was the 10 mile championship. Class, B, in which the following well known riders were entered:—W. McIntosh, W.B.C. Toronto; A. McLeod, S.B.C., Sarnia; A. E. Young, W.B.C., Toronto; T. B. McCarthy, A.C.C., Toronto; Marshall Wells, W.B.C., Toronto; Percy Brown, W.B.C., Toronto. McLeod added another to his season's victories by winning this, but he never rode in a closer race, and won only after a hard fight, crossing the tape not more than six inches ahead of McCarthy, who spurted a little too late. Wells made such a close third that the spectators were unable to judge whether he was entitled to second place or third place. For ten laps of the half-mile track the riders' wheels almost touched, McLeod next to the pacers, with McCarthy close in his track and McIntosh following, Wells being to the rear, and these positions were maintained for ten laps. At the five mile lap the pacers were relieved and Wells shot ahead of McIntosh; the latter rode for 200 yards and then dropped out of the race. The next nine laps saw the riders in the same position. On the last lap they bunched until 50 yards from the tape, when McCarthy sprinted. Wells forged to second place, and then the Sarnia boy let himself loose and crossed the tape a bare six inches ahead of McCarthy. Time, 23 minutes 55 seconds.

George Evans, of Peterborough, rode splendid races, when he won the one mile novice against such riders as Boke and Davidson, of Toronto, and Smith, of Campbellford, and more especially in the two mile district championship, which he entered more to fill up the entries than with any idea of winning, the race having been conceded to Walker. Evans, however, won hands down, and that he has a future as a bicyclist, is not doubted.

Lionel King is a little star. In the novice race, the first of his life, he held third place at the finish, with such men as Evans, Lord and the Toronto flyers spurting their best. In the two mile local handicap, he won easily and crossed the tape on the last lap amid tremendous cheering, not only a long distance ahead of Evans, Walker and Lord, but a much further distance than was allowed him in the handicap.

The other events were run as follows:

One mile novice—Class A—1, George Evans, Peterborough; 2, E. Lord, Peterborough; 3, L. King, Peterborough. F. J. Smith, Campbellford, was given second prize for racing. Time, 3.37 2 5.

Half mile open, Class B—1. A. McLeod, Sarnia; 2, T. B. McCarthy, A.C.C., Toronto; 3, W. McIntosh, W. B. C., Toronto, Riders held back and it was declared no race, the time limit not being made after two attempts.

Two-mile district championship, Class A—1, G. Evans, Peterborough; 2, E. Lord, Peterborough; 3, F. J. Smith, Campbellford. Time, 5.19 4-5.

Two-mile handicap, Class B—1, J. H. Gratz, R.B.C., Toronto; 2, Walter Hulse, T.B.C., Toronto; 3, A. E. Young, W.B.C., Toronto. Time, 4.47 1-5.

One mile open, Class A—1, R. O. Blayney, A.C.C., Toronto; 2, R. Gordon, A.C.C., Toronto; 3, J. Wills, W.B.C., Toronto. Time, 2 32 2 5.
